Gas Bill Vote In Senate Near; Passage Seen

'Nose Count' Shows 4 To 10 Vote Lead In Measure's Favor

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28 — UP— A showdown Senate vote on the controversial natural gas bill is expected next week.

Supporters of the measure are hopeful the Senate will pass it in a close vote. The House approved it last year by a six-vote margin.

One congressional source, whose nose counts have proved reliable in the past, said Saturday supporters of the bill currently have an edge of from four to 10 votes over the opponents, who have conducted a lengthy debate in an effort to defeat it.

The bill would remove producers of natural gas from direct regulation by the Federal Power Commission. Opponents contend —and supporters deny—that this would lead to price increases to gas consumers.

Sen. Allen J. Ellender charged meanwhile that opponents have "delayed the work of the Senate considerably" by their "talkathon."

The Louisiana Democrat, a supporter of the bill, made the statement in a radio report to his constituents. He deplored the "extremely emotional" arguments used by opponents in two-weeks of debate.

"Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.), most vocal of the opponents, has indulged in a lengthy 'talkathon' against the bill," Ellender said. That was a reference to Douglas' 18-hour speech which went on, with frequent interruptions, for four days.

"Of course the opponents stoutly maintain that they are not engaging in a filibuster, that they are only seeking to protect the interests of the consumers of natural gas," Ellender said.

Opponents of the bill have contended that gas prices at the wellhead will rise if producers are removed from federal control. Doug-

Husband Of Ex-US Treasurer Slays Would-Be Robber

RICHLAND, Kan., Jan. 28—UP —A second attempt in a month to rob former U. S. Treasurer Georgia Neese Clark Gray cost a young Texas gunman his life Saturday.

Andrew Gray, the husband, fired one shot and fatally wounded Billy Gene Ross, 23, of Dallas, on a darkened stairway in the Gray home.

Ross lunged down the stairs, shot up the kitchen door in seeking a quick exit and bolted from the house into the foggy night.

His body was found at dawn, seven hours later, in a muddy ditch 200 yards away.

Gray, 43-year-old former Boston and Washington public relations man, identified Ross as "the one who put the gun on me in the first robbery."

That was the evening of Jan. 2 when three young gunmen held Mrs. Gray prisoner more than an hour and forced her at pistol-point to open the vault of her Richland State Bank. Nearly $2,000 was taken from the combined bank and general store in this tiny northeast Kansas town.

This time the Grays' little beagle dog, Mamie, awakened them. Gray found his .38 revolver and from a landing over the stair, shot once at the shadowy climbing figure.

No word was spoken by the two men. Gray, who later asserted he felt "lousy" over the intruder's death, said "I fired once and that expressed my sentiments."

A car stolen in Topeka, the nearby Kansas capital city, was found in Richland. At a police lineup in Topeka at midday, Gray was unable to identify any of four suspects as the others involved in the

Sehon Quits Race For State Senate; Dr. King Elected

DELHI, Jan. 28 — (Special)— Ellis W. Sehon, who was slated to enter a run-off on February 21 with Dr. R. E. King of Winnsboro, for the 33rd district senatorial seat, announced today that he was withdrawing from the race, automatically electing King.

The 33rd district is composed of Franklin, Richland and Catahoula parishes.

Sehon said "The people of Louisiana have spoken very plainly in the governor's race and have shown in a clear and unmistakable voice that they prefer Gov. Long and his platform for the next four years. Dr. King was endorsed by Gov. Long in the 33rd senatorial race and I feel that in order for Gov. Long to carry out his program he needs members of his own team in the legislature."

Gov. Long has personally endorsed Dr. King through J. M. Menefee, fifth district chairman.

Sehon said that he appreciated the many friends in the three parishes who had supported him during the election.

Dr. King received 7,230 votes and Sehon 6,191 votes. The third candidate in the race, Solon Chambley, received 1,146 votes.

Showers, Colder Here For Sunday

Scattered showers and colder over the northeast section of Louisiana was forecast for Sunday.

Cloudy, widely scattered showers and colder was predicted for Arkansas today.

Monroe and West Monroe temperatures Saturday soared to 76, with a low of 59.

Raid Sultan's Home

Money And Guns Seized In Tunisia

TUNIS, Tunisia, Jan. 28—UP — Police raided the home of Nationalist leader Salah Ben Youssef Saturday and confiscated millions of francs and arms which officials said were to be used in a new plot against government. The raiders arrested nine men, but Ben Youssef apparently had fled before they arrived.

At the same time authorities seized two editors of pro-Youssef newspapers.

In Ben Youssef's house, which police said was used as headquarters for an anti-government plot fomented in neighboring Algeria, authorities found an American-made sub-machinegun, 78 grenades nine pistols, explosives and money.

Ben Youssef, contending that the home-rule conditions granted Tunisia by France last year came "too little and too late," has waged a sometimes bloody campaign against Neo-Destour party leader Habib Bourguiba, who helped draw up the home rule plan.

Both Ben Youssef and Bourguiba only recently returned to Tunisia after more than three years in exile.

Blaze Destroys Trailways Bus Near Laplace

LAPLACE, La., Jan. 28 (AP) — A westbound Continental Trailways bus was destroyed late today when a fire developed beneath the body.

The driver and three passengers escaped injury.

The bus was enroute from New Orleans to Baton Rouge when the fire was spotted underneath the center of the body.

Sheriff P. D. Hebert of St. John the Baptist Parish said all occupants escaped and the bus "burned to a total loss — right down to the tires."

Cause of the fire was not known.

Godchaux Sugar refinery dispatched some fire fighting equipment, but the bus "was too far gone," the sheriff added.

The accident happened about five and a half miles west of here on the busy Airline Highway. LaPlace is about 25 miles west of New Orleans.

Continental Trailways in Baton Rouge said another bus was sent to pick up the passengers and driver.

State police called in a wrecking car to remove the twisted skeleton of the burned bus.

Molotov Shows Surprise Over Ike's Message

Says He's Unable To Understand How He Refused Offer

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, Jan. 28—UP— Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov said Saturday night of President Eisenhower's rejection of a Russian-proposed "friendship treaty," "I cannot understand how anyone can refuse a treaty of friendship."

"Any contact between the two countries is likely to improve the situation," Molotov told a group of western correspondents. He was attending a gala reception given by President Antonin Zapotocky of Czechoslovakia after the signing of the joint declaration of the Warsaw treaty powers.

Molotov said he had not read the text of Mr. Eisenhower's letter to Bulganin but appeared to know the gist of it.

Most Communist leaders attending the reception said they had not heard of the American President's letter. But East German Deputy Premier Walter Ulbricht said it was "a blow to peace."

"If the Soviet Union and the United States could agree, the entire questions of peace and security in the world would be solved," Ulbricht said.

Court Decision Protecting Reds Rapped By Solons

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28—UP— Congressional Communist hunters fired a broadside of criticism Saturday at a court decision upholding the right of a witness to refuse to name persons he had known as Communists.

Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) called the decision "asinine" and said the judges who wrote it should be called before a Senate committee for questioning. Sen. William E. Jenner (R-Ind.) and several members of the House Un-American Activities committee also assailed the decision.

The 2-to-1 ruling was handed down Thursday by the U.S. Court of Appeals here in reversing the contempt of Congress conviction of John T. Watkins, a Rock Island, Ill., labor leader.

Chief Judge Henry W. Edgerton and Judge David L. Bazelon said in the majority opinion that a congressional witness cannot be judged guilty of contempt unless it is proved that the questions he refused to answer were "pertinent" to an investigation authorized by Congress. They said it is "not clear" how any valid legislative purpose is served by simply asking a witness—as Watkins was asked—to name persons he had known as Communists years ago.

Watkins had been convicted of contempt, and given a suspended sentence of one year in prison because he refused, during 1954 questioning by the House committee, to say whether he had known about 30 persons as Communists during the period 1942-47.

Rep. Gordon H. Scherer (R-Ohio), a member of the House committee, said the committee "might as well shut up shop and go home if this ruling stands."

"The courts have been obstructing congressional committees by their decisions," Rep. Morgan M. Moulder (D-Mo.) said. "I don't know who will expose communism if Congress does not. The courts are not doing it."

Mountains Combed For Four Air Force Crewmen Missing On Calif. Flight

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif., Jan. 28 (AP) — Searchers combed two mountain ranges roughly 150 miles apart today for a missing Air Force crew of four men from Goodfellow Air Force Base at San Angelo, Tex.

Their B25 bomber presumably crashed Thursday night in a heavy rainstorm. Last night a United Air Lines pilot reported seeing what appeared to be a portion of an "SOS" signal being flashed from the ground near the California-Nevada border.

But after more than eight hours of searching the area near the desolate Ivanpah mountains, Nellis AFB and San Bernardino County sheriff's searchers reported no trace of the missing plane and its crew.

More than 70 members of the March AFB air rescue squadron probed steep ravines of Waterman Canyon and the Lake Arrowhead region in the San Bernardino range, 150 miles southwest. A ranch owner near Lake Arrowhead reported what he thought was a plane crash Thursday night.

The plane was bound for Norton AFB near San Bernardino. When last heard from, it was above the 5,000-foot level, but coming down in the vicinity of the San Bernardino range, peaks of which are 7,000 to 8,000 feet.

However, the sighting of the flashes near the Nevada line led

Girl Bullfighter Gored; Injuries Said 'Not Serious'

ZACATECAS, Mex., Jan. 28 (AP)— Patricia McCormick, the pretty Texas bullfighter, was gored in the thigh yesterday, but her doctor said tonight that her condition was not serious.

Earlier, the sports newspaper Esto said the 25-year-old Big Spring blonde was in grave condition.

Tonight, her physician, Dr. Oscar Hermez Duque, said the wound was not serious.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E.B. McCormick of Big Spring had planned to fly to Mexico but cancelled the trip after talking to the doctor.

She was thrown into the air by a bull while practicing at the Torreciallos breeding farm, the sports paper said. She was rushed to an Agua-Calientes hospital near Mexico City.

Jefferson Parish To Drop Litigation Against La. P & L

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 28 (AP) — Sheriff Frank Clancy of adjoining Jefferson Parisy said today he will ask the police jury to drop plans for a publicly-owned gas utility and withdraw all litigation against the Louisiana Power & Light Co.

Clancy said jury president John Holtgreve will present a resolution to that effect at a special meeting Wednesday.

The sheriff said the action against the power company is being dropped to push plans for industrial development of the west bank of the Mississippi River and a new seaway to the Gulf of Mexico.

Jefferson Parish officials and power company owners, he said, have decided that "to realize this important project it is necessary to have complete unity of purpose."

Clancy said the need for unity "is emphasized even more now because within the past few days still more important industrial firms have expressed an interest in locating along the proposed seaway."

W. O. Turner, president of Louisiana Power & Light, said he was "very happy" at the new turn of events—"I know this will greatly help to make the Westside Seaway and industrial zone a reality."

The natural gas feud flared up in March, 1953, when the Securities and Exchange Commission ruled that the power company could not control both electric and gas franchises in the parish.

Jefferson Parish stepped in after the Louisiana Public Service Commission, state regulatory body, asked the SEC to change its mind. The parish asked the SEC to deny the state commission's request.

The power company then asked the SEC to allow transfer of its gas operations to a subsidiary.

In subsequent steps, the parish decided to purchase the company's gas properties, attacked the validity of its franchise and finally filed a state franchise suit that wound up in the federal court.

Bulganin Offers 20-Year Treaty In Secret Note

President Blames Soviet Union For World's Tension

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28 (AP) — President Eisenhower today rejected Russia's proposed "friendship" treaty. He told Premier Nikolai Bulganin that a "'change of spirit" and not a mere "stroke of the pen" is needed to promote world peace.

Bulganin had written Eisenhower that present world tensions are "fraught with the possibility of breaking the peace," and plunging nations into atomic war.

It would be "an act of great international significance" for peace, he said, if the United States and Russia would sign a treaty piedging 1. to settle disputes peacefully in conformity with the United Nations Charter 2. noninterference in each other's affairs and 3. to strengthen economic, cultural and scientific cooperation.

Courteously but firmly, Eisenhower replied that, "It is deeds and not words alone which count." Such a pact as Bulganin proposed, he said, "might indeed work against the cause of peace" by creating the illusion that all is well.

Eisenhower challenged Bulganin in a personal letter to join in 'prompt measures" to unify Germany, end the threat of atomic war, free Russia's satellite states and abolish the Iron Curtain.

The chief executive blamed Soviet behavior for the state of

New Jersey Man Kills 6 Members Of Family, Self

PARSIPPANY-TROY HILLS, N.J., Jan. 18—UP—A father killed six members of his family, including his two small children and his aged invalid mother, with a shotgun Saturday and shot himself in the head, police reported.

Police Chief Leo D'Orsi said 48-year-old William Bauer, a trustee of the Parsippany First Methodist Church, went berserk "for no apparent reason" in his seven room ranch house here after a scheduled Florida vacation had been postponed unexpectedly.

He killed his wife, Alice, 43; his daughter, Elizabeth, 5; his son, Peter, 18 months; his mother, Ann, 84; and his mother and father-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Edward Neuber, police said.

The bodies were found strewn through the Bauer home by a neighbor shortly after 12:30 p.m. The neighbor investigated when he saw an automobile in the Bauer driveway. He knew the family had planned to leave for Florida Friday and entered the house.

D'Orsi said the house was strewn

GOP Says Demos Mixing Politics, Economic Study

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28 (AP)—Six Republican members of a Senate-House Committee tonight accused Democrats of mixing "partisan politics" into a study of the nation's economic future.

They said Democrats have called "a group of politicians" to alternate with administration witnesses at hearings on President Eisenhower's economic report.

They called the idea "preposterous and unsound."

The six Republican members of the Joint Committee on the Economic Report said in a statement that the "politicians" are known to be "Opposed on a partisan basis" to the Eisenhower administration.

Sen. Douglas (D-Ill), the committee chairman, has listed a series of hearings starting next week and running until mid-February at which testimony by top Eisenhower officials will be alternated with that of former Democratic administration officials, including Oscar L. Chapman, ex-secretary of the interior; Randolph E. Paul, former general counsel of the Treasury; and Robert R. Nathan, economist and former War Production Board official.

Under the 1946 Employment Act, the committee is charged with reviewing the President's annual economic report and submitting its own findings and recommendations.

The six Republicans said that in the past the group has called in executive officials responsible for government action in various economic fields and "a selected group of students in the field of economics, as well as representatives of certain economic groups."

"Never before," they said, "has it called in a group of politicians

'Unreported' Fire Rages Two Hours In Waldorf Hotel

NEW YORK, Jan. 28—UP—A fire broke out in the Waldorf-Astoria hotel for the second time in as many months Saturday. The city fire commissioner charged hotel officials endangered the Waldorf's guests, some of them among the nation's most prominent citizens, by failing to report the blaze.

Fire Commissioner Edward Cavanagh said a woman pedestrian reported the fire after she saw smoke billowing up from the roof. A man also sounded an alarm, he said.

It took 35 firemen two hours to extinguish the blaze in a grease flue in a second floor kitchen, Cavanagh said. Considerable smoke surged through corridors during that time. John L. Holian, deputy chief of the fire department, said there usually is danger of panic under such conditions.

The hotel had been warned previously about failing to report fires.

"I have some doubts that the Waldorf is a safe place to be in if their people aren't going to call fire apparatus when they have a fire," Cavanagh said.

He sent key officials to the Waldorf, whose tenants include former President Herbert Hoover, Gen. Douglas MacArthur, publisher Lord Beaverbrook, composer Cole Porter and diplomat Henry Cabot Lodge Jr.

Faubus Takes Stand Against De-Segregation

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Jan. 28 (AP) —Gov. Orval Faubus said today that "approximately 85 per cent of all people in Arkansas are opposed to integration of the races at this time."

He emphasized the "all" and added that "I cannot be a party to any attempt to force acceptance of a change to which the people are overwhelmingly opposed."

About one - fourth of Arkansas' population is Negro.

'Attack Could Now Be Launched At Any Opportune Time'

Chiang Says Formosans Ready To Return To China

EDITOR'S NOTE— Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek has given an interview to United Press Staff Correspondent William Miller in Taipei. In the interview which follows, Chiang discusses his prospects for standing a counter-attack on the Red Chinese mainland, his views on the forthcoming Washington talks between President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Anthony Eden.

By WILLIAM MILLER

TAIPEI, Formosa, Jan. 28—UP —President Chiang Kai-shek said Saturday that if he is left unhindered by outside influences that the American journalist, (Demaree Bess of The Saturday Evening Post) at his suburban home with Mme. Chiang Kai-shek at his side.

President Chiang said the people of mainland China would rapidly join his cause once a beachhead is established on the mainland.

He said that after six years of preparations on his counter-attack base in Formosa an attack could now be launched at any opportune time.

The generalissimo said that if he had the free world's assistance in counter-attacking the mainland then well and good but he was not depending on it.

He asked only that the Western nations do not hinder him in his efforts to retake the China mainland.

Asked what outside influences might hinder him, Chiang replied he was referring to the Western powers, and particularly Great Britain.

The 69-year-old leader of Nationalist China made these remarks to the United Press and one other American journalist, (Emery Bass of the Saturday Evening Post) at his suburban home with Mme. Chiang Kai-shek at his side.

He emphasized these other major points:

1. The forthcoming talks in Washington between Prime Minister Anthony Eden and President Eisenhower may touch on matters relating to the China situation and the talks may adversely affect the Nationalist Chinese government.

At any rate, he expected no good to come of the talks.

2. The idea of two Chinas is impossible. If Red China is admitted to the United Nations, then Chiang would order Nationalist China out of the world body.

3. The offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsu would be defended to the death and not one inch would be given up to the Communists.

Chiang emphasized that these islands were part and parcel of the Formosa-Penghu defense complex and were in no way similar to the Tachen Islands which were abandoned about this time last year.

He said Tachen and Nanchi were remote while Matsu and Quemoy were part of the mainland Fukien province.

At this point, Mme. Chiang emphasized there would be no doubt of the President's determination to defend Matsu and Quemoy to the last man.

Bazelon said in the majority opinion that a congressional witness cannot be judged guilty of contempt unless it is proved that the questions he refused to answer were "pertinent" to an investigation authorized by Congress. They said it is "not clear" how any valid legislative purpose is served by simply asking a witness—as Watkins was asked—to name persons he had known as Communists years ago.

Watkins had been convicted of contempt, and given a suspended sentence of one year in prison because he refused, during 1954 questioning by the House committee, to say whether he had known about 30 persons as Communists during the period 1942-47.

Rep. Gordon H. Scherer (R-Ohio), a member of the House committee, said the committee "might as well shut up shop and go home if this ruling stands."

"The courts have been obstructing congressional committees by their decisions," Rep. Morgan M. Moulder (D-Mo.) said. "I don't know who will expose communism if Congress does not. The courts are not doing it."

FIREMEN FIGHT FORD PLANT BLAZE— Waist-deep in oil-slick flood water, firemen battle flames at the Ford Motor Co. Plant in Los Angeles while fireboats join the fight following an explosion brought on by the water which caused a transformer to short-circuit. Four Ford workers and three firemen were slightly burned. A company official estimated the damage at about $3 million. (AP Wirephoto)

Mountains Combed For Four Air Force Crewmen Missing On Calif. Flight

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif., Jan. 28 (AP) — Searchers combed two mountain ranges roughly 150 miles apart today for a missing Air Force crew of four men from Goodfellow Air Force Base at San Angelo, Tex.

Their B25 bomber presumably crashed Thursday night in a heavy rainstorm. Last night a United Air Lines pilot reported seeing what appeared to be a portion of an "SOS" signal being flashed from the ground near the California-Nevada border.

But after more than eight hours of searching the area near the desolate Ivanpah mountains, Nellis AFB and San Bernardino County sheriff's searchers reported no trace of the missing plane and its crew.

More than 70 members of the March AFB air rescue squadron probed steep ravines of Waterman Canyon and the Lake Arrowhead region in the San Bernardino range, 150 miles southwest. A ranch owner near Lake Arrowhead reported what he thought was a plane crash Thursday night.

The plane was bound for Norton AFB near San Bernardino. When last heard from, it was above the 5,000-foot level, but coming down in the vicinity of the San Bernardino range, peaks of which are 7,000 to 8,000 feet.

However, the sighting of the flashes near the Nevada line led

Girl Bullfighter Gored; Injuries Said 'Not Serious'

ZACATECAS, Mex., Jan. 28 (AP)— Patricia McCormick, the pretty Texas bullfighter, was gored in the thigh yesterday, but her doctor said tonight that her condition was not serious.

Earlier, the sports newspaper Esto said the 25-year-old Big Spring blonde was in grave condition.

Tonight, her physician, Dr. Oscar Hermez Duque, said the wound was not serious.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E.B. McCormick of Big Spring had planned to fly to Mexico but cancelled the trip after talking to the doctor.

She was thrown into the air by a bull while practicing at the Torreciallos breeding farm, the sports paper said. She was rushed to an Agua-Calientes hospital near Mexico City.

Jefferson Parish To Drop Litigation Against La. P&L

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 28 (AP) — Sheriff Frank Clancy of adjoining Jefferson Parisy said today he will ask the police jury to drop plans for a publicly-owned gas utility and withdraw all litigation against the Louisiana Power & Light Co.

Clancy said jury president John Holtgreve will present a resolution to that effect at a special meeting Wednesday.

The sheriff said the action against the power company is being dropped to push plans for industrial development of the west bank of the Mississippi River and a new seaway to the Gulf of Mexico.

Jefferson Parish officials and power company owners, he said, have decided that "to realize this important project it is necessary to have complete unity of purpose."

Clancy said the need for unity "is emphasized even more now because within the past few days still more important industrial firms have expressed an interest in locating along the proposed seaway."

W. O. Turner, president of Louisiana Power & Light, said he was "very happy" at the new turn of events—"I know this will greatly help to make the Westside Seaway and industrial zone a reality."

The natural gas feud flared up in March, 1953, when the Securities and Exchange Commission ruled that the power company could not control both electric and gas franchises in the parish.

Jefferson Parish stepped in after the Louisiana Public Service Commission, state regulatory body, asked the SEC to change its mind. The parish asked the SEC to deny the state commission's request.

The power company then asked the SEC to allow transfer of its gas operations to a subsidiary.

In subsequent steps, the parish decided to purchase the company's gas properties, attacked the validity of its franchise and finally filed a state franchise suit that wound up in the federal court.

Bulganin Offers 20-Year Treaty In Secret Note

President Blames Soviet Union For World's Tension

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28 (AP) — President Eisenhower today rejected Russia's proposed "friendship" treaty. He told Premier Nikolai Bulganin that a "'change of spirit" and not a mere "stroke of the pen" is needed to promote world peace.

Bulganin had written Eisenhower that present world tensions are "fraught with the possibility of breaking the peace," and plunging nations into atomic war.

It would be "an act of great international significance" for peace, he said, if the United States and Russia would sign a treaty piedging 1. to settle disputes peacefully in conformity with the United Nations Charter 2. noninterference in each other's affairs and 3. to strengthen economic, cultural and scientific cooperation.

Courteously but firmly, Eisenhower replied that, "It is deeds and not words alone which count." Such a pact as Bulganin proposed, he said, "might indeed work against the cause of peace" by creating the illusion that all is well.

Eisenhower challenged Bulganin in a personal letter to join in 'prompt measures" to unify Germany, end the threat of atomic war, free Russia's satellite states and abolish the Iron Curtain.

The chief executive blamed Soviet behavior for the state of

New Jersey Man Kills 6 Members Of Family, Self

PARSIPPANY-TROY HILLS, N.J., Jan. 18—UP—A father killed six members of his family, including his two small children and his aged invalid mother, with a shotgun Saturday and shot himself in the head, police reported.

Police Chief Leo D'Orsi said 48-year-old William Bauer, a trustee of the Parsippany First Methodist Church, went berserk "for no apparent reason" in his seven room ranch house here after a scheduled Florida vacation had been postponed unexpectedly.

He killed his wife, Alice, 43; his daughter, Elizabeth, 5; his son, Peter, 18 months; his mother, Ann, 84; and his mother and father-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Edward Neuber, police said.

The bodies were found strewn through the Bauer home by a neighbor shortly after 12:30 p.m. The neighbor investigated when he saw an automobile in the Bauer driveway. He knew the family had planned to leave for Florida Friday and entered the house.

D'Orsi said the house was strewn

'Unreported' Fire Rages Two Hours In Waldorf Hotel

NEW YORK, Jan. 28—UP—A fire broke out in the Waldorf-Astoria hotel for the second time in as many months Saturday. The city fire commissioner charged hotel officials endangered the Waldorf's guests, some of them among the nation's most prominent citizens, by failing to report the blaze.

Fire Commissioner Edward Cavanagh said a woman pedestrian reported the fire after she saw smoke billowing up from the roof. A man also sounded an alarm, he said.

It took 35 firemen two hours to extinguish the blaze in a grease flue in a second floor kitchen, Cavanagh said. Considerable smoke surged through corridors during that time. John L. Holian, deputy chief of the fire department, said there usually is danger of panic under such conditions.

The hotel had been warned previously about failing to report fires.

"I have some doubts that the Waldorf is a safe place to be in if their people aren't going to call fire apparatus when they have a fire," Cavanagh said.

He sent key officials to the Waldorf, whose tenants include former President Herbert Hoover, Gen. Douglas MacArthur, publisher Lord Beaverbrook, composer Cole Porter and diplomat Henry Cabot Lodge Jr.

Faubus Takes Stand Against De-Segregation

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Jan. 28 (AP) —Gov. Orval Faubus said today that "approximately 85 per cent of all people in Arkansas are opposed to integration of the races at this time."

He emphasized the "all" and added that "I cannot be a party to any attempt to force acceptance of a change to which the people are overwhelmingly opposed."

About one-fourth of Arkansas' population is Negro.

GOP Says Demos Mixing Politics, Economic Study

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28 (AP)—Six Republican members of a Senate-House Committee tonight accused Democrats of mixing "partisan politics" into a study of the nation's economic future.

They said Democrats have called "a group of politicians" to alternate with administration witnesses at hearings on President Eisenhower's economic report.

They called the idea "preposterous and unsound."

The six Republican members of the Joint Committee on the Economic Report said in a statement that the "politicians" are known to be "Opposed on a partisan basis" to the Eisenhower administration.

Sen. Douglas (D-Ill), the committee chairman, has listed a series of hearings starting next week and running until mid-February at which testimony by top Eisenhower officials will be alternated with that of former Democratic administration officials, including Oscar L. Chapman, ex-secretary of the interior; Randolph E. Paul, former general counsel of the Treasury; and Robert R. Nathan, economist and former War Production Board official.

Under the 1946 Employment Act, the committee is charged with reviewing the President's annual economic report and submitting its own findings and recommendations.

The six Republicans said that in the past the group has called in executive officials responsible for government action in various economic fields and "a selected group of students in the field of economics, as well as representatives of certain economic groups."

"Never before," they said, "has it called in a group of politicians

'Attack Could Now Be Launched At Any Opportune Time'

Chiang Says Formosans Ready To Return To China

EDITOR'S NOTE— Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek has given an interview to United Press Staff Correspondent William Miller in Taipei. In the interview which follows, Chiang discusses his prospects for standing a counter-attack on the Red Chinese mainland, his views on the forthcoming Washington talks between President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Anthony Eden.

By WILLIAM MILLER

TAIPEI, Formosa, Jan. 28—UP —President Chiang Kai-shek said Saturday that if he is left unhindered by outside influences that the American journalist, (Demaree Bess of The Saturday Evening Post) at his suburban home with Mme. Chiang Kai-shek at his side.

President Chiang said the people of mainland China would rapidly join his cause once a beachhead is established on the mainland.

He said that after six years of preparations on his counter-attack base in Formosa an attack could now be launched at any opportune time.

The generalissimo said that if he had the free world's assistance in counter-attacking the mainland then well and good but he was not depending on it.

He asked only that the Western nations do not hinder him in his efforts to retake the China mainland.

Asked what outside influences might hinder him, Chiang replied he was referring to the Western powers, and particularly Great Britain.

The 69-year-old leader of Nationalist China made these remarks to the United Press and one other American journalist, (Emery Bass of the Saturday Evening Post) at his suburban home with Mme. Chiang Kai-shek at his side.

He emphasized these other major points:

1. The forthcoming talks in Washington between Prime Minister Anthony Eden and President Eisenhower may touch on matters relating to the China situation and the talks may adversely affect the Nationalist Chinese government.

At any rate, he expected no good to come of the talks.

2. The idea of two Chinas is impossible. If Red China is admitted to the United Nations, then Chiang would order Nationalist China out of the world body.

3. The offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsu would be defended to the death and not one inch would be given up to the Communists.

Chiang emphasized that these islands were part and parcel of the Formosa-Penghu defense complex and were in no way similar to the Tachen Islands which were abandoned about this time last year.

He said Tachen and Nanchi were remote while Matsu and Quemoy were part of the mainland Fukien province.

At this point, Mme. Chiang emphasized there would be no doubt of the President's determination to defend Matsu and Quemoy to the last man.

Federal Judge Admonishes Jury In Hughes' Trial

NEW YORK Jan. 28 —UP— A federal judge Friday admonished the jury in the perjury trial of Paul H. Hughes, accused of posing as a aide of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy, after learning that a juror had discussed the case with an unauthorized person.

Judge Archie O. Dawson told the jury of 10 men and two women not to let anyone attempt to influence their opinion and if approached to report it to the court.

The judge spoke up after the juror's act had been disclosed by Prosecutor Paul W. Williams. The juror and the man with whom he talked was not identified.

Hughes is charged with lying when he told a grand jury that the activities of Harvey Matusow were known to officials of Americans for Democratic Action and the Washington Post and Times Herald.

Matusow appeared as a government witness at the trial of 13 Communist leaders but later said his testimony was false.

Hughes is also accused of lying when he told the grand jury that Joseph L. Rauh Jr., national chairman of ADA, was aware of the falsity of Hughes' claims to be a McCarthy investigator.

19 Illicit Stills Seized By Agents Of Treasury Dept.

MOBILE, Ala. Jan. 28 (AP)—The Federal Alcohol Tax Unit today announced ATU agents from Mobile and Gulfport, Miss., raided 19 illicit stills along the Alabama-Mississippi state line during the past week.

Louis Fisher, in charge of the Mobile ATU office, said the raids extended from the Gulf Coast to a point 30 miles inland.

In addition to destroying the 19 stills, the agents seized 19,560 gallons of mash and 632 gallons of moonshine whisky.

Fisher said most of the stills were located on information supplied by residents or visitors.

John C. Shaydak, of Leavenworth, Kans., now stationed in Seoul with the U. S. Military Advisory Group. Shaydak expects to bring Kim, whose parents were killed in the first month of the 1950 Red invasion, home in April. Senator Says Gas Bill Written By Producers; Long Speaks In Favor

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28 (AP)—Sen. Pastore (D-RI) asserted yesterday "the lawyers for the producers" drafted the natural gas bill which the Senate has been debating hotly for the last two weeks.

"This chamber is loaded with lobbyists," he added in a speech against the bill, a measure to remove the gas producers from direct federal controls.

Sen. Daniel (D-Tex) challenged Pastore's statement, calling it "a very unfair charge" against members of the Senate and House committees which approved the legislation.

The Texas senator, a supporter of the bill, suggested Pastore had meant to say lobbyists may be present in the Senate gallery but not in the Senate chamber itself. He added he believes lobbyists for the pipeline companies opposing the bill have been seen in the gallery.

The main argument against the legislation has been that it would raise the price for natural gas, thus hurting household consumers. Proponents deny this.

Daniel said the bill had been carefully drafted and revised by members of Congress to protect consumers from unwarranted price rises. The bill is "good for the consumer," he contended, and "in the best interests of the country."

Support came from Sen. Long (D-La), who said the measure would benefit consumers in the big northern cities in the long run. Under present control methods, he said, nine major pipline companies "can't get enough gas to replace the reserves they are depleting."

Long argued that unless the bill becomes law it will be found that "the rate at which gas reserves are committed to interstate commerce will be reduced" because producers could find more profitable markets within their own states.

Long said he thought consumers "would prefer to pay another cent to the producer and be assured of adequate gas."

Long said the issue involved is "whether we believe in free competitive enterprise or whether we believe that competition has failed to serve its purpose in the American economy, and that socialization and federal price control must be used as a substitute."

He said that if the price of natural gas at the production end is subjected to federal regulation and control, "why not oil? Why not coal? Why not iron ore, copper, tungsten, sulphur, salt, and every other mineral extracted from the soil.

"If one is to say that natural gas is vested with the public interest because it is consumed in millions of homes, why not oil, which serves as the base of the fuel that moves every automobile and almost every locomotive and steamship in the land, as well as heating untold millions of homes."

Chemists To Meet In Conference At LSU Tomorrow

Panel Of Farm Experts Outline Ways Of Stopping Further Income Decline

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 28 (AP)—A panel of farm experts yesterday suggested four possible ways to stop farm income from sagging more:

1. Less production.
2. Better promotion of farm products and better marketing.
3. More research and education of farmers in new agricultural techniques.
4. Price supports and expanded soil conservation and improvement.

W. D. Curtis, an extension economist at Louisiana State University, was chairman of the panel discussion before the Southern Farm Forum.

Curtis said the United States "agricultural plant is geared to produce between 5 and 6 per cent more agricultural products annually than the present market will take at generally acceptable prices."

H. L. Wingate, president of the Georgia Farm Bureau Federation said the present cotton situation could be improved by more advertising and study.

He said the synthetic fiber industry illustrates what can be done with research and advertising.

Wingate said he believed the farmers' income can be improved with a 90 per cent price support program, less production through soil banks and a promotional program.

Another speaker, Clint H. Johns, county agent in Birmingham, Ala., said more education is needed in the marketing field. He said production knowledge is far ahead of marketing knowledge.

Johns said "we have no income, gross or net, until our products are sold."

R. J. Badeaux, director of organization for the Louisiana Farm Bureau Federation, Baton Rouge, said he favors a program which would include "consistency between our foreign policy and domestic price support program."

He said there also was a need for increased research and education, improved techniques for marketing, adequate farm lending and reasonable price protection through price supports.

Charges Dropped Against 6 Youths In Fake Shooting

It was learned yesterday morning that no disciplinary action would be taken against six Monroe youths who staged a fake shooting in front of a Five Points drugstore on January 14.

In addition to faking the shooting of a Negro, dragging the "victim" into a car at the drugstore and leading police officers on a break-neck chase, the boys were charged with planning a fake "robbery" of a local restaurant.

"I have the boy's word that they will abstain from any further action of this nature," City Judge W. M. Harper stated following an office session with the youths about 10 a.m. yesterday.

A reoccurance of such a case though will be met with expediently metted justice, the city judge added quickly.

The names of the six Monroe youths were not released yesterday.

The youths on the night of January 14 were charged with planning a "mock" robbery of a local restaurant which if carried out could have ended in death for one or maybe all the boys.

The city detective bureau received a tip that night from the state police that a robbery was planned at the Rendezvous.

Detectives and Ouachita parish sheriff officials, armed with sawed-off shotguns were planted at the restaurant unaware the tip was not bonafied.

On Tuesday January 17, city detectives and the Monroe juvenile department had the case wrapped up and turned it over to city court for action.

Consultant Plans Address At LSU

BATON ROUGE, La., Jan. 28—UP—A General Motors consultant will address the 12th annual personnel management conference to be held at LSU Feb. 23-24, it was announced today.

Dr. Alfred P. Haake, considered an authority on business management, will speak to top management officials and personnel directors.

Symington Says Budget-Balancing Cuts U. S. Power

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28 (AP)—Sen. Symington (D-Mo) told the Senate yesterday that if the Eisenhower administration balances the budget by June 30 it will be done in "one way only—by reducing the military strength of the United States."

Symington, a Senate Armed Services committeeman who has been mentioned as a possible aspirant for the Democratic presidential nomination, said secret testimony received by Congress indicates an "almost unbelievable buildup of Communist air and sea strength."

In the face of this, he said the Eisenhower administration has pared one billion dollars from expenditures in the current year for combat airplanes and 27 million dollars from defense research and development.

He said all of this was done "in order to achieve a balanced budget in 1956," and that in the fiscal year beginning next July 1, the administration is proposing to raise military expenditures again.

Federal Agencies Rescind Orders On Land At Moisant

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28 (AP)—Offied Rep. Boggs (D-La.) yesterday they have rescinded orders which he contended greatly restricted property development in the vinicity of the Moisant Airport, near New Orleans.

The orders, issued Tuesday at New Orleans, suspended commitments and mortgage guarantees by the Federal Housing Administration (FHA) and the Veterans Administration (VA) in an area two miles around the airport.

"These orders have been cancelled by both agencies upon direction of Washington officials," Boggs said. "Officials of the agencies told me the orders should never have been issued in the first place."

Boggs, who had called the order "incomprehensivle" said he was "delighted" at the turn of events. Cancellation of the orders, he said, would eliminate the necessity of conferences he and other Louisiana members of Congress were to have Monday with officials of the FHA and the VA.

Boggs contended the original orders would have abruptly ended home building in one of the desirable areas along Lake Pontchartrain. It also barred further expansion for most of the city of Kenner, he said.

Boggs said he had been advised the original orders were issued on a basis of safety and noise from jet planes.

Supreme Court To Hold Hearing In Wetzel Case

JACKSON, Miss., Jan. 28 (AP)—The state Supreme Court yesterday set for Wednesday a hearing on whether condemned killer William Wetzel has the right of another appeal.

Wetzel's attorney asked for a decision on whether he could appeal the death penalty on the grounds Wetzel was condemned to die before Mississippi changed from the electric chair to gas.

Wetzel is scheduled to die Feb. 9 for the penitentiary slaying of another inmate for violation of gangland's code against stool pigeons.

Howard McDonnell, Wetzel's attorney, contends Wetzel is innocent.

Wetzel has lost appeals all the way to the U.S. Supreme Court.

1. Less production.
2. Better promotion of farm products and better marketing.
3. More research and education of farmers in new agricultural techniques.
4. Price supports and expanded soil conservation and improvement.

W. D. Curtis, an extension economist at Louisiana State University, was chairman of the panel discussion before the Southern Farm Forum.

Curtis said the United States "agricultural plant is geared to produce between 5 and 6 per cent more agricultural products annually than the present market will take at generally acceptable prices."

H. L. Wingate, president of the Georgia Farm Bureau Federation said the present cotton situation could be improved by more advertising and study.

He said the synthetic fiber industry illustrates what can be done with research and advertising.

Wingate said he believed the farmers' income can be improved with a 90 per cent price support program, less production through soil banks and a promotional program.

Another speaker, Clint H. Johns, county agent in Birmingham, Ala., said more education is needed in the marketing field. He said production knowledge is far ahead of marketing knowledge.

Johns said "we have no income, gross or net, until our products are sold."

R. J. Badeaux, director of organization for the Louisiana Farm Bureau Federation, Baton Rouge, said he favors a program which would include "consistency between our foreign policy and domestic price support program."

He said there also was a need for increased research and education, improved techniques for marketing, adequate farm lending and reasonable price protection through price supports.

Symington Says Budget-Balancing Cuts U. S. Power

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28 (AP)—Sen. Symington (D-Mo) told the Senate yesterday that if the Eisenhower administration balances the budget by June 30 it will be done in "one way only—by reducing the military strength of the United States."

Symington, a Senate Armed Services committeeman who has been mentioned as a possible aspirant for the Democratic presidential nomination, said secret testimony received by Congress indicates an "almost unbelievable buildup of Communist air and sea strength."

In the face of this, he said the Eisenhower administration has pared one billion dollars from expenditures in the current year for combat airplanes and 27 million dollars from defense research and development.

He said all of this was done "in order to achieve a balanced budget in 1956," and that in the fiscal year beginning next July 1, the administration is proposing to raise military expenditures again

Federal Agencies Rescind Orders On Land At Moisant

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28 (AP)— Offified Rep. Boggs (D-La.) yesterday they have rescinded orders which he contended greatly restricted property development in the vinicity of the Moisant Airport, near New Orleans.

The orders, issued Tuesday at New Orleans, suspended commitments and mortgage guarantees by the Federal Housing Administration (FHA) and the Veterans Administration (VA) in an area two miles around the airport.

"These orders have been cancelled by both agencies upon direction of Washington officials," Boggs said. "Officials of the agencies told me the orders should never have been issued in the first place."

Boggs, who had called the order "incomprehensivle" said he was "delighted" at the turn of events. Cancellation of the orders, he said, would eliminate the necessity of conferences he and other Louisiana members of Congress were to have Monday with officials of the FHA and the VA.

Boggs contended the original orders would have abruptly ended home building in one of the desirable areas along Lake Pontchartrain. It also barred further expansion for most of the city of Kenner, he said.

Boggs said he had been advised the original orders were issued on a basis of safety and noise from jet planes.

Charges Dropped Against 6 Youths In Fake Shooting

It was learned yesterday morning that no disciplinary action would be taken against six Monroe youths who staged a fake shooting in front of a Five Points drugstore on January 14.

In addition to faking the shooting of a Negro, dragging the "victim" into a car at the drugstore and leading police officers on a break-neck chase, the boys were charged with planning a fake "robbery" of a local restaurant.

"I have the boy's word that they will abstain from any further action of this nature," City Judge W. M. Harper stated following an office session with the youths about 10 a.m. yesterday.

A reoccurance of such a case though will be met with expediently metted justice, the city judge added quickly.

The names of the six Monroe youths were not released yesterday.

The youths on the night of January 14 were charged with planning a "mock" robbery of a local restaurant which if carried out could have ended in death for one or maybe all the boys.

The city detective bureau received a tip that night from the state police that a robbery was planned at the Rendezvous.

Detectives and Ouachita parish sheriff officials, armed with sawed-off shotguns were planted at the restaurant unaware the tip was not bonafied.

On Tuesday January 17, city detectives and the Monroe juvenile department had the case wrapped up and turned it over to city court for action.

Dr. Alfred P. Haake, considered an authority on business management, will speak to top management officials and personnel directors.

Supreme Court To Hold Hearing In Wetzel Case

JACKSON, Miss., Jan. 28 (AP)—The state Supreme Court yesterday set for Wednesday a hearing on whether condemned killer William Wetzel has the right of another appeal.

Wetzel's attorney asked for a decision on whether he could appeal the death penalty on the grounds Wetzel was condemned to die before Mississippi changed from the electric chair to gas.

Wetzel is scheduled to die Feb. 9 for the penitentiary slaying of another inmate for violation of gangland's code against stool pigeons.

Howard McDonnell, Wetzel's attorney, contends Wetzel is innocent.

Wetzel has lost appeals all the way to the U.S. Supreme Court.

WILLIAM R. BAKER

State Leader To Attend National V. F. W. Meeting

WINNSBORO, Jan. 28 —(Special) —William R. Baker, of Winnsboro, state commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, will attend the annual V.F.W. congressional dinner in Washington, D. C. on February 7.

Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, Supreme Allied Commander in Europe, will be the principal speaker at the dinner, according to V.F.W. Commander in Chief Timonth J. Murphy, of Boston.

Murphy said that Gruenther was flying back to the states from Europe especially for this up-to-minute major address on the problems confronting NATO and the free world in the crucial months ahead.

The annual dinner honoring the Congress will climax a four-day national conference of V.F.W. officials, beginning February 4, which will include a run-down of V.F.W. legislative objectives by Murphy and V.F.W. Legislative Director Omar B. Ketchum before the House Committee on Veterans Affairs on the morning of February 7.

State Commander Baker is a member of the Winnsboro V.F.W. post.

Mrs. Ferd Levi's Rites Set Today, Mulhearn Chapel

The funeral of Mrs. Ferd Levi will be held this morning at 10:30 oclock in the Mulhearn Funeral Chapel. Officiating will be Rabbis Jacob Lantz and F. K. Hirsch. Interment will be in the Jewish cemetery.

Pallbearers will be: Clarence Marks, A. B. Marks, Herman Marks, Danny Marks, A. M. Marks, Dr. H. P. Marks, David Masur and Dr. Seymour Solomon.

Mrs. Levi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gerson, became the wife of Ferd Levi who established the Ferd Levi Stationery Co. about forty years ago.

She was active in this business assisting her husband and later her son Bernard, after his father died.

Mrs. Levi was a member of B' Nai Israel Temple and of the Temple Sisterhood.

She was widely known and highly regarded in her community. She is survived by her son Bernard Levi; a granddaughter, Miss Mildred G. Levi and a number of nephews and nieces.

Body Of Orleans Man Identified; Killed On Tanker

LAKE CHARLES, La., Jan. 28—UP—The body of another seaman killed in the explosion and fire that shattered the tanker Salem Maritime Jan. 17 with a loss of 21 lives was identified today.

Authorities said the fire-charred body of Joseph S. Kornek, 48, New Orleans, was definitely identified.

The death toll rose to 21 when William H. McCurley of Maplewood, La., dock operator for Cities Service refinery who was helping load the tanker, died at a local hospital yesterday of burns received in the blast.

Korneks name brought to seven the number identified of the nine bodies that were pulled from the shattered hulk of the gutted tanker. Ten others are still missing.

Besides McCurley, one other non-crewman died in the explosion of the gasoline-laden vessel, making a total of 21 dead.

Korneks body was sent to New Orleans today for funeral services and burial.

Two Polio Cases Reported In La. During Past Week

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 28—UP—Two new cases of paralytic polio were reported in Louisiana for the week ending today, the state health department said.

The latest figure compared to three cases reported for the previous week and increased to five the number of paralytic polio cases in the state since Jan. 1.

At the same time, the department reported 64 new cases of cancer as compared to 43 for the previous week.

Mothers' March Against Polio Here Tuesday Night

Throughout Ouachita parish Tuesday night, between 7 and 8, mothers will make a house to house canvas to raise funds for the 1956 March of Dimes campaign.

The annual Mothers March on Polio is one of the central parts of the month long campaign. Hundreds of mothers have volunteered their services to make the house to house canvas in behalf of the March of Dimes.

Mrs. Marion Fisher, chairman of this year's drive, pointed out that a large number of the workers volunteered their services each year.

Theme of the 1956 canvas is "Let Your Light So Shine." Mrs. Fisher urged everyone to turn on their porch lights to welcome mothers to receive their donations to the March of Dimes.

John Luffey, chairman of the drive, announced that the Ouachita chapter was attempting to raise $33,000 this year. Luffey pointed out that more than $32,000 was used in Ouachita parish during 1955.

Names of the chairmen and captains in the white mother's division were announced last week.

Mrs. Fisher listed the chairmen and workers in Monroe and West Monroe for the Negro mothers march.

In Monroe the chairman is Mrs Odilie McDonald and Mrs A. J. Washington is co-chairman. Workers are Mrs. M. H. Gipson, Mrs. Mary Britton, Mrs. Mary Cyrus, Mrs. Cleo Elmo, Mrs. Loretta Britton, Mrs. Frances Jackson, Mrs. Iona Nelson, Mrs. Anna Davis, Mrs. Ruth Woods, Mrs. Addit B. Mims, Mrs. Laura Vigular, Mrs. Adie Britten, Mrs. Laura Ivory, Mrs. Tulip Wiley, Mrs. Lillian Burns, Mrs. Mary Johnson, Mrs. Bontinn Campbell, Mrs. Beatrice Sheppard, Mrs. Gordie Malone and Mrs. Fany Richardson, Mrs. Effie Mack, Mrs. Arnice Horton and Mrs. Juanita Cocks.

In West Monroe Mrs. Doris Turner is chairman of the drive and the workers are Mrs. L. L W. Coleman, Mrs. E. L. May, Mrs. A. Taylor, Mrs. B. L. Archie, Mrs. Bernice Mosley, Mrs. Rebecca Base, Mrs. N. Freeman, Mrs. Helen Billings, Mrs. Zolee Jones. Mrs. W B. Taylor and Mrs. W. M. Washington.

High Cost Of Oil Production

The first comprehensive industry-wide survey of oil drilling costs ever made in the United States has been announced; and the figures it provides are highly interesting, and important to the people generally.

This "Joint Association Survey" was sponsored by the American Petroleum Institute, the Independent Petroleum Association of America, and the Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association.

It provides a breakdown of actual drilling costs of the 49,279 wells drilled in this country in the year 1953. These included merely the expense of completion as far as the well-head or Christmas tree—no expenses for flow lines, separators, tank batteries and other appurtenances needed after completion of the wells.

Neither are the costs of seismograph and other geophysics, indispensable preliminaries to successful drilling, included; nor the outlay for mineral rights—lease money, bonuses, etc.

The survey shows that during 1953 oil men and oil companies drilled 198,839,000 feet of hole at a total cost of $2,471,000,000. For the 49,279 wells involved, this averaged $50,200 per well or $12.43 per foot drilled.

Since 1953, of course, there has been a material increase in drilling costs, due to higher wages and increased prices of equipment and products needed in oil exploration.

One of the striking facts brought out in the survey is that the cost per foot of drilling operations increases sharply as deeper horizons are reached. Thus, at a depth range of 1,250 feet the footage cost was only $6.63, while at depths below 15,000 feet, this rose to $40.20.

The expense of drilling the 82 wells reported during the year in the offshore area of Louisiana waters was higher, by far, than comparable wells drilled on land. The average for these wells was reported in the survey as $298,800 each. For those running below 12,000 feet the cost per well exceeded three quarters of a million dollars.

Data revealed in the survey shows clearly, on a statistical basis, the hazards of oil drilling from a financial standpoint, and the urgent need for retaining depletion allowances and other devices which serve as a cushion against some of the risks involved in oil exploration.

That the industry has been able to absorb increasing costs over a period of years with no material increase in the price of crude oil is a tribute to the skill and ingenuity of the oil men and companies which push the drill ever deeper into the earth in search of this vital natural resource.

Benson's Monumental 'Boner'

Proverbially, there is the straw that breaks the camel's back; and Secretary of Agriculture Benson's self-admitted "boner" in a letter to Harper's Magazine bearing his signature branding the American farmer as a "pampered tyrant" probably will prove the last straw in his career as head of the Agriculture Department.

With forthright honesty, Benson has acknowledged full responsibility for this monumental blunder, saying "we pulled a boner on this one."

The letter eulogized an article appearing in the December issue of the magazine that was entitled "The Country Slickers Take It's Again" and branded the American farmer as "a pampered tyrant."

Mr. Benson explained that aides in his office had written and affixed his signature to the letter, without his knowledge or authorization.

This is a poor and lame, although honestly motivated, explanation. Mr. Benson, as head of a department of federal government, should have enough common sense, caution and discretion to prevent such idiotic happenings; and the fact that he failed to exercise such faculties does no credit whatever to him.

This is the second time in a few days that a cabinet head has blundered into print with a highly incendiary and controversial statement—the other being Secretary Dulles in his ill-advised "brink of war" interview carried in Life Magazine.

The airing of high matters of policy by cabinet members in such periodicals is cheap and melodramatic, and has no sound basis or precedent in history; and is contrary to public interest, and tends to create partisanship, division and confusion, and defeat the proper ends and aims of the Eisenhower Administration, and throw the public into an uproar; and altogether is not to be excused.

Benson's usefulness to the Administration has ended; and he would do his party a great favor by submitting his resignation at an early date.

"Old Soldiers Never Die—"

General Douglas MacArthur had planned a quiet observance of his 76th birthday last Wednesday in his suite of rooms at The Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in New York City. But he was deluged by telephone calls and wires from all over America and many foreign lands.

The extensive telephone switchboard was swamped for hours attempting to care for the messages pouring in to wish the five-star general a happy birthday.

Here is a reminder that despite the disgraceful treatment to which he was subjected by the Truman administration—which will live as a blot upon the record of Harry S. Truman so long as that man's history is preserved—General MacArthur's prestige is undimmed in the eyes of a grateful American people; and abroad among patriotic peoples and their leaders.

Nobody knows, and few persons care, what evaluation future historians will place upon Truman and his administration. But history's verdict regarding General MacArthur is clearly outlined while he lives.

He ranks, and unquestionably will continue to rank, as one of the supremely great generals of his day and age; and as a patriot whose unswerving devotion to duty and the welfare and preservation of the United States shines like a beacon on a hilltop—a truly great man, of whom every patriotic American can be proud.

No Laws Can Force Integregation

Ruston, La.

Editor, Morning World:

Mississippi's Governor J. P. Coleman, previously Attorney General for the state, says there never has been a law that could force two races of people to integrate against their will. Amen! We still have freedom of choice — if we do not choose traitors or subversives.

If the Supreme Court can force national integration upon us then it could force national prohibition, etc., upon us; we would be in the clutches of socialism and hell-bent for the Iron Curtain. The south is now staking its hopes on interposition which is using the Constitution to nullify an unconstitutional law, the desegregation ruling of the U. S. Supreme Court.

This desegregation ruling was one of the most dangerous, unjust, and uncalled - for decisions this nation has ever experienced. It is dividing the nation, which shows it isn't right, and neither the white nor colored race called for it. The idea was spawned in the Kremlin for revolutionary purposes. A conglomeration of Communists wrote a book entitled "An Americin Dilemma"which induced the justices of the Supreme Court to make the decision.

When Mr. Roosevelt opened our doors to Russia back in 1933, it was like turning coyotes in your barnyard. Russia sent practically nothing but spies and revolutionists. They immediately preyed upon the gullibility of our colored people with plans to revolt. Heading the lists of their ukases from the Kremlin were to "divide and conquor" and "sow hatred among the masses who disagree with us."

The segregation issue here in the south gave them fertile soil for sowing hatred. For more than 20 years they used this as an excuse to spit in the faces of our chief arbiters. Recently, or only a few months ago, Justice William O. Douglas made an impromptu tour through forbidden parts of the Soviet Empire and he received a gigantic surprise: Russia was practicing segregation. The white Russians had their schools and the dark Mongolians also had theirs. And to think, segregation was ruled out here mostly to appease Soviet Russia.

"Whiskey Allowance" Scored

West Monroe, La.

Editor, Morning World:

On January 17, an article appeared in our daily newspaper, Monroe Morning World, headed "Diplomats Whiskey Allowance Sought." Our president has asked for one million dollars for whiskey for our law makers. Here in Monroe and West Monroe, if a citizen is caught under the influence of alcohol they are placed in jail or are forced to pay a fine. We are prone to follow our leaders, whoever they might be, preacher, president, officer of the law, and other prominent men. Tell me, gentlemen, what is your opinion of a country with this type of leadership?

Monroe and every other city in the United States is fighting to prevent juvenile delinquency. What chance do we have when our teenagers read that our government approves of drinking and allows our law makers to drink a million dollars worth of whiskey in one year. We put on drives for deadly diseases — cancer, heart diseases, polio, cerebral palsy. We work door to door to doer. Our high school students parade the streets with tin cups, we stop the traffic to give when the drive is on. We burn our porch lights on the appointed night when we are to give to some cause that we know kills. But when have you ever heard of a stop drinking drive? The greatest of all killers. A druggist is not allowed to sell one thing marked poison, yet the liquor dealers can get license to sell the deadliest of all poisons.

We feel that in all sincerity this is one bill that should, by all means, be defeated.

Editor, Morning World:

I had to leave town the day before it would have been possible for me to have cast an absentee ballot in the recent election, and I did not return until the morning of the 19th of January. I was away on important legal business and my absence was unavoidable.

I have noted the results of the election since my return and I have been told that Shady Wall's vote in connection with the so-called segregation bills has been untairly represented, perhaps by your paper, but anyhow publicly.

Prior to the introduction of these bills and resolutions Leander Perez asked me if I would work with him on writing the same. I told him I would be glad to, but in talking with him, his ideas and mine did not altogether agree and nothing more was said to me and I had nothing to do with preparing that legislation.

When the bills were introduced and the Constitutional Amendment, it is my very definite recollection that our mutual friend and Ouachita's representative, Shady Wall, asked me about them. I told him that I thought the bills were "cock - eyed;" would do more harm than good; were in many parts unconstitutional; that I thought it would be unwise to insult the United States Supreme Court and untair and unconstitutional to pass legislation that would throw any Negro in jail who sought integration and disbar any lawyer that would represent a Negro in civil right suits. I did not approve the legislation which I thought would reflect on our state and bring us wide, harmful publicity. I so told my friend Shady Wall, who I understand in its original form opposed this legislation.

I have not checked the record as to how the vote finally went, but I am informed reliably that as to the Constitutional Amendment, Shady, in effect, voted for it by not registering an objection to it. I am also informed from the source I believe reliable that Shady, in the end, voted for the so-called segregation bills in their final form after being drastically amended.

As you know I have attended the sessions of the legislature for many years. It is part of my experience to know what goes on. Throughout Shady Wall's representation of our parish, state and community, he has frequently consulted with me, and while we have not always agreed, I am quite confident that his votes have been his honest convictions and what the deemed to be for the best interest of our parish, state and community. I have never heard any intimation that he has been influenced by factional politics or money or any other improper motive in his votes upon legislative matters.

I saw a great deal of Shady in Baton Rouge and I am completely confident that if Shady had been influenced by any improper considerations, I would have heard about it, and I heard absolutely nothing of that sort at any time or in any connection. His record speaks for itself. I have not carefully checked it, but whatever it may be, I am sure it represented his honest and sincere convictions.

The contents of this letter are intended for your information or whatever use you care to make of it.

Plight Of The Y.W.C.A.

Are we the Christian women going to sit back and watch the doors of the Y. W. C. A. close from the need of members and financial need while the Christian men are working so hard to build a fine Y. M. C. A. building for the Twin Cities.

Maybe it is because you don't know where the Y. W. C. A. is located. It is located at 1515 Jackson street.

We should bow our heads in shame. To be a prosperous growing city and not have a large Y. W. C. A. with gym, recreation room, larger living quarters for resident girls and so many other things that cities much smaller have to offer. But to let the Y. W. C. A. close for lack of finances would be turning our backs to a duty.

What could be worse than having young girls come to Monroe and inquire as to where is the Y. W. C. A. and to receive an answer of "We do not have a Y. W. C. A."

Every citizen should visit the Y. W. C. A. and let the director, Miss Bess Sharp, tell you the many things that your Y. W. C. A. has to offer the community and also meet the wonderful house mother who makes a home for the girls who reside at the Y.

I am a member of the Y'Ves club composed of married women from all denominations and from all sections of the city. We carry out many worthwhile projects which benefit the community and we also receive a spiritual blessing from the work.

Other clubs within the Y. W. C. A. are Y-Teens, Y-Girls, Resident Girls, Business and Professional Girls clubs.

I challenge the women of the Twin Cities to join the Y. W. C. A. and help to keep its doors open and to help the organization grow as the Twin Cities grow.

Urges Welfare "Cleanup

In the Jes' Ramblin' column in a recent issue of the Monroe Morning World, I noticed that we taxpayers are building the Welfare Workers a $4500.00 brick edifice. This amount of money would have helped a number of unfortunate people in this area.

I hope that the man who is air conditioning this beautiful place for his officials, will never have the opportunity to see any of his pets sitting in these offices.

We have elected Earl K. Long for governor, and he has already mapped out plans to discontinue some of the boards, that have been riding the Louisiana taxpayers. We believe that Mr. Long will clean out this welfare department from top to bottom. Some of these welfare workers have been on so long that they make one feel as though they are giving you their money, rather than the taxpayers.

Earl Long will listen. Let's ask him to put new faces in every department of the welfare. You then can rest assured that every needy person will get the same consideration.

'Biggest' Robbery

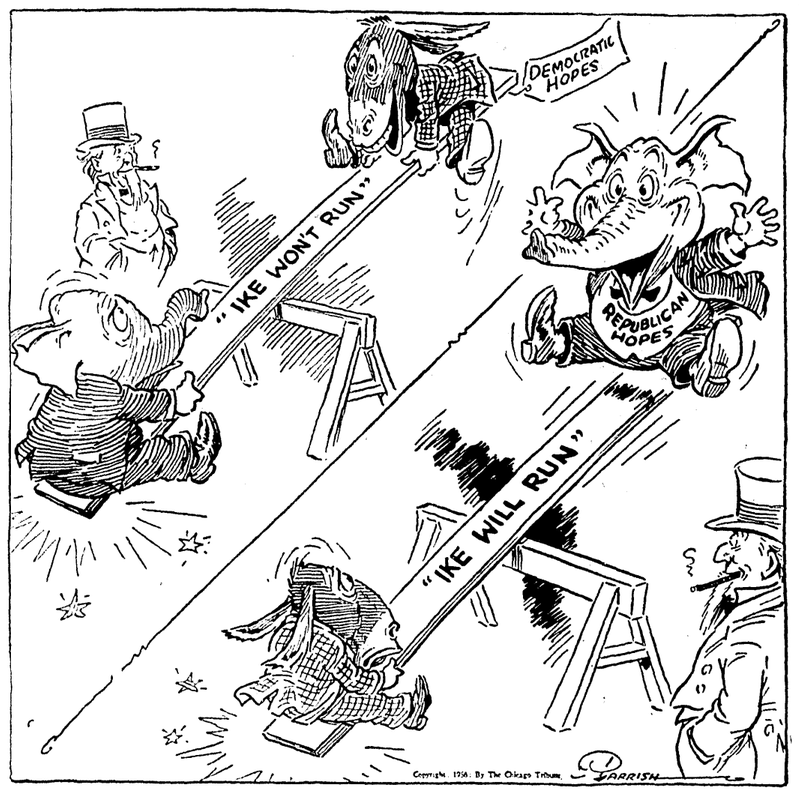

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Jan. 28 (AP) —Police today reported the "biggest" robbery in this northwest Arkansas city's history.

Glen Will, a construction contractor, said that eight boys of "about college" were seen to load his green-painted, concrete shamrock into a trailer attached to their car and drive away.

The 800-pound Shamrock had been used at Will's home as a yard decoration.

Depletion Allowance To Remain In Force

WASHINGTON — Whether or not the Senate decides to free natural gas producers from federal price regulation, the oil and gas industry can rest easy on one score, the depletion allowance will stay.

A Congressional Quarterly survey shows little Congressional support for any move to alter the 30-year-old law which lets oil and gas producers deduct 27.5 per cent of their gross income for tax purposes. As for the administration, Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey wants no change either.

The multi-billion dollar industry is not one to take anything for granted. The American Petroleum Institute currently is sponsoring widespread publication of an advertisement which features a statement by former Ambassador Lewis W. Douglas that "the national interest has been well served by these provisions for depletion."

API officials may have read the "supplemental views" of Sen. Paul Douglas (D-Ill.), attached to the Jan. 5 report on federal tax policy issued by the Joint Committee on the Economic Report. Sen. Douglas listed, as a tax "loophole" to be "plugged," the full depletion allowance for "large operators who can distribute risk through numerous drillings."

In 1954, when Congress revised the tax laws, Douglas proposed reducing the depletion allowance to 15 per cent on taxable incomes of more than $5 million. But the amendment was defeated on a standing vote. Available evidence indicates that any similar move this year again would be defeated.

Feature of Law

A depletion allowance, to compensate for the exhaustion of mineral deposits, has been a feature of federal tax law since 1913, when the income tax was introduced. The widely - used percentage formula, added in 1926, was subsequently extended to cover most minerals. Oil and gas producers alone enjoy the 27.5 per cent rate. Other rates range from 23 per cent for uranium to 10 per cent for coal to 5 per cent for brick and tile clay.

For tax purposes, producers of these and other minerals may deduct the appropriate percentage of their gross income, providing it does not exceed 50 per cent of net income before depletion. However in computing net income, oil and gas producers may deduct "intangible drilling and development costs," which in other industries would have to be treated as capital outlays.

Critics label this double advantage an unjustified sub-idy. According to Horace M. Gray of the University of Illinois, "the depletion allowance has become primarily a private tax - escape device the approximate effect of which is to equate the corporate income tax with the capital - gains tax in the natural - resources industries." The maximum corporate rate is 52 per cent, while the long-term capital - gains tax is 25 per cent.

The loss of revenue to the treasury, says Gray, "may run to as much as $1 billion per year . . . This deficiency must either be made good by non - privileged taxpayers, or borne by consumers through chronic inflation or by the general public in the form of desirable public services foregone."

Risks of Exploration

Those who argue for depletion allowance cite the risks of oil exploration and the need for present tax incentives to encourage the search for new oil. According to Arthur A. Smith, a Dallas banker, "the finding of new oil deposits is becoming increasingly difficult . . . The average cost of a wildcat well at present high prices and at the greater depths now being drilled is about $90,000. Sometimes one well will run as high as $1 million, despite the fact that only one wildcat in 53 has added as much as a million barrels of oil to the nation's reserves."

If percentage depletion were removed and gains treated as ordinary income, says Smith, "it is reasonable to predict that the inducement to explore for oil would be so reduced because of the extra hazards that the nation's reserves would fall and the price of oil and its products would rise appreciably."

The statements by Gray and Smith are among several published by the Joint Committee on the Economic Report. The subject of depletion allowance takes up 75 pages -- a clue to its complexity and the controversy surrounding it.

Whether the allowance is a necessary "incentive" or a needless "loophole," chances are that the argument will continue indefinitely, and that neither Democrats nor Republicans will make a serious effort to alter or abolish it.

Unsalted Food

No hospital diet is expected to be something out of "Pavillon" or "Twenty-One" or any of the emporiums of gustatory excellence. But food never need be quite as poorly or unimaginatively cooked as my unsalted, unsugared, uncreamed diet. I think they did a better job for Ike out in Denver. Here imagination is taboo because hospitals in big cities have a tough time with their staffs and the probability is that if anybody criticized the cook, he would rejoin the Army.

There is no use kicking because I am now told that mental distress causes more heart damage than physical exertion. Maybe, it is propaganda to keep me from kicking or maybe it is true. I am to have no frustrations, no anxieties, no worries. I am just to lie here and vegetate—hibernate, I think is the word the doctor uses. Then the heart will mend more quickly.

So, it is true what the poet said of the broken heart. And when one says that so-and-so died of a broken heart, it makes some sense. But how much? And why for some and not for others? Some fellows are constantly being frustrated and nothing ever happens to them. Maybe, they carry what some of my colleagues call a "torch" but that is just another way of self-advertisement. He tells everybody his troubles about the torch. The fellow who can talk about it so freely does not really have a broken heart. He will probably live to sing the praises of two or three more unrequited loves.

Personally, I do not mind a diet without salt. I never add any when food is brought to the table. There is enough sodium in most things to satisfy my tastes, but hospital food has a dullness all its own. It is designed to keep a patient from ever wanting to go to a hosptial again. All he will need to do is think of the hospital meal and he will immediately get well or drop dead.

Of course, there must be hospitals which serve food that I would not be ashamed to give to my keeshond, Joe, but if such there be, I have not come across them. Go mark them well and ask the Ford Foundation to preserve them!

Another hospital problem is help. They try to manage a three-shift operation with two shifts to conform to the 40-hour week. This applies to all sorts of technicians from the fat lady who brings in the tray and dusts the furniture to those skilled needle-stickers and cardiogram-takers. They all work 40 hours a week, come what may. Nurses and doctors can work themselves to a frazzle around the clock but not the technicians. They are superior help and always in a hurry.

Although I am not supposed to talk much, the habit is strong with me and I try to ask each technician as many questions as possible. Usually there are no replies because technicians are very serious-minded folk who must look serious as a badge of distinction.

I am supposed to be in absolute repose, so when I want to talk I get another pill to knock me out of repose. What doctors do not understand is that a fellow who has discussed about everything hither and yon for 60 years, more or less, does not readily take to silence without an internal revolution. Of course, sometimes a fellow talks a lot not to hear what others say. It is a defensive mechanism. This silence, I must admit is getting me down. They permit no visitors, so there is no one to dispute with, even about the merits of unsalted, horribly cooked food. They do permit me to read newspapers and occasionally one sees a good argument in one of them, like Roscoe Drummond rooting to make Milton Eisenhower President. As I read Drummond's argument, Milton is a better man than Ike and if you don't want Milton, why in heaven would you want Ike?

I never thought of that before and as I have nothing to do but gaze at beige walls and dull skies and nobody to talk to, I shall devote myself a little to Drummond's argument to see whether the logic is with him. I fear the Republicans will not like Drummond's thesis because if Ike should decide to run, would it then not be smart for the Democrats to nominate the superior man, Milton Eisenhower? The logic would seem to be in that proposition—still and all, I shall give it further consideration.

I am advised by many to discontinue this scribbling during my tenancy in a hospital bed. My doctors permit it only as a compromise with evil habits. For 40 years now, I have daily scribbled something in longhand. The habit is as much muscular as intellectual. It has been my own form of regular exercise. They are taking a chance with it, possibly to keep me from writing on the bed sheets and the nurses' uniforms. They say that if it shows bad results, they will knock me out with a hypodermic. Trotzky once knocked me out with a revolution. Who knows what one can survive?

Timmons In Washington

The Neglected Farmer

The political storm over farm prices which broke here this week evoked the old warning, "Hold your hats, boys! Here we go again!" For here was the insoluble problem offered up in slightly revised form, 34 years after the first recorded farm outcry against low prices of agricultural products, with a demand that the federal government take some action.

You will hear that the farmers' lament is as old as civilization itself, but the Washington recollection goes back only to May 1922 when Secretary of Agriculture Henry C. Wallace, father of the former vice president, called a meeting here of what newswriters promptly dubbed "the farm bloc". That was a new description term then, but it has never since been out of the news for long.

Although Wallace owned one of the biggest farm papers in the country and was ostensibly the farm spokesman of the Harding administration, he was at odds with the then Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover, who maintained that the federal government had no obligation to help the farmer, a conviction he still held when he signed the Marketing Act of 1929, which set up technical and financial aids to farm cooperatives.

However, the depression had already begun in the farm areas and the government saw its initial investment of $500,000,000 go down the drain in an effort to peg farm prices through the ill - fated Federal Farm Board. That was an effort to bring about "orderly marketing" of farm commodities, and the first failure hung up by the government in the long battle to sustain agricultural prices.

Through seven years of low farm prices, farm mortgage foreclosures and dispossesed farmers, the "farm bloc" in Congress fought for the McNary - Haugen bill, proposing a two price plan, which would take surplus products off the domestic market and sell them abroad at a loss. President Coolidge and Hoover both vetoed the bill.

Next came the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1933, which first introduced "parity" into the agricultural vocabulary, described as the ratio between the things the farmer sold and the things he bought, based on rural standards of 1910-14.

The AAA act, devised by Henry A. Wallace, then Secretary of Agriculture, was probably the most workable of the price bolstering plans put into effect over the 34-year period, with a limit on all basic farm production and benefit farmer was told by the government how much he could plant or produce, but the highest court in 1936 decided the processing tax was unconstitutional.

Next the government in 1936 resorted to the soil conservation and domestic allotment plan which authorized direct treasury payments to farmers who let their land lie fallow or planted cover crops. That law bore marked resemblance to the "Soil Bank" now proposed by President Eisenhower. It worked fairly well as an emergency measure and was superseded in 1938 by the second agricultural adjustment act, which restored parity payments, and set up Secretary Wallace's "ever normal granary" which provided for warehouse storage of surplus commodities against future needs.

World War II took care of the farm surplus. It brought the Steagall amendments to AAA in 1941, with government price guarantees as production incentives fixed at 85 per cent of parity (raised to 90 per cent in 1952) on six basic commodities, and the government was in the agricultural business, where it has been since.

The Republicans first put their flexible support plan through Congress in the 80th Congress, providing for scaling down of parity support prices, but President Truman shrewdly bid for the farm vote for reelection by attacking all the works of that Congress, and the succeeding Democratic Congress put back the fixed supports in the farm bill of 1949.

Since this farm price fight started, the number of farmers in the U. S. has declined 20 per cent, farm income has increased by 2½ times, the federal government has spent over 12 billion dollars (including value of surplus commodities now in storage) and the farmers' income is still declining

High Cost Of Oil Production

The first comprehensive industry-wide survey of oil drilling costs ever made in the United States has been announced; and the figures it provides are highly interesting, and important to the people generally.

This "Joint Association Survey" was sponsored by the American Petroleum Institute, the Independent Petroleum Association of America, and the Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association.

It provides a breakdown of actual drilling costs of the 49,279 wells drilled in this country in the year 1953. These included merely the expense of completion as far as the well-head or Christmas tree—no expenses for flow lines, separators, tank batteries and other appurtenances needed after completion of the wells.

Neither are the costs of seismograph and other geophysics, indispensable preliminaries to successful drilling, included; nor the outlay for mineral rights—lease money, bonuses, etc.

The survey shows that during 1953 oil men and oil companies drilled 198,839,000 feet of hole at a total cost of $2,471,000,000. For the 49,279 wells involved, this averaged $50,200 per well or $12.43 per foot drilled.

Since 1953, of course, there has been a material increase in drilling costs, due to higher wages and increased prices of equipment and products needed in oil exploration.

One of the striking facts brought out in the survey is that the cost per foot of drilling operations increases sharply as deeper horizons are reached. Thus, at a depth range of 1,250 feet the footage cost was only $6.63, while at depths below 15,000 feet, this rose to $40.20.

The expense of drilling the 82 wells reported during the year in the offshore area of Louisiana waters was higher, by far, than comparable wells drilled on land. The average for these wells was reported in the survey as $298,800 each. For those running below 12,000 feet the cost per well exceeded three quarters of a million dollars.

Data revealed in the survey shows clearly, on a statistical basis, the hazards of oil drilling from a financial standpoint, and the urgent need for retaining depletion allowances and other devices which serve as a cushion against some of the risks involved in oil exploration.

That the industry has been able to absorb increasing costs over a period of years with no material increase in the price of crude oil is a tribute to the skill and ingenuity of the oil men and companies which push the drill ever deeper into the earth in search of this vital natural resource.

Benson's Monumental 'Boner'

Proverbially, there is the straw that breaks the camel's back; and Secretary of Agriculture Benson's self-admitted "boner" in a letter to Harper's Magazine bearing his signature branding the American farmer as a "pampered tyrant" probably will prove the last straw in his career as head of the Agriculture Department.

With forthright honesty, Benson has acknowledged full responsibility for this monumental blunder, saying "we pulled a boner on this one."

The letter eulogized an article appearing in the December issue of the magazine that was entitled "The Country Slickers Take Us Again" and branded the American farmer as "a pampered tyrant."

Mr. Benson explained that aides in his office had written and affixed his signature to the letter, without his knowledge or authorization.

This is a poor and lame, although honestly motivated, explanation. Mr. Benson, as head of a department of federal government, should have enough common sense, caution and discretion to prevent such idiotic happenings; and the fact that he failed to exercise such faculties does no credit whatever to him.

This is the second time in a few days that a cabinet head has blundered into print with a highly incendiary and controversial statement—the other being Secretary Dulles in his ill-advised "brink of war" interview carried in Life Magazine.

The airing of high matters of policy by cabinet members in such periodicals is cheap and melodramatic, and has no sound basis or precedent in history; and is contrary to public interest, and tends to create partisanship, division and confusion, and defeat the proper ends and aims of the Eisenhower Administration, and throw the public into a uproar; and altogether is not to be excused.

Benson's usefulness to the Administration has ended; and he would do his party a great favor by submitting his resignation at an early date.

"Old Soldiers Never Die—"

General Douglas MacArthur had planned a quiet observance of his 76th birthday last Wednesday in his suite of rooms at The Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in New York City. But he was deluged by telephone calls and wires from all over America and many foreign lands.

The extensive telephone switchboard was swam... ...l for hours attempting to care for the messages pouring in to wish the five-star general a happy birthday.

Here is a reminder that despite the disgraceful treatment to which he was subjected by the Truman administration—which will live as a blot upon the record of Harry S. Truman so long as that man's history is preserved—General MacArthur's prestige is undimmed in the eyes of a grateful American people; and abroad among patriotic peoples and their leaders.

Nobody knows, and few persons care, what evaluation future historians will place upon Truman and his administration. But history's verdict regarding General MacArthur is clearly outlined while he lives.

He ranks, and unquestionably will continue to rank, as one of the supremely great generals of his day and age; and as a patriot whose unswerving devotion to duty and the welfare and preservation of the United States shines like a beacon on a hilltop—a truly great man, of whom every patriotic American can be proud.

No Laws Can Force Integregation

Ruston, La.

Editor, Morning World:

Mississippi's Governor J. P. Coleman, previously Attorney General for the state, says there never has been a law that could force two races of people to integrate against their will. Amen! We still have freedom of choice — if we do not choose traitors or subversives.

If the Supreme Court can force national integration upon us then it could force national prohibition, etc., upon us; we would be in the clutches of socialism and hell-bent for the Iron Curtain. The south is now staking its hopes on interposition which is using the Constitution to nullify an unconstitutional law, the desegregation ruling of the U. S. Supreme Court.

This desegregation ruling was one of the most dangerous, unjust, and uncalled - for decisions this nation has ever experienced. It is dividing the nation, which shows it isn't right, and neither the white nor colored race called for it. The idea was spawned in the Kremlin for revolutionary purposes. A conglomeration of Communists wrote a book entitled "An Americin Dilemma" which induced the justices of the Supreme Court to make the decision.

They immediately preyed upon the gullibility of our colored people with plans to revolt. Heading the lists of their ukases from the Kremlin were to "divide and conquor" and "sow hatred among the masses who disagree with us."

The segregation issue here in the south gave them fertile soil for sowing hatred. For more than 20 years they used this as an excuse to spit in the faces of our chief arbiters. Recently, or only a few months ago, Justice William O. Douglas made an impromptu tour through forbidden parts of the Soviet Empire and he received a gigantic surprise: Russia was practicing segregation. The white Russians had their schools and the dark Mongolians also had theirs. And to think, segregation was ruled out here mostly to appease Soviet Russia.

"Whiskey Allowance" Scored

West Monroe, La.

Editor, Morning World:

On January 17, an article appeared in our daily newspaper, Monroe Morning World, headed "Diplomats Whiskey Allowance Sought." Our president has asked for one million dollars for whiskey for our law makers. Here in Monroe and West Monroe, if a citizen is caught under the influence of alcohol they are placed in jail or are forced to pay a fine. We are prone to follow our leaders, whoever they might be, preacher, president, officer of the law, and other prominent men. Tell me, gentlemen, what is your opinion of a country with this type of leadership?

Monroe and every other city in the United States is fighting to prevent juvenile delinquency. What chance do we have when our teenagers read that our government approves of drinking and allows our law makers to drink a million dollars worth of whiskey in one year. We put on drives for deadly diseases — cancer, heart diseases, polio, cerebral palsy. We work door to door to door. Our high school students parade the streets with tin cups, we stop the traffic to give when the drive is on. We burn our porch lights on the appointed night when we are to give to some cause that we know kills. But when have you ever heard of a stop drinking drive? The greatest of all killers. A druggist is not allowed to sell one thing marked poison, yet the liquor dealers can get license to sell the deadliest of all poisons.

We feel that in all sincerity this is one bill that should, by all means, be defeated.

Editor, Morning World:

I had to leave town the day before it would have been possible for me to have cast an absentee ballot in the recent election, and I did not return until the morning of the 19th of January. I was away on important legal business and my absence was unavoidable.

I have noted the results of the election since my return and I have been told that Shady Wall's vote in connection with the so-called segregation bills has been unfairly represented, perhaps by your paper, but anyhow publicly.

Prior to the introduction of these bills and resolutions Leander Perez asked me if I would work with him on writing the same, I told him I would be glad to, but in talking with him, his ideas and mine did not altogether agree and nothing more was said to me and I had nothing to do with preparing that legislation.

When the bills were introduced and the Constitutional Amendment, it is my very definite recollection that our mutual friend and Ouachita's representative, Shady Wall, asked me about them. I told him that I thought the bills were "cock - eyed;" would do more harm than good; were in many parts unconstitutional; that I thought it would be unwise to insult the United States Supreme Court and unfair and unconstitutional to pass legislation that would throw any Negro in jail who sought integration and disbar any lawyer that would represent a Negro in civil right suits. I did not approve the legislation which I thought would reflect on our state and bring us wide, harmful publicity. I so told my friend Shady Wall, who I understand in its original form opposed this legislation.

I have not checked the record as to how the vote finally went, but I am informed reliably that as to the Constitutional Amendment, Shady, in effect, voted for it by not registering an objection to it. I am also informed from the source I believe reliable that Shady, in the end, voted for the so-called segregation bills in their final form after being drastically amended.

As you know I have attended the sessions of the legislature for many years. It is part of my experience to know what goes on. Throughout Shady Wall's representation of our parish, state and community, he has frequently consulted with me, and while we have not always agreed, I am quite confident that his votes have been his honest convictions and what the deemed to be for the best interest of our parish, state and community. I have never heard any intimation that he has been influenced by factional politics or money or any other improper motive in his votes upon legislative matters.

I saw a great deal of Shady in Baton Rouge and I am completely confident that if Shady had been influenced by any improper considerations, I would have heard about it, and I heard absolutely nothing of that sort at any time or in any connection. His record speaks for itself. I have not carefully checked it, but whatever it may be, I am sure it represented his honest and sincere convictions.

The contents of this letter are intended for your information or whatever use you care to make of it.

Plight Of The Y.W.C.A.

Are we the Christian women going to sit back and watch the doors of the Y. W. C. A. close from the need of members and financial need while the Christian men are working so hard to build a fine Y. M. C. A. building for the Twin Cities.

Maybe it is because you don't know where the Y. W. C. A. is located. It is located at 1515 Jackson street.

We should bow our heads in shame. To be a prosperous growing city and not have a large Y. W. C. A. with gym, recreation room, larger living quarters for resident girls and so many other things that cities much smaller have to offer. But to let the Y. W. C. A. close for lack of finances would be turning our backs to a duty.

What could be worse than having young girls come to Monroe and inquire as to where is the Y. W. C. A. and to receive an answer of "We do not have a Y. W. C. A."

Every citizen should visit the Y. W. C. A. and let the director, Miss Bess Sharp, tell you the many things that your Y. W. C. A. has to offer the community and also meet the wonderful house mother who makes a home for the girls who reside at the Y.

I am a member of the Y'Ves club composed of married women from all denominations and from all sections of the city. We carry out many worthwhile projects which benefit the community and we also receive a spiritual blessing from the work.

Other clubs within the Y. W. C. A. are Y-Teens, Y-Girls, Resident Girls, Business and Professional Girls clubs.

I challenge the women of the Twin Cities to join the Y. W. C. A. and help to keep its doors open and to help the organization grow as the Twin Cities grow.

Urges Welfare "Cleanup

In the Jes' Ramblin' column in a recent issue of the Monroe Morning World, I noticed that we taxpayers are building the Welfare Workers a $4500.00 brick edifice. This amount of money would have helped a number of unfortunate people in this area.

I hope that the man who is air conditioning this beautiful place for his officials, will never have the opportunity to see any of his pets sitting in these offices.

We have elected Earl K. Long for governor, and he has already mapped out plans to discontinue some of the boards, that have been riding the Louisiana taxpayers. We believe that Mr. Long will clean out this welfare department from top to bottom. Some of these welfare workers have been on so long that they make one feel as though they are giving you their money, rather than the taxpayers.

Earl Long will listen. Let's ask him to put new faces in every department of the welfare. You then can rest assured that every needy person will get the same consideration.

'Biggest' Robbery

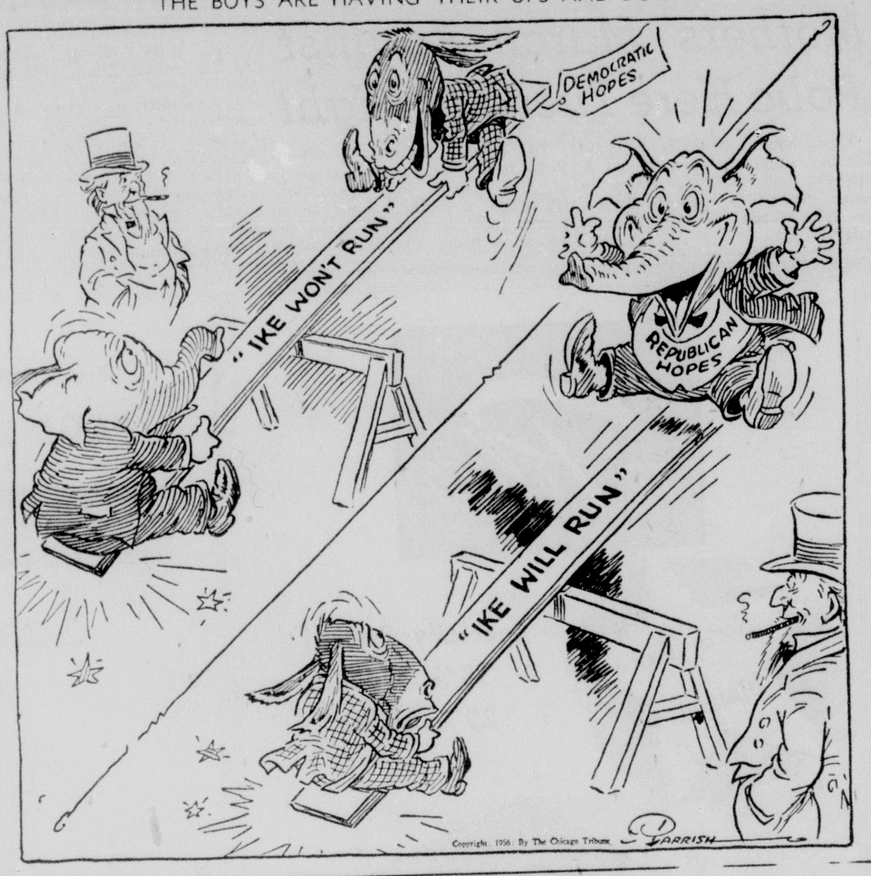

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Jan. 28 (AP) —Police today reported the "biggest" robbery in this northwest Arkansas city's history.

Glen Will, a construction contractor, said that eight boys of "about college" were seen to load his green-painted, concrete shamrock into a trailer attached to their car and drive away.

The 800-pound Shamrock had been used at Will's home as a yard decoration.

Depletion Allowance To Remain In Force

WASHINGTON — Whether or not the Senate decides to free natural gas producers from federal price regulation, the oil and gas industry can rest easy on one score. the depletion allowance will stay.

A Congressional Quarterly survey shows little Congressional support for any move to alter the 30-year-old law which lets oil and gas producers deduct 27.5 per cent of their gross income for tax purposes. As for the administration, Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey wants no change either.

The multi-billion dollar industry is not one to take anything for granted. The American Petroleum Institute currently is sponsoring widespread publication of an advertisement which features a statement by former Ambassador Lewis W. Douglas that "the national interest has been well served by these provisions for depletion."

API officials may have read the "supplemental views" of Sen. Paul Douglas (D-Ill.), attached to the Jan. 5 report on federal tax policy issued by the Joint Committee on the Economic Report. Sen. Douglas listed, as a tax "loophole" to be "plugged," the full depletion allowance for "large operators who can distribute risk through numerous drillings."

In 1954, when Congress revised the tax laws, Douglas proposed reducing the depletion allowance to 15 per cent on taxable incomes of more than $5 million. But the amendment was defeated on a standing vote. Available evidence indicates that any similar move this year again would be defeated.

Feature of Law

A depletion allowance, to compensate for the exhaustion of mineral deposits, has been a feature of federal tax law since 1913, when the income tax was introduced. The widely - used percentage formula, added in 1926, was subsequently extended to cover most minerals. Oil and gas producers alone enjoy the 27.5 per cent rate. Other rates range from 23 per cent for uranium to 10 per cent for coal to 5 per cent for brick and tile clay.

For tax purposes, producers of these and other minerals may deduct the appropriate percentage of their gross income, providing it does not exceed 50 per cent of net income before depletion. However, in computing net income, oil and gas producers may deduct "intangible drilling and development costs," which in other industries would have to be treated as capital outlays.

Critics label this double advantage an unjustified subsidy. According to Horace M. Gray of the University of Illinois, "the depletion allowance has become primarily a private tax - escape device the approximate effect of which is to equate the corporate income tax with the capital - gains tax in the natural - resources industries." The maximum corporate rate is 52 per cent, while the long-term capital - gains tax is 25 per cent.

The loss of revenue to the treasury, says Gray, "may run to as much as $1 billion per year . . . This deficiency must either be made good by non - privileged taxpayers, or borne by consumers through chronic inflation or by the general public in the form of desirable public services foregone."

Risks of Exploration

Those who argue for depletion allowance cite the risks of oil exploration and the need for present tax incentives to encourage the search for new oil. According to Arthur A. Smith, a Dallas banker, "the finding of new oil deposits is becoming increasingly difficult . . . The average cost of a wildcat well at present high prices and at the greater depths now being drilled is about $90,000. Sometimes one well will run as high as $1 million, despite the fact that only one wildcat in 53 has added as much as a million barrels of oil to the nation's reserves."

If percentage depletion were removed and gains treated as ordinary income, says Smith, "it is reasonable to predict that the inducement to explore for oil would be so reduced because of the extra hazards that the nation's reserves would fall and the price of oil and its products would rise appreciably."

The statements by Gray and Smith are among several published by the Joint Committee on the Economic Report. The subject of depletion allowance takes up 75 pages — a clue to its complexity and the controversy surrounding it.

Whether the allowance is a necessary "incentive" or a needless "loophole," chances are that the argument will continue indefinitely, and that neither Democrats nor Republicans will make a serious effort to alter or abolish it.

THESE DAYS

Unsalted Food

No hospital diet is expected to be something out of "Pavillon" or "Twenty-One" or any of the emporiums of gustatory excellence. But food never need be quite as poorly or unimaginatively cooked as my unsalted, unsugared, uncreamed diet. I think they did a better job for Ike out in Denver. Here imagination is taboo because hospitals in big cities have a tough time with their staffs and the probability is that if anybody criticized the cook, he would rejoin the Army.

There is no use kicking because I am now told that mental distress causes more heart damage than physical exertion. Maybe, it is propaganda to keep me from kicking or maybe it is true. I am to have no frustrations, no anxieties, no worries. I am just to lie here and vegetate—hibernate, I think is the word the doctor uses. Then the heart will mend more quickly.

So, it is true what the poet said of the broken heart. And when one says that so-and-so died of a broken heart, it makes some sense. But how much? And why for some and not for others? Some fellows are constantly being frustrated and nothing ever happens to them. Maybe, they carry what some of my colleagues call a "torch" but that is just another way of self-advertisement. He tells everybody his troubles about the torch. The fellow who can talk about it so freely does not really have a broken heart. He will probably live to sing the praises of two or three more unrequited loves.

Personally, I do not mind a diet without salt. I never add any when food is brought to the table. There is enough sodium in most things to satisfy my tastes, but hospital food has a dullness all its own. It is designed to keep a patient from ever wanting to go to a hosptlai again. All he will need to do is think of the hospital meal and he will immediately get well or drop dead.

Of course, there must be hospitals which serve food that I would not be ashamed to give to my keeshond, Joe, but if such there be, I have not come across them. Go mark them well and ask the Ford Foundation to preserve them!

Another hospital problem is help. They try to manage a three-shift operation with two shifts to conform to the 40-hour week. This applies to all sorts of technicians from the fat lady who brings in the tray and dusts the furniture to those skilled needle-stickers and cardiogram-takers. They all work 40 hours a week, come what may. Nurses and doctors can work themselves to a frazzle around the clock but not the technicians. They are superior help and always in a hurry.

Although I am not supposed to talk much, the habit is strong with me and I try to ask each technician as many questions as possible. Usually there are no replies because technicians are very serious-minded folk who must look serious as a badge of distinction.

I am supposed to be in absolute repose, so when I want to talk I get another pill to knock me out of repose. What doctors do not understand is that a fellow who has discussed about everything hither and yon for 60 years, more or less, does not readily take to silence without an internal revolution. Of course, sometimes a fellow talks a lot not to hear what others say. It is a defensive mechanism. This silence, I must admit is getting me down. They permit no visitors, so there is no one to dispute with, even about the merits of unsalted, horribly cooked food. They do permit me to read newspapers and occasionally one sees a good argument in one of them, like Roscoe Drummond rooting to make Milton Eisenhower President. As I read Drummond's argument, Milton is a better man than Ike and if you don't want Milton, why in heaven would you want Ike?

I never thought of that before and as I have nothing to do but gaze at beige walls and dull skies and nobody to talk to, I shall devote myself a little to Drummond's argument to see whether the logic is with him. I fear the Republicans will not like Drummond's thesis because if Ike should decide to run, would it then not be smart for the Democrats to nominate the superior man, Milton Eisenhower? The logic would seem to be in that proposition—still and all, I shall give it further consideration.

I am advised by many to discontinue this scribbling during my tenancy in a hospital bed. My doctors permit it only as a compromise with evil habits. For 40 years now, I have daily scribbled something in longhand. The habit is as much muscular as intellectual. It has been my own form of regular exercise. They are taking a chance with it, possibly to keep me from writing on the bed sheets and the nurses' uniforms. They say that if it shows bad results, they will knock me out with a hypodermic. Trotzky once knocked me out with a revolution. Who knows what one can survive?

Timmons In Washington

By Bascom N. Timmons

The Neglected Farmer

The political storm over farm prices which broke here this week evoked the old warning, "Hold your hats, boys! Here we go again!" For here was the insoluble problem offered up in slightly revised form, 34 years after the first recorded farm outcry against low prices of agricultural products, with a demand that the federal government take some action.

You will hear that the farmers' lament is as old as civilization itself, but the Washington recollection goes back only to May 1922 when Secretary of Agriculture Henry C. Wallace, father of the former vice president, called a meeting here of what newswriters promptly dubbed "the farm bloc". That was a new description term then, but it has never since been out of the news for long.

Although Wallace owned one of the biggest farm papers in the country and was ostensibly the farm spokesman of the Harding administration, he was at odds with the then Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover, who maintained that the federal government had no obligation to help the farmer, a conviction he still held when he signed the Marketing Act of 1929, which set up technical and financial aids to farm cooperatives.

However, the depression had already begun in the farm areas and the government saw its initial investment of $500,000,000 go down the drain in an effort to peg farm prices through the ill - fated Federal Farm Board. That was an effort to bring about "orderly marketing" of farm commodities, and the first failure hung up by the government in the long battle to sustain agricultural prices.

Through seven years of low farm prices, farm mortgage foreclosures and dispossesed farmers, the "farm bloc" in Congress fought for the McNary - Haugen bill, proposing a two price plan, which would take surplus products off the domestic market and sell them abroad at a loss. President Coolidge and Hoover both vetoed the bill.

Next came the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1933, which first introduced "parity" into the agricultural vocabulary, described as the ratio between the things the farmer sold and the things he bought, based on rural standards of 1910-14.

The AAA act, devised by Henry A. Wallace, then Secretary of Agriculture, was probably the most workable of the price bolstering plans put into effect over the 34-year period, with a limit on all basic farm production and benefit farmer was told by the government how much he could plant or produce, but the highest court in 1936 decided the processing tax was unconstitutional.

Next the government in 1936 resorted to the soil conservation and domestic allotment plan which authorized direct treasury payments to farmers who let their land lie fallow or planted cover crops. That law bore marked resemblance to the "Soil Bank" now proposed by President Eisenhower. It worked fairly well as an emergency measure and was superseded in 1938 by the second agricultural adjustment act, which restored parity payments, and set up Secretary Wallace's "ever normal granary" which provided for warehouse storage of surplus commodities against future needs.

World War II took care of the farm surplus. It brought the Steagall amendments to AAA in 1941, with government price guarantees as production incentives fixed at 85 per cent of parity (raised to 90 per cent in 1952) on six basic commodities, and the government was in the agricultural business, where it has been since.

The Republicans first put their flexible support plan through Congress in the 80th Congress, providing for scaling down of parity support prices, but President Truman shrewdly bid for the farm vote for reelection by attacking all the works of that Congress, and the succeeding Democratic Congress put back the fixed supports in the farm bill of 1949.

Since this farm price fight started, the number of farmers in the U. S. has declined 20 per cent, farm income has increased by 2½ times, the federal government has spent over 12 billion dollars (including value of surplus commodities now in storage) and the farmers' income is still declining.

Murder Or Accident?

Doctor Seeks To Determine Cause Of Negro's Death

RALEIGH, Miss., Jan. 28 (AP)—A physician today examined a dead Negro to determine whether he died of bullet wounds received during a gun battle with his white boss or of a broken neck received in the crash of an automobile speeding him to a hospital.

Dist. Atty. Billy Little identified the Negro as Ewdard Duckworth, 28, and said undertaker Allen Reed, who examined the body, reported death could have resulted from the broken neck. Reed added he did not believe the bullet wounds were fatal.

However, Little said, he had filed murder charges against Grover Luckey, 50-year-old sawmill owner and storekeeper. Lucky was lodged in Smith County jail at Raleigh.

He said Duckworth was shot yesterday in Luckeys store at Mize, 12 miles south of here, and died en route to a hospital at Magee, 12 miles northwest of Mize.

Little said the shooting occurred during an argument in which Duckworth attempted to borrow money from Luckey. He said Luckey told him he shot Duckworth as the Negro reached into his shirt where he had said he had a pistol.

Little reconstructed the shooting from accounts of "five or six eye witnesses:

Duckworth, who worked at Luckey's sawmill, had borrowed $15 from Mrs. Luckey "to take his baby to a hospital.

Instead, he bought whisky and returned to the store under the influence, seeking to borrow more money.

Mrs. Luckey refused, saying he had enough whiskey under his shirt.

She quoted Duckworth as replying, " 'That aint whisky; that's a gun.

Mrs. Luckey called her husband who told Duckworth, "I aint got no business with you. You're drunk. Then he ordered Duckworth to leave.

" 'You're gonna have some business with me right now, witnesses quoted Duckworth as telling Luckey as he reached into his shirt.

Luckey, who contended self defense, said he pulled a pistol when he saw Duckworth's movement and shot twice.

Duckworths brother, not otherwise identified, put him in the back seat of his automobile and headed for Magee.

According to the highway patrol the automobile swerved off the road while traveling 90 miles an hour and overturned.

Little said he examined the vehicle and found where "Duckworths head hit the back of the front seat and tore it loose. His neck was swollen.'

Tokyo Rose Free; Faces Uncertain Future In U. S.

ALDERSON, W. Va., Jan. 28 (AP)—Tokyo Rose, a convicted traitor to her country, summed up her undercain future with these words as she was freed from prison today — "I am going out into the darkness."

She was trim and petit as she left the big federal reformatory here this morning, but older —at 39 —than when she used to tantalize American GIs in the Pacific with dreamy music and low-voiced talk of pretty girls and home.

Her real name is Mrs. Iva Ikuko d'Aquino, but the American soldiers who listened to Radio Tokyo during World War II called her Tokyo Rose.

Surprisingly, her father called her "Rose" today within the hearing of a newsman at a restaurant in South Charleston, W. Va. The father, Jun Toguri, a Chicago grocer, came here with Inez and Fred Toguri, her sister and brother, to take her back to Chicago.

"That depends on Rose," Toguri said when a newsman asked him if they would reach Chicago today. That was at 9 a.m. when they had covered about 90 miles in the auto trip from Alderson.

Asked as she was freed what her plans were, Mrs. D'Aquino replied:

"I really don't know. I'm going out into the darkness. I don't know what I can do because I don't know the restrictions yet. I am still under supervision."

She was sentenced in 1949 to 10 years for her treasonous broadcasts for the Japanese during wartime, but good behavior gave her time off.

She was given permission to go to Chicago with her family. She faces a deportation hearing at a time as yet unspecified.

An American citizen, Mrs. D'Aquino is the wife of a newspaperman in Tokyo, Felipe d'Aquino, who holds a Portuguese passport.

Where will she go if she is deported?

Perhaps Portugal or even Japan. The Immigration Service referred to her only as a "stateless person" in the deportation warrant served on her last night after midnight.

She was released today at 6 a.m.

The tiny American-born woman maintained her innocence of the treason charge during the trial six years ago in San Francisco. Asked if she still felt that she was innocent, she said:

"The trial and the feelings then are past. I hate to open up wounds."

She said she wanted only a "50-50 chance to get back on my feet." She added that she "had no complaints."

Of Japanese parentage, the almond-eyed little woman said with a giggle at the restaurant that 95 pounds was "a good guess" at her weight.

"I lost weight at first, but I gained it back. My health was very good," she said. During her six years and two months in prison she gained seven pounds.

She had secretarial duties in the prison hospital.

'Pig' Device Keeps Oil, Gas Lines Free Of Debris

By KEITH K. KING

TULSA, Jan. 28 (AP)—Almost as old as the business itself, the oil pipe liner's "pig" is one of the most fascinating devices in an industry renowned for colorfully named gadgets.

It is an apparatus by which oil and gas transmission lines are kept clean and at maximum efficiency. Termed a "pig" from its appearance, it also has been called a "go-devil" because of its sound. It's known, too, simply as a scraper, a term most descriptive of its function.

The scraper travels for miles through the lines, sweeping them clear of dirt, paraffin and debris that can accumulate in the pipe to contaminate and slow the flow.

The first oil pipe line scraper was fashioned about 1890 to de-wax crude oil lines from Pennsylvania fields.

Pioneer pipe liners tried shaping wooden balls or slugs to the pipe's interior dimensions and placing them ahead of the line's oil column. These could be crushed or dissolved by friction.

Another attempt was a succession of correctly sized leather and sheet iron washers on a long bolt. Driven by strong pumps through the gummed pipe, this usually worked with some complications.

Because of its eerie noise, Pennsylvania Dutch farmers associated the device with witches and evil spirits. Hence the nickname "go-devil."

The "pig" tag was applied to a bristly, snout-like type now commonly in use. It's a snub-nosed contraption of rubber and steel washers or rollers, wire brushes and metal springs that fit the pipe tightly but is flexible enough to negotiate a line's curves and dips and to pass any minor irregularity inside the pipe.

The scraper is driven by the pressure of the oil or gas behind it, the bristles rotating and loosening deposits from the pipe walls. These are swept ahead by the 'pig" until it reaches the scraper or "pig" trap, a sort of dead end in the pipe from which it can be removed.

Ex-Police Chief Held For Arson

JASPER, Ala., Jan. 28 (AP) —Former Cherokee, Ala., Police Chief John Burton today was indicted for first degree arson in a fire that caused the death of an employe.

Circuit Solicitor James E. Wilson said the Walker County grand jury indictment accused Burton of setting fire to a house he was renting to David Borden, 28, who died last December of burns suffered in the blaze.

The death penalty could be imposed if he were convicted.

Burton was serving as police chief of Cherokee in northwest Alabama when he was arrested as an escapee from Kilby Prison at Montgomery. He also is wanted on a grand larceny charge at Detroit.

Wilson said the 35-year-old ex-officer probably would be tried in circuit court the week of Feb. 20.

Two nurses who were witnesses at an arson hearing here this week said Borden told them before he died that Burton was responsible for his burns. Burton, held without bond in the Walker County jail, has denied any connection with the fire.

Sheriff Howard Turner said that Burton insured the small farm house for $2,500 shortly before the blaze.

Maritime Union Head Sees End To Waterfront Strike

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 28—UP— The president of the National Maritime Union said today the merger of the CIO and AFL "should give us the opportunity of working out some differences which exist on the waterfront."

Joseph Curran, the first and only president the NMU has had, said the merger means "we will be one forum. We are going to do all we can to unify the maritime workers."

Curran, who claims 42,000 workers in his union in the nation's major ports and collective bargaining agreements with 75 per cent of United States commercial shipping, said he is in town attending a membership meeting of the NMU.

A TRIBUTE TO THE FARMER

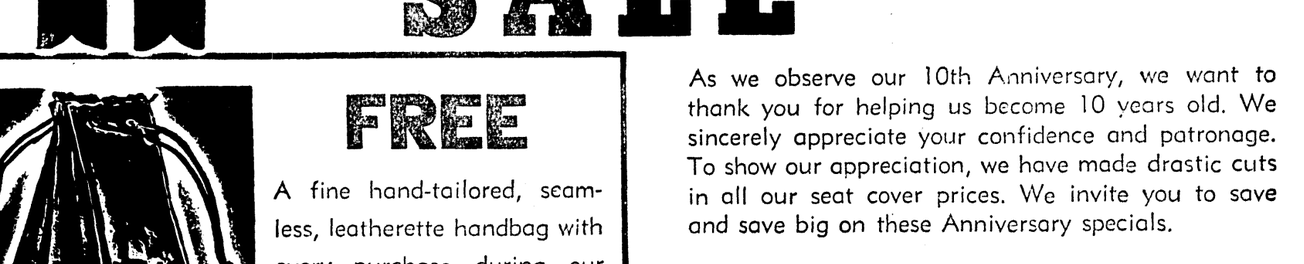

From the soil comes the sustenance of the world. From the hard working man who tills the soil comes the fruits of Nature in bountiful array. God loves the Farmer, someone has said, because he is in such close communion with the good earth. He plows it. He plants it. He worries over it. And lo, then his smiling fields are lush and abundant with tassels, tomatoes and all the things we eat. Fat cows and porkers give us milk and meat. And Mrs. Farmer has chickens and turkeys for the market. Without the Farmer there would be no life or living. Let's salute his sun up to sunset existence . . . and be grateful for his bounty!

REIGNING QUEEN AND MAIDS — Miss Ann McCaleb, center, of Winnsboro was crowned Miss Franklin Parish Friday night in a beauty contest sponsored by the Winnsboro Junior Chamber of Commerce. Runners-up for the title were Miss Myra Ann Moore, left, and Miss Beverly Martin, right. Miss McCaleb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. McCaleb, is also reigning queen of the Cotton Festival.

'Pig' Device Keeps Oil, Gas Lines Free Of Debris

By KEITH K. KING

TULSA, Jan. 28 (AP)—Almost as old as the business itself, the oil pipe liner's "pig" is one of the most fascinating devices in an industry renowned for colorfully named gadgets.

It is an apparatus by which oil and gas transmission lines are kept clean and at maximum efficiency. Termed a "pig" from its appearance, it also has been called a "go-devil" because of its sound. It's known, too, simply as a scraper, a term most descriptive of its function.

The scraper travels for miles through the lines, sweeping them clear of dirt, paraffin and debris that can accumulate in the pipe to contaminate and slow the flow.

The first oil pipe line scraper was fashioned about 1890 to de-wax crude oil lines from Pennsylvania fields.

Pioneer pipe liners tried shaping wooden balls or slugs to the pipe's interior dimensions and placing them ahead of the line's oil column. These could be crushed or dissolved by friction.

Another attempt was a succession of correctly sized leather and sheet iron washers on a long bolt. Driven by strong pumps through the gummed pipe, this usually worked with some complications.

Because of its eerie noise, Pennsylvania Dutch farmers associated the device with witches and evil spirits. Hence the nickname "go-devil."

The "pig" tag was applied to a bristly, snout-like type now commonly in use. It's a snub-nosed contraption of rubber and steel washers or rollers, wire brushes and metal springs that fit the pipe tightly but is flexible enough to negotiate a line's curves and dips and to pass any minor irregularity inside the pipe.

The scraper is driven by the pressure of the oil or gas behind it, the bristles rotating and loosening deposits from the pipe walls. These are swept ahead by the 'pig" until it reaches the scraper or "pig" trap, a sort of dead end in the pipe from which it can be removed.

Ex-Police Chief Held For Arson

JASPER, Ala., Jan. 28 (AP) —Former Cherokee, Ala., Police Chief John Burton today was indicted for first degree arson in a fire that caused the death of an employe.

Circuit Solicitor James E. Wilson said the Walker County grand jury indictment accused Burton of setting fire to a house he was renting to David Borden, 28, who died last December of burns suffered in the blaze.

The death penalty could be imposed if he were convicted.

Burton was serving as police chief of Cherokee in northwest Alabama when he was arrested as an escapee from Kilby Prison at Montgomery. He also is wanted on a grand larceny charge at Detroit.

Wilson said the 35-year-old ex-officer probably would be tried in circuit court the week of Feb. 20.

Two nurses who were witnesses at an arson hearing here this week said Borden told them before he died that Burton was responsible for his burns. Burton, held without bond in the Walker County jail, has denied any connection with the fire.

Sheriff Howard Turner said that Burton insured the small farm house for $2,500 shortly before the blaze.

Maritime Union Head Sees End To Waterfront Strike

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 28—UP—The president of the National Maritime Union said today the merger of the CIO and AFL "should give us the opportunity of working out some differences which exist on the waterfront."

Joseph Curran, the first and only president the NMU has had ,said the merger means "we will be one forum. We are going to do all we can to unify the maritime workers."

Curran, who claims 42,000 workers in his union in the nation's major ports and collective bargaining agreements with 75 per cent of United States commercial shipping, said he is in town attending a membership meeting of the NMU.

Murder Or Accident?

Doctor Seeks To Determine Cause Of Negro's Death

RALEIGH, Miss., Jan. 28 (AP)—A physician today examined a dead Negro to determine whether he died of bullet wounds received during a gun battle with his white boss or of a broken neck received in the crash of an automobile speeding him to a hospital.

Dist. Atty. Billy Little identified the Negro as Ewdard Duckworth, 28, and said undertaker Allen Reed, who examined the body, reported death could have resulted from the broken neck. Reed added he did not believe the bullet wounds were fatal.

However, Little said, he had filed murder charges against Grover Luckey, 50-year-old sawmill owner and storekeeper. Lucky was lodged in Smith County jail at Raleigh.

He said Duckworth was shot yesterday in Luckeys store at Mize, 12 miles south of here, and died en route to a hospital at Magee, 12 miles northwest of Mize.

Little said the shooting occurred during an argument in which Duckworth attempted to borrow money from Luckey. He said Luckey told him he shot Duckworth as the Negro reached into his shirt where he had said he had a pistol.

Little reconstructed the shooting from accounts of "five or six eye witnesses:

Duckworth, who worked at Luckey's sawmill, had borrowed $15 from Mrs. Luckey "to take his baby to a hospital.

Instead, he bought whisky and returned to the store under the influence, seeking to borrow more money.

Mrs. Luckey refused, saying he had enough whiskey under his shirt.

She quoted Duckworth as replying, " 'That aint whisky; that's a gun.

Mrs. Luckey called her husband who told Duckworth, "I aint got no business with you. You're drunk. Then he ordered Duckworth to leave.

" 'You're gonna have some business with me right now, witnesses quoted Duckworth as telling Luckey as he reached into his shirt.

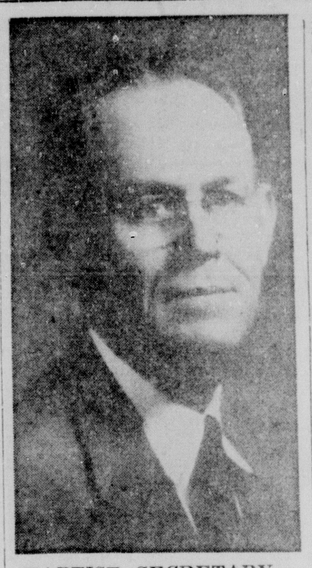

Luckey, who contended self defense, said he pulled a pistol when he saw Duckworth's movement and shot twice.

Duckworths brother, not otherwise identified, put him in the back seat of his automobile and headed for Magee.

According to the highway patrol the automobile swerved off the road while traveling 90 miles an hour and overturned.

Little said he examined the vehicle and found where "Duckworths head hit the back of the front seat and tore it loose. His neck was swollen.'

BAPTIST SECRETARY—H.K. Litton, of Monroe,was elected secretary of the board of trustees of the La. Baptist Foundation at a meeting in Alexandria. The foundation, owned by Louisiana Baptist, administers endowment and trust funds for the children's home here and other Baptist institutions. The foundation now has assets in excess of 1.7 million dollars.

Tokyo Rose Free; Faces Uncertain Future In U. S.

ALDERSON, W. Va., Jan. 28 (AP)—Tokyo Rose, a convicted traitor to her country, summed up her undercain future with these words as she was freed from prison today — "I am going out into the darkness."

She was trim and petit as she left the big federal reformatory here this morning, but older —at 39 —than when she used to tantalize American GIs in the Pacific with dreamy music and low-voiced talk of pretty girls and home.

Her real name is Mrs. Iva Ikuko d'Aquino, but the American soldiers who listened to Radio Tokyo during World War II called her Tokyo Rose.

Surprisingly, her father called her "Rose" today within the hearing of a newsman at a restaurant in South Charleston, W. Va. The father, Jun Toguri, a Chicago grocer, came here with Inez and Fred Toguri, her sister and brother, to take her back to Chicago.

"That depends on Rose," Toguri said when a newsman asked him if they would reach Chicago today. That was at 9 a.m. when they had covered about 90 miles in the auto trip from Alderson.

Asked as she was freed what her plans were, Mrs. D'Aquino replied:

"I really don't know. I'm going out into the darkness. I don't know what I can do because I don't know the restrictions yet. I am still under supervision."

She was sentenced in 1949 to 10 years for her treasonous broadcasts for the Japanese during wartime, but good behavior gave her time off.

She was given permission to go to Chicago with her family. She faces a deportation hearing at a time as yet unspecified.

An American citizen, Mrs. D'Aquino is the wife of a newspaperman in Tokyo, Felipe d'Aquino, who holds a Portuguese passport.

Where will she go if she is deported?

Perhaps Portugal or even Japan. The Immigration Service referred to her only as a "stateless person" in the deportation warrant served on her last night after midnight. She was released today at 6 a.m.

The tiny American-born woman maintained her innocence of the treason charge during the trial six years ago in San Francisco. Asked if she still felt that she was innocent, she said:

"The trial and the feelings then are past. I hate to open up wounds."

She said she wanted only a "50-50 chance to get back on my feet." She added that she "had no complaints."

Of Japanese parentage, the almond-eyed little woman said with a giggle at the restaurant that 95 pounds was "a good guess" at her weight.

"I lost weight at first, but I gained it back. My health was very good," she said. During her six years and two months in prison she gained seven pounds.

She had secretarial duties in the prison hospital.

A TRIBUTE TO THE FARMER

From the soil comes the sustenance of the world. From the hard working man who tills the soil comes the fruits of Nature in bountiful array. God loves the Farmer, someone has said, because he is in such close communion with the good earth. He plows it. He plants it. He worries over it. And lo, then his smiling fields are lush and abundant with tassels, tomatoes and all the things we eat. Fat cows and porkers give us milk and meat. And Mrs. Farmer has chickens and turkeys for the market. Without the Farmer there would be no life or living. Let's salute his sun up to sunset existence . . . and be grateful for his bounty!

Many Segregation Bills Pass Mississippi House

JACKSON, Miss (AP)—A barrage of segregation bills rolled through the Mississippi House of Representatives this week, affecting railroad and bus stations, disturbances, schools and teachers.

More are ready for House action, and still more will be introduced soon.

Six approved bills go to the Senate, where passage virtually is assured.

Several of the bills received unanimous House votes. There was no debate and little discussion.

The words "segregation" and Negro" were seldom mentioned. Lawmakers knew the purpose of the bills and wasted no time with discussion.

A joint Senate-House committee will write an interposition (nullification) resolution for legislative consideration. The exact strength of the resolution is uncertain, but it will affirm Mississippi's claim to control local affairs.

The committee should have the resolution ready next week. Gov. J. P. Coleman endorsed interposition after a conference with three other Southern governors in Richmond, Va., early this week.

The House passed three bills yesterday saying Negroes must not enter white facilities in railroad and bus stations. The penalty could be $1,000 fine and one year in jail.

The bills refer to all passengers, interstate and intrastate, despite an Interstate Commerce Commission order ruling out segregation of interstate passengers those traveling across state lines.

The bills also require railroad and bus companies to provide segregated waiting rooms for intrastate passengers. Penalty for failure or refusal would be $1,000 per day.

In effect, the transportation companies would have to build three waiting rooms to obey the ICC order and the proposed state laws. One would be for interstate passengers, presumably integrated. The other two would be segregated for intrastate passengers.

But the interstate waiting room would be useless since the law forbids anyone to enter a room not marked for his race.

"The ICC has ruled we cannot have segregation . . . ," said Rep. Luther Sims of Lowndes County. "We introduced these bills for the purpose of keeping out segregation . . . regardless of the ICC."

A bill aimed at the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People would require prospective teachers to list, under oath, all organizations to which they have belonged in the previous five years.

Without the affidavit, a teacher could not be hired in any public school or college.

It would give school officials a chance to weed out NAACP members.

Filing a false affidavit would mean prosecution for perjury and loss of a certificate to teach.

The House also voted to repeal Mississippi's compulsory school attendance laws. The laws now are little used.

Lawmakers said repealing the laws would prevent any possibility of white children being forced to go to school with Negroes, if Mississippi ever is ordered to integrate schools.

A bill passed early in the week forbids anyone to cause a riot, breach of the peace, disturbance or disorderly assembly by advocating disobedience of Mississippi's laws and traditions.

Mrs. Roosevelt, Truman Call For Israel Arms Aid

NEW YORK, Jan. 28—UP—Former President Harry S. Truman and Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt called on the government Saturday to provide arms to Israel "now" for protection against Arabs armed with Communist weapons.

The former first lady issued a statement signed by her and Mr. Truman. She said AFL—CIO Vice President Walter Reuther had endorsed the plea but had not yet signed it.

"It is for the United States to restate and implement its basic principles in such a way that there can be no uncertainty as to where it stands," the statement said.

"The cynical invitation to an arms race, the spreading of confusion and the exciting of mutual fear and hostility by the shipment of Communist arms to Egypt can be offset only by the clarification of our position, persistent efforts towards mutual confidence, and our active efforts towards achievable peace.

"We must counteract every attempt by the Soviet Union to upset the present precarious balance of power in this area. This requires that the United States should now provide the defensive arms needed by Israel to protect itself against any aggression made possible or incited by the introduction of Communist arms."

Mr. Truman and Mrs. Roosevelt said it is "essential" that the United States should do everything in its power to prevent war and lay the foundation for permanent peace in the Middle East.

Bystander Killed In Bar; Two Men Held For Probe

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 28 (UP)—Two men were being held today, one of them a bartender, following the death of a bystander in a tavern who was struck by a bullet accidentally discharged during a scuffle.

Police said Walter Grey, 38, was felled by a bullet from the gun of the bartender, James Deal, 50, who had used the revolver in a fight with another patron.

Deal, police record, struck another customer, Winston McGee, on the head with the butt of the gun during an argument and the pistol accidentally fired, sending a slug into Grey standing nearby.

Grey died instantly. Deal and McGee were being held for investigation.

Members Of Parish 4-H Team

State Meat Identification Winners Will Make Trip

The Ouachita Parish 4-H Club members who last summer won first in the state in identifying cuts of meat which had been disguised to present an intentionally misleading appearance, will receive the award for their efforts this week—a trip to New Orleans, complete with sightseeing tours and assorted entertainment.

They are Betty Sue Frost, Peggy Long and Jimmy Shipp, all residents of Bosco community, who received a great deal of coaching and assistance in meat identification work through the efforts of Mrs. Audrey Dawson, associate Ouachita parish home demonstration agent.

When they won in the competition held last summer on the campus of Louisiana State University, Baton Rouge, during the annual 4—H short course session, they were representing the Ouachita Parish High School 4—H Club.

The trip this week will get under way Thursday night when they embark by bus for New Orleans. They will return to their homes Sunday. While in New Orleans, they will go on a number of sightseeing tours and attend several banquets arranged through the Chamber of Commerce there. Ralph Brown, Orleans parish county agent will be in charge of the group of 4—H award winners from various sections of the state which will include those who excelled in other short course contests last summer.

There were many difficulties facing participants in the meat identification competition, Mrs. Dawson recalled. And competition was keen. The youthful participants had to know the grain of meats to identify correctly the various cuts, the locations on the animal from which they came, and the kind, such as beef, lamb, mutton, veal and pork.

"The children had to know the grain of meat to identify correctly the location of the cut and the type of meat," Mrs. Dawson said. "It was hard work preparing for the competition, and hard work winning it."

The associate home demonstration agent explained that in preparing for the contest, she and the three Ouachita parish 4—H'ers made the rounds of packing plants, stores, and made trips to Northeast State College to study various cuts of meat. In addition to this the team spent many hours studying pictures of meats.

Diamonds Safe After Plane Has Engine Trouble

LONDON, Jan. 28—UP—A luxury airliner carrying $8.4 million in diamonds and 4 passengers to New York encountered engine trouble almost half way over the Atlantic Saturday and had to turn back for repairs.

Mechanics made hasty adjustments on the British Overseas Airways Stratocruiser while police stood guard. Then the four-engined craft took off again, with the fortune in rough-cut gems still aboard.

The diamonds, including one 426-carat blue-white stone, were headed for New York diamond merchant Harry Winston. Shipped in a plain airmail packet to avoid attention, the gems were said to represent the largest sale of rough-cut stones ever made to an individual firm.

India's President Gets Bronze Heads

NEW DELHI, Jan. 28 —UP—President Rahendra Prasad accepted a gift of four bronze replicas of human heads from an Indian tribe Saturday but only after the tribal chief promised to stop hunting real heads.

The gift was presented by a head-hunting tribe from the northeast frontier when party tribal chiefs from the states of Nefa, Tribura, Manipur and Assam met with the president at his house.

The president said he would accept the gift only if the tribe swore to stop head-hunting. The chief promised. Prasad took the bronze heads.

Nuclear Studies Leader To Address Group Here

Scientists throughout this area will hear Dr. Ralph T. Overman of the Oak Ridge (Tenn.) Institute of Nuclear Studies at a conference scheduled February 13 at Northeast State. The meeting will begin at 7 p.m. in the college president's home on the campus, Emmett J. Foster, head of Northeast's Science Department, announced.

Dr. Overman is a tour speaker for the South Arkansas Section of and is chairman of the special training section of nuclear studies at Oak Ridge.

Chemists and engineers from chemical plants, refineries and college's in the area will hear the speaker in an illustrated discussion of chemical problems and nuclear reactors. His address will follow an informal dinner in the president's home.

Dr. Overman's lecture will include a short description of nuclear reactors and their properties which make them useful in chemical studies.

Much of the chemical interest in the reactor stems from the employment of radioactive materials produced in them ,and in their application to chemical problems, the scientist explained. Nuclear chemists are developing important uses for the reactor as a tool in chemical research, he said. "Use of the reactor in initiating chemical or physical changes in matter is becoming increasingly significant."

Dr. Overman became chairman of the Special Training Division of the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies in 1948. The division was organized to offer training in the use of new techniques and processes developed in the field of atomic energy. Over 2000 mature research workers have been taught techniques of using radioisotypes in research under direction of Dr. Overman during the past seven years.

Prior to accepting his present position, the scientist served as superintendent of the Oak Ridge thermal diffusion plant for the separation of uranium isotypes, and he later joined the staff of the Oak Ridge National Laboratory as senior research chemist.

Dr. Overman received most of his education in Kansas. and he completed work on the doctorate at Louisiana State University, where he taught after graduation. He also taught one year at Louisiana College.

Little Theatre Curtain Call

By Fleta D. Latham

The set for "The Little Foxes" is almost finished. It is just a matter of two or three more days before the last bit of painting is done. We have kept up with the progress of the painting by asking Director Ivan Uttal daily what color he is. He has been alternately covered with stain, gold paint, white paint and other colors.

We haven't located a wooden wheel chair yet. Does anyone have one we may borrow? It is difficult for Bid Causey to get the feeling of being confined to a wheel chair as long as he has to carry a straight chair about the stage with him during rehearsals.

We are also going to need runners for the stairway, gold framed pictures, a white or gray butler's coat, gas lights, a very small victorian table and the use of a silver coffee service. If you have any of these items, please call us. We'll appreciate it a great deal.

Random notes: Rehearsal visitors during the past week have included Marion Fisher, Waureen Calk, John Brazzel, Bob Canedo, Herschel Lowrey of Jackson, Mississippi and Jim Ray who was on midterm vacation from Notre Dame Seminary in New Orleans. Jim, an ardent follower of the drama, has appeared in a number of Seminary productiins and will direct their forthcoming presentation of "Twelve Angry Men". . .

We were very distressed when we heard of the death of Charles Wilhite's father, Reverend C. S. Wilhite of Dallas. Our thoughts and sympathies are with Charles and his family. . .

Little Theatre Sketch

Alice Montgomery. . .who plays the role of Birdie in "The Little Foxes" is an engaging brunette. Never having seen her in any but an effervescent mood, we have to take her word when she says she is definitely not a morning personality. She drives to work half asleep and needs about five cups of coffee before she feels like a human being.

Alice apparently has few dislikes. The only one she mentioned was cabbage which she refuses to eat. She likes hats, plain and fancy, but mostly fancy — prefers her clothes to be definitely feminine and is partial to shades of brown.

Has no particular hobbies. Likes to dabble in a number of things — furniture refinishing, piano playing, reading and bridge.

She prefers the feathered pets. Has a parakeet named Barney and once had a pet hen that lived outside the office building where Alice works. Fresh eggs could be found in the flower borders.

We asked Alice her opinion of the role of Birdie but she said she would have to study and understand Birdie more thoroughly before she could say.

We are looking forward to seeing Alice give a brilliant interpretation in the role of Birdie.

Ouachita Parish School Boardmen To Attend Confab

School board members from Ouachita parish will attend the 19th annual convention of the Louisiana School Board Association in New Orleans, February 5-7, according to W. W. Ward, superintendent of Ouachita parish schools.

The three-day convention, to be held in the Roosevelt Hotel, will have as its general theme "In-service training the key to successful board membership."

Speakers at the various sessions will include Lonely J. Austin, association president; Shelby Jackson, state superintendent of education; Mayor deLesseps S. Morrison, of New Orleans; and J. G. Stratton, of Clinton, Oklahoma, past president of the National School Boards Association.

The association is composed of all school board members in the state. For this year's convention, all school superintendents of Louisiana are invited.

Members of the Ouachita pairsh school board are:

Dr. B. E. Spencer, Warren E. Palmer, C. E. Buckley, H. O. Hartman, Marcus D. Swayze, Marvin Shipp, Walter Bennett, C. G. Wall, Jr., Hugh Balfour, E. M. Finley, C. P. Holloway, Harry Wheelis, M. H. Head, J. H. Trousdale, Jr., W. B. Inabnett and Wayne McDonald.

Four Injured In Orleans Wreck

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 28—UP—Four men were injured, two critically, today when their car careened out of control in the crowded French Quarter, ripped the top off in a collision with a parked truck, tore out a gallery post and came to a crumpled halt on a sidewalk.

Taken to Charity for emergency treatment was Juan Waller Sing, 22, a seaman who suffered a fracture of the skull, and Mario Huy 21, driver of the car from New Orleans, who suffered numerous cuts and internal injuries.

Police said Sing and Huy were critically injured. Both men are seamen.

Two other passengers were less seriously injured. No pedestrians were hurt.

Pearce Urges Use Of Surplus Food To Non-Farm Aid

BATON ROUGE, Jan. 28 (AP)—Agriculture Commissioner Dave L. Pearce today called on the State Welfare Board to approve distribution of surplus foods to needy non-farm families in Louisiana.

Pearce worked with welfare officials to distribute federal surplus commodities to families hit by failing crops. He is seeking re-election in a runoff primary against former State Entomologist S. J. McCrory.

He said, in a statement, that the program be extended to cover anyone who could establish need and noted the original recommendation was that the program include everyone.

Some 20 parishes are participating in distribution of surplus farm products purchased by the U.S. Department of Agriculture under the price support program. The Welfare Department certifies needy families and parish officials distribute the food.

Study Plan Response Favorable

Plans for in-service persons to earn a bachelor of science degree in six years without leaving their jobs are meeting with fine response, Northeast State officials said Saturday. Numerous inquiries are being made by people in this area who are interested in Northeast's special program which will be initiated in the spring semester.

The college has continued for years the programming of late afternoon, evening, and Saturday morning classes, whenever the demand was sufficient. Students have not been offered, however, a complete plan to meet all requirements for a degree in a particular field entirely through evening courses.

Registration for this work is scheduled for Monday, February at 6:15 p.m. in room 210 of the Science Building. The number of persons prepared at that time to register for courses will determine whether or not the program will be put into effect. A minimum of 10 must enroll in each curriculum listed below to make the plan practical. According to Emmett J. Foster, head of the college's Department of Pure and Applied Science.

Provision is made under the new setup to earn a degree in any of the following fields of science: biology, chemistry, geology, mathematics, medical technology, and physics.

Each curriculum follows the college catalogue. A three-hour course will meet 75 minutes Monday and Thursday or Tuesday and Friday for 18 weeks. The normal schedule will be 12 hours each semester, or four three-hour courses.

Students desiring to have previously earned college credits evaluated should bring official transcripts of these credits. Persons under 21 years of age who have not completed any college studies are requested to bring transcripts of high school work. This will facilitate registration.

Credits may be evaluated in advance of enrollment by mailing them to Emmett J. Foster at Northeast Louisiana State College. Choice of curriculum should be designated in order of preference.

THANK YOU

friends of Ward 3 for re-electing me to the Police Jury. I will represent you the next 4 years as I have in the past— for the good of Ward 3 and the Parish of Ouachita.

Many Segregation Bills Pass Mississippi House

JACKSON, Miss (AP)—A barrage of segregation bills rolled through the Mississippi House of Representatives this week, affecting railroad and bus stations, disturbances, schools and teachers.

More are ready for House action, and still more will be introduced soon.

Six approved bills go to the Senate, where passage virtually is assured.

Several of the bills received unanimous House votes. There was no debate and little discussion.

The words "segregation" and Negro" were seldom mentioned. Lawmakers knew the purpose of the bills and wastel no time with discussion.

A joint Senate-House committee will write an interposition (nullification) resolution for legislative consideration. The exact strength of the resolution is uncertain, but it will affirm Mississippi's claim to control local affairs.

The committee should have the resolution ready next week. Gov. J. P. Coleman endorsed interposition after a conference with three other Southern governors in Richmond, Va., early this week.

The House passed three bills yesterday saying Negroes must not enter white facilities in railroad and bus stations. The penalty could be $1,000 fine and one year in jail.

The bills refer to all passengers, interstate and intrastate, despite an Interstate Commerce Coommission order ruing out segregation of interstate passengers—those traveling across state lines.

The bills also require railroad and bus companies to provide segregated waiting rooms for intrastate passengers. Penalty for failure or refusal would be $1,000 per day.

In effect, the transportation companies would have to build three waiting rooms to obey the ICC order and the proposed state laws. One would be for interstate passengers, presumably integrated. The other two would be segregated for intrastate passengers.

But the interstate waiting room would be useless since the law forbids anyone to enter a room not marked for his race.

"The ICC has ruled we cannot have segregation . . . .," said Rep. Luther Sims of Lowndes County. "We introduced these bills for the purpose of keeping out segregation . . . regardless of the ICC."

A bill aimed at the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People would require prospective teachers to list, under oath, all organizations to which they have belonged in the previous five years.

Without the affidavit, a teacher could not be hired in any public school or college.

It would give school officials a chance to weed out NAACP members.

Filing a false affidavit would mean prosecution for perjury and loss of a certificate to teach.

The House also voted to repeal Mississippi's compulsory school attendance laws. The laws now are little used.

Lawmakers said repealing the laws would prevent any possibility of white children being forced to go to school with Negroes, if Mississippi ever is ordered to integrate schools.

A bill passed early in the week forbids anyone to cause a riot, breach of the peace, disturbance or disorderly assembly by advocating disobedience of Mississippi's laws and traditions.

Mrs. Roosevelt, Truman Call For Israel Arms Aid

NEW YORK, Jan. 28—UP—Former President Harry S. Truman and Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt called on the government Saturday to provide arms to Israel "now" for protection against Arabs armed with Communist weapons.

The former first lady issued a statement signed by her and Mr. Truman. She said AFL—CIO Vice President Walter Reuther had endorsed the plea but had not yet signed it.

"It is for the United States to restate and implement its basic principles in such a way that there can be no uncertainty as to where it stands," the statement said.

"The cynical invitation to an arms race, the spreading of confusion and the exciting of mutual fear and hostility by the shipment of Communist arms to Egypt can be offset only by the clarification of our position, persistent efforts towards mutual confidence, and our active efforts towards achieving peace.

"We must counteract every attempt by the Soviet Union to upset the present precarious balance of power in this area. This requires that the United States should now provide the defensive arms needed by Israel to protect itself against any aggression made possible or incited by the introduction of Communist arms."

Mr. Truman and Mrs. Roosevelt said it is "essential" that the United States should do everything in its power to prevent war and lay the foundation for permanent peace in the Middle East.

Bystander Killed In Bar; Two Men Held For Probe

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 28—UP—Two men were being held today, one of them a bartender, following the death of a bystander in a tavern who was struck by a bullet accidentally discharged during a scuffle.

Police said Walter Grey, 38, was felled by a bullet from the gun of the bartender, James Deal, 36, who had used the revolver in a fight with another patron.

Deal, police related, struck another customer, Winston McGee, on the head with the butt of the gun during an argument and the pistol accidentally fired, sending a slug into Grey standing nearby.

Grey died instantly. Deal and McGee were being held for investigation.

LOOKING FORWARD TO TRIP — Members of the first place winning meat identification team from Ouachita parish, which took state honors last summer at the annual 4-H Club short course at Baton Rouge, smile as they discuss a trip to New Orleans this week as an award for their accomplishment. Members Of Parish 4-H Team

State Meat Identification Winners Will Make Trip

The Ouachita Parish 4-H Club members who last summer won first in the state in identifying cuts of meat which had been disguised to present an intentionally misleading appearance, will receive the award for their efforts this week—a trip to New Orleans, complete with sightseeing tours and assorted entertainment.

They are Betty Sue Frost, Peggy Long and Jimmy Shipp, all residents of Bosco community, who received a great deal of coaching and assistance in meat identification work through the efforts of Mrs. Audrey Dawson, associate Ouachita parish home demonstration agent.

When they won in the competition held last summer on the campus of Louisiana State University, Baton Rouge, during the annual 4—H short course session, they were representing the Ouachita Parish High School 4—H Club.

The trip this week will get under way Thursday night when they embark by bus for New Orleans. They will return to their homes Sunday. While in New Orleans, they will go on a number of sightseeing tours and attend several banquets arranged through the Chamber of Commerce there. Ralph Brown, Orleans parish county agent will be in charge of the group of 4—H award winners from various sections of the state which will include those who excelled in other short course contests last summer.

There were many difficulties facing participants in the meat identification competition, Mrs. Dawson recalled. And competition was keen. The youthful participants had to know the grain of meats to identify correctly the various cuts, the locations on the animal from which they came, and the kind, such as beef, lamb, mutton, veal and pork.

"The children had to know the grain of meat to identify correctly the location of the cut and the type of meat," Mrs. Dawson said. "It was hard work preparing for the competition, and hard work winning it."

The associate home demonstration agent explained that in preparing for the contest, she and the three Ouachita parish 4—H'ers made the rounds of packing plants, stores, and made trips to Northeast State College to study various cuts of meat. In addition to this the team spent many hours studying pictures of meats.

Diamonds Safe After Plane Has Engine Trouble

LONDON, Jan. 28—UP—A luxury airliner carrying $8.4 million in diamonds and 4 passengers to New York encountered engine trouble almost half way over the Atlantic Saturday and had to turn back for repairs.

Mechanics made hasty adjustments on the British Overseas Airways Stratocruiser while police stood guard. Then the four-engined craft took off again, with the fortune in rough-cut gems still aboard.

The diamonds, including one 426-carat blue-white stone, were headed for New York diamond merchant Harry Winston. Shipped in a plain airmail packet to avoid attention, the gems were said to represent the largest sale of rough-cut stones ever made to an individual firm.

Woman's Trial For Kidnaping Of Tot Set Monday

Pauline Schulze, 30, of Houston, goes to trial here Monday on a charge of kidnaping a newly born baby from Baptist Hospital March 19.

The baby, born 29 minutes before it was snatched from a crib in the hospital nursery, was found in Mrs. Schulze's home in Houston the next morning and restored to the parents unharmed.

The infant is Carolyn Wharton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Wharton of Beaumont.

The trial was originally set for Oct. 4 and postponed until Jan. 9. Attorneys informed the court that both sides were in "mutual agreemen" on the Jan. 30 trial date.

Pest Killers At LSU Conference

BATON ROUGE, La., Jan. 28—UP—Pest killers from eight southern states will meet here Jan. 30-Feb. 1 to discuss pest control.

Some 100 persons will attend the 16th annual southern pest control operator's conference on the LSU campus.

India's President Gets Bronze Heads

NEW DELHI, Jan. 28 —UP—President Rahendra Prasad accepted a gift of four bronze replicas of human heads from an Indian tribe Saturday but only after the tribal chief promised to stop hunting real heads.

The gift was presented by a head-hunting tribe from the northeast frontier when party tribal chiefs from the states of Nefa, Tribura, Manipur and Assam met with the president at his house.

The president said he would accept the gift only if the tribe swore to stop head-hunting. The chief promised. Prasad took the bronze heads.

Nuclear Studies Leader To Address Group Here

Scientists throughout this area will hear Dr. Ralph T. Overman of the Oak Ridge (Tenn.) Institute of Nuclear Studies at a conference scheduled February 13 at Northeast State. The meeting will begin at 7 p.m. in the college president's home on the campus, Emmett J. Foster, head of Northeast's Science Department, announced.

Dr. Overman is a tour speaker for the South Arkansas Section of and is chairman of the special training section of nuclear studies at Oak Ridge.

Chemists and engineers from chemical plants, refineries and college's in the area will hear the speaker in an illustrated discussion of chemical problems and nuclear reactors. His address will follow an informal dinner in the president's home.

Dr. Overman's lecture will include a short description of nuclear reactors and their properties which make them useful in chemical studies.

Much of the chemical interest in the reactor stems from the employment of radioactive materials produced in them ,and in their application to chemical problems, the scientist explained. Nuclear chemists are developing important uses for the reactor as a tool in chemical research, he said. "Use of the reactor in initiating chemical or physical changes in matter is becoming increasingly significant."

Dr. Overman became chairman of the Special Training Division of the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies in 1948. The division was organized to offer training in the use of new techniques and processes developed in the field of atomic energy. Over 2000 mature research workers have been taught techniques of using radioisotypes in research under direction of Dr. Overman during the past seven years.

Prior to accepting his present position, the scientist served as superintendent of the Oak Ridge thermal diffusion plant for the separation of uranium isotypes, and he later joined the staff of the Oak Ridge National Laboratory as senior research chemist.

Dr. Overman received most of his education in Kansas. and he completed work on the doctorate at Louisiana State University, where he taught after graduation. He also taught one year at Louisiana College.

Little Theatre Curtain Call

By Fleta D. Latham

The set for "The Little Foxes" is almost finished. It is just a matter of two or three more days before the last bit of painting is done. We have kept up with the progress of the painting by asking Director Ivan Uttal daily what color he is. He has been alternately covered with stain, gold paint, white paint and other colors.

We haven't located a wooden wheel chair yet. Does anyone have one we may borrow? It is difficult for Bid Causey to get the feeling of being confined to a wheel chair as long as he has to carry a straight chair about the stage with him during rehearsals.

We are also going to need runners for the stairway, gold framed pictures, a white or gray butler's coat, gas lights, a very small victorian table and the use of a silver coffee service. If you have any of these items, please call us. We'll appreciate it a great deal.

Random notes: Rehearsal visitors during the past week have included Marion Fisher, Waureen Calk, John Brazzel, Bob Canedo, Herschel Lowrey of Jackson, Mississippi and Jim Ray who was on midterm vacation from Notre Dame Seminary in New Orleans. Jim, an ardent follower of the drama, has appeared in a number of Seminary productiins and will direct their forthcoming presentation of "Twelve Angry Men". . .

We were very distressed when we heard of the death of Charles Wilhite's father, Reverend C. S. Wilhite of Dallas. Our thoughts and sympathies are with Charles and his family. . .

Little Theatre Sketch

Alice Montgomery. . .who plays the role of Birdie in "The Little Foxes" is an engaging brunette. Never having seen her in any but an effervescent mood, we have to take her word when she says she is definitely not a morning personality. She drives to work half asleep and needs about five cups of coffee before she feels like a human being.

Alice apparently has few dislikes. The only one she mentioned was cabbage which she refuses to eat. She likes hats, plain and fancy, but mostly fancy — prefers her clothes to be definitely feminine and is partial to shades of brown.

Has no particular hobbies. Likes to dabble in a number of things — furniture refinishing, piano playing, reading and bridge.

She prefers the feathered pets. Has a parakeet named Barney and once had a pet hen that lived outside the office building where Alice works. Fresh eggs could be found in the flower borders.

We asked Alice her opinion of the role of Birdie but she said she would have to study and understand Birdie more thoroughly before she could say.

We are looking forward to seeing Alice give a brilliant interpretation in the role of Birdie.

Ouachita Parish School Boardmen To Attend Confab

School board members from Ouachita parish will attend the 19th annual convention of the Louisiana School Board Association in New Orleans, February 5-7, according to W. W. Ward, superintendent of Ouachita parish schools.

The three-day convention, to be held in the Roosevelt Hotel, will have as its general theme "In-service training the key to successful board membership."

Speakers at the various sessions will include Lonely J. Austin, association president; Shelby Jackson, state superintendent of education; Mayor deLesseps S. Morrison, of New Orleans; and J. G. Stratton, of Clinton, Oklahoma, past president of the National School Boards Association.

The association is composed of all school board members in the state. For this year's convention, all school superintendents of Louisiana are invited.

Members of the Ouachita pairsh school board are:

Dr. B. E. Spencer, Warren E. Palmer, C. E. Buckley, H. O. Hartman, Marcus D. Swayze, Marvin Shipp, Walter Bennett, C. G. Wall, Jr., Hugh Balfour, E. M. Finley, C. P. Holloway, Harry Wheelis, M. H. Head, J. H. Trousdale, Jr., W. B. Inabnett and Wayne McDonald.

Four Injured In Orleans Wreck

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 28—UP—Four men were injured, two critically, today when their car careened out of control in the crowded French Quarter, ripped the top off in a collision with a parked truck, tore out a gallery post and came to a crumpled halt on a sidewalk.

Taken to Charity for emergency treatment was Juan Waller Sing, 22, a seaman who suffered a fracture of the skull, and Mario Huy 21, driver of the car from New Orleans, who suffered numerous cuts and internal injuries.

Police said Sing and Huy were critically injured. Both men are seamen.

Two other passengers were less seriously injured. No pedestrians were hurt.

Pearce Urges Use Of Surplus Food To Non-Farm Aid

BATON ROUGE, Jan. 28 (AP)—Agriculture Commissioner Dave L. Pearce today called on the State Welfare Board to approve distribution of surplus foods to needy nonfarm families in Louisiana.

Pearce worked with welfare officials to distribute federal surplus commodities to families hit by failing crops. He is seeking re-election in a runoff primary against former State Entomologist S. J. McCrory.

He said, in a statement, that the program be extended to cover anyone who could establish need and noted the original recommendation was that the program include everyone.

Some 20 parishes are participating in distribution of surplus farm products purchased by the U.S. Department of Agriculture under the price support program. The Welfare Department certifies needy families and parish officials distribute the food.

Study Plan Response Favorable

Plans for in-service persons to earn a bachelor of science degree in six years without leaving their jobs are meeting with fine response, Northeast State officials said Saturday. Numerous inquiries are being made by people in this area who are interested in Northeast's special program which will be initiated in the spring semester.

The college has continued for years the programming of late afternoon, evening, and Saturday morning classes, whenever the demand was sufficient. Students have not been offered, however, a complete plan to meet all requirements for a degree in a particular field entirely through evening courses.

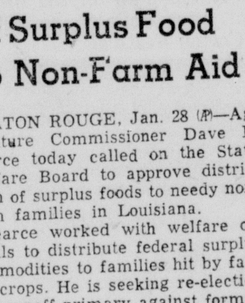

Registration for this work is scheduled for Monday, February at 6:15 p.m. in room 210 of the Science Building. The number of persons prepared at that time to register for courses will determine whether or not the program will be put into effect. A minimum of 10 must enroll in each curriculum listed below to make the plan practical. According to Emmett J. Foster, head of the college's Department of Pure and Applied Science.

Provision is made under the new setup to earn a degree in any of the following fields of science: biology, chemistry, geology, mathematics, medical technology, and physics.

Each curriculum follows the college catalogue. A three-hour course will meet 75 minutes Monday and Thursday or Tuesday and Friday for 18 weeks. The normal schedule will be 12 hours each semester, or four three-hour courses.

Students desiring to have previously earned college credits evaluated should bring official transcripts of these credits. Persons under 21 years of age who have not completed any college studies are requested to bring transcripts of high school work. This will facilitate registration.

Credits may be evaluated in advance of enrollment by mailing them to Emmett J. Foster at Northeast Louisiana State College. Choice of curriculum should be designated in order of preference.

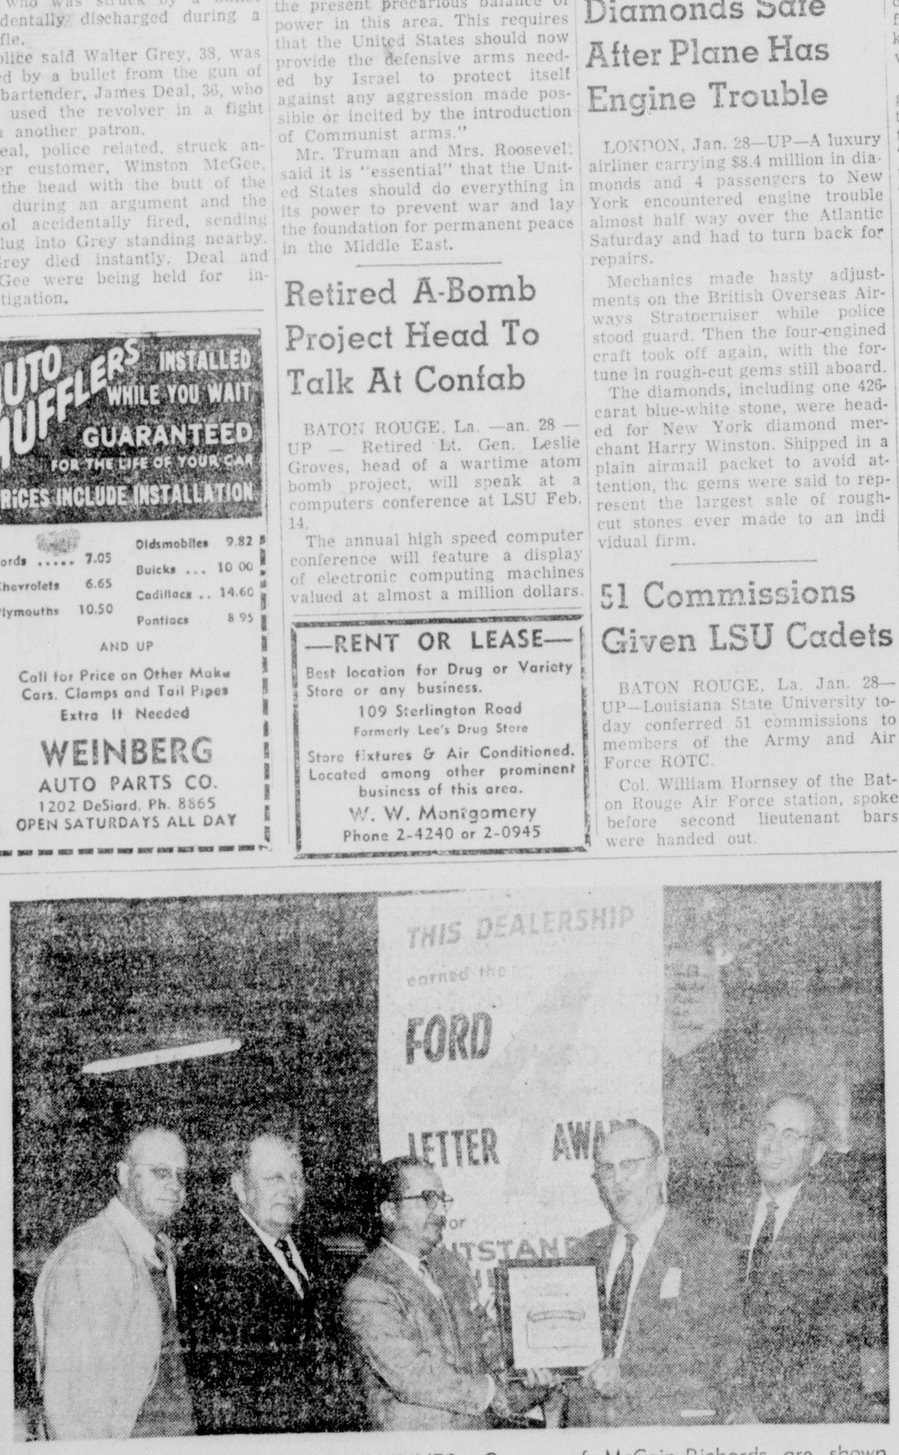

THANK YOU

friends of Ward 3 for re-electing me to the Police Jury. I will represent you the next 4 years as I have in the past—for the good of Ward 3 and the Parish of Ouachita.

Cotton Futures Stage Recovery; End Week Higher

NEW YORK, Jan. 28 (AP) — The cotton futures market staged a brisk recovery this week. Prices at the close on the New York Cotton Exchange were from 45 cents to $3.35 a bale higher than a week earlier.

Strength in futures was attributed partly to domestic and foreign price fixing. However, there was also a fair amount of buying inspired by the heavy movement of cotton into government hands and the increasing likelihood of a tight supply situation at the end of the current crop year.

Profit-taking and other technical considerations were the prime inducements to selling this week. Another factor was continued uncertainty among traders regarding the parity loan level for the 1956 crop.

Traders awaited with interest the mid-January parity price announcement which the U.S. Department of Agriculture is expected to make on Tuesday. Estimates published by the New York Cotton Exchange Service Bureau indicate parity may range from 34.62 cents a pound to 35.12 or higher.

It was noted here that loan entries for the week ended Jan. 20, while down from the week before were still at a relatively high level. At 283,779 bales, entries compared with 444,504 pledged to the government the week before. The total pledged to the government this season through Jan. 20 was reported at 6,459,805 bales—leaving a net stock of 6,353,646 after repossessions and rejections.

Market Closes Week With Gain

NEW YORK, Jan. 28 (AP)—The stock market went through a significant but inconclusive test this week in its long fall that has been on since Jan. 1.

The week ended with a net gain, but the market was pointed along a downward path at the finish.

The selloff has been recognition of the generally anticipated slower pace of business. President Eisenhower called the turn in his economic report to congress when he said the trend was upward but the speed of the advance had slowed.

The market on Monday hit a new low for the present move. Then it launched a vigorous rally that retraced around one-third of the year's loss in two sessions. In the final two sessions of the week, the market resumed its decline again in what brokers agreed was a test of the previous lows.

Steels this week were in the forefront of both the rallies and the declines. Motors ran into weakness from time to time. Production cutbacks at Chrysler depressed that stock. Ford Motor over the counter slipped to 64½, its issue price, where it was stabilized by the underwriting syndicate.

The five most active issues this week were General Motors off ⅞, Avco Mfg. up ¼, U. S. Steel up 1¾, Westinghouse up 1⅝ and Panhandle Oil up 1.

The corporate bond market was higher on balance this week while U. S. Treasury securities declined.

Grains Improve

CHICAGO (AP)—Grains acted a little better on the Board of Trade this week than in the preceeding one although demand was both timid and selective.

Buyers pretty much avoided corn, were mildly interested in soybeans at times and worked up some enthusiasm for lard. In general fats and oils markets were firm and soybeans and lard responded to this development.

Wheat closed the week ⅛-¾ higher, corn ½ lower to ⅛ higher, oats ¼ lower to ⅞ higher, rye ¾-1¾ higher, soybeans 1⅞ to 3 cents higher and lard 40 to 42 cents a hundred pounds higher.

Luciano 'Blows Up' On Hearing Of Drug Charges

NAPLES, Italy, Jan. 28 (AP) — Lucky Luciano, the ex-king of vice in New York, exploded today when he heard that he had been accused again of smuggling narcotics into the United States.

Asst. U. S. Atty. Paul Windles Jr., said in New York that eight ounces of heroin found in the apartment of Edward Sandello, wholesale dope peddler, came directly from Lucky Luciano in Italy.

"That's nice," Luciano shouted over the telephone to a reporter. "Tell those ..... I am fed up. I want to live in peace. And as far as I am concerned they can go to hell. They are all the same people who have nothing to do but throw mud at others.

"Leave me in peace, for God's sake," he shouted, and slammed down the receiver.

Cotton Futures Stage Recovery; End Week Higher

NEW YORK, Jan. 28 (AP) — The cotton futures market staged a brisk recovery this week. Prices at the close on the New York Cotton Exchange were from 45 cents to $3.35 a bale higher than a week earlier.

Strength in futures was attributed partly to domestic and foreign price fixing. However, there was also a fair amount of buying inspired by the heavy movement of cotton into government hands and the increasing likelihood of a tight supply situation at the end of the current crop year.

Profit-taking and other technical considerations were the prime inducements to selling this week. Another factor was continued uncertainty among traders regarding the parity loan level for the 1956 crop.

Traders awaited with interest the mid-January parity price announcement which the U.S. Department of Agriculture is expected to make on Tuesday. Estimates published by the New York Cotton Exchange Service Bureau indicate parity may range from 34.62 cents a pound to 35.12 or higher.

It was noted here that loan entries for the week ended Jan. 20, while down from the week before were still at a relatively high level. At 283,779 bales, entries compared with 444,504 pledged to the government the week before. The total pledged to the government this season through Jan. 20 was reported at 6,459,805 bales—leaving a net stock of 6,353,646 after repossessions and rejections.

Market Closes Week With Gain

NEW YORK, Jan. 28 (AP)—The stock market went through a significant but inconclusive test this week in its long fall that has been on since Jan. 1.

The week ended with a net gain, but the market was pointed along a downward path at the finish.

The selloff has been recognition of the generally anticipated slower pace of business. President Eisenhower called the turn in his economic report to congress when he said the trend was upward but the speed of the advance had slowed.

The market on Monday hit a new low for the present move. Then it launched a vigorous rally that retraced around one-third of the year's loss in two sessions. In the final two sessions of the week, the market resumed its decline again in what brokers agreed was a test of the previous lows.

Steels this week were in the forefront of both the rallies and the declines. Motors ran into weakness from time to time. Production cutbacks at Chrysler depressed that stock. Ford Motor over the counter slipped to 64½, its issue price, where it was stabilized by the underwriting syndicate.

The five most active issues this week were General Motors off ⅜, Avco Mfg. up ¼, U. S. Steel up 1¾, Westinghouse up 1⅜ and Panhandle Oil up 1.

The corporate bond market was higher on balance this week while U. S. Treasury securities declined.

Grains Improve

CHICAGO (AP)—Grains acted a little better on the Board of Trade this week than in the preceeding one although demand was both timid and selective.

Buyers pretty much avoided corn, were mildly interested in soybeans at times and worked up some enthusiasm for lard. In general fats and oils markets were firm and soybeans and lard responded to this development.

Wheat closed the week ⅛-¾ higher, corn ½ lower to ⅛ higher, oats ¼ lower to ⅞ higher, rye ¾-1¾ higher, soybeans 1⅞ to 3 cents higher and lard 40 to 42 cents a hundred pounds higher.

Luciano 'Blows Up' On Hearing Of Drug Charges

NAPLES, Italy, Jan. 28 (AP) — Lucky Luciano, the ex-king of vice in New York, exploded today when he heard that he had been accused again of smuggling narcotics into the United States.

Asst. U. S. Atty. Paul Windles Jr., said in New York that eight ounces of heroin found in the apartment of Edward Sandello, wholesale dope peddler, came directly from Lucky Luciano in Italy.

"That's nice," Luciano shouted over the telephone to a reporter. "Tell those ..... I am fed up. I want to live in peace. And as far as I am concerned they can go to hell. They are all the same people who have nothing to do but throw mud at others.

"Leave me in peace, for God's sake," he shouted, and slammed down the receiver.

State Republicans Set Tuesday Meeting To Plan For Presidential Race

By JAMES McLEAN

BATON ROUGE, Jan. 28 (AP) — State Republican leaders, trying to build from the grass roots in Democratic Louisiana, convene here Tuesday to start organizing for the presidential campaign.

While President Eisenhower hasn't announced his historic decision, the outnumbered Republicans have to plan ahead.

A month ago, GOP Chairman N. Bryant James said he didn't believe Eisenhower would run again.

James has changed his mind saying information he has received from Washington in the last three weeks "convinces me President Eisenhower once again will be the nominee."

National Committeeman John Minor Wisdom, just returned from Washington and New York, reiterated his belief Eisenhower will run.

The Republican State Central Committee, grown to nearly twice its size because of party expansion plans, will convene in the fancy new welfare center built under the administration of pro-Eisenhower, Gov. Robert Kennon, a Democrat.

Republicans meet a day before the session of the Democratic State Central Committee, under Kennon control the last four years.

With Gov.-designate Earl Long ready to take over the Mansion again May 15, Democratic party bosses will be busy reorganizing their Central Committee Wednesday to conform to his views.

But the Republicans James said, don't expect any political ruckus. "Nothing like that this time," he assured. "We're together this time. We're all for Eisenhower."

The Republican Central Committee will reorganize after the Jan. 17 party primary and select party nominees for the April general election.

While the GOP offered no contender for governor, Harry Hill of New Orleans won GOP nomination as lieutenant governor. The nomination amounts to little more than honor, since Democratic nomination in this state is equivalent to election and Long's lieutenant governor candidate, Lether Frazar, is a cinch for the office.

While the Republicans actually can count only 5,000 registered votes out of 1,046,134 they aren't hiding in any corners.

With Kennon's help in 1952 Eisenhower narrowly missed capturing Louisiana. Thousands of Democrats voted for the President.

While two-party expansion plans rate top attention, Republicans still have to get ready for the November elections.

This time, chairman James said, "I'm going to suggest that each Central Committee member go back home and attempt to organize right down to the precinct level."

To back up his ideas, the Central Committee now has 91 members, compared with 52 before the Jan. 17 primary. The growth was the result of efforts by James and Wisdom to encourage creation of parish executive committees.

With each new parish executive committee created, the party machinery expands.

James said on recommendation of the National Committee, young war veterans are being urged to assist Central Committee members, running side by side with them. It is a new GOP gimmick.

And Louisiana Republicans are offering candidates for police juries in Caddo, Lafayette, St. Tammany, Ouachita and Jefferson parishes for the first time. There are GOP candidates for the Legislature in Orleans and Jefferson parishes.

This growth, in Wisdom's view, is easily explained.

"I think today we have more unity and harmony in the Louisiana Republican party than we have had in decades," he said. "It is true we had some friction and strife, but we have achieved solidarity."

"Further, we have independent-minded Republicans who are now active in the party. And the young people are becoming interested."

James disclosed that for the first time, the Central Committee may certify a Republican nominee for sheriff, just about unheard of in Louisiana.

The Republican chairman said both Democrats and Republicans in St. Landry Parish had urged the GOP to place a candidate against Sheriff D. J. Doucet, the Democratic winner.

Doucet, surprised at the GOP threat, laughed and branded it a move by "the die-hard losers in our Democratic primary."

"It might be a good idea for me to keep in training, though," he added.

"It is ridiculous of course. We've never heard of such a thing before. If anybody wants to run for sheriff on the GOP ticket, there's nothing we can do about it. But I predict he'll be beat 20 to 1."

James did not say who the Central Committee might consider running against Doucet.

Senator George Celebrates 78th Birthday Today

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28 (AP) —Sen. Walter F. George (D-Ga) turns 78 tomorrow and on the eve of his birthday he remarked:

"I feel better than when I was about 25."

"I was kinda sick then," he recalled.

The dean of the Senate and chairman of its Foreign Relations Committee cast an experienced eye on the world situation and told reporters that while it isn't a "very happy one" he does not think conditions are growing worse.

He repeated his view that a shooting war with Russia is becoming more and more remote, although he said the Soviet Union still has as its main objective: "World domination."

Asserting the Russians have changed their tactics in recent months, George said:

"They have abandoned their military operations and the danger of a hot and shooting war is becoming more and more remote."

In its stead, he said, Russia is building up trade with Egypt, India, Burma, Pakistan and Afghanistan.

"They're sending in trained propagandists as 'technicians'," he said. Just what this country can do about it, he continued, will wait "until we're in a better position to now what they're driving at."

Domestically, George said he thought the general economy is good but he said one real breakdown is in agriculture and its related activities.

"Agriculture is not in a good way," he said, and added, "The administration is too slow in recognizing conditions. The President's farm program has some virtue but it doesn't offer very much direct or immediate relief to the farmer."

George said he is worried about the nation's farm surpluses, although he thinks the President has overemphasized these.

"I have some idea," he said, "Russia would know what to do about such a situation. Surpluses are not an unmixed evil; sometimes they're a great blessing."

If Russia had these surpluses, George said, "I have a feeling they would put them to great use as an economic weapon."

With the coming of his 78th birthday, the veteran George faces the possibility of the toughest political fight of his long career. His term is up next Jan. 3 and he has announced that he will run for renomination. In the Georgia Democratic primary this is tantamount to election.

But down in Georgia there is strong talk that young Herman Talmadge, former governor of Georgia, will be an opponent, and a formidable one. Talmadge says he will make known his intentions in the spring. Meanwhile, he has been blasting away at the nation's foreign aid program.

Ike Signs Act On Surplus Exports

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28 (AP) — President Eisenhower today signed an act intended to give U. S. exporters, mills and processors equal price treatment on farm products exported in either raw or finished form.

It is an amendment to the law controlling farm stocks held by the Credit Corp., which now has more than eight billion dollars invested in price support operations.

Foreign buyers have been able to control farm stocks held by the government - owned Commodity Credit Corp., which now has more than eight billion dollars invested in price support operations.

Foreign buyers have been able to get these stocks at a lower price than domestic buyers, who must pay the government loan rate plus five per cent for storage and handling.

The new amendment allows exporters and mills to buy at the same lower price as foreign purchasers.

Buy Buffaloes

BATON ROUGE, Jan. 27 (AP) — A group of Baton Rougeans imported 26 buffaloes at $125 each from the Wichita mountains wildlife refuge at Cache, Okla.

What did they want with all this furred homage of Americana?

"Just for the fun of it," said two who joined in the enterprise, Dr. Carl Baldridge and Clifford Ourso.

The two and others read about a surplus of buffaloes at the Oklahoma refuge, wrote the proper authorities — and now they're here.

The recreation and park commission got two bison free.

The buffaloes, all yearlings, are in a livestock barn here until they go to their new homes. Dr. Baldridge has a ranch, and Ourso has a farm, eventual homes for some of the bison.

South Carolina Questions Right Of Klan Charter

COLUMBIA, S. C., Jan. 28 (AP) — Sec. of State M. Frank Thornton disclosed today he had referred to the attorney general's office the question of whether U. S. Klans, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, Inc., of Georgia, can domesticate in South Carolina.

The organization has filed an application with Thornton for a state incorporation charter.

Thornton said that "some questions have arisen as to whether the application meets the requirements of the law in South Carolina."

A charter submitted with the application said in part that "the corporation shall be a secret fraternal organization in nature whose membership rolls will be protected."

Thornton has been requested by the mayor and city council of Marion to reject the application.

Spectre Of Installment Credit Controls Appears On U. S. Business Scene

By WALTER BREEDE JR.

NEW YORK, Jan. 28 (AP)—Like Banquo's ghost, the spectre of government controls on instalment buying rose from the ashes this week. And a somewhat startled business community sat up and took notice.

Many businessmen had considered government controls on consumer credit a dead duck—laid to rest 3½ years ago when regulation expired.

Regulation W said you had to pay so-and-so much down on a new car, appliance or TV set and gave you so-and-so many months to pay off the balance. You needed more cash than under today's liberal terms and your monthly instalments were bigger.

Most people looked on regulation W as a temporary wartime measure. So there was a ripple of surprise when President Eisenhower told Congress in his economic report that standby authority to set down payment and instalment terms would be a "useful adjunct" to the government's credit-regulating powers.

In the President's corner were conservatives who felt an unrestrained credit-buying binge like that of 1955 might bring on a boom-and-bust cycle. Outstanding consumer instalment debt at the end of the year was a whopping 30 billion dollars.

But there was a barrage of protests from merchants who have come to rely on credit as a potent sales tool.

The National Foundation for Consumer Credit called the President's proposal "politically unsound and economically unwise." The American Retail Federation declared: "The very existence of standby controls would inevitably have a depressing effect on manufacturers expansion plans and make everyone far more cautious."

Auto dealers, confronted with sagging sales, could point to a billion-dollar inventory of unsold new cars—biggest for any January on record. There were complaints from appliance and television dealers.

The spirited reaction was surprising to some, particularly since the President had done little more than ask Congress to "study the problem." But the mere mention of instalment curbs sufficed to rekindle a controversy which had smouldered quietly since the demise of regulation W in mid-1952. There was agreement on one point: Instalment controls, standby or otherwise, would have little chance of being written into law in an election-minded Congress.

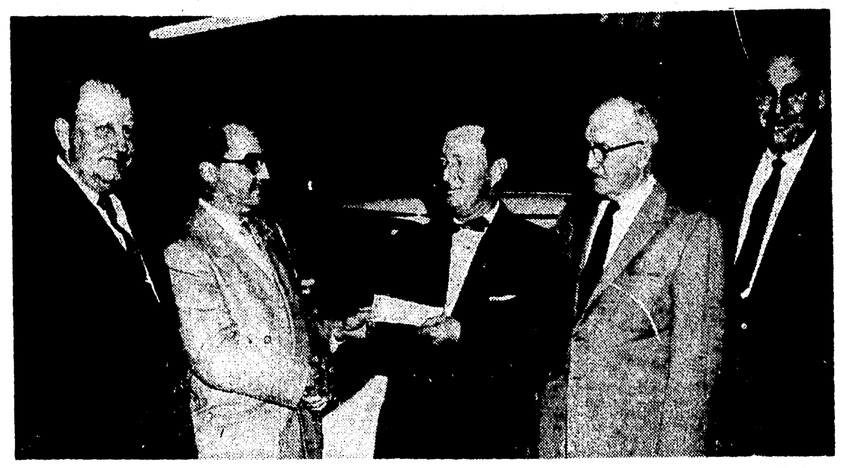

Steel company earnings made headline news this week. Record profits were reported by Bethlehem, Republic, Jones & Laughlin, and Youngstown Sheet & Tube. Bethlehem's president, Eugene Grace, announced plans for a record two-year expansion program; Charles White said Republic's management had revised its expansion planning upward because of "the promising outlook."

Bethlehem jacked up its quarterly dividend but the price of its common stock fell presumably because of disappointment at the companys failure to split the stock.

There was every indication that the boom in steel would continue despite new cutbacks by the automakers. Production for the week ended Jan. 21 reached an all-time high of 2,437,000 tons with the industry running at 99 per cent of its newly increased capacity. Operations this week were scheduled at 2,413,000 tons or 98 per cent of capacity, but actual output may be higher.

The stock market failed to develop a consistent trend this week. There were signs of a half-hearted recovery from the recent sinking spell but trading was light. Cotton futures prices moved briskly higher. There was good news for farmers who have seen prices of their products fall steadily in the past few years. The Department of Agriculture reported that farm prices have improved slightly since the first of the year, reversing the long downward trend. Most significant were recent increases in on-the-hoof prices of hogs and cattle.

Retail trade continued to hold a slight edge over year-ago volume. Department store sales at latest count were 3-per cent higher than in the corresponding week of last year. That compares with a lead of around 7 per cent during December.

Our Mortgage Loan Department enjoyed a tremendously successful year in 1955. Some of the high points are listed below, because we thought they would be of interest to our friends and customers.

$6,000,000 In New Loans In '55
$5,000,000 In 1954
$11,000,000 In Two Years

LARGER QUARTERS FOR BETTER SERVICE

NEW SYSTEMS FOR BETTER SERVICE

1955 was our biggest year in volume of loans, reflecting an increase of $1,000,000 more than loans made in 1954. More than $5,000,000 worth of home loans made in 1955 brought the outstanding loans on our books to over $20,000,000. This represents outside money brought into Northeast Louisiana, enabling almost 600 families to enjoy the advantages of home ownership.

1955 saw us move into our spacious, modern and convenient offices to better serve you. In addition to our having more room for more efficient operation, we now offer free parking in the rear of our building for Troy and Nichols' customers.

1955 marked the initiation of a new system of mailing a year-end report to our customers, giving them a complete history of their loan for the entire year. We know of no other agency offering this unique service. And in 1955 we went to IBM punch-cards for our bookkeeping system, the most accurate system known—TO BETTER SERVE YOU.

Ike Signs Act On Surplus Exports

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28 (AP) — President Eisenhower today signed an act intended to give U. S. exporters, mills and processors equal price treatment on farm products exported in either raw or finished form.

It is an amendment to the law controlling farm stocks held by the Credit Corp., which now has more than eight billion dollars invested in price support operations.

Foreign buyers have been able to control farm stocks held by the government - owned Commodity Credit Corp., which now has more than eight billion dollars invested in price support operations.

Foreign buyers have been able to get these stocks at a lower price than domestic buyers, who must pay the government loan rate plus five per cent for storage and handling.

The new amendment allows exporters and mills to buy at the same lower price as foreign purchasers.

Buy Buffaloes

BATON ROUGE, Jan. 27 (AP) — A group of Baton Rougeans imported 16 buffaloes at $125 each from the Wichita mountains wildlife refuge at Cache, Okla.

What did they want with all this furred tonnage of Americana?

"Just for the fun of it," said two who joined in the enterprise, Dr. Carl Baldridge and Clifford Ourso.

The two and others read about a surplus of buffaloes at the Oklahoma refuge, wrote the proper authorities — and now they're here.

The recreation and park commission got two bison free.

The buffaloes, all yearlings, are in a livestock barn here until they go to their new homes. Dr. Baldridge has a ranch, and Ourso has a farm, eventual homes for some of the bison.

Senator George Celebrates 78th Birthday Today

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28 (AP) —Sen. Walter F. George (D-Ga) turns 78 tomorrow and on the eve of his birthday he revealed:

"I feel better than when I was about 26."

"I was kinda sick then," he recalled.

The dean of the Senate and chairman of its Foreign Relations Committee cast an experienced eye on the world situation and told reporters that while it isn't a "very happy one" he does not think conditions are growing worse.

He repeated his view that a shooting war with Russia is becoming more and more remote, although he said the Soviet Union still has as its main objective: "World domination."

Asserting the Russians have changed their tactics in recent months, George said:

"They have abandoned their military operations and the danger of a hot and shooting war is becoming more and more remote."

In its stead, he said, Russia is building up trade with Egypt, India Burma, Pakistan and Afghanistan.

"They're sending in trained propagandists as technicians," he said. Just what this country can do about it, he continued, will wait "until we're in a better position to now what they're driving at."

Domestically, George said he thought the general economy is good but he said one real breakdown is in agriculture and its related activities.

"Agriculture is not in a good way," he said, and added: "The administration is too slow in recognizing conditions. The President's farm program has some virtue but it doesn't offer very much direct or immediate relief to the farmer."

George said he is worried about the nation's farm surpluses, although he thinks the President has overemphasized these.

"I have some idea," he said, "Russia would know what to about such a situation. Surpluses are not an unmixed evil; sometimes they're a great blessing."

If Russia had these surpluses, George said, "I have a feeling they would put them to great use as an economic weapon."

With the coming of his 78th birthday, the veteran George faces the possibility of the toughest political fight of his long career. His term is up next Jan. 3 and he has announced that he will run for renomination. In the Georgia Democratic primary this is tantamount to election.

But down in Georgia there is strong talk that young Herman Talmadge, former governor of Georgia, will be an opponent, and a formidable one. Talmadge says he will make known his intentions in the spring. Meanwhile, he has been blasting away at the nation's foreign aid program.

South Carolina Questions Right Of Klan Charter

COLUMBIA, S. C., Jan. 28 (AP) — Sec. of State M. Frank Thornton disclosed today he had referred to the attorney general's office the question of whether U. S. Klans, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, Inc., of Georgia, can domesticate in South Carolina.

The organization has filed an application with Thornton for a state incorporation charter.

Thornton said that "some questions have arisen as to whether the application meets the requirements of the law in South Carolina."

A charter submitted with the application said in part that "the corporation shall be a secret fraternal organization in nature whose membership rolls will be protected."

Thornton has been requested by the mayor and city council of Marion to reject the application.

Spectre Of Installment Credit Controls Appears On U. S. Business Scene

By WALTER BREEDE JR.

NEW YORK, Jan. 28 (AP)—Like Phoenix, the spectre of government controls on instalment buying rose from the ashes this week. And a somewhat startled business community sat up and took notice.

Many businessmen had considered government controls on consumer credit a dead duck—laid to rest 3½ years ago when regulation expired.

Regulation W said you had to pay so-and-so much down on a new car, appliance or TV set and gave you so-and-so many months to pay off the balance. You needed more cash than under today's liberal terms and your monthly instalments were bigger.

Most people looked on regulation W as a temporary wartime measure. So there was a ripple of surprise when President Eisenhower told Congress in his economic report that standby authority to set down payment and instalment terms would be a "useful adjunct" to the government's credit-regulating powers.

In the President's corner were conservatives who felt an unrestrained credit-buying binge like that of 1955 might bring on a boom-and-bust cycle. Outstanding consumer instalment debt at the end of the year was a whopping 30 billion dollars.

But there was a barrage of protests from merchants who have come to rely on credit as a potent sales tool.

The National Foundation for Consumer Credit called the President's proposal "politically unsound and economically unwise." The American Retail Federation declared: "The very existence of standby controls would inevitably have a depressing effect on manufacturers expansion plans and make everyone far more cautious."

Auto dealers, confronted with sagging sales, could point to a billion-dollar inventory of unsold new cars—biggest for any January on record. There were complaints from appliance and television dealers.

The spirited reaction was surprising to some, particularly since the President had done little more than ask Congress to "study the problem." But the mere mention of instalment curbs sufficed to rekindle a controversy which had smouldered quietly since the demise of regulation W in mid-1952. There was agreement on one point: Instalment controls, standby or otherwise, would have little chance of being written into law in an election-minded Congress.

Steel company earnings made headline news this week. Record profits were reported by Bethlehem, Republic, Jones & Laughlin, and Youngstown Sheet & Tube. Bethlehem's president, Eugene Grace, announced plans for a record two-year expansion program; Charles White said Republic's management had revised its expansion planning upward because of "the promising outlook."

Bethlehem jacked up its quarterly dividend but the price of its common stock fell presumably because of disappointment at the companys failure to split the stock.

There was every indication that the boom in steel would continue despite new cutbacks by the automakers. Production for the week ended Jan. 21 reached an all-time high of 2,437,000 tons with the industry running at 99 per cent of its newly increased capacity. Operations this week were scheduled at 2,413,000 tons or 98 per cent of capacity, but actual output may be higher.

The stock market failed to develop a consistent trend this week. There were signs of a half-hearted recovery from the recent sinking spell but trading was light. Cotton futures prices moved briskly higher. There was good news for farmers who have seen prices of their products fall steadily in the past few years. The Department of Agriculture reported that farm prices have improved slightly since the first of the year, reversing the long downward trend. Most significant were recent increases in on-the-hoof prices of hogs and cattle.

Retail trade continued to hold a slight edge over year-ago volume. Department store sales at latest count were 3 per cent higher than in the corresponding week of last year. That compares with a lead of around 7 per cent during December.

McCAIN-RICHARDS SALESMAN WINS NATIONAL CONTEST. REPORT of PROGRESS
Mortgage Loan Department
TROY and NICHOLS
Northeast Louisiana's ONLY FHA Approved Company

1955
Our Mortgage Loan Department enjoyed a tremendously successful year in 1955. Some of the high points are listed below, because we thought they would be of interest to our friends and customers.

$6,000,000 In New Loans In '55
$5,000,000 In 1954
$11,000,000 In Two Years

1955 was our biggest year in volume of loans, reflecting an increase of $1,000,000 more than loans made in 1954. More than $6,000,000 worth of home loans made in 1955 brought the outstanding loans on our books to over $20,000,000. This represents outside money brought into Northeast Louisiana, enabling almost 600 families to enjoy the advantages of home ownership.

LARGER QUARTERS FOR BETTER SERVICE

1955 saw us move into our spacious, modern and convenient offices to better serve you. In addition to our having more room for more efficient operation, we now offer free parking in the rear of our building for Troy and Nichols' customers.

NEW SYSTEMS FOR BETTER SERVICE

1955 marked the initiation of a new system of mailing a year-end report to our customers, giving them a complete history of their loan for the entire year. We know of no other agency offering this unique service. And in 1955 we went to IBM punch-cards for our bookkeeping system, the most accurate system known—TO BETTER SERVE YOU.

IF YOU ARE PLANNING TO BUY, BUILD OR RE-FINANCE RESIDENTIAL OR COMMERCIAL PROPERTY IN N. E. LOUISIANA. WE ARE READY AND ANXIOUS TO SERVE YOU!

WHY TROY & NICHOLS CAN SERVE YOU BETTER
- Lower Closing Costs
- Quicker approvals and closings
- Continued service throughout life of loan
- Payments made right here locally
- Complete records maintained here . . . readily available when you need information from them
- Parking space available for our customers

Paul Martin Looks 'Em Over

The third annual Twin Cities Boys Baseball Clinic isn't too far away—February 10-11-12—and already the sponsoring North Monroe Lions Club has lined up such interesting baseball names as Mel Parnell, pitcher for the Boston Red Sox; Monroe's own big league products, Wayne Causey of the Baltimore Orioles, and Art Swanson of the Pittsburgh Pirates; Joe Adcock of the Milwaukee Braves; almost definite assurance of "Dizzy" Dean of the oldtime St. Louis Cardinal "Gas House Gang" turned radio and television sportscaster; plus several other notables.

We've had most of our contact regarding this year's clinic with Jack Herron, the Southside High football coach who is a member of the Lions Club baseball committee, and our dope form Jack assures that this will be the most attractive of the annual February baseball clinics here for the small fry diamond addicts of this section of the state.

Few kids ever had the opportunity to really meet a major league player. But the clinic, such as established here, does offer that opportunity of personal contacts that will be long remembered by the boys. Several hundred have turned out for the instructive sessions conducted by the experts, but, with more "big names" than ever to participate this year, the kids should have a great time. Those dads who try to teach their boys the game can pick up some pointers by attending, too.

By now all followers of the boxing career of Clarence Cook, the Bastrop papermill worker, know of his defeat by Virgil Akins at Dallas, Tex., recently as he attempted to climb along the higher class welterweights. But, in a way, it might not have been a loss for the product of Oak Grove High.

Cook was impressive to catch the eye of the manager of the man who beat him, and Eddie Yawitz, the St. Louis handler of Akins, is definitely interested in taking Cook under his wing for careful introduction to the more impressive fighters.

Yawitz, who commented— Cook already has one of the finest lefts in the business and polished footwork—needing chiefly more development of his right hand, will be in Monroe February 7 for the sole purpose of introducing Cook to George Willsman, trainer for Yawitz's fighters. Cook, that night, will be matched in a six-rounder here at Gus Kallio's Arena, and Yawitz, himself, is bringing in his classy Jesse Turner for a ten-round go with Allen Kester. Both Turner and Kester are well known midwest middleweights.

"I'm particularly anxious to have Willsman, an old-timer whose wisdom in training and conditioning is unchallenged, see Cook at work." Yawitz wrote Kallio this week.

Bob Carter, the ex-Ouachita High all-state halfback, won't be playing pro baseball this season. Word is that the chattel of the Brooklyn Dodgers with assignment to catch for Witchita Falls of the Big State League will give up baseballe to remain in Monroe and join Dave McKenzie, himself a former minor league pitcher, in operation of a sporting goods business.

McKenzie is due to take over Lockhart Sports Shop tomorrow as Ed Lockhart is leaving the concern to enter a Mississippi school for work on his master's degree with the object of returning to the teaching profession. Lockhart, formerly a coach and teacher at Birmingham, Ala., has been in business here since World War II when he was stationed at Selman Field.

Arkansas State Trips Northeast, 86-69

Proctor Sparks Victors; Crocker Leads Invaders

JONESBORO, Ark., Jan. 28—(Special)—After a nit and tuck first half, the Arkansas State Indian pulled away from another band of Tribesmen, the Northeast Louisiana Indians, to notch a 86-69 victory here tonight in avenging an earlier season loss to the Louisiana cagers.

Proctor led Arkansas State with 22 points, while Lloyd Crocker was high scorer for Northeast with 19. Harold Davis of Northeast, without a field goal, distinguished himself at the foul line with 12 points.

Northeast left the absence of Mel McFarland, out with an ankle fracture, but was holding its own tonight until Bill Bradley fouled out after hooping 12 points.

Goodwin, Berger Clash Today For Doherty Throne

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla., Jan. 28 —(AP)—Joanne Godwin, a dark horse from Dartmouth, Mass., and Cookie Swift Berger of Buffalo, N. Y., won tough semi-final victories today in the Helen Lee Doherty Women's Amateur Golf Tournament.

The 19-year-old Miss Goodwin, daughter of a Dartmouth golf pro, Harold Goodwin, scored a resounding upset victory over Marlene Stewart, the Canadian amateur champion from Font Hills, Ont. Mrs. Berger defeated Janie Dobbin, St. Louis, 2 and 1.

Miss Goodwin and Mrs. Berger will meet tomorrow in a 3-hole match for the title. Cookie is expected to have the advantage because of her familiarity with south Florida courses. She formerly registered out of Hollywood, Fla.

Miss Goodwin, who couldn't get past the first round in two previous Doherty tournaments, won the first two holes of her match with Miss Stewart with a par and a birdie and was never behind. Marlene cut her margin to one hole by dropping a 20-foot putt for a birdie at the 15th but they halved the next three holes.

Mrs. Berger and Miss Dobbin were even at the end of nine but Cookie grabbed the advantage at the 10th when she dropped spectacular, 180-yard wood shot into the cup for a double eagle two.

That shot on the par five hole rattled Miss Dobbin and she three-putted the next green for a bogey six to go two down.

Delany Captures Hunter Mile As Santee Runs 4th

BOSTON, Jan. 28 (AP) — Ron Delany of Villanova streaked to victory in the Hunter Mile in 4:06.3 in the Boston A. A. Games tonight.

A crowd of 13,909 in the Boston Garden saw Delany treat Wes Santee like a high school runner, passing the American hope for the four-minute mile like a jet overtaking a monoplane.

Santee could do no better than fourth in the jockeying battle. Len Truex of the Army was second about five yards back of Delany, while Joe Deady of Washington, a Georgetown post graduate student, finished third.

Southerners Tag Tech's Bulldogs With 72-53 Loss

HATTIESBURG, Miss., Jan. 28 Mississippi Southern took the lead in the first four minutes and rolled to a 72-53 victory over a cold Louisiana Tech team tonight.

Guard Don Eddy put the Southerners ahead to stay at 9-7. They led 33-22 at the half and started the second period by hitting eight of nine attempts from the floor.

The Southerners piled up a 26-point lead at 57-31 midway of the second half and used reserves to finish the game.

Forward Bob Boothe of Mississippi Southern was high point man with 15. Guard Billy Wiggins led Tech with 12 points.

Fairmount Park at Collinsville and Cahokia Downs in East St. Louis, both in Illinois, will have night thoroughbred racing next summer.

Ruston's Cagers Check Simsboro; James Hoops 31

RUSTON, La., Jan. 28 —(Special)—Bobby James fired 31 points through the nets here tonight to lead the Ruston High Bearcats to a 58-41 victory over Simsboro High in a non-conference basketball battle. Bobby Joe Bell led the visitors with 13.

The score at the quarter was knotted at 12-12, but Ruston forged a 31-23 margin at the half, and led 41-33 going into the last period.

Simsboro won the "B" boys' game, 43-27, as J. B. Edmiston and Abb Jones led with 12 points apiece. James Upchurch was high for Ruston with 7.

Dayton Quint Upset By Louisville, 66-64

DAYTON, OHIO, Jan. 28 (AP)—Gerry Moreman's asket with only two seconds left in an extra period gave Louisville a 66-64 victory over Dayton tonight. The defeat knocked the second-ranked Dayton team from the unbeaten after 14 straight wins.

Ogden, Kilbourne Cagers Win Lake Providence Meet

LAKE PROVIDENCE, La., Jan. 28 —(Special)—The Ogden High School boys and the Kilbourne High girls collected championship trophies at the close of the annual Lake Providence High Invitational Basketball Tournament here tonight. The Ogden quint clinched the crown of its division by beating out Holly Ridge in the finals, 57-39; and the Kilbourne girls took their final from Pioneer, 52-34.

Fain led Ogden's final assault with 25 points to back up his 31-point production in leading his mates past Lake Providence, 60-42, in a semi-final earlier in the day. Carroll was high scorer for Holly Ridge with 12, and he had 23 points in the semi-final as Holly Ridge halted Kilbourne, 47-34.

Underwoods 26 points spearheaded the Kilbourne girls' victory in the final, while Gardner led Pioneer with 19. In the girl's semi-finals, Taylor hooped 18 points to lead Kilbournes 49-35 defeat of Epps, and Bain had 20 in Pioneer's 53-36 win over Newellton. Butts was high scorer for Epps with 17, and Higginbotham led Newellton with 12.

Leading scorers for the losers in the boys semi-finals were Earle, Lake Providence, 12; and McDowell, Kilbourne, 18.

Team sportsmanship trophies were presented to both Kilbourne's boys and girls. Individual miniature gold basketballs were awarded members of the titled teams in addition to the team trophies.

Smith Quintet, Transylvania's Girls Cop Wins

STERLINGTON, La., Jan. 28 (Special)—The host A. L. Smith quintet and the girls team from Transylvania won championship at the annual Sterlington Lions Club Junior Basketball Tournament here tonight as the Smith boys beat out Bastrop, 41-30, in the finals after the Transylvania sextet had beaten Smiths girls, 41-37.

Manhart led the Smith boys in the final with 14 points, while Jefferies hooped 12 for Bastrop. Stone's 22 points was high for Transylvania's girls as against 16 for Smith's Hammonds.

In semi-finals earlier in the day, the Smith boys, led by Hendrix's 15 points, beat Linville, 51-39, and Hammonds, with 18, led Smith's girls past Goodwill, 30-24. Haile got 22 points for the Linville boys, and Calvert had 17 for the Goodwill girls.

Transylvania's boys, beating Linville, 48-39, and Goodwill's girls, stopping Linville, 45-44, won the consolation games. High scorers were Boyte, 15, Transylvania; Calvert, 30, Goodwill; Haile, 18, Linville boys; Ford, 27, Linville girls.

Trophies were awarded the three top teams in each division by M. O. Ramsey, prtsident of the Sterlington Lions Club.

All-tournament teams were:

Girls — Holloway and Hammonds, Smith; Crow, Linville; Fortenberry and Johnson, Transylvania; Calvert, Goodwill.

Boys — Sanders, Transylvania; Talley and Hendrix, Smith; Haile, Linville; Jefferies, Bastrip.

JOINS TATUM

CHAPEL HILL, N.C., Jan. 28 (AP)—Pat Preston, former athletic director at Wake Forest, today was named as an assistant football coach at North Carolina. He was the fourth assistant coach named since ex-Maryland Coach Jim Tatum took over as head coach for the Tar Heels early this month.

Ouachita Hosts West Monroe's Cagers Tuesday

The Ouachita Lions and the West Monroe Rebels meet for the second time this season in a triple-A conference double header Tuesday night in the O.P.H.S. gym here.

The Lion quint, with a 2-0 league record, beat the Rebs earlier, 54-46, and stopped Bastrop, 60-50. Ouachita's girls show 0-2 mark and need a win Tuesday to remain in the title race. West Monroe's sextet stopped the Ouachita lasses earlier, 43-34; so did Bastrop in overtime, 39-36.

Ousted Cherberg Declares Cassill Also Should Go

SEATTLE, Jan. 28 (AP) — Fired last night as head football coach at the University of Washington, cowboy Johnny Cherberg said today that the man who wielded the axe—Harvey Cassill—should be fired from the job of athletic director.

"For the good of the university," said the deposed coach, "and for the benefit of my successor and other coaches out there, right-minded citizens should take affirmative action to establish an athletic administration that will operate for the benefit of the students and create a program without any connection with any downtown interests."

Cherberg's troubles began in November when his football players revolted following the last game of the season. They attacked Cherberg's coaching methods and accused him of tyranny. On Dec. 10 the board of regents ordered him rehired for another year but gave Cassill full authority over the athletic department.

Cherberg said lack of cooperation from the university administration, "coupled with interference from outside the university, thoroughly hampered every effort I made to settle the situation.

"I was fired without ever receiving the cooperation the regents directed Cassill to give me when they acted Dec. 10."

Cassill, said H. P. (Dick) Everest, university vice president, "still is accountable to the regents. If they believe he did wrong and feel strongly enough about it they can make a change." He added that Cassill will have to justify his action at the regents' meeting March 3.

Contacted informally, a majority of the seven-member board said they would vote to uphold Cassill as the situation stands today.

Cassill said the hiring of a new coach is "No. 1 on the agenda" but he has talked to no one and made no contacts.

Cherberg said he had no job plans. He is a graduate of the university and has spent most of his life in Seattle. Now 43, he has coached in the Seattle school system and was freshman coach under Howie Odell, succeeding Odell in the top job in 1953.

His 1955 team was Cherberg's best after a dismal record in 1954. His last team has a 5-4-1 record, including upset victories over Minnesota and Southern California and a strong [illegible] against U.C.L.A.

Fills Terrapin Staff

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Jan. 28 (AP)—Maryland's new football coach Tommy Mont, announced today that he had completed his coaching staff with the signing of John Idzik as an assistant.

Welch, Fuller Accept Tag Bout With Mat Villains

Stan Kowalski, the long-haired Pole, and Red Scarr, the hooded mystery man, test their wrestling villainy against the talents of Lester Welch and Buddy Fuller in a tag team main event at Gus Kallio's Arena Tuesday night.

Kowalski and Scarr have been having rough sessions with the Curtis brothers, Jack and George, lately, but Promoter Kallio last night said indications are Welch and Fuller won't be letting up on the pressure.

BUDDY FULLER

"Welch and Fuller have been around. They know the ropes. Kowalski and Scarr may think things are going to be a little easier after their toils against the Curtis boys, but they're more than likely to be surprised," Kallio said.

The relay scramble will be over the usual 90-minute time limit distance, two falls to win.

A pair of one-fall tuneups for the main event scrappers will open the night's program at 8:15 o'clock. Welch, from Pawhuska, Okla., will tangle with either Kowalski, now of Detroit, or Scarr in his introductory match, while Fuller, of Mobile, Ala., will warm up against the foe Welch fails to draw.

Lane Optimistic About Cardinals In '56 Campaign

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 28 —(AP)—General Manager Frank Lane, in a pre-spring training letter to all St. Louis Cardinal players, said tonight "there is no telling how far this club can go in 1956."

Lane's letter extended an invitation to members of the squad to report to spring training at St. Petersburg, Fla., "in proper condition . . . and the proper frame of mind."

The general manager said there is ability on the Red Bird ball club. "Lots of it. If this ability is applied properly by each and every player, there is no telling how far this club can go in 1956."

St. Louis finished seventh last season but Lane said the return of Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell from military service and Willard Schmidt on the mound staff from the start of the season plus added experience to last season's rookies should make a difference.

"Rival club executives have been most flattering," Lane said, "in their attempts to make deals for several of our players."

Lane said he didn't want the players to be "10 satisfied" with terms of their '56 contracts and pointed out that he told them "that you would receive more money commensurate with results."

Don Mueller in 1955 and Fred Lindstrom in 1930 hit safely in 24 straight games, a record for a member of the New York Giants.

Tonsina's Strong Race Claims Fair Grounds Feature

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 28 —(AP)—T. A. Grissom's speed-burning filly, Tonsina, jumped into a quick lead and fought off a strong stretch challenge from Dixiana stables Make Ready today to win the $13,700 Pelleteri Handicap at the Fair Grounds.

Tonsina, a four-year-old daughter of Buster, moved to a two-length advantage as the 11-horse field straightened out in the back stretch and went under the wire a length in front of Make Ready. Reverie Knoll farm's Leather Kid took the show spot.

The Grissom filly went to the post a 2-1 favorite with running mate Nonnie Jo and returned $6.40, $4.20 and $3.00. Make Ready, an outsider at 10-1, paid $9.80 and $5.60. Leather Kid, second choice in the wagering, returned $3.20.

Jockey Robert Lee Baird, leading rider at the Fair Grounds meeting, took Tonsina to the front at once and opened up a two length gap over Make Ready. Tonsina still had a two length margin as the field took the final turn and headed into the stretch.

Jockey Eldon Nelson went to the whip on Make Ready and eighth of a mile from home, but Baird urged Tonsina on and held the Dixiana speedster in check.

Tonsina practically eliminated all opposition except Make Ready with a killing pace, touring the quarter mile in 22 and 2-5 seconds, and hitting the half-mile mark in 45 4-5.

Tonsina's time for the six furlongs was 1:11, fastest of the winter meeting.

Leather Kid trailed in third place through most of the early running and managed to hold the show spot with a nose margin over the Rebel stables Super Devil.

The victory was worth $9,875 to Grissom, who operates an automobile agency in Detroit. Grissom's horses have dominated the meeting and his trainer, V. R. (Tennessee) Wright, has a strong lead for saddling honors.

A crowd of 15,122 watched the first big money event of the Fair Grounds season.

In the secondary feature, the $2,500 Mayor's Day Purse, the Sam E. Wilson entry of Lady Swords and Royal Honor finished 1-2. Lady Swords took over the lead through the stretch and had a two-length lead over her stablemates.

Grissom's Reaping Right, unbeaten in four starts at the meeting and the 1-2 favorite, tired after setting the pace and finished fourth, three lengths behind Joe Brown's I Dare, who took the show spot.

The Grissom entry returned $9.40, $5, and $6.

Bastrop Shaded By Natchez Foe In 76-75 Scrap

NATCHEZ, Miss., Jan. 28 (Special)—Cathedral High of Natchez defeated the Bastrop, La., High School Rams, 76 to 75, here tonight in a fight from behind to overcome a 37-35 Bastrop lead at the half. Cooley's field basket in the last 30 seconds won for Cathedral.

Byrne was leading scorer for Cathedral with 35 points, while the Loftin twins, Bob and Bill, led the Rams with 28 and 21 respectively.

Small Schools Opposing 'Crumbs' From N. C. A. A.

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Jan. 28 (AP)—The decision of the N.C.A.A. to stage a small college national basketball tournament in competition with the long-established N.A.I.A. (National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics) has brought a wave of resentment, Al. O. Duer, executive secretary of the N.A.I.A., said today.

Duer said he had received a flood of pledges of loyalty to the N.A.I.A. from college presidents and athletic directors. Without exception, Duer said, they point out the years of service the N.A.I.A. has given small colleges and ask a common question:

"Why has the N.C.A.A. waited 18 years to do something to protect the interest of the smaller schools?"

"These are heartwarming expressions from men who have helped build the N.A.I.A. over the years. Here are some samples of their opinions," said Duer:

Dr. James Gee, president of East Texas State, Commerce—So far as we are concerned there is only one national small college basketball championship and that is the N.A.I.A.'s...we don't even know the N.C.A.A exists.

John L. Longfellow, Indiana State, Terre Haute—The N.C.A.A. did absolutely nothing for the small school for many years. When the N.A.I.A. continued its steady growth, the N.C.A.A. decided to move into the small collete field.

Joe Hutton, director of athletics, Hamline University, St. Paul, Minn. — Why the N.C.A.A. action? What's wrong with the N.A.I.A. tournament? Could any method of selection be more fair or just or considerate? Does anyone think the N.C.A.A. is doing anything more than throwing another piece of bait or a crumb to their small college little fry?

Sam Ketchum, Ferris Institute, Big Rapids, Mich — I feel there is no reason for alarm. The N.A.I.A. is an established organization dedicated to service for the small college and has done a good job ... the end product will be to N.A.I.A. advantage.

Fred Hess, Nebraska Wesleyan, Lincoln — I recognize we have many small schools...(who will) identify themselves with the N.C.A.A. even in a role of a shirt-tail relative because of the pseudo prestige their distorted thinking indicates this N.C.A.A. association heaps upon them...I say if the athletic muddle is to be cleared the leadership will come from the smaller schools with vision and from a strong N.A.I.A. that exists to project this point of view.

M. C. Cunningham, president of Ft. Hays, Kan., State—I have talked with quite a number of people in this part of Kansas and they all feel the N.C.A.A. made a serious mistake. I have one suggestion. All the smaller colleges who are members of the N.A.I.A. should boycott the N.C.A.A. tournament. Ft. Hays will take no part in the N.C.A.A. tournament

Declare Nashua Out

MIAMI, Fla. Jan. 28 (AP) — John Fitzsimmons, assistant to trainer Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons, said today Nashua has been officially declared out of the $50,000 added McClennan Handicap at Hialeah Feb. 4 and the $100,000 added Widener on Feb. 18 at Hialeah, is to appear in an overnight prep for that race and continues to train in excellent fashion. He had another easy gallop this morning.

Middlecoff Forges Ahead

BY BOB MYERS

PALM SPRINGS, Calif., Jan. 28 (AP) — Cary Middlecoff moved into a one-stroke lead over Jimmy Demaret today as the pair swept farther out in front at the 54-hole point of the $15,000 Thunderbird Invitational Golf Tournament.

Middlecoff registered his second successive five-under par 66, preceded by a first-round 67, for a score of 199 in three rounds, and dapper Jimmy tagged right behind with rounds of 64-69-67 for 200.

Middlecoff was 14 strokes underpar for the route as he and 41 othe especially invited pofessionals played the par 36-35-71 Thunderbird Country Club under skies that were bright throughout the day.

Nearest to the leaders, who started out the day all even, was Julius Boros, whose 69 left him with six strokes to go to catch Middlecoff in the final 18 holes tomorrow.

Chicago's Bill Ogden had a 71 for 207, Gardner Dickinson Jr., Panama City Beach, Fla., for 208, and last year's winner, Shelley Mayfield, his third straight 71 for 213 and a tie with Max Evans, Utica, Mich., who shot a 69.

Doug Ford, who was third to Middlecoff and Demaret starting out, took a 76 for 211.

Once again Middlecoff, the 1955 Masters champion and winner of the recent Bing Crosby Tournament, cracked his irons in mighty fashion. He said: "I'm playing so well I'm frightened."

Lowest score of the day was a 65 by Ted Kroll, but it left him in the rear at 211 in a tie with Mike Souchak (71), Bob Rosburg (66), Billy Maxwell (69) and Gene Littler (69).

Tommy Bolts 68 gave him 210 Byron Nelson's 75 a 214, Lloyd Mangrum's 72 a 216, and national open champion Jack Fleck's 71 a 220. Tied with Fleck for the highest score were Turnesa, Ellsworth Vines and George Howard.

The leaders:

Cary Middlecoff, Dallas, 67-66-66—199
Jimmy Dearet, Klamesha Lake, N. Y., 64-69-67—200
Julius Boros, Mid Pines, N.C., 66-70-69—205
Bill Ogden, Chicago 68-68-71—207
Gardner Dickinson Jr., Panama City Beach, Fla., 67-70-71—208
Fred Hawkins, El Paso, Tex., 67-71-71—209
Tommy Bolt, Chattanooga, Tenn., 71-71-68—210
Jerry Barber, Los Angeles, 69-71-70—210
Dow Finsterwald, Bedfore Heights, Ohio, 69-73-69—211
Gene Littler, Palm Springs, 66-76-69—211
Mike Souchak, Grossinger, N.Y., 71-69-71—211
Bob Rosburg, San Francisco, 69-76-66—211
Billy Maxwell, Odessa, Tex., 70-72-69—211
Ted Kroll, Bethesda, Md., 69-77-65—211
Bud Holscher, Apple Valley, Calif., 68-74-69—211
Doug Ford, Klamesha Lake, N.Y. 66-69-76—211
Jimmy Hines, Palm Springs, 67-75-70—212
Al Balding, Montreal, 71-73-68—212
Arnold Palmer, Latrobe, Pa., 70-70-72—212
Max Evans, Utica, Mich., 71-73-69—213
Shelley Mayfield, Westbury, N.Y., 71-71-71—213.

Paul Martin Looks 'Em Over

The third annual Twin Cities Boys Baseball Clinic isn't too far away—February 10-11-12—and already the sponsoring North Monroe Lions Club has lined up such interesting baseball names as Mel Parnell, pitcher for the Boston Red Sox; Monroe's own big league products, Wayne Causey of the Baltimore Orioles, and Art Swanson of the Pittsburgh Pirates; Joe Adcock of the Milwaukee Braves; almost definite assurance of "Dizzy" Dean of the oldtime St. Louis Cardinal "Gas House Gang" turned radio and television sportscaster; plus several other notables.

We've had most of our contact regarding this year's clinic with Jack Herron, the Southside High football coach who is a member of the Lions Club baseball committee, and our dope form Jack assures that this will be the most attractive of the annual February baseball clinics here for the small fry diamond addicts of this section of the state.

Few kids ever had the opportunity to really meet a major league player. But the clinic, such as established here, does offer that opportunity of personal contacts that will be long remembered by the boys. Several hundred have turned out for the instructive sessions conducted by the experts, but, with more "big names" than ever to participate this year, the kids should have a great time. Those dads who try to teach their boys the game can pick up some pointers by attending, too.

By now all followers of the boxing career of Clarence Cook, the Bastrop papermill worker, know of his defeat by Virgil Akins at Dallas, Tex., recently as he attempted to climb along the higher class welterweights. But, in a way, it might not have been a loss for the product of Oak Grove High.

Cook was impressive to catch the eye of the manager of the man who beat him, and Eddie Yawitz, the St. Louis handler of Akins, is definitely interested in taking Cook under his wing for careful introduction to the more impressive fighters.

Yawitz, who commented— Cook already has one of the finest lefts in the business and polished footwork—needing chiefly more development of his right hand, will be in Monroe February 7 for the sole purpose of introducing Cook to George Willsman, trainer for Yawitz's fighters. Cook, that night, will be matched in a six-rounder here at Gus Kallio's Arena, and Yawitz, himself, is bringing in his classy Jesse Turner for a ten-round go with Allen Kester. Both Turner and Kester are well known midwest middleweights.

"I'm particularly anxious to have Willsman, an old-timer whose wisdom in training and conditioning is unchallenged, see Cook at work." Yawitz wrote Kallio this week.

Bob Carter, the ex-Ouachita High all-state halfback, won't be playing pro baseball this season. Word is that the chattel of the Brooklyn Dodgers with assignment to catch for Witchita Falls of the Big State League will give up baseballe to remain in Monroe and join Dave McKenzie, himself a former minor league pitcher, in operation of a sporting goods business.

McKenzie is due to take over Lockhart Sports Shop tomorrow as Ed Lockhart is leaving the concern to enter a Mississippi school for work on his master's degree with the object of returning to the teaching profession. Lockhart, formerly a coach and teacher at Birmingham, Ala., has been in business here since World War II when he was stationed at Selman Field.

Proctor Sparks Victors; Crocker Leads Invaders

JONESBORO, Ark., Jan. 28—(Special)—After a nit and tuck first half, the Arkansas State Indian pulled away from another band of Tribesmen, the Northeast Louisiana Indians, to notch a 86-69 victory here tonight in avenging an earlier season loss to the Louisiana cagers.

Proctor led Arkansas State with 22 points, while Lloyd Crocker was high scorer for Northeast with 19. Harold Davis of Northeast, without a field goal, distinguished himself at the foul line with 12 points.

Northeast felt the absence of Mel McFarland, out with an ankle fracture, but was holding its own tonight until Bill Bradley fouled out after hooping 12 points.

Goodwin, Berger Clash Today For Doherty Throne

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla., Jan. 28 —(AP)—Joanne Godwin, a dark horse from Dartmouth, Mass., and Cookie Swift Berger of Buffalo, N. Y., won tough semi-final victories today in the Helen Lee Doherty Women's Amateur Golf Tournament.

The 19-year-old Miss Goodwin, daughter of a Dartmouth golf pro, Harold Goodwin, scored a resounding upset victory over Marlene Stewart, the Canadian amateur champion from Font Hills, Ont. Mrs. Berger defeated Janie Dobbin, St. Louis, 2 and 1.

Miss Goodwin and Mrs. Berger will meet tomorrow in a 3-hole match for the title. Cookie is expected to have the advantage because of her familiarity with south Florida courses. She formerly registered out of Hollywood, Fla.

Miss Goodwin, who couldn't get past the first round in two previous Doherty tournaments, won the first two holes of her match with Miss Stewart with a par and a birdie and was never behind. Marlene cut her margin to one hole by dropping a 20-foot putt for a birdie at the 15th but they halved the next three holes.

Mrs. Berger and Miss Dobbin were even at the end of nine but Cookie grabbed the advantage at the 10th when she dropped spectacular, 180-yard wood shot into the cup for a double eagle two.

That shot on the par five hole rattled Miss Dobbin and she three-putted the next green for a bogey six to go two down.

Delany Captures Hunter Mile As Santee Runs 4th

BOSTON, Jan. 28 (AP) — Ron Delany of Villanova streaked to victory in the Hunter Mile in 4:06.3 in the Boston A. A. Games tonight.

A crowd of 13,909 in the Boston Garden saw Delany treat Wes Santee like a high school runner, passing the American hope for the four-minute mile like a jet overtaking a monoplane.

Santee could do no better than fourth in the jockeying battle. Len Truex of the Army was second about five yards back of Delany, while Joe Deady of Washington, a Georgetown post graduate student, finished third.

Southerners Tag Tech's Bulldogs With 72-53 Loss

HATTIESBURG, Miss., Jan. 28 Mississippi Southern took the lead in the first four minutes and rolled to a 72-53 victory over a cold Louisiana Tech team tonight.

Guard Don Eddy put the Southerners ahead to stay at 9-7. They led 33-22 at the half and started the second period by hitting eight of nine attempts from the floor.

The Southerners piled up a 26-point lead at 57-31 midway of the second half and used reserves to finish the game.

Forward Bob Boothe of Mississippi Southern was high point man with 15. Guard Billy Wiggins led Tech with 12 points.

Fairmount Park at Collinsville and Cahokia Downs in East St. Louis, both in Illinois, will have night thoroughbred racing next summer.

Ruston's Cagers Check Simsboro; James Hoops 31

RUSTON, La., Jan. 28 —(Special)—Bobby James fired 31 points through the nets here tonight to lead the Ruston High Bearcats to a 58-41 victory over Simsboro High in a non-conference basketball battle. Bobby Joe Bell led the visitors with 13.

The score at the quarter was knotted at 12-12, but Ruston forged a 31-23 margin at the half, and led 41-33 going into the last period.

Simsboro won the "B" boys' game, 43-27, as J. B. Edmiston and Abb Jones led with 12 points apiece. James Upchurch was high for Ruston with 7.

Dayton Quint Upset By Louisville, 66-64

DAYTON, OHIO, Jan. 28 (AP)—Gerry Moreman's asket with only two seconds left in an extra period gave Louisville a 66-64 victory over Dayton tonight. The defeat knocked the second-ranked Dayton team from the unbeaten after 14 straight wins.

Ogden, Kilbourne Cagers Win Lake Providence Meet

LAKE PROVIDENCE, La., Jan. 28 —(Special)—The Ogden High School boys and the Kilbourne High girls collected championship trophies at the close of the annual Lake Providence High Invitational Basketball Tournament here tonight. The Ogden quint clinched the crown of its division by beating out Holly Ridge in the finals, 57-39; and the Kilbourne girls took their final from Pioneer, 52-34.

Fain led Ogden's final assault with 25 points to back up his 31-point production in leading his mates past Lake Providence, 60-42, in a semi-final earlier in the day. Carroll was high scorer for Holly Ridge with 12, and he had 23 points in the semi-final as Holly Ridge halted Kilbourne, 47-34.

Underwoods 26 points spearheaded the Kilbourne girls' victory in the final, while Gardner led Pioneer with 19. In the girl's semi-finals, Taylor hooped 18 points to lead Kilbournes 49-35 defeat of Epps, and Bain had 20 in Pioneer's 53-36 win over Newellton. Butts was high scorer for Epps with 17, and Higginbotham led Newellton with 12.

Leading scorers for the losers in the boys semi-finals were Earle, Lake Providence, 12; and McDowell, Kilbourne, 18.

Team sportsmanship trophies were presented to both Kilbourne's boys and girls. Individual miniature gold basketballs were awarded members of the titled teams in addition to the team trophies.

Smith Quintet, Transylvania's Girls Cop Wins

STERLINGTON, La., Jan. 28 (Special)—The host A. L. Smith quintet and the girls team from Transylvania won championship at the annual Sterlington Lions Club Junior Basketball Tournament here tonight as the Smith boys beat out Bastrop, 41-30, in the finals after the Transylvania sextet had beaten Smiths girls, 41-37.

Manhart led the Smith boys in the final with 14 points, while Jefferies hooped 12 for Bastrop. Stone's 22 points was high for Transylvania's girls as against 16 for Smith's Hammonds.

In semi-finals earlier in the day, the Smith boys, led by Hendrix's 15 points, beat Linville, 51-39, and Hammonds, with 18, led Smith's girls past Goodwill, 30-24. Haile got 22 points for the Linville boys, and Calvert had 17 for the Goodwill girls.

Transylvania's boys, beating Linville, 48-39, and Goodwill's girls, stopping Linville, 45-44, won the consolation games. High scorers were Boyte, 15, Transylvania; Calvert, 30, Goodwill; Haile, 18, Linville boys; Ford, 27, Linville girls.

Trophies were awarded the three top teams in each division by M. O. Ramsey, prtsident of the Sterlington Lions Club.

All-tournament teams were:

Girls — Holloway and Hammonds, Smith; Crow, Linville; Fortenberry and Johnson, Transylvania; Calvert, Goodwill.

Boys — Sanders, Transylvania; Talley and Hendrix, Smith; Haile, Linville; Jefferies, Bastrip.

JOINS TATUM

CHAPEL HILL, N.C., Jan. 28 (AP)—Pat Preston, former athletic director at Wake Forest, today was named as an assistant football coach at North Carolina. He was the fourth assistant coach named since ex-Maryland Coach Jim Tatum took over as head coach for the Tar Heels early this month.

Ouachita Hosts West Monroe's Cagers Tuesday

The Ouachita Lions and the West Monroe Rebels meet for the second time this season in a triple-A conference double header Tuesday night in the O.P.H.S. gym here.

The Lion quint, with a 2-0 league record, beat the Rebs earlier, 54-46, and stopped Bastrop, 60-50. Ouachita's girls show 6-2 mark and need a win Tuesday to remain in the title race. West Monroe's sextet stopped the Ouachita lasses earlier, 43-34; so did Bastrop in overtime, 39-36.

Ousted Cherberg Declares Cassill Also Should Go

SEATTLE, Jan. 28 (AP) — Fired last night as head football coach at the University of Washington, cowboy Johnny Cherberg said today that the man who wielded the axe—Harvey Cassill—should be fired from the job of athletic director.

"For the good of the university," said the deposed coach, "and for the benefit of my successor and other coaches out there, right-minded citizens should take affirmative action to establish an athletic administration that will operate for the benefit of the students and create a program without any connection with any downtown interests."

Cherberg's troubles began in November when his football players revolted following the last game of the season. They attacked Cherberg's coaching methods and accused him of tyranny. On Dec. 10 the board of regents ordered him rehired for another year but gave Cassill full authority over the athletic department.

Cherberg said lack of cooperation from the university administration, "coupled with interference from outside the university, thoroughly hampered every effort I made to settle the situation.

"I was fired without ever receiving the cooperation the regents directed Cassill to give me when they acted Dec. 10."

Cassill, said H. P. (Dick) Everest, university vice president, "still is accountable to the regents. If they believe he did wrong and feel strongly enough about it they can make a change." He added that Cassill will have to justify his action at the regents' meeting March 3.

Contacted informally, a majority of the seven-member board said they would vote to uphold Cassill as the situation stands today.

Cassill said the hiring of a new coach is "No. 1 on the agenda" but he has talked to no one and made no contacts.

Cherberg said he had no job plans. He is a graduate of the university and has spent most of his life in Seattle. Now 43, he has coached in the Seattle school system and was freshman coach under Howie Odell, succeeding Odell in the top job in 1953.

His 1955 team was Cherberg's best after a dismal record in 1954. His last team has a 5-4-1 record, including upset victories over Minnesota and Southern California and a strong showing against U.C.L.A.

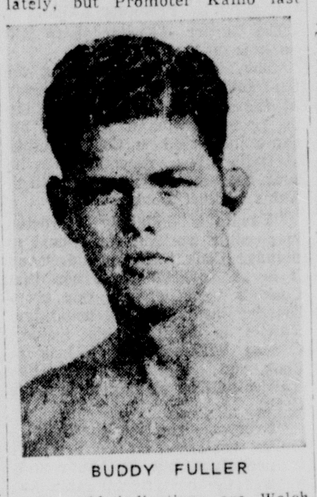

Fills Terrapin Staff

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Jan. 28 (AP)—Maryland's new football coach Tommy Mont, announced today that he had completed his coaching staff with the signing of John Idzik as an assistant.

Welch, Fuller Accept Tag Bout With Mat Villains

Stan Kowalski, the long-haired Pole, and Red Scarr, the hooded mystery man, test their wrestling villainy against the talents of Lester Welch and Buddy Fuller in a tag team main event at Gus Kallio's Arena Tuesday night.

Kowalski and Scarr have been having rough sessions with the Curtis brothers, Jack and George, lately, but Promoter Kallio last night said indications are Welch and Fuller won't be letting up on the pressure.

BUDDY FULLER

"Welch and Fuller have been around. They know the ropes. Kowalski and Scarr may think things are going to be a little easier after their toils against the Curtis boys, but they're more than likely to be surprised." Kallio said.

The relay scramble will be over the usual 90-minute time limit distance, two falls to win.

A pair of one-fall tuneups for the main event scrappers will open the night's program at 8:15 o'clock. Welch, from Pawhuska, Okla., will tangle with either Kowalski, now of Detroit, or Scarr in his introductory match, while Fuller, of Mobile, Ala., will warm up against the foe Welch fails to draw.

Lane Optimistic About Cardinals In '56 Campaign

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 28 —(AP)—General Manager Frank Lane, in a pre-spring training letter to all St. Louis Cardinal players, said tonight "there is no telling how far this club can go in 1956."

Lane's letter extended an invitation to members of the squad to report to spring training at St. Petersburg, Fla., "in proper condition . . . and the proper frame of mind."

The general manager said there is ability on the Red Bird ball club. "Lots of it. If this ability is applied properly by each and every player, there is no telling how far this club can go in 1956."

St. Louis finished seventh last season but Lane said the return of Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell from military service and Willard Schmidt on the mound staff from the start of the season plus added experience to last season's rookies should make a difference.

"Rival club executives have been most flattering," Lane said, "in their attempts to make deals for several of our players."

Lane said he didn't want the players to be "to satisfied" with terms of their '56 contracts and pointed out that he told them "that you would receive more money commensurate with results."

Don Mueller in 1955 and Fred Lindstrom in 1930 hit safely in 24 straight games, a record for a member of the New York Giants.

Tonsina's Strong Race Claims Fair Grounds Feature

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 28 —(AP)—T. A. Grissom's speed-burning filly, Tonsina, jumped into a quick lead and fought off a strong stretch challenge from Dixiana stables Make Ready today to win the $13,700 Pelleteri Handicap at the Fair Grounds.

Tonsina, a four-year-old daughter of Buster, moved to a two-length advantage as the 11-horse field straightened out in the back stretch and went under the wire a length in front of Make Ready. Reverie Knoll farm's Leather Kid took the show spot.

The Grissom filly went to the post a 2-1 favorite with running mate Nonnie Jo and returned $6.40, $4.20 and $3.00. Make Ready, an outsider at 10-1, paid $9.80 and $5.60. Leather Kid, second choice in the wagering, returned $3.20.

Jockey Robert Lee Baird, leading rider at the Fair Grounds meeting, took Tonsina to the front at once and opened up a two length gap over Make Ready. Tonsina still had a two length margin as the field took the final turn and headed into the stretch.

Jockey Eldon Nelson went to the whip on Make Ready and eighth of a mile from home, but Baird urged Tonsina on and held the Dixiana speedster in check.

Tonsina practically eliminated all opposition except Make Ready with a killing pace, touring the quarter mile in 22 and 2-5 seconds, and hitting the half-mile mark in 45 4-5.

Tonsina's time for the six furlongs was 1:11, fastest of the winter meeting.

Leather Kid trailed in third place through most of the early running and managed to hold the show spot with a nose margin over the Rebel stables Super Devil.

The victory was worth $9,875 to Grissom, who operates an automobile agency in Detroit. Grissom's horses have dominated the meeting and his trainer, V. R. (Tennessee) Wright, has a strong lead for saddling honors.

A crowd of 15,122 watched the first big money event of the Fair Grounds season.

In the secondary feature, the $2,500 Mayor's Day Purse, the Sam E. Wilson entry of Lady Swords and Royal Honor finished 1-2. Lady Swords took over the lead through the stretch and had a two-length lead over her stablemates.

Grissom's Reaping Right, unbeaten in four starts at the meeting and the 1-2 favorite, tired after setting the pace and finished fourth, three lengths behind Joe Brown's I Dare, who took the show spot.

The Grissom entry returned $9.40, $8, and $6.

Bastrop Shaded By Natchez Foe In 76-75 Scrap

NATCHEZ, Miss., Jan. 28 (Special)—Cathedral High of Natchez defeated the Bastrop, La., High School Rams, 76 to 75, here tonight in a fight from behind to overcome a 37-35 Bastrop lead at the half. Cooley's field basket in the last 30 seconds won for Cathedral.

Byrne was leading scorer for Cathedral with 35 points., while the Loftin twins, Bob and Bill, led the Rams with 28 and 21 res-

Middlecoff Forges Ahead

BY BOB MYERS

PALM SPRINGS, Calif., Jan. 28 (AP) — Cary Middlecoff moved into a one-stroke lead over Jimmy Demaret today as the pair swept farther out in front at the 54-hole point of the $15,000 Thunderbird Invitational Golf Tournament.

Middlecoff registered his second successive five-under par 66, preceded by a first-round 67, for a score of 199 in three rounds, and dapper Jimmy tagged right behind with rounds of 64-69-67 for 200.

Middlecoff was 14 strokes underpar for the route as he and 41 othe especially invited pofessionals played the par 36-35-71 Thunderbird Country Club under skies that were bright throughout the day.

Nearest to the leaders, who started out the day all even, was Julius Boros, whose 69 left him with six strokes to go to catch Middlecoff in the final 18 holes tomorrow.

Chicago's Bill Ogden had a 71 for 207, Gardner Dickinson Jr., Panama City Beach, Fla., for 208, and last year's winner, Shelley Mayfield, his third straight 71 for 213 and a tie with Max Evans, Utica, Mich., who shot a 69.

Doug Ford, who was third to Middlecoff and Demaret starting out, took a 76 for 211.

Once again Middlecoff, the 1955 Masters champion and winner of the recent Bing Crosby Tournament, cracked his irons in mighty fashion. He said: "I'm playing so well I'm frightened."

Lowest score of the day was a 65 by Ted Kroll, but it left him in the rear at 211 in a tie with Mike Souchak (71), Bob Rosburg (66), Billy Maxwell (69) and Gene Littler (69).

Tommy Bolts 68 gave him 210 Byron Nelson's 75 a 214, Lloyd Mangrum's 72 a 216, and national open champion Jack Fleck's 71 a 220. Tied with Fleck for the highest score were Turnesa, Ellsworth Vines and George Howard.

The leaders:

Cary Middlecoff, Dallas, 67-66-66—199
Jimmy Demaret, Kiamesha Lake, N. Y., 64-69-67—200
Julius Boros, Mid Pines, N.C., 66-70-69—205

Kallio Schedules Cook For Feb. 7 Boxing Card

Boxing comes back to Gus Kallio's Arena on Tuesday night, February 7, with Clarence Cook, Bastrop welterweight, meeting Buster Price, Vicksburg and Dallas, in a six-rounder that shares top billing with a pair of rugged midwestern middleweights, Jessie Turner, St. Louis, and Allen Kester, Kansas City, it was announced last night by Promoter Kallio.

The Turner - Kester scrap will be over a 10-round route.

Cook, who has been going for ten-rounders, is being billed for six at the request of Eddie Yawitz, St. Louis fight manager, who became interested in Cook's ability at Dallas, Tex., recently when he sent his more experienced Virgil Akins against Cook.

"Yawitz is definitely interested in possibly working out a deal to manage Cook," Kallio said. "And it is at Yawitz's suggestion that Cook is being offered this six - rounder instead of the usual ten. Yawitz is bringing his trainer, George Willsman, for a look at Cook, and win or lose it looks like Yawitz will be signing to manage Cook.

"Everyone who saw the fight at Dallas realizes that Cook wasn't trained right, but for two rounds he was the best fighter Akin has fought in some time. This greatly impressed Yawitz, creating his interest in Cook's possibilities."

Kallio said he has also completed matching for two four-rounders on the February 7 card. They'll send Dewayne Garris, Monroe and Farmerville, against "Speedy" Painter, Dallas, Tex., in a battle of middleweights, and Henry Burton, Monroe, against C. C. Carroll, Dallas, in another middle scrap.

Trackmaster 1st In Rich Maturity; Traffic Judge 2nd

ARCADIA, Calif., Jan. 28 —(AP)— In a sensational driving finish, Trackmaster, piloted by Ralph Neves, nipped the favored Traffic Judge to win the $155,960 Santa Anita Maturity today. His time for the mile and a quarter on the slow track was 2:04 4-5.

Trackmaster paid a booming $25 to win, $6.80 to place and $3.70 for the show. Traffic Judge returned $3.10 and $2.40 and Honeys Alibi $3.30.

Bobby Brocato won the $25,000 added co-featured San Marcos Handicap, leading from wire to wire over a heavy mile and a quarter course to beat out Turk's Delight.

Jet Stream got the show. Bobby Brocato paid $4.90, $3 and $2.50; Turk's Delight returned $4.10 and $3.10 and Jet Stream $3.90.

U.S. Hockey Team Advances; Russia Italy Bag Medals

By TED SMITS

CORTINA D'AMPEZZO, Italy, Jan. 28 —(AP)— Russia's zephyr-like speed skaters and hardy women skiers shot the Soviet Union into a commanding lead for unofficial team honors today in the seventh Winter Olympic games. America had nothing to cheer but a second round hockey victory.

Led by Johnny Mayasich of Evelyth, Minn., who scored two goals, the United States ice hockey team registered a comeback 4-0 triumph over Poland and virtually qualified for the championship bracket of the Olympic tournament. The Yanks were upset by Czechoslovakia in their opening match yesterday 4-3.

But when the gold medals were handed out for the three latest championships, including the two-man bobsled event dominated by the reckless Italians, the Red, White and Blue colors were back in line.

Eugenij Grishin, a 24- year - old Russian engraver who goes like the wind on ice, led a 1-2-4 Soviet finish in the 500 meter speed skating sprint with the world record shattering time of 40.2 seconds.

A petite Russian blonde, Ljubovj Kozyreva, won the 10-kilometer cross country ski race for women, covering the six mile, 376-yard course in 38 minutes, 11 seconds as two teammates trailed at second and fourth.

Lamberto Dalla Costa, a lean Italian jet pilot, streaked down Cortina's twisting bobsled run with two more spectacular clockings to win the two-man championship with a total time of 5 minutes, 30.14 seconds for four heats. He was followed by his 140-pound team mate, Eugenio Monti, with 5:31.45.

America's bobsled hope, Waightman (Bud) Washbond of east Hartford, Conn. drove the U. S. No. 1 sled to fifth place.

Bill Carow, a young firefighter from Madison, Wis., made the United States' best showing in the 500 meter race, which covers 546 yards and 2 feet, finishing sixth in 41.8 seconds.

Ken Henry, Chicago, defending champion in the event, came in with a tie for 17th at :42.8. John Werket, Minneapolis, tied for 11th with :42.4 and Don McDermott, Englewood Cliffs, N.J., finished in a tie for 26th with :43.2.

No United States women competed in the cross country ski race. Miss Kozyreva's main competition came from another Russian, Radjja Eroschina, second with 38:16; Sonja Edstrom, Sweden, third at 38:23, and Alevtina Kolchina, Russia, 34:46.

The near sweep of the speed skating and skiing tests boosted Russia's team total to 46 points. Finland and Italy followed with 15 points and then came Germany 10, Austria and Sweden each, and the United States and Switzerland, 6 1-2 each.

There is no official team champion in the Olympics but the traditional scoring system wards ten points for a championship and gives 5-4-3-2-1 for the next five places, in order.

After today's spectacular showing, one Russian official commented smugly:

"We are delighted but we expected it because of the caliber of our athletes."

Herb Schwarz of St. Paul, manager of the American speed skating team, pointed out that Carow, Werket, and Henry broke the Olympic record and added: "That was as much as we could hope to do."

The Russians simply have turned up with their vast recruiting system, better skaters than ours."

"The Russians are knocking our brains out in the Winter Olympics and they'll do it again in the summer games," bitterly commented Werket. The Minneapolis skater criticized the U. S. government for not giving more support to the development of athletics.

Grishin's victory came on mile-high Misurina lake on a glazed track acclaimed the fastest in the world. He was first off the mark in the races against time and he set back and watched the other shoot at his world mark.

Rafael Gratch, another Russian was second in: 40.8 sedonds, which equalled the listed world record held by Yri Sergeyev, also of Russia, who finished fourth in: 41.1. Aly Gjestvang of Norway was third in: 41.0. The Olympic record of: 43.1, set in 1948 by Finn Helgesen of Norway, was beaten by 20 of the competitors.

Mayasich, a former university of Minnesota athlete, was the standout hockey player for the Americans, playing a brilliant all-around game and back-checking powerfully.

He scored the first U. S. goal at 14:41 in the first period, when he grabbed a loose puck from behind his own blue line and skated through the entire Polish squad. The other American goals were made by Eugene Campbell of Minneapolis and Bill Cleary of Cambridge, Mass.

The victory gave the U. S. a score of 1-1 in the round robin with Czechoslovakia and Poland. The Czechs are expected to eliminate the Poles. The top two teams of three groups play in the championship proper.

The Canadian hockey team assured itself a spot in the finals by defeating Italy 3-1 in a brawling affair for its third straight victory. Sweden edged Switzerland 6-5.

Carmelo Costa fought his first 34 professional battles in Brooklyn and Manhattan rings because his manager, Jerry Salica, refuses to travel.

Ouachita Wildlife Leaders Prepare Convention Work

State and local directors of the Louisiana Wildlife Federation met here in executive session this week to formulate last minute plans for the coming state convention of the federation to be held in Baton Rouge February 17-18-19.

A course of action was decided upon as to the election of state officers, and also discussion was given as to the best manner of presenting the resolutions adopted by the Ouachita unit of the federation to secure their being passed upon by the entire state group. It was also decided to urge all the members of the federation in the Monroe area to attend the Baton Rouge meet and give voice to their views.

The directors also proposed that the Ouachita unit would take part, with a number of other civic groups in the parish, in establishing a firearms safety program under which boys and girls under 16 years of age would be instructed in the proper handling of all firearms and the safety measures connected therewith.

Attending this meeting were state directors J. L. Edwards, E. D. Elmore, O. N. McNeil, Jack Rushing and John Snyder; unit directors A. E. Jones, A. D. Williams and J. S. McWilliams. The meeting was conducted by the president and vice-president of the Ouachita club; Ed Crowley and Jake Benton. Minutes were kept by Miss Aline Hall, club secretary.

The longest UCLA run for a touchdown last season was the 59-yard run made by Chuck Holloway in the Washington State game.

Soviets Make Shambles Of Ice Olympics

Kallio Schedules Cook For Feb. 7 Boxing Card

Boxing comes back to Gus Kallio's Arena on Tuesday night, February 7, with Clarence Cook, Bastrop welterweight, meeting Buster Price, Vicksburg and Dallas, in a six-rounder that shares top billing with a pair of rugged midwestern middleweights, Jessie Turner, St. Louis, and Allen Kester, Kansas City, it was announced last night by Promoter Kallio.

The Turner - Kester scrap will be over a 10-round route.

Cook, who has been going for ten-rounders, is being billed for six at the request of Eddie Yawitz, St. Louis fight manager, who became interested in Cook's ability at Dallas, Tex., recently when he sent his more experienced Virgil Akins against Cook.

"Yawitz is definitely interested in possibly working out a deal to manage Cook," Kallio said. "And it is at Yawitz's suggestion that Cook is being offered this six - rounder instead of the usual ten. Yawitz is bringing his trainer, George Willsman, for a look at Cook, and win or lose it looks like Yawitz will be signing to manage Cook.

"Everyone who saw the fight at Dallas realizes that Cook wasn't trained right, but for two rounds he was the best fighter Akin has fought in some time. This greatly impressed Yawitz, creating his interest in Cook's possibilities."

Kallio said he has also completed matching for two four-rounders on the February 7 card. They'll send Dewayne Garris, Monroe and Farmerville, against "Speedy" Painter, Dallas, Tex., in a battle of middleweights, and Henry Burton, Monroe, against C. C. Carroll, Dallas, in another middle scrap.

Trackmaster 1st In Rich Maturity; Traffic Judge 2nd

ARCADIA, Calif., Jan. 28 —(AP)— In a sensational diving finish, Trackmaster, piloted by Ralph Neves, nipped the favored Traffic Judge to win the $155,960 Santa Anita Maturity today. His time for the mile and a quarter on the slow track was 2:04 4-5.

Trackmaster paid a booming $25 to win, $6.80 to place and $3.70 for the show. Traffic Judge returned $3.10 and $2.40 and Honeys Alibi $3.30.

Bobby Brocato won the $25,000 added co-featured San Marcos Handicap, leading from wire to wire over a heavy mile and a quarter course to beat out Turk's Delight.

Jet Stream got the show. Bobby Brocato paid $4.90; $3 and $2.50; Turk's Delight returned $4.10 and $3.10 and Jet Stream $3.90.

U.S. Hockey Team Advances; Russia Italy Bag Medals

By TED SMITS

CORTINA D'AMPEZZO, Italy, Jan. 28 —(AP)— Russia's zephyr-like speed skaters and hardy women skiers shot the Soviet Union into a commanding lead for unofficial team honors today in the seventh Winter Olympic games. America had nothing to cheer but a second round hockey victory.

Led by Johnny Mayasich of Evelyth, Minn., who scored two goals, the United States ice hockey team registered a comeback 4-0 triumph over Poland and virtually qualified for the championship bracket of the Olympic tournament. The Yanks were upset by Czechoslovakia in their opening match yesterday 4-3.

But when the gold medals were handed out for the three latest championships, including the two-man bobsled event dominated by the reckless Italians, the Red, White and Blue colors were back in line.

Eugenij Grishin, a 24- year - old Russian engraver who goes like the wind on ice, led a 1-2-4 Soviet finish in the 500 meter speed skating sprint with the world record shattering time of 40.2 seconds.

A petite Russian blonde, Ljubovj Kozyreva, won the 10-kilometer cross country ski race for women, covering the six mile, 376-yard course in 38 minutes, 11 seconds as two teammates trailed at second and fourth.

Lamberto Dalla Costa, a lean Italian jet pilot, streaked down Cortina's twisting bobsled run with two more spectacular clockings to win the two-man championship with a total time of 5 minutes, 30.14 seconds for four heats. He was followed by his 140-pound team mate, Eugenio Monti, with 5:31.45.

America's bobsled hope, Waightman (Bud) Washbond of east Hartford, Conn. drove the U. S. No. 1 sled to fifth place.

Bill Carow, a young firefighter from Madison, Wis., made the United States' best showing in the 500 meter race, which covers 546 yards and 2 feet, finishing sixth in 41.8 seconds.

Ken Henry, Chicago, defending champion in the event, came in with a tie for 17th at :42.8. John Werket, Minneapolis, tied for 11th with :42.4 and Don McDermott, Englewood Cliffs, N.J., finished in a tie for 26th with :43.2.

No United States women competed in the cross country ski race. Miss Kozyreva's main competition came from another Russian, Radjia Eroschina, second with 38:-16; Sonja Edstrom, Sweden, third at 38:23, and Alevtina Kolchina, Russia, 34:46.

The near sweep of the speed skating and skiing tests boosted Russia's team total to 46 points. Finland and Italy followed with 15 points and then came Germany 10, Austria and Sweden each, and the United States and Switzerland, 6 1-2 each.

There is no official team champion in the Olympics but the traditional scoring system wards ten points for a championship and gives 5-4-3-2-1 for the next five places, in order.

After today's spectacular showing, one Russian official commented smugly:

"We are delighted but we expected it because of the caliber of our athletes."

Herb Schwarz of St. Paul, manager of the American speed skating team, pointed out that Carow, Werket, and Henry broke the Olympic record and added: "That was as much as we could hope to do."

The Russians simply have turned up with their vast recruiting system, better skaters than ours."

"The Russians are knocking our brains out in the Winter Olympics and they'll do it again in the summer games," bitterly commented Werket. The Minneapolis skater criticized the U. S. government for not giving more support to the development of athletics.

Grishin's victory came on mile-high Misurina lake on a glazed track acclaimed the fastest in the world. He was first off the mark in the races against time and he set back and watched the other shoot at his world mark.

Rafael Gratch, another Russian was second in: 40.8 sedonds, which equalled the listed world record held by Yri Sergeyev, also of Russia, who finished fourth in: 41.1. Alv Gjestvang of Norway was third in: 41.0. The Olympic record of: 43.1, set in 1948 by Finn Helgesen of Norway, was beaten by 20 of the competitors.

Mayasich, a former university of Minnesota athlete, was the standout hockey player for the Americans, playing a brilliant all-around game and back-checking powerfully.

He scored the first U. S. goal at 14:41 in the first period, when he grabbed a loose puck from behind his own blue line and skated through the entire Polish squad. The other American goals were made by Eugene Campbell of Minneapolis and Bill Cleary of Cambridge, Mass.

The victory gave the U. S. a score of 1-1 in the round robin with Czechoslovakia and Poland. The Czechs are expected to eliminate the Poles. The top two teams of three groups play in the championship proper.

The Canadian hockey team assured itself a spot in the finals by defeating Italy 3-1 in a brawling affair for its third straight victory. Sweden edged Switzerland 6-5.

Carmelo Costa fought his first 34 professional battles in Brooklyn and Manhattan rings because his manager, Jerry Salica, refuses to travel.

Ouachita Wildlife Leaders Prepare Convention Work

State and local directors of the Louisiana Wildlife Federation met here in executive session this week to formulate last minute plans for the coming state convention of the federation to be held in Baton Rouge February 17-18-19.

A course of action was decided upon as to the election of state officers, and also discussion was given as to the best manner of presenting the resolutions adopted by the Ouachita unit of the federation to secure their being passed upon by the entire state group. It was also decided to urge all the members of the federation in the Monroe area to attend the Baton Rouge meet and give voice to their views.

The directors also proposed that the Ouachita unit would take part, with a number of other civic groups in the parish, in establishing a firearms safety program under which boys and girls under 16 years of age would be instructed in the proper handling of all firearms and the safety measures connected therewith.

Attending this meeting were state directors J. L. Edwards, E. D. Elmore, O. N. McNeil, Jack Rushing and John Snyder; unit directors A. E. Jones, A. D. Williams and J. S. McWilliams. The meeting was conducted by the president and vice-president of the Ouachita club; Ed Crowley and Jake Benton. Minutes were kept by Miss Aline Hall, club secretary.

The longest UCLA run for a touchdown last season was the 59-yard run made by Chuck Holloway in the Washington State game.

Landy Again Shatters Four-Minute Mile

Timed At 3:58.6 In His Comeback Australian Race

MELBOURNE, Australia, Jan. 28 —(AP)—Long striding John Landy, the world's fastest miler, cracked the four-minute mark again today with a sensational 3:58.6 clocking—second fastest mile ever run

In running the first sub-four-minute mile ever recorded in Australia, the lanky schoolteacher may have convinced himself that he should definitely give up retirement and stick around for the 1956 Olympic games starting here Nov. 22.

Landy today was only six-tenths of a second off his world record of 3:58 flat as he whirled around the Olympic Park track to defeat Merv Lincoln and Ron Clarke.

But, he didn't think his time would be good enough to win the 1,500-meter race in the next Olympic games, although he said he was "reasonably satisfied."

"It was a good run, but not what I wanted to do," said Landy, in his third race after a year of retirement.

"To win the Olympics I must be able to run a mile in 3:55 or 3:56. I was trying to anticipate today what will be needed then. I have gone so far now I must keep on but this time today can easily be duplicated overseas.

"My time today can easily be equalled by European runners in their good conditions. But for the games, they will have to run here, too. Anyway, I am certain I can do better."

Lincoln finished second to Landy, and the crowd went wild as he gave the champion a battle all the way until the final yards. Lincoln was hot on Landy's heels until near the finish when Landy pulled away. As it was, Lincoln was timed in 4:00.6, good enough to get his name among the world's top 10 milers.

Landy amazed the sports world June 21, 1954, at Turku, Finland, with his 3:58 record, which clipped 1.4 seconds off the mark of England's Roger Bannister. Only a few weeks before, Bannister had become the first to break the four-minute barrier with 3:59.4.

Landy's time today was the equivalent of 1,500 meters in about 3:41 or 3:42, or about the same as his world record of 3:41.8 for the distance. He set that mark incidentally, on June 21, 1954, enroute to his mile record.

Today's effort was the third time Landy has broken four minutes. He did 3:56.7 at Vancouver, B.C., in the British Empire Games Aug. 7, 1954, but was defeated by Bannister, who won in 3:58.8.

After that famous "Mile of the Century," Landy retired and became a professor of agriculture. But the running bug hit him again with the approach of the 1956 Olympic games, and just two weeks ago he said:

"My first real race over the distance (mile) will be in the Australian championships in March. I plan to run inside four minutes then—by that, I mean well inside four minutes."

This made today's effort all the more startling, for it proved that Landy is back in his great form after months away from competition.

Five men now have broken the four-minute mile. In addition to Landy and Bannister, they are Laszlo Tabori of Hungary, and England's Chris Chataway and Brian Hewson. The latter three did it in one race at London's White City Stadium May 28, 1955, Tabori winning in 3:59. Chataway and Hewson both were timed in 3:59.8.

Golf Association Alters Rules To Curb Gambling

BY WILL GRIMSLEY

NEW YORK, Jan. 28 (AP) —The United States Golf Association took a swing at Calcutta pools and other forms of gambling today by rewriting the rule on amateur status.

In effect, the golf father changed the book to make it possible to rule out of U.S.G.A.-sponsored amateur tournaments any player guilty of participating in the popular country club pools.

Rule 13, which defines an amateur as one who plays the game solely for fun, was given an amendment which made a violation of the code:

"Any conduct, including activities in connection with golf gambling which is considered detrimental to the best interests of the game."

In other action, the U.S.G.A.:

1. Named a seven - member Curtis Cup team to play the British at Sandwich, England, June 8-9. The team is headed by the national women's amateur champion Patricia Lesser of Seattle, Wash.

2. Awarded William J. Campbell, captain of the successful U. S. Walker Cup team last year, the Bobby Jones award "for distinguished sportsmanship in golf. The first award last year went to Francis Ouimet of Boston. Campbell, from Huntington, Va., benched himself and led the American Walker Cuppers to a 10-2 triumph over the British.

3. Named Richard Tufts of Pinehurst, N.C., the new president, to succeed Isaac B. Grainger of Montclair, N.J.

Grainger, outgoing president of the organization, told the annual meeting that there was little the association could do to control gambling at member clubs.

"We have no jurisdiction over what the individual clubs do," he said, "but we can do all in our power to discourage Calcutta pools and other types of gambling. This we intend to do."

The gambling rule action was provoked by a scandal at the swank Deepdale Club in Lake Success, N. Y. last summer. Two new England golfers were entered in the tournament with false handicaps and one of them under an assumed name.

When their team won the top prize in the rich Calcutta pool, an investigation was made by the club to see who was responsible for inviting them to the tournament. Although both players were three handicap golfers, they played under 17 and 18 handicaps.

In Calcutta pools, which have been held in connection with some of the most important tournaments without the sanction of the U.S.G.A., players are auctioned like horses and the final purse is cut up among purchasers of winning players or teams.

The golf association announced too, that its teams for international matches would be selected from among players considered by the association to have conformed generally with the stricter amateur code.

The seven Curtis Cup members, who will play a British team June 8-9, were Miss Lesser; Jane Nelson, Indianapolis, runnerup in the national women's amateur; Mary Ann Downey, Baltimore; Mrs. Scott Probasco, Jr., Chattanooga, Tenn.; Polly Riley, Fort Worth, Tex.; Barbara Romak, Sacramento, Calif.; and Margaret (Wiffy) Smith, St. Clair, Mich.

Forty basketball teams are enrolled in the University of North Dakota intramural sports program directed by Harold (Pinky) Kraft.

Sea O'Erin Cops Rich Royal Palm Race At Hialeah

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 28 (AP)—Hasty House farm's Sea O Erin, under top weight of 122 pounds, won the $33,750 Royal Palm Handicap at Hialeah Park today, repeating his triumph of a year ago in the mile and an eighth feature.

Sea O Erin, with Willie Hartack up, took the lead at the start and was never headed. He ran the distance in 1:50 2-5 and whipped 13 other handicap horses to pay $9.40, $4.20 and $3.10.

Greentree stable's Illusionist closed fast to take second money, half a length behind the winner. Leon Santore's Helfast was third, three fourths of a length behind Illusionist and the same margin in front of Calumet farm's Fleet Bird. Illusionist paid $4.30 and $3.30 while Helfast returned $4.40 to show.

Sea O Erin earned $24,450 in his second start of the year. He ran as an entry with Mister Black, who trailed all the way.

The feature was run as the eighth race to meet radio and television commitments.

Mitchell, Strickland Accept Tribe's Terms

CLEVELAND, Jan. 28 (AP)—Veteran outfielder Dale Mitchell and shortstop George Strickland today signed for 1956 with the Cleveland Indians, making 19 under contract.

Mitchell, used mostly as a pinch hitter for two seasons, batted .259 last year. Strickland batted only .209 last season, but had a .976 fielding average. He will be battling for the shortstop position with Chico Carrasquel, recently acquired from the Chicago White Sox.

Landy Again Shatters Four-Minute Mile

Timed At 3:58.6 In His Comeback Australian Race

MELBOURNE, Australia, Jan. 28 —(AP)—Long striding John Landy, the world's fastest miler, cracked the four-minute mark again today with a sensational 3:58.6 clocking—second fastest mile ever run

In running the first sub-four-minute mile ever recorded in Australia, the lanky schoolteacher may have convinced himself that he should definitely give up retirement and stick around for the 1956 Olympic games starting here Nov. 22.

Landy today was only six-tenths of a second off his world record of 3:58 flat as he whirled around the Olympic Park track to defeat Merv Lincoln and Ron Clarke.

But, he didn't think his time would be good enough to win the 1,500-meter race in the next Olympic games, although he said he was "reasonably satisfied."

"It was a good run, but not what I wanted to do," said Landy, in his third race after a year of retirement.

"To win the Olympics I must be able to run a mile in 3:55 or 3:56. I was trying to anticipate today what will be needed then. I have gone so far now I must keep on but this time today can easily be duplicated overseas.

"My time today can easily be equalled by European runners in their good conditions. But for the games, they will have to run here, too. Anyway, I am certain I can do better."

Lincoln finished second to Landy, and the crowd went wild as he gave the champion a battle all the way until the final yards. Lincoln was hot on Landy's heels until near the finish when Landy pulled away. As it was, Lincoln was timed in 4:00.6, good enough to get his name among the world's top 10 milers.

Landy amazed the sports world June 21, 1954, at Turku, Finland, with his 3:58 record, which clipped 1.4 seconds off the mark of England's Roger Bannister. Only a few weeks before, Bannister had become the first to break the four-minute barrier with 3:59.4.

Landy's time today was the equivalent of 1,500 meters in about 3:41 or 3:42, or about the same as his world record of 3:41.8 for the distance. He set that mark incidentally, on June 21, 1954, enroute to his mile record.

Today's effort was the third time Landy has broken four minutes. He did 3:56.7 at Vancouver, B.C., in the British Empire Games Aug. 7, 1954, but was defeated by Bannister, who won in 3:58.8.

After that famous "Mile of the Century," Landy retired and became a professor of agriculture. But the running bug hit him again with the approach of the 1956 Olympic games, and just two weeks ago he said:

"My first real race over the distance (mile) will be in the Australian championships in March. I plan to run inside four minutes then—by that, I mean well inside four minutes."

This made today's effort all the more startling, for it proved that Landy is back in his great form after months away from competition.

Five men now have broken the four-minute mile. In addition to Landy and Bannister, they are Laszlo Tabori of Hungary, and England's Chris Chataway and Brian Hewson. The latter three did it in one race at London's White City Stadium May 28, 1955, Tabori winning in 3:59, Chataway and Hewson both were timed in 3:59.8.

Golf Association Alters Rules To Curb Gambling

BY WILL GRIMSLEY

NEW YORK, Jan. 28 (AP) —The United States Golf Association took a swing at Calcutta pools and other forms of gambling today by rewriting the rule on amateur status.

In effect, the golf father changed the book to make it possible to rule out of U.S.G.A.-sponsored amateur tournaments any player guilty of participating in the popular country club pools.

Rule 13, which defines an amateur as one who plays the game solely for fun, was given an amendment which made a violation of the code:

"Any conduct, including activities in connection with golf gambling which is considered detrimental to the best interests of the game."

In other action, the U.S.G.A.:

1. Named a seven - member Curtis Cup team to play the British at Sandwich, England, June 8-9. The team is headed by the national women's amateur champion Patricia Lesser of Seattle, Wash.

2. Awarded William J. Campbell, captain of the successful U. S. Walker Cup team last year, the Bobby Jones award "for distinguished sportsmanship in golf. The first award last year went to Francis Ouimet of Boston. Campbell, from Huntington, Va., benched himself and led the American Walker Cuppers to a 10-2 triumph over the British.

3. Named Richard Tufts of Pinehurst, N.C., the new president, to succeed Isaac B. Grainger of Montclair, N.J.

Grainger, outgoing president of the organization, told the annual meeting that there was little the association could do to control gambling at member clubs.

"We have no jurisdiction over what the individual clubs do," he said, "but we can do all in our power to discourage Calcutta pools and other types of gambling. This we intend to do."

The gambling rule action was provoked by a scandal at the swank Deepdale Club in Lake Success, N. Y. last summer. Two new England golfers were entered in the tournament with false handicaps and one of them under an assumed name.

When their team won the top prize in the rich Calcutta pool, an investigation was made by the club to see who was responsible for inviting them to the tournament. Although both players were three handicap golfers, they played under 17 and 18 handicaps.

In Calcutta pools, which have been held in connection with some of the most important tournaments without the sanction of the U.S.G.A., players are auctioned like horses and the final purse is cut up among purchasers of winning players or teams.

The golf association announced too, that its teams for international matches would be selected from among players considered by the association to have conformed generally with the stricter amateur code.

The seven Curtis Cup members, who will play a British team June 8-9, were Miss Lesser; Jane Nelson, Indianapolis, runnerup in the national women's amateur; Mary Ann Downey, Baltimore; Mrs. Scott Probasco, Jr., Chattanooga, Tenn.; Polly Riley, Fort Worth, Tex.; Barbara Romak, Sacramento, Calif.; and Margaret (Wiffy) Smith, St. Clair, Mich.

Forty basketball teams are enrolled in the University of North Dakota intramural sports program directed by Harold (Pinky) Kraft.

Sea O'Erin Cops Rich Royal Palm Race At Hialeah

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 28 (AP)—Hasty House farm's Sea O Erin, under top weight of 122 pounds, won the $33,750 Royal Palm Handicap at Hialeah Park today, repeating his triumph of a year ago in the mile and an eighth feature.

Sea O Erin, with Willie Hartack up, took the lead at the start and was never headed. He ran the distance in 1:50 2-5 and whipped 13 other handicap horses to pay $9.40, $4.20 and $3.10.

Greentree stable's Illusionist closed fast to take second money, half a length behind the winner. Leon Santore's Helfast was third, three fourths of a length behind Illusionist and the same margin in front of Calumet farm's Fleet Bird. Illusionist paid $4.30 and $3.30 while Helfast returned $4.40 to show.

Sea O Erin earned $24,450 in his second start of the year. He ran as an entry with Mister Black, who trailed all the way.

The feature was run as the eighth race to meet radio and television commitments.

3rd Round Polio Injections Start On February 6th

The third round of polio injections will begin in Ouachita parish schools on February 6, according to Dr. Carroll Summer, parish health director.

Dr. Summer said the shots will be given only to first and second grade students who have taken both the first and second injections of Salk vaccine. Those students who have taken only one of the shots will not be eligible for his third one, he explained, and it will be necessary for them to contact the health unit office for the second phase.

No students will be transported from one school to another this year as was done during the previous shots, Dr. Summer said.

Six nurses will be making the rounds, covering all elementary schools in the parish.

Dr. Summer pointed out that he has been assured there will be an ample supply of vaccine. Physicians in private practice, too, can get all they need, he added.

The health director said many calls had come to his office concerning the third round of Salk vaccine shots. He listed the following as a schedule set up for the various schools in the parish:

Monday, Feb. 6—Morning: Log town, Union Baptist, Highland, Watson and Cypress; afternoon, Okaloosa, Selmon and Terzia.

Tuesday, Feb. 7—Morning: A. L. Smith, Myles, Fairbanks, Mt. Nebo, Swartz white, Swartz Colored, and Shady Grove; afternoon: Lexington, Plum Street, Booker T. Washington and Central High.

Wednesday, Feb. 8—Morning: Carver, Georgia Tucker, Lady of Fatima, Claiborne, and Ransom; afternoon: Barkdull Faulk, St. Paschals, Woodlawn and Central Grammar.

Thursday, Feb. 9 —Morning: Drew, J. S. Clark, Sherrouse and Lenville; afternoon: St. Charles, J. S. Clark and Mitchell.

Friday, Feb. 10 Morning: St Matthew's Lela Benton and Boley; afternoon: Ouachita Grammar, Swayze and Tim Tippett.

Monday, Feb. 13 -Morning: Little Flower.

Tuesday, Feb. 14 - Afternoon: Calhoun.

Wednesday, Feb. 15 — Morning: Crosley.

Thursday, Feb. 16 — Morning: Millsaps.

with empty cartridges from Bauer's single-barrel pump action shotgun. He said the gun carries eight shells in one chamber. The weapon was found under Bauer's body in the living room.

The body of Bauer's wife was found in a hallway between a bedroom and bathroom. The children's bodies were sprawled in the dinette. Mr. and Mrs. Neuber's bodies were sitting upright in the living room. Their bodies were riddled with shotgun pellets.

Bauer's mother, who had been bed-ridden for four years, was shot in the chest as she lay in bed. She was to have been taken to a nursing home while the family was away on a two-week vacation.

After Bauer stalked through his home, shooting one member of his family after another, he fired a shotgun blast into his head.

Police said Bauer, an inspector of road materials for the state of New York, had been a stalwart member of the Methodist congregation.

Neighbors said the Bauers were one of the "nicest" families on the street in the new Soldefield section of town occupied by middle class families. The Bauers' corner home was valued at $18,000 to $20,000.

las estimated that consumers will be saddled with an additional burden totalling $800 million.

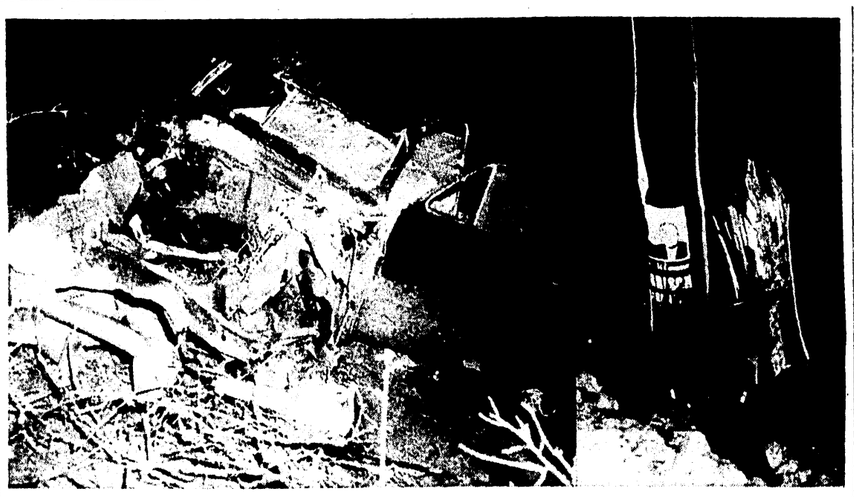

But Ellender said removal of federal regulation would have "no appreciable impact" on consumer prices. To argue otherwise, he said is to contend that ice prices can be regulated "by fixing the price of water."

Earlier, Sen. Price Daniel (D-Tex.) said he understands supporters of the bill have no more prepared speeches and will confine themselves in future debate to rebutting points raised by opponents. Daniel repeated the claim of supporters of the bill that they have the votes to win Senate approval.

ONE INJURED AS AUTO SEVERS POWER POLE — Seriously injured as his car severed a power pole and plunged 100 feet from the Bastrop-Monroe highway early Saturday morning was A. J. Jones, 26, of Sterlington. When the vehicle struck the pole it careened from the pole and came to rest with the motor lying 50 feet from the smashed auto. Jones was in critical condition late yesterday. (World photo by John Earl Taylor)

26-Year-Old Man Critically Injured In Auto Accident

with 3 col art - "One injured." at

A 26-year-old Sterlington man was critically injured early Saturday morning when his vehicle left the Bastrop-Monroe road 11 miles out of Monroe, severed a power pole, and careened into a deep ravine completely demolishing the auto.

The man identified by State Police as A. J. Jones, employee of Twin City Gravel Co., was hospitalized at the St. Francis Hospital yesterday with a broken hip and pelvis bone, abrasions and multiple bruises.

A Louisiana Power and Light electric line fell across the road after the pole was severed and held up motorists for over an hour.

Jones, according to his wife didn't regain consciousness until 9 a.m. Saturday morning.

"I must have gone to sleep at the wheel," he was quoted as telling his wife during a period of brief awakeness.

Hospital authorities told Mrs. Jones that it would possibly be five days or more before the exact extent on his condition could be determined.

State police stated Jones, who was traveling south from Bastrop, left the road, sliding in the soft muddy shoulders for about 150 feet before striking the power pole.

The hood of the 1949 Ford was ripped from the vehicle as it severed the pole. As the car plunged into the ravine it overturned and came to rest 100 feet from the edge of the road with motor lying approximately 50 feet from the smashed auto.

Jones, thrown clear of the wreckage, was taken from the deep gully to the highway by Jamie A. Moore, resident on the Bastrop Highway directly in front of the accident scene.

Moore stated he heard the crash which was followed by an abrupt darkness descending on his home.

Electricity was out at a number of residences along the highway, according to officials.

Clogging the area around the crash site for about 600 yards, both north and south, were many truck transports, cars, and excited onlookers.

New Orleans Has Record Employment

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 28—UP—The highest overall employment level ever reached in New Orleans, 306,600 workers, was experienced at the end of 1955 after a sharp December rise in employment.

The local office of the Louisiana Division of Employment Security said employment was expected to drop off somewhat during the early part of 1956 due to seasonal declines and the end of the Christmas and New Year retail trade rush.

In the field of labor supply, civil and chemical engineers continued to be in demand in the New Orleans area over the supply available. Other shortages in the labor supply were noted in the fields for experienced stenographers, auto mechanics and textile weavers.

Gleason Raps Network Bosses For Rumors Of Shuffle In TV Programs

NEW YORK, Jan. 28 (AP)—Jackie Gleason today let fly at his television network bosses, saying they apparently were using "manufactured irritation" to try to force a shuffle in programs.

"It's not going to work," he said. "I don't think a network should push around its performers or sponsors."

There have been reports that CBS plans to take the Gleason-produced "Stage Show," now appearing at 8 p.m. EST Saturday, off the air, and move Gleason's "Honeymooners" back from 8:30 to 8, with "Two for the Money" following "The Honeymooners" as it does now.

The reason for the proposed changes, according to the reports, is that CBS wants to make an all-out effort to compete with the growing popularity of NBC's hour-long Perry Como Show at 8 p.m.

There also are reports that Gleason is demanding a million and a half dollars to agree to this change.

Gleason said at a news conference today that the million and a half figure was "ridiculous" but he would demand $400,000 for the proposed shift.

He said CBS itself seemed to be behind the "many inaccurate statements" being circulated about the situation.

The rotund comedian told a news conference that the Columbia Broadcasting System seemed to be behind "many inaccurate statements" circulated about intended changes in shows he produces.

"I think it's underhanded," he said.

He said derogatory—and erroneous—reports had been put out that the sponsor of "Stage Show," a "Saturday show he produces, was dissatisfied, and that plans for replacement or schedule switches were pending.

"It's apparently a subtle scheme of irritation probably aimed at trying to discourage me from keeping 'Stage Show' on the air," he said. "If it's originating at CBS, they're making a sad mistake."

CBS had no immediate comment on the hassle.

"Stage Show," featuring the Dorsey brothers and produced by Jackie Gleason Enterprises, comes on at 8 p.m. EST Saturday, just ahead of Gleason's own starring show, "The Honeymooners," from 8:30 to 9 p.m.

The false reports, Gleason said, are that there are plans to shift the "Honeymooners" to the 8 p.m. spot, and either eliminate "Stage Show," or change it to a time not adjoining "The Honeymooners."

He said he has asked CBS officials to refute the reports, but they haven't done so, and that from "all indications," CBS has originated the statements.

He said that unless CBS came forward with proposals for keeping the two shows adjoining, or compensating the "Stage Show" cast for the whole season, there'd be no changes.

Program To Spotlight Fight Against Polio

Panelists on the Jaycee roundtable Sunday will be Dr. Carroll Summer, Ouachita parish health officer; Ed Foreman, state representative for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis; John Luffey, local 1956 Campaign director of the March of Dimes; and Mrs. Marion Kirk Fisher, chairman of the 1956 parish mothers on polio.

Jaycee Fred Landry will be the moderator of the program, which is to be locally televised.

The program will emphasized the fact that polio is not licked yet.

Nation's Builders See Production Continuing High

CHICAGO, Jan. 28 (AP)—The nation's builders look to a continued high production of new homes in 1956, but a lessening in the "extraordinary" rate maintained in 1955.

This was the consensus at the 12th annual convention of the national Ass. of Home Builders in Chicago this week.

Nathaniel Rogg of Washington, D. C., NAHB economist, said the downturn from what he termed the "extraordinary" production of 1955 started in the last quarter of last year. He said it was expected to continue through the first half of 1956.

Rogg said he believed this estimate will hold despite an easing of Federal Housing Administration and Veterans Administration mortgage requirements and a general easing of the home finance situation.

"It takes a builder some six to nine months to retool and get rolling again after a slack period in his rate of contruction," Rogg explained.

Costs and financing take the front rank in the association's policy statement issued after the convention. The builders said:

"Increasingly burdensome local zoning, building and subdivision regulations, the exhorbitant cost of financing (in many areas); high land costs; and, in particular, the costly and unnecessary constant increases in VA and FHA requirements are combining to add unnecessarily to cost.

"Unless this dangerous trend is checked, the industry will soon find it diffucult to serve the mass market and thereby be forced drastically to curtail production and consquently endanger the national economic health."

FCC Gets Court Backing On Media Separation Policy

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28 (AP) —The Federal Communications Commission has won court backing for its policy of weighing newspaper and radio properties heavily, and sometimes decisively, against some applicants for television stations.

In an unanimous decision yesterday, the U.S. Court of Appeals said the commission "is free to let diversification of control of communications facilities turn the balance, if it reasonably concludes it is proper to do so."

The court took this stand in upholding an FCC ruling against the McClatchy Broadcasting Co. which had sought permission to build a TV station in Sacramento, Calif. The commission approved the application of Sacramento Telecasters Inc. for the same channel.

McClatchy runs several radio stations in California's Central Valley and is a wholly owned subsidiary of McClatchy newspapers, owner of the Sacramento Bee, the Fresno Bee and the Modesto Bee. Sacramento Telecasters has no such connections.

selected on the basis that they were known to be politically opposed on a partisan basis to the executive department and put on the same plane as members of the President's Cabinet."

They said this "is almost certain to throw the considerations of the committee into the realm of narrow partisan politics as well as to subvert the very purposes of the Full Employment Act, which were to study objectively economic trends and to study objectively the executive report on the economic condition of the nation."

The Republicans issuing the statement were Sens. Flanders (Vt), Goldwater (Ariz) and Watkins (Utah) and Representatives Curtis (Mo.), Talle (Iowa) and Wolcott (Mich.).

Douglas could not be reached for comment, but an aide said he felt that by having people of varying views testify at the same time, it would help to make a more balanced presentation and sharpen "the economic issues."

President Eisenhower, in his economic report to Congress, predicted continued growth in the nation's economy in the year ahead but at a slower pace than in the past year.

Douglas said on a radio broadcast last night the prospects are that this year's economic level "is going to be very much lower" than in 1955. He said "our Republican friends stimulated the boom unduly" last year.

Bulganin Offers

tension existing in the world today but said the means of improvement he had suggested are results to which the United States is "dedicated and toward which we are prepared at any moment to move in a spirit of conciliation." He invited Bulganin to write him again stating his reactions.

The White House made public today the President's letter of about 1,500 words along with a 2,000-word letter which Bulganin had sent to the President last Wednesday amid great fanfare. United States officials said they were convinced that Soviet "peace propaganda" was one of the motives in sending the Bulganin letter.

Also made public was the text of the 20-year treaty of "friendship and cooperation" which Bulganin proposed.

"I am genuinely convinced that an improvement in Soviet-American relations is urgently needed," Bulganin said.

"In my opinion this purpose could be served by the conclusion of a treaty of friendship and cooperation between our countries."

Otherwise Bulganin reviewed familiar Soviet arguments about Russia's desire for peace and friendship with many countries and said that he thought the President woud agree "that under existing conditions international tension is fraught with the possibility of breaking the peace, with nations reaping all the dangerous consequences thereof."

"Moreover," he said, "It is well known to everyone that the newest implements of war, such as atomic and hydrogen weapons, various instruments of present-day jet and rocket techniques, as well as other kinds of weapons of mass destruction, place the peoples of all countries in an equally dangerous situation. . . ."

Bulganin said he thought his bid for a pact would be "favorably received by you and will evoke a positive response from the Soviet and American peoples, as well as from those of other countries."

That line was regarded by American officials as an outright bid by Bulganin for popular acceptance of the idea, in effect an admission that he was making a propaganda move.

The President's letter was drafted last night in a conference with Secretary of State Dulles at the White House. It was immediately cabled to Ambassador Charles Bohlen in Moscow. Bohlen delivered it to the acting foreign minister Andrei Gromyko, today. The method of delivery contrasted with that chosen by Bulganin for his letter. The Bulganin letter was delivered personally to Eisenhower by Soviet Ambassador Georgi N. Zarubin.

Officials here said that the Bulganin letter was undoubtedly timed to try to make trouble between the United States and Britain immediately before the meeting here Monday of Eisenhower and Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden. It was also designed, they said, to raise the spectre of direct agreements between Russia and the United States and thereby throw fear into many Allied nations about United States firmness in holding to the alliances.

To deal with this problem and at the same time to counter the propaganda aspects of the Bulganin letter, Eisenhower's reply developed both negative and positive statements of United States policy.

On the negative side, the President declared that the United States and Russia are "already bound to each other by a solemn treaty—the Charter of the United Nations" — to do all the things which the friendship treaty would pledge them to do.

He cited chapter and verse of the UN Charter to support his statement. The American people he said, "sincerely desire to help make reality of these Charter goals."

But he told Bulganin that the Charter had failed to prevent the "present state of international tension."

"How can we hope," he went on, "that the present situation would be cured merely by repeating those words in a bilateral form?"

The President then turned to the positive side of his argument.

He said he had gone to the summit conference at Geneva last July earnestly hoping for "a bettering of international relations."

"Unhappily," he declared, "the American people have had to sadly conclude that the events following our meeting have not given substance to their hope."

Eisenhower told Bulganin that at the foreign ministers meeting in October-November, following up the summit session, the Soviets had blocked agreement on German unification through free elections, had rejected his "open skies" proposal for mutual aerial reconnaissance, and refused to accept concrete measures for tightening relations between Russia and the Western Powers.

Furthermore the President said conditions have gotten worse because the Soviet government has embarked upon a course in various parts of the world "which increases tensions by intensifying hatreds and animosities implicit in historic international disputes." This was a clear reference to Soviet operations in South Asia and the Middle East in recent months and particularly to the sale of Communist arms to Egypt.

The President then challenged Bulganin in these sentences:

"Consider, Mr. Chairman, what a vast change would be effected not only in our relations but throughout the entire world if there were prompt measures to re-unify Germany in freedom within the framework of security; if there were carried out our wartime pledge to respect the right of peoples to choose the form of government under which they will live; if there were arranged such mutual opening of our countries to inspection that the possibilities of surprise attack would vanish and if reductions of armament were made practical, with the release of productive power for the betterment of mankind.

"Consider, also, the mountain of distrust and misunderstanding that would disappear if our peoples freely exchanged news, information, visits and ideas."

Bulganin had written Eisenhower that relations between Russia and America have "special significance," for any further lessening of international tension."

He recalled that "with the exception of the period of foreign intervention against the young Soviet Republic," the people of the United States and Russia have never fought each other.

Mollet Completes List For Cabinet

By CARL HARTMAN

PARIS, Jan. 28 (AP) — Premier-designate Guy Mollet wants ex-Premier Pierre Mendes-France, his Republican Front ally, as vice premier in his prospective new government. Mollet disclosed the tentative Cabinet list tonight.

The list is notable on several counts:

It is made up almost entirely of men from the Republican Front, a minority combination in the National Assembly of Mollet's Socialists and the Radical-Socialist followers of Mendes-France.

It contains no Communists, although Communist votes may be necessary to put the Cabinet in power.

It is relatively small, with 13 prospective members.

Mollet chose Socialist Christian Pineau as his foreign minister-designate, though Mendes-France had held that job before and wanted to tackle it again.

A Negro from the Ivory Coast, Felix Houphouet - Boigni, was named a minister without specific duties, attached to the Premier's office.

A sign on Jackson at a filling station almost opposite Hotel Frances the past few days went AWOL. if an electric sign can perform such feat. With most of the letters dimmed out it told the public "SONS RAGE"

Many smiled as they regarded it.

When it comes to strange signs and city names we just heard about "Truth and Consequences," for we got a letter in the mail that bore Uncle Sam's postmark that stated thus.

We thought it a jest of some kind but since by investigating we have been informed that five or six years ago when TV was born, that it was announced over the air if some town would change its name that a generous reward and continual unusual publicity would come in their direction and entries were asked. A town known up to then by the name of Hot Springs, in Arizona, replied and as a result Hot Springs, Arizona was changed to "Truth and Consequences". And so it is today to the amazement of all who come in contact with the fairly-like nomenclature.

Another unusual thing that perhaps all Monroyans fail to know. In Utah if one lives on a corner, he will have two names and two numbers. Thus: 500 Webster street, 378 Franklin Avenue. The first designation is that of the street toward which the house faces, the other name and number is for the other side of the house on the street that crosses Webster at that point.

A new name and a removal to larger and more attractive offices on another street, is to be in store for local Girl Scouts of Ouachita parish, according to announcement just made. The name is to be the Silver Waters council and it will designate girls in scouting in 12 parishes nearby.

The new home will be located at 513 Breard street, which is in an area that is awaking to new life in Monroe.

The office will be opened at the new location on February 1. It is said to be of importance generally for it will indicate that Girl Scouting is proceeding in the Twin Cities and also will add enthusiasm to this effort throughout the entire Girl Scout council.

Honor came to Mary Ann Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Allen of West Monroe, a pupil in the high school across the river. The senior class named her to represent the school in a statewide citizenship contest sponsored by the D.A.R.

The public is invited to hear a Christian Science lecture Monday at 8 p.m. and this time it is not to be given at the Christian Science church but in Brown hall at the college here. The theme will be "Christian Science; Its Constructive Mission." The speaker will be George Channing, C.S.B. of San Francisco, member of the board of lecturship of the Mother Church, the First Church of Christ, Boston, Mass. Many at the college area will have adantage of attending nearer their homes. So far as known no lecture of this nature has ever been given in Brown hall.

Negro Is Object Of Search Here

A Negro man was the object of a search by West Monroe city police Saturday and Saturday night after a warrant for his arrest was sworn out by a Negro woman.

According to a police report, they received a call from the Charity hospital about 12:30 a.m. Saturday. Arriving at the hospital, police found Thelma Minnifield Negro, of 103 Campbell, West Monroe, who was being treated for lacerations on the head.

The woman told police that she was struck on the head with a lead pipe by Robert Mack, Negro, while the two were at her home. She was released from the hospital after emergency treatment.

The injured woman swore out a warrant for Mack's arrest Saturday morning, according to the police report.

Monroe Man Arrested After Negro Slashed

Two city detectives arrested a 48-year-old Monroe man late yesterday afternoon on Layton street following the knife slashing of Artis Smiley, 48, Negro of 1004 Adams street.

Arrested and charged with aggravated battery was Leon Davis, 48, 604 North 10th street.

Smiley, who suffered a deep knife wound in the left arm and the stomach was reported to be resting "fair" late last night at the charity hospital.

The slashed man told detectives that he had no idea why the other Negro cut him.

Detectives J. C. Bryan and W. A. Haywood arrested Davis in the 200 Block of Layton about 4:30 p.m.

3rd Round Polio Injections Start On February 6th

The third round of polio injections will begin in Ouachita parish schools on February 6, according to Dr. Carroll Summer, parish health director.

Dr. Summer said the shots will be given only to first and second grade students who have taken both the first and second injections of Salk vaccine. Those students who have taken only one of the shots will not be eligible for his third one, he explained. and it will be necessary for them to contact the health unit office for the second phase.

No students will be transported from one school to another this year as was done during the previous shots, Dr. Summer said.

Six nurses will be making the rounds, covering all elementary schools in the parish.

Dr. Summer pointed out that he has been assured there will be an ample supply of vaccine. Physicians in private practice, too, can get all they need, he added.

The health director said many calls had come to his office concerning the third round of Salk vaccine shots. He listed the following as a schedule set up for the various schools in the parish:

Monday, Feb. 6—Morning: Logtown, Union Baptist, Highland, Watson and Cypress; afternoon. Okaloosa, Selman and Terzia.

Tuesday, Feb. 7—Morning: A. L. Smith, Myles, Fairbanks, Mt. Nebo, Swartz white, Swartz Colored, and Shady Grove; afternoon: Lexington, Plum Street, Booker T. Washington and Central High.

Wednesday, Feb. 8—Morning. Carver, Georgia Tucker, Lady of Fatima, Claiborne, and Ransom; afternoon: Barkdull Faulk, St. Paschals, Woodlawn and Central Grammar.

Thursday, Feb. 9 —Morning: Drew, J. S. Clark, Sherrouse and Lenville; afternoon: St. Charles, J. S. Clark and Mitchell.

Friday, Feb. 10—Monring: St. Matthew's Lila Benton and Boley; afternoon: Ouachita Grammar, Swayze and Tim Tippett.

Monday, Feb. 13—Morning: Little Flower.

Tuesday, Feb. 14—Afternoon: Calhoun.

Wednesday, Feb. 15 — Morning. Crosley.

Thursday, Feb. 16 — Morning. Millsaps.

with empty cartridges from Bauer's single-barrel pump action shotgun. He said the gun carries eight shells in one chamber. The weapon was found under Bauer's body in the living room.

The body of Bauer's wife was found in a hallway between a bedroom and bathroom. The children's bodies were sprawled in the dinette. Mr. and Mrs. Neuber's bodies were sitting upright in the living room. Their bodies were riddled with shotgun pellets.

Bauer's mother, who had been bed-ridden for four years, was shot in the chest as she lay in bed. She was to have been taken to a nursing home while the family was away on a two-week vacation.

After Bauer stalked through his home, shooting one member of his family after another, he fired a shotgun blast into his head.

Police said Bauer, an inspector of road materials for the state of New York, had been a stalwart member of the Methodist congregation.

Neighbors said the Bauers were one of the "nicest" families on the street in the new Sedgefield section of town occupied by middle class families. The Bauers' corner home was valued at $18,000 to $20,000.

26-Year-Old Man Critically Injured In Auto Accident

with 3 col art - "One injured." at

A 26-year-old Sterlington man was critically injured early Saturday morning when his vehicle left the Bastrop-Monroe road 11 miles out of Monroe, severed a power pole, and careened into a deep ravine completely demolishing the auto.

The man identified by State Police as A. J. Jones, employee of Twin City Gravel Co., was hospitalized at the St. Francis Hospital yesterday with a broken hip and pelvis bone, abrasions and multiple bruises.

A Louisiana Power and Light electric line fell across the road after the pole was severed and held up motorists for over an hour.

Jones, according to his wife, didn't regain consciousness until 9 a.m. Saturday morning.

"I must have gone to sleep at the wheel," he was quoted as telling his wife during a period of brief awakeness.

Hospital authorities told Mrs. Jones that it would possibly be five days or more before the exact extent on his condition could be determined.

State police stated Jones, who was traveling south from Bastrop, left the road, sliding in the soft muddy shoulders for about 150 feet before striking the power pole.

The hood of the 1949 Ford was ripped from the vehicle as it severed the pole. As the car plunged into the ravine it overturned and came to rest 100 feet from the edge of the road with motor laying approximately 50 feet from the smashed auto.

Jones, thrown clear of the wreckage, was taken from the deep gully to the highway by Jamie A. Moore, resident on the Bastrop Highway directly in front of the accident scene.

Moore stated he heard the crash which was followed by an abrupt darkness descending on his home.

Electricity was out at a number of residences along the highway, according to officials.

Clogging the area around the crash site for about 600 yards, both north and south, were many truck transports, cars, and excited onlookers.

New Orleans Has Record Employment

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 28—UP—The highest overall employment level ever reached in New Orleans, 306,600 workers, was experienced at the end of 1955 after a sharp December rise in employment.

The local office of the Louisiana Division of Employment Security said employment was expected to drop off somewhat during the early part of 1956 due to seasonal declines and the end of the Christmas and New Year retail trade rush.

In the field of labor supply, civil and chemical engineers continued to be in demand in the New Orleans area over the supply available. Other shortages in the labor supply were noted in the fields for experienced stenographers, auto mechanics and textile weavers.

Gleason Raps Network Bosses For Rumors Of Shuffle In TV Programs

NEW YORK, Jan. 28 (AP)—Jackie Gleason today let fly at his television network bosses, saying they apparently were using "manufactured irritation" to try to force a shuffle in programs.

"It's not going to work," he said. "I don't think a network should push around its performers or sponsors."

There have been reports that CBS plans to take the Gleason-produced "Stage Show," now appearing at 8 p.m. EST Saturday, off the air, and move Gleason's "Honeymooners" back from 8:30 to 8, with "Two for the Money" following "The Honeymooners" as it does now.

The reason for the proposed changes, according to the reports, is that CBS wants to make an all-out effort to compete with the growing popularity of NBC's hour-long Perry Como Show at 8 p.m.

There also are reports that Gleason is demanding a million and a half dollars to agree to this change.

Gleason said at a news conference today that the million and a half figure was "ridiculous" but he would demand $400,000 for the proposed shift.

He said CBS itself seemed to be behind the "many inaccurate statements" being circulated about the situation.

The rotund comedian told a news conference that the Columbia Broadcasting System seemed to be behind "many inaccurate statements" circulated about intended changes in shows he produces.

"I think it's underhanded," he said.

He said derogatory—and erroneous—reports had been put out that the sponsor of "Stage Show," a "Satuday show he produces, was dissatisfied, and that plans for replacements or schedule switches were pending.

"It's apparently a subtle scheme of irritation probably aimed at trying to discourage me from keeping 'Stage Show' on the air," he said. "If it's originating at CBS, they're making a sad mistake."

CBS had no immediate comment on the hassle.

"Stage Show," featuring the Dorsey brothers and produced by Jackie Gleason Enterprises, comes on at 8 p.m. EST Saturday, just ahead of Gleason's own starring show, "The Honeymooners," from 8:30 to 9 p.m.

The false reports, Gleason said, are that there are plans to shift the "Honeymooners" to the 8 p.m. spot, and either eliminate "Stage Show," or change it to a time not adjoining "The Honeymooners."

He said he has asked CBS officials to refute the reports, but they haven't done so, and that from "all indications," CBS has originated the statements.

He said that unless CBS came forward with proposals for keeping the two shows adjoining, or compenasting the "Stage Show" cast for the whole season, there'd be no changes.

Program To Spotlight Fight Against Polio

Panelists on the Jaycee roundtable Sunday will be Dr. Carroll Summer, Ouachita parish health officer; Ed Foreman, state representative for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis; John Luffey, local 1956 Campaign director of the March of Dimes; and Mrs. Marion Kirk Fisher, chairman of the 1956 parish mothers on polio.

Jaycee Fred Landry will be the moderator of the program, which is to be locally televised.

The program will emphasized the fact that polio is not licked yet.

Nation's Builders See Production Continuing High

CHICAGO, Jan. 28 (AP)—The nation's builders look to a continued high production of new homes in 1956, but a lessening in the "extraordinary" rate maintained in 1955.

This was the consensus at the 12th annual convention of the national Ass. of Home Builders in Chicago this week.

Nathaniel Rogg of Washington, D. C., NAHB economist, said the downturn from what he termed the "extraordinary" production of 1955 started in the last quarter of last year. He said it was expected to continue through the first half of 1956.

Rogg said he believed this estimate will hold despite an easing of Federal Housing Administration and Veterans Administration mortgage requirements and a general easing of the home finance situation.

"It takes a builder some six to nine months to retool and get rolling again after a slack period in his rate of contruction," Rogg explained.

Costs and financing take the front rank in the association's policy statement issued after the convention. The builders said:

"Increasingly burdensome local zoning, building and subdivision regulations, the exhorbitant cost of financing (in many areas); high land costs: and, in particular, the costly and unnecessary constant increases in VA and FHA requirements are combining to add unnecessarily to cost.

"Unless this dangerous trend is checked, the industry will soon find it diffucult to serve the mass market and thereby be forced drastically to curtail production and consquently endanger the national economic health."

FCC Gets Court Backing On Media Separation Policy

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28 (AP) —The Federal Communications Commission has won court backing for its policy of weighing newspaper and radio properties heavily, and sometimes decisively, against some applicants for television stations.

In an unanimous decision yesterday, the U.S. Court of Appeals said the commission "is free to let diversification of control of communications facilities turn the balance, if it reasonably concludes it is proper to do so."

The court took this stand in upholding an FCC ruling against the McClatchy Broadcasting Co. which had sought permission to build a TV station in Sacramento, Calif. The commission approved the application of Sacramento Telecasters Inc. for the same channel.

McClatchy runs several radio stations in California's Central Valley and is a wholly owned subsidiary of McClatchy newspapers, owner of the Sacramento Bee, the Fresno Bee and the Modesto Bee. Sacramento Telecasters has no such connections.

Mrs. Fred Heberling, who operates the Richland cafe, said Ross and two other young men were "acting funny in here yesterday." She thought she heard one say "the old lady's got plenty of money."

That comment would be a slander of Mrs. Gray, a highly attractive brunette in her 50's who was the first of her sex ever to serve as treasurer of the United States as an appointee of the Truman administration. She is Democratic national committeewoman for Kansas.

selected on the basis that they were known to be politically opposed on a partisan basis to the executive department and put on the same plane as members of the President's Cabinet."

They said this "is almost certain to throw the considerations of the committee into the realm of narrow partisan politics as well as to subvert the very purposes of the Full Employment Act, which were to study objectively economic trends and to study objectively the executive report on the economic condition of the nation."

The Republicans issuing the statement were Sens. Flanders (Vt), Goldwater (Ariz) and Watkins (Utah) and Representatives Curtis (Mo.), Talle (Iowa) and Wolcott (Mich.).

Douglas could not be reached for comment, but an aide said he felt that by having people of varying views testify at the same time, it would help to make a more balanced presentation and sharpen "the economic issues."

President Eisenhower, in his economic report to Congress, predicted continued growth in the nation's economy in the year ahead but at a slower pace than in the past year.

Douglas said on a radio broadcast last night the prospects are that this year's economic level "is going to be very much lower" than in 1955. He said "our Republican friends stimulated the boom unduly" last year.

Bulganin Offers

tension existing in the world today but said the means of improvement he had suggested are results to which the United States is "dedicated and toward which we are prepared at any moment to move in a spirit of counciliation." He invited Bulganin to write him again stating his reactions.

The White House made public today the President's letter of about 1,500 words along with a 2,000-word letter which Bulganin had sent to the President last Wednesday amid great fanfare. United States officials said they were convinced that Soviet "peace propaganda" was one of the motives in sending the Bulganin letter.

Also made public was the text of the 20-year treaty of "friendship and cooperation" which Bulganin proposed.

"I am genuinely convinced that an improvement in Soviet-American relations is urgently needed," Bulganin said.

"In my opinion this purpose could be served by the conclusion of a treaty of friendship and cooperation between our countries."

Otherwise Bulganin reviewed familiar Soviet arguments about Russia's desire for peace and friendship with many countries and said that he thought the President woud agree "that under existing conditions international tension is fraught with the possibility of breaking the peace, with nations reaping all the dangerous consequences thereof."

"Moreover," he said, "It is well known to everyone that the newest implements of war, such as atomic and hydrogen weapons, various instruments of present-day jet and rocket techniques, as well as other kinds of weapons of mass destruction, place the peoples of all countries in an equally dangerous situation. . . ."

Bulganin said he thought his bid for a pact would be "favorably received by you and will evoke a positive response from the Soviet and American peoples, as well as from those of other countries."

That line was regarded by American officials as an outright bid by Bulganin for popular acceptance of the idea, in effect an admission that he was making a propaganda move.

The President's letter was drafted last night in a conference with Secretary of State Dulles at the White House. It was immediately cabled to Ambassador Charles Bohlen in Moscow. Bohlen delivered it to the acting foreign minister Andrei Gromyko, today. The method of delivery contrasted with that chosen by Bulganin for his letter. The Bulganin letter was delivered personally to Eisenhower by Soviet Ambassador Georgi N. Zarubin.

Officials here said that the Bulganin letter was undoubtedly timed to try to make trouble between the United States and Britain immediately before the meeting here Monday of Eisenhower and Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden. It was also designed, they said, to raise the spectre of direct agreements between Russia and the United States and thereby throw fear into many Allied nations about United States firmness in holding to the alliances.

To deal with this problem and at the same time to counter the propaganda aspects of the Bulganin letter, Eisenhower's reply developed both negative and positive statements of United States policy.

On the negative side, the President declared that the United States and Russia are "already bound to each other by a solemn treaty—the Charter of the United Nations" — to do all the things which the friendship treaty would pledge them to do.

He cited chapter and verse of the UN Charter to support his statement. The American people he said, "sincerely desire to help make reality of these Charter goals."

But he told Bulganin that the Charter had failed to prevent the "present state of international tension."

"How can we hope," he went on, "that the present situation would be cured merely by repeating those words in a bilateral form?"

The President then turned to the positive side of his argument.

He said he had gone to the summit conference at Geneva last July earnestly hoping for "a bettering of international relations."

"Unhappily," he declared, "the American people have had to sadly conclude that the events following our meeting have not given substance to their hope."

Eisenhower told Bulganin that at the foreign ministers meeting in October-November, following up the summit session, the Soviets had blocked agreement on German unification through free elections, had rejected his "open skies" proposal for mutual aerial reconnaissance, and refused to accept concrete measures for tightening relations between Russia and the Western Powers.

Furthermore the President said conditions have gotten worse because the Soviet government has embarked upon a course in various parts of the world "which increases tensions by intensifying hatreds and animosities implicit in historic international disputes." This was a clear reference to Soviet operations in South Asia and the Middle East in recent months and particularly to the sale of Communist arms to Egypt.

The President then challenged Bulganin in these sentences:

"Consider, Mr. Chairman, what a vast change would be effected not only in our relations but throughout the entire world if there were prompt measures to re-unify Germany in freedom within the framework of security; if there were carried out our wartime pledge to respect the right of peoples to choose the form of government under which they will live; if there were arranged such mutual opening of our countries to inspection that the possibilities of surprise attack would vanish and if reductions of armament were made practical, with the release of productive power for the betterment of mankind.

"Consider, also, the mountain of distrust and misunderstanding that would disappear if our peoples freely exchanged news, information, visits and ideas."

Bulganin had written Eisenhower that relations between Russia and America have "special significance," for any further lessening of international tension."

He recalled that "with the exception of the period of foreign intervention against the young Soviet Republic," the people of the United States and Russia have never fought each other.

Mollet Completes List For Cabinet

By CARL HARTMAN

PARIS, Jan. 28 (AP) — Premier-designate Guy Mollet wants ex-Premier Pierre Mendes-France, his Republican Front ally, as vice premier in his prospective new government. Mollet disclosed the tentative Cabinet list tonight.

The list is notable on several counts:

It is made up almost entirely of men from the Republican Front, a minority combination in the National Assembly of Mollet's Socialists and the Radical-Socialist followers of Mendes-France.

It contains no Communists, although Communist votes may be necessary to put the Cabinet in power.

It is relatively small, with 13 prospective members.

Mollet chose Socialist Christian Pineau as his foreign minister-designate, though Mendes-France had held that job before and wanted to tackle it again.

A Negro from the Ivory Coast, Felix Houphouet - Boigni, was named a minister without specific duties, attached to the Premier's office.

— quite new to politics — took a position on a highway and started to give every carload of people when their car was haled by a stop light, a ticket on which his face and appeal for votes was stressed.

A sign on Jackson at a filling station almost opposite Hotel Frances the past few days went AWOL. if an electric sign can perform such feat. With most of the letters dimmed out it told the public "SONS RAGE"

Many smiled as they regarded it.

When it comes to strange signs and city names we just heard about "Truth and Consequences," for we got a letter in the mail that bore Uncle Sam's postmark that stated thus.

We thought it a jest of some kind but since by investigating we have been informed that five or six years ago when TV was born, that it was announced over the air if some town would change its name that a generous reward and continual unusual publicity would come in their direction and entries were asked. A town known up to then by the name of Hot Springs, in Arizona, replied and as a result Hot Springs, Arizona was changed to "Truth and Consequences". And so it is today to the amazement of all who come in contact with the fairly-like nomenclature.

Another unusual thing that perhaps all Monroyans fail to know. In Utah if one lives on a corner, he will have two names and two numbers. Thus: 500 Webster street, 378 Franklin Avenue. The first designation is that of the street toward which the house faces, the other name and number is for the other side of the house on the street that crosses Webster at that point.

A new name and a removal to larger and more attractive offices on another street, is to be in store for local Girl Scouts of Ouachita parish, according to announcement just made. The name is to be the Silver Waters council and it will designate girls in scouting in 12 parishes nearby.

The new home will be located at 513 Breard street, which is in an area that is awaking to new life in Monroe.

The office will be opened at the new location on February 1. It is said to be of importance generally for it will indicate that Girl Scouting is proceeding in the Twin Cities and also will add enthusiasm to this effort throughout the entire Girl Scout council.

Honor came to Mary Ann Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Allen of West Monroe, a pupil in the high school across the river. The senior class named her to represent the school in a statewide citizenship contest sponsored by the D.A.R.

The public is invited to hear a Christian Science lecture Monday at 8 p.m. and this time it is not to be given at the Christian Science church but in Brown hall at the college here. The theme will be "Christian Science; Its Constructive Mission." The speaker will be George Channing, C.S.B. of San Francisco, member of the board of lecturship of the Mother Church, the First Church of Christ, Boston, Mass. Many at the college area will have adantage of attending nearer their homes. So far as known no lecture of this nature has ever been given in Brown hall.

Negro Is Object Of Search Here

A Negro man was the object of a search by West Monroe city police Saturday and Saturday night after a warrant for his arrest was sworn out by a Negro woman.

According to a police report, they received a call from the Charity hospital about 12:30 a.m. Saturday. Arriving at the hospital, police found Thelma Minnifield Negro, of 103 Campbell, West Monroe, who was being treated for lacerations on the head.

The woman told police that she was struck on the head with a lead pipe by Robert Mack, Negro, while the two were at her home. She was released from the hospital after emergency treatment.

The injured woman swore out a warrant for Mack's arrest Saturday morning, according to the police report.

Monroe Man Arrested After Negro Slashed

Two city detectives arrested a 48-year-old Monroe man late yesterday afternoon on Layton street following the knife slashing of Artis Smiley, 48, Negro of 1004 Adams street.

Arrested and charged with aggravated battery was Leon Davis, 48, 604 North 10th street.

Smiley, who suffered a deep knife wound in the left arm and the stomach was reported to be resting "fair" late last night at the charity hospital.

The slashed man told detectives that he had no idea why the other Negro cut him.

Detectives J. C. Bryan and W. A. Haywood arrested Davis in the 200 Block of Layton about 4:30 p.m.

William T. Abrams Services Scheduled

Pallbearers will be J. L. Baur, Sam House, Jr., George Lensing, W. McFarland Long, John Markey, A. B. Patrick Ogden Russell Q. N. Stapleton and Frank Foelker, Jr.

Rabies Tests Slated Here On Dog's Head

A dog's head was turned over Saturday to the Ouachita parish health department for rabies tests after the dog was shot in West Monroe by city police Officer W. R. (Bill) Pace following reports that the canine "appeared mad."

Police reports stated that Jessie L. Harrell, 238 Riverfront, reported a dog "appearing to be mad" bit his dog and tried to bite Mrs. Harrell; the same dog, he told police, bit a dog belonging to Oscar J. Odaware, 224 Riverfront, West Monroe.

'Alcatraz Audubon' Now In 40th Year Of Solitary

By PETER J. HAYES

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 28—UP—Robert F. Stroud, the "Audubon of Alcatraz," began his 40th year in solitary Saturday.

It was also the 66th birthday for the bespectacled Alcatraz convict and authority on the diseases and habits of canaries.

Strout actually has been in prison since 1909. That was the year Adm. Robert E. Peary reached the North Pole and Louis Bleriot flew the English channel for the first time.

The oldest federal prisoner today, Stroud is also one of the most incongruous.

At the age of 19 he was sentenced to life imprisonment for the slaying of his sweetheart's ex-boy friend in frontier Alaska.

After stabbing an inmate at McNeil Island (Wash.) prison, he was transferred to Leavenworth. In 1916 he went berserk in the mess hall one day and stabbed a guard to death before 1,100 prisoners.

President Wilson commuted his death sentence for the second slaying to life imprisonment on condition he spend the rest of his life in solitary confinement.

Although he never went beyond the third grade in school, Stroud spent his days in solitary reading all he could find on mathematics, astronomy and French and took up drawing.

The one day a blustery storm swept over the prison and started the "double-lifer" on his way to becoming a recognized authority on canaries.

Then one day a blustery storm swept over the prison and started the "double-lifer" on his way to becoming a recognized authority on canaries.

The high winds blew down from the wall of Stroud's small exercise yard a nest containing four baby sparrows. He rescued the birds, fed them and tamed them.

Somehow he got two canaries and began to feed them. At one time he had 300 birds in his cell. Some of his pets died from disease. These he dissected with his fingernails and examined the tissue under a microscope provided by Wesleyan University.

The convict corresponded with hundreds of bird-fanciers and even wrote a book, "Stroud's Digest of the Disease of Birds."

In 1942, Stroud was transferred to Alcatraz. But he was not allowed to bring his birds, slides, microscopes or books.

Serving two concurrent life sentences, Stroud became eligible for parole in 1953. But federal prison authorities held that he is still a dangerous man.

Associate Warden Joseph B. Latimer said Stroud is kept in a ward room of the prison hospital, segregated from other convicts. He keeps up with his bird-study only through the latest periodicals.

Matusow Wins In Court Of Appeals; New Trial Ordered

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 28 (AP) — Appeals yesterday upset the contempt conviction of former Communist Harvey Matusow for lying about his lying.

Matusow, the appeals court said, did not receive a fair hearing in March, 1955, when a federal court in El Paso, Tex., sentenced him to three years in prison. The district judge charged Matusow tried to obstruct justice in the perjury trial of Clinton Jencks, New Mexico union leader, who swore he was not a Communist. Matusow has testified as a government witness against Communists.

In the first trial of Jencks, Matusow identified him as a Communist. Matusow later wrote a book, "False Witness," in which he said Jencks was not a Communist. In a second trial, Matusow said he lied in the first.

But the district judge decided Matusow was telling the truth at the first trial.

"I am thoroughly convinced that you, alone or in conjunction with others, deliberately and maliciously and designedly schemed to obstruct justice in this court," the judge told Matusow, finding him guilty of contempt.

But the appeals court decided that the judge ruled Matusow guilty without extending all rights guaranteed him by the Constitution.

THE WILLOWY WISP has a natural bent—in any direction

The WISP is a retailer who can be talked into almost anything – when it comes to national advertising support.

He's not sure where he's going because he's always being led.

He's absolutely sold on newspapers for his own advertising but lacks the foresight to urge manufacturers to use it, too.

Fortunately the WISP is a rare creature.

Most retailers know that a manufacturer's advertising helps them best in their daily newspaper – close to their own advertising.

Most retailers know that newspapers are the action medium.

That's why local advertising in newspapers stacks up to over $2,000,000,000 a year – nearly six times the amount local advertisers put into radio, more than eleven times the amount they put into television.

Smart retailers and manufacturers realize that nowhere can they advertise together so productively as in the newspaper.

All business is local . . .
and so are all newspapers!

'Alcatraz Audubon' Now In 40th Year Of Solitary

By PETER J. HAYES

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 28—UP—Robert F. Stroud, the "Audubon of Alcatraz," began his 40th year in solitary Saturday.

It was also the 66th birthday for the bespectacled Alcatraz convict and authority on the diseases and habits of canaries.

Strout actually has been in prison since 1909. That was the year Adm. Robert E. Peary reached the North Pole and Louis Bleriot flew the English channel for the first time.

The oldest federal prisoner today, Stroud is also one of the most incongruous.

At the age of 19 he was sentenced to life imprisonment for the slaying of his sweetheart's ex-boy friend in frontier Alaska.

After stabbing an inmate at McNeil Island (Wash.) prison, he was transferred to Leavenworth. In 1916 he went berserk in the mess hall one day and stabbed a guard to death before 1,100 prisoners.

President Wilson commuted his death sentence for the second slaying to life imprisonment on condition he spend the rest of his life in solitary confinement.

Although he never went beyond the third grade in school, Stroud spent his days in solitary reading all he could find on mathematics, astronomy and French and took up drawing.

The one day a blustery storm swept over the prison and started the "double-lifer" on his way to becoming a recognized authority on canaries.

Then one day a blustery storm swept over the prison and started the "double-lifer" on his way to becoming a recognized authority on canaries.

The high winds blew down from the wall of Stroud's small exercise yard a nest containing four baby sparrows. He rescued the birds, fed them and tamed them.

Somehow he got two canaries and began to feed them. At one time he had 300 birds in his cell. Some of his pets died from disease. These he dissected with his fingernails and examined the tissue under a microscope provided by Wesleyan University.

The convict corresponded with hundreds of bird-fanciers and even wrote a book, "Stroud's Digest of the Disease of Birds."

In 1942, Stroud was transferred to Alcatraz. But he was not allowed to bring his birds, slides, microscopes or books.

Serving two concurrent life sentences, Stroud became eligible for parole in 1953. But federal prison authorities held that he is still a dangerous man.

Associate Warden Joseph B. Latimer said Stroud is kept in a ward room of the prison hospital, segregated from other convicts. He keeps up with his bird-study only through the latest periodicals.

Matusow Wins In Court Of Appeals; New Trial Ordered

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 28 (AP) — Appeals yesterday upset the contempt conviction of former Communist Harvey Matusow for lying about his lying.

Matusow, the appeals court said, did not receive a fair hearing in March, 1955, when a federal court in El Paso, Tex., sentenced him to three years in prison. The district judge charged Matusow tried to obstruct justice in the perjury trial of Clinton Jencks, New Mexico union leader, who swore he was not a Communist. Matusow has testified as a government witness against Communists.

In the first trial of Jencks, Matusow identified him as a Communist. Matusow later wrote a book, "False Witness," in which he said Jencks was not a Communist. In a second trial, Matusow said he lied in the first.

But the district judge decided Matusow was telling the truth at the first trial.

"I am thoroughly convinced that you, alone or in conjunction with others, deliberately and maliciously and designedly schemed to obstruct justice in this court," the judge told Matusow, finding him guilty of contempt.

But the appeals court decided that the judge ruled Matusow guilty without extending all rights guaranteed him by the Constitution.

THE WILLOWY WISP has a natural bent—in any direction

The WISP is a retailer who can be talked into almost anything – when it comes to national advertising support.

He's not sure where he's going because he's always being led.

He's absolutely sold on newspapers for his own advertising but lacks the foresight to urge manufacturers to use it, too.

Fortunately the WISP is a rare creature.

Most retailers know that a manufacturer's advertising helps them best in their daily newspaper – close to their own advertising.

Most retailers know that newspapers are the action medium.

That's why local advertising in newspapers stacks up to over $2,000,000,000 a year – nearly six times the amount local advertisers put into radio, more than eleven times the amount they put into television.

Smart retailers and manufacturers realize that nowhere can they advertise together so productively as in the newspaper.

All business is local . . .

GANGWAY!

I'm on my way to Jackson Motors to save money on a big, beautiful, luxurious 1956 MERCURY. Mercury sales up 70% over last year and I can understand why — because.

YIPPEEEE!

You can own all the high horsepower, extra weight and thrilling beauty of the BIG M for practically the same price of the so called "economy" priced cars.

WOWEEEE!

Would you believe it! Bill Jackson gave me the highest trade-in offer I've had and the down payment and terms were tailored to fit my budget. Better still I bought my BIG M for total selling price of only $2285! You'd better go down now for the deal of deals.

GANGWAY!

I'm on my way to Jackson Motors to save money on a big, beautiful, luxurious 1956 MERCURY. Mercury sales up 70% over last year and I can understand why — because.

YIPPEEEE!

You can own all the high horsepower, extra weight and thrilling beauty of the BIG M for practically the same price of the so called "economy" priced cars.

WOWEEEE!

Would you believe it! Bill Jackson gave me the highest trade-in offer I've had and the down payment and terms were tailored to fit my budget. Better still I bought my BIG M for total selling price of only $2285! You'd better go down now for the deal of deals.

ON BAYOU
A BRICK HOME
You Can't Afford
To Miss

This is the home you have been planning to own someday! Located at 509 Lakeshore Drive in the midst of the most exclusive modern homes (ranging in price up to $35,000) in the most select section of Bayou property—only 4 blocks from DeSiard.

And here is the pleasant part—this beautiful home is SELLING FOR ONLY $17,850! The owner has been transferred and has to leave immediately, therefore is placing this property on the market at this amazingly low price.

Just picture this—lovely well landscaped bayou lot 100x450 ft. (with riparian rights) bordered with beautiful red roses. Situated in this setting is the admiration-commanding light cream colored brick home, only 2½ years old. This home has far too many features to enumerate — some of which are: 2 bedrooms, pine paneled—den, a screened patio with finished floors overlooking Bayou DeSiard, huge living room with dining area, central heating, and all the modern features desired for comfortable living.

The neighborhood is all home-owned (no building sites remain), and within the year a new school will be completed in this area.

If you are interested in bayou property, we urge you to call us immediately—day or night—for appointment to see this home. You won't regret it. This type property at this low price will not be on the market long. So don't delay, just give up a call.

NORTH
HUDSON LANE

THE owner's moved . . . the house is vacant . . . and the payments go on! Wouldn't you be anxious to sell? Well . . . if you're anxious to buy good value in northside property, here's "a deal"! It consists of 2 spacious bedrooms; unusually large living room and separate dining room; hardwood floors; enclosed sunporch; 2 floor furnaces; attic fan; and a host of other features! $1928 down (no closing costs) makes the move!

FOSTER

IT'S already financed . . . it's reasonably priced . . . Only $1153 down makes the move (no closing costs) and look what it possesses: nice size living room; glistening oak floors; wonderfully arranged kitchen; copper plumbing; 2 comfortable bedrooms; warmed with wall furnaces and it's vacant. Wanta' "peep" today?

NORTH SECOND

GOOD value? Here's the "dope," so how about you making your own decision? It almost "rambles" with 2246 sq. feet of living area; an elegant 15x19 living room with rock wall - to - wall carpeting; a spacious 17'x16' dining room (also with wall-to-wall carpeting); 3 roomy bedrooms AND a 12x21' den that's glassed-in; it also possesses 2 baths; floor furnaces; a modernistic kitchen with separate breakfast room and it's on an 87½ x 150' corner lot in an excellent neighborhood. $3,200 down turns the key on FHA financing.

AUBURN

IT'S ROOMY, but not high priced. Space is the "key-word," but there's more: there's a nice size living room and separate dining room; nice oak floors; 2 floor furnaces and attic fan; nice size kitchen with wonderful cabinet space and washer plumbing; 2 comfortable size bedrooms and den; back yard's shaded and "loads" of additional features that we'll gladly show today!

PARK AVENUE

YOU CAN read this ad all day, but yet, you won't enjoy it half as much as you would a tour of this exciting 2-bedroom and den home today. Nope,'cause you'll see: sparkling oak floors; roomy living room AND separate dining room; enclosed garage (attached); gutters and down spouts; attic fan; 75' lot in one of the best of neighborhoods; and it's brick! Why read! Call for appointment to look!

ALEXANDER

HERE 'tis! You can bet your bottom dollar that there's not another one like it in the Twin Cities! Why? Read on! It possesses over 2,000 sq. feet of wonderfully - arranged living space (air conditioned at that); a tremendous 18'x22' living room with a separate 12'x12 dining area (both carpeted wall-to-wall); 2 wonderful size bedrooms (one's 17'x18'); two tile baths (one opens off the master bedroom); has central heating; an enormous paneled den (16x17); a uniquely arranged kitchen with spacious cabinet space; utility room off kitchen, separate breakfast area; has gleaming oak floors throughout; covered patio opening off kitchen; double garage; it's only 3 years old (and it's a brick); and . . . it all rests on an overwhelming 200'x150' tree-studded lot! You bet we'll show today!

ROSELAWN

IF YOU'VE enough family to fill 2600 sq. ft. of living area and 3½ baths, here's a "steal" in a splendid Northside location with the following features: 4 spacious bedrooms, all with roomy closets and all carpeted; it's a 2 story (with an Otis elevator for wonderful convenience); has a relaxing screened breezeway; it's on a 75 ft. corner lot and it's vacant! Will gladly show today.

NORTH NINTH

HERE'S a brand new brick in a wonderful northside neighborhood that combines many an exciting feature among its 1242 sq. feet of living area. For instance: 3 nice size bedrooms (all with sliding door closets); Venetian blinds throughout; hardwood block floors throughout; a glistening ceramic tile bath; central heating; a well proportioned 27'x15' living room-dining area; 75'x150' lot and a host of other features that we'll gladly show you today!

COLLEGE
FILHIOL

THREE BEDROOMS IN THE COLLEGE AREA? Here's one and tremendous value at that! It possesses 1100 sq. feet of living area with the following features: oak floors; venetian blinds; 42" attic fan; has nice size living room and a separate dining room; screened breezeway; attached garage; it's been completely re-decorated throughout; it's on a 75' lot in an excellent neighborhood and its vacant! $1150 down makes the move.

COLLEGE AVE.

No fuss . . . no bother . . . no waiting for a loan approval! That's right! Pay the owner's equity of only $1,000 and make the move into this well-conditioned 2-bedroom home within easy walking distance of one of Louisiana's better colleges! The house posses: nice oak floors; floor furnace and attic fan; enclosed garage; asbestos siding; and a 85' lot! It's vacant, too!

CONCORDIA

WOULD YOU like a corner lot in the college area? Well . . . here 'tis with one swell home to go with it! You'll find the following features: 2 nice size bedrooms; roomy living room and separate dining room; plenty closet space; sparkling oak floors; double detached garage; 85'x153' lot and there's more that we'll gladly show you today! $1075 cash is all it takes!

GRANT

Price, compare, and we think you'll agree, . . . here's good value in a 2 bedroom home in the college area! $925 down (including closing costs) buys all the following: 888 sq. feet; nice size living room and a separate dining room; forced air heating and a new 1-ton air-conditioning unit; roomy 60x200' lot; and other features! It's vacant!

SOUTH

NO . . . we're not giving it away but it is unusually low - priced for a new 3-bedroom brick (just 2 blocks from the Plum street grammar) with a tile bath, central heating and these other features: easy to keep natural woodwork; aluminum frame windows; attic fan; an abundance of kitchen cabinets; a spacious 14'x24' living room-dining area and carport with storage! Financing? You tell 'em, for only $1200 down makes the move on FHA and . . . only $550 on a G. I. loan!

FLORIDA

YOU could look all over the southside and never find a neater or more attractive 2-bedroom home than this one is. It boasts: sparkling oak floors; attic fan and floor furnace; copper plumbing; well proportioned living room and nicely arranged kitchen AND . . . $600 down on FHA solves your problem. Wanta' look?

DICK TAYLOR

$900 DOWN on FHA buys a lotta' house in this one! For instance . . . 960 sq. feet of living area; 2 nice size bedrooms (one's 14x15'); large living room (with 220 outlet for air conditioning); has nice oak floors; attic fan; new water heater; fenced back yard; it's just coupla' blocks to school! $7,500 is the price.

SOUTH FIFTH

CONVENIENCE! Yep, one of the many features of this 2-bedroom "charmer", for it's directly across the street from the Plum St. grammar! It also has: gleaming oak floors; floor furnace; fenced back yard and it's already financed with 4 per cent loan. We'll gladly show today!

WEST MONROE
NEAL AVE.

HERE'S a new brick that got more than it's share of unusual features: Such as: 2 nice size bedrooms AND . . . a paneled den . . . tile bath and a half . . . wall furnaces . . . a "dilly" of a kitchen that's pine - paneled, has washer plumbing, and wonderful cabinet space . . . has attic fan . . . the lot's 188' wide on paved street and it's already financed! $1627 down makes the move!

ARKANSAS ROAD

YOU CAN spend a lot of time driving all over West Monroe looking for such a buy as is this one, but if you'll take a few minutes this p.m., we'll gladly show you such features as: 1600 sq. feet of living area; 3 spacious bedrooms; a glistening ceramic tile bath; beautiful oak floors; an unusually large kitchen with breakfast area (and 220 Volt outlets); an enclosed attached garage (double) with overhead doors; 100'x150' corner lot in one of West Monroe's best locations. $600 down on G. I. financing makes the move! It's vacant!

HAMILTON

Here's good value in a two bedroom home in W. Monroe! It's on a 75' corner lot and only $600 down plus closing costs buys the following: nice size living room and a separate dining room; enclosed garage with overhead door; oak floors; floor furnace and attic fan; located within a "stone's throw" from Mitchell Lane Grammar! We'll be glad to show today!

HALSELL DRIVE

Here's a fine home that'll make you feel good just to drive by and admire its wonderful setting! It's just a 10 minute drive from downtown W. Monroe and well worth it for not only does it have a well-shaded lot but also the following: 3 nice size bedrooms; a pine-paneled living room and a separate dining area; the kitchen's unique with a built-in breakfast nook; has a carport with store room; breezeway overlooking the back yard; and there's also a detached workshop! There's both FHA and VA financing available on this 1½ year old home!

BELMONT DRIVE

ACHING FOR acreage? Well . . . here's an acre and a quarter in a splendid area of West Monroe with an unusual new brick on it! It consists of: 1470 sq. feet; 3 large bedrooms, all with sliding door closets; a 12x14 paneled den; well arranged kitchen with paneling, Formica cabinet tops, built-in oven and range; has 2 baths (both with built-in dressing tables); the 12x18 living room has a Roman brick fireplace and it's carpeted; has central heating; double garage with large storage room and many another feature that we'll gladly show today! Wanta' look?

ON BAYOU
A BRICK HOME
You Can't Afford To Miss
This is the home you have been planning to own someday! Located at 509 Lakeshore Drive in the midst of the most exclusive modern homes (ranging in price up to $35,000) in the most select section of Bayou property—only 4 blocks from DeSiard.
And here is the pleasant part—this beautiful home is SELLING FOR ONLY $17,850! The owner has been transferred and has to leave immediately, therefore is placing this property on the market at this amazingly low price.
Just picture this—lovely well landscaped bayou lot 100x450 ft. (with riparian rights) bordered with beautiful red roses. Situated in this setting is the admiration-commanding light cream colored brick home, only 2½ years old. This home has far too many features to enumerate — some of which are: 2 bedrooms, pine paneled—den, a screened patio with finished floors overlooking Bayou DeSiard, huge living room with dining area, central heating, and all the modern features desired for comfortable living.
The neighborhood is all home-owned (no building sites remain), and within the year a new school will be completed in this area.
If you are interested in bayou property, we urge you to call us immediately—day or night—for appointment to see this home. You won't regret it. This type property at this low price will not be on the market long. So don't delay, just give up a call.

Wanta' "peep" today?
NORTH SECOND
GOOD value? Here's the "dope," so how about you making your own decision? It almost "rambles" with 2246 sq. feet of living area; an elegant 15x19 living room with rose wall - to - wall carpeting; a spacious 17'x16' dining room (also with wall-to-wall carpeting); 3 roomy bedrooms AND a 12x21' den that's glassed-in; it also possesses 2 baths; floor furnaces; a modernistic kitchen with separate breakfast room and it's on an 87½ x 150' corner lot in an excellent neighborhood. $3,200 down turns the key on FHA financing.
AUBURN
IT'S ROOMY, but not high priced. Space is the "key-word," but there's more: there's a nice size living room and separate dining room; nice oak floors; 2 floor furnaces and attic fan; nice size kitchen with wonderful cabinet space and washer plumbing; 2 comfortable size bedrooms and den; back yard's shaded and "loads" of additional features that we'll gladly show today!
PARK AVENUE
YOU CAN read this ad all day, but yet, you won't enjoy it half as much as you would a tour of this exciting 2-bedroom and den home today. Nope, 'cause you'll see: sparkling oak floors; roomy living room AND separate dining room; enclosed garage (attached); gutters and down spouts; attic fan; 75' lot in one of the best of neighborhoods; and it's brick! Why read! Call for appointment to look!
ALEXANDER
HERE 'tis! You can bet your bottom dollar that there's not another one like it in the Twin Cities! Why? Read on! It possesses over 2,000 sq. feet of wonderfully - arranged living space (air conditioned at that); a tremendous 18'x22' living room with a separate 12'x12 dining area (both carpeted wall-to-wall); 2 wonderful size bedrooms (one's 17'x18'); two tile baths (one opens off the master bedroom); has central heating; an enormous paneled den (16x17); a uniquely arranged kitchen with spacious cabinet space; utility room off kitchen, separate breakfast area; has gleaming oak floors throughout; covered patio opening off kitchen; double garage; it's only 3 years old (and it's a brick); and . . . it all rests on an overwhelming 200'x150' tree-studded lot! You bet we'll show today!
ROSELAWN
IF YOU'VE enough family to fill 2600 sq. ft. of living area and 3½ baths, here's a "steal" in a splendid Northside location with the following features: 4 spacious bedrooms, all with roomy closets and all carpeted; it's a 2 story (with an Otis elevator for wonderful convenience); has a relaxing screened breezeway; it's on a 75 ft. corner lot and it's vacant! Will gladly show today.
NORTH NINTH
HERE'S a brand new brick in a wonderful northside neighborhood that combines many an exciting feature among its 1242 sq. feet of living area. For instance: 3 nice size bedrooms (all with sliding door closets); Venetian blinds throughout; hardwood block floors throughout; a glistening ceramic tile bath; central heating; a well proportioned 27'x15' living room-dining area; 75'x150' lot and a host of other features that we'll gladly show you today!
COLLEGE
FILHIOL
THREE BEDROOMS IN THE COLLEGE AREA? Here's one and tremendous value at that! It possesses 1100 sq. feet of living area with the following features: oak floors; venetian blinds; 42" attic fan; has nice size living room and a separate dining room; screened breezeway; attached garage; it's been completely re-decorated throughout; it's on a 75' lot in an excellent neighborhood and its vacant! $1150 down makes the move.
COLLEGE AVE.
No fuss . . . no bother . . . no waiting for a loan approval! That's right! Pay the owner's equity of only $1,000 and make the move into this well-conditioned 2-bedroom home within easy walking distance of one of Louisiana's better colleges! The house posses: nice oak floors; floor furnace and attic fan; enclosed garage; asbestos siding; and a 55' lot! It's vacant, too!

CONCORDIA
WOULD YOU like a corner lot in the college area? Well . . . here 'tis with one swell home to go with it! You'll find the following features: 2 nice size bedrooms; roomy living room and separate dining room; plenty closet space; sparkling oak floors; double detached garage; 85'x153' lot and there's more that we'll gladly show you today! $1075 cash is all it takes!
GRANT
Price, compare, and we think you'll agree. . . . here's good value in a 2 bedroom home in the college area! $925 down (including closing costs) buys all the following: 888 sq. feet; nice size living room and a separate dining room; forced air heating and a new 1-ton air-conditioning unit; roomy 60x200' lot; and other features! It's vacant!
SOUTH
NO . . . we're not giving it away but it is unusually low - priced for a new 3-bedroom brick (just 2 blocks from the Plum street grammar) with a tile bath, central heating and these other features: easy to keep natural woodwork; aluminum frame windows; attic fan; an abundance of kitchen cabinets; a spacious 14'x24' living room-dining area and carport with storage! Financing? You tell 'em, for only $1200 down makes the move on FHA and . . . only $550 on a G. I. loan!
FLORIDA
YOU could look all over the southside and never find a neater or more attractive 2-bedroom home than this one is. It boasts: sparkling oak floors; attic fan and floor furnace; copper plumbing; well proportioned living room and nicely arranged kitchen AND . . . $600 down on FHA solves your problem. Wanta' look?
DICK TAYLOR
$900 DOWN on FHA buys a lotta' house in this one! For instance . . . 960 sq. feet of living area; 2 nice size bedrooms (one's 14x15'); large living rom (with 220 outlet for air conditioning); has nice oak floors; attic fan; new water heater; fenced back yard; it's just coupla' blocks to school! $7,500 is the price.
SOUTH FIFTH
CONVENIENCE! Yep, one of the many features of this 2-bedroom "charmer", for it's directly across the street from the Plum St. grammar! It also has: gleaming oak floors; floor furnace; fenced back yard and it's already financed with 4 per cent loan. We'll gladly show today!
WEST MONROE
NEAL AVE.
HERE'S a new brick that got more than it's share of unusual features: Such as: 2 nice size bedrooms AND . . . a paneled den . . . tile bath and a half . . . wall furnaces . . . a "dilly" of a kitchen that's pine - paneled, has washer plumbing, and wonderful cabinet space . . . has attic fan . . . the lot's 188' wide on paved street and it's already financed! $1627 down makes the move!
ARKANSAS ROAD
YOU CAN spend a lot of time driving all over West Monroe looking for such a buy as is this one, but if you'll take a few minutes this p.m., we'll gladly show you such features as: 1600 sq. feet of living area; 3 spacious bedrooms; a glistening ceramic tile bath; beautiful oak floors; an unusually large kitchen with breakfast area (and 220 Volt outlets); an enclosed attached garage (double) with overhead doors; 100'x150' corner lot in one of West Monroe's best locations. $600 down on G. I. financing makes the move! It's vacant!
HAMILTON
Here's good value in a two bedroom home in W. Monroe! It's on a 75' corner lot and only $600 down plus closing costs buys the following: nice size living room and a separate dining room; enclosed garage with overhead door; oak floors; floor furnace and attic fan; located within a "stone's throw" from Mitchell Lane Grammar! We'll be glad to show today!
HALSELL DRIVE
Here's a fine home that'll make you feel good just to drive by and admire its wonderful setting! It's just a 10 minute drive from downtown W. Monroe and well worth it for not only does it have a well-shaded lot but also the following: 3 nice size bedrooms; a pine-paneled living room and a separate dining area; the kitchen's unique with a built-in breakfast nook; has a carport with store room; breezeway overlooking the back yard; and there's also a detached workshop! There's both FHA and VA financing available on this 1½ year old home!
BELMONT DRIVE
ACHING FOR acreage? Well . . . here's an acre and a quarter in a splendid area of West Monroe with an unusual new brick on it! It consists of: 1470 sq. feet; 3 large bedrooms, all with sliding door closets; a 12x14 paneled den; well arranged kitchen with paneling, Formica cabinet tops, built-in oven and range; has 2 baths (both with built-in dressing tables); the 12x18 living room has a Roman brick fireplace and it's carpeted; has central heating; double garage with large storage room and many another feature that we'll gladly show today! Wanta' look?

F. J. STEVENS

F. J. Stevens Is Leaving Here For Higher Position

F. J. Stevens, assistant superintendent, Louisiana Baptist Children's home, Monroe, has been elected superintendent of the Masonic Home for Children at Alexandria and will take up his duties there February 15.

Stevens came to the Louisiana Baptist Children's Home when he was one year old. After finishing high school he attended Louisiana College for three years then attended a dental school in Atlanta, Georgia for one year. While in Atlanta he was married to Mamie Aaron, who was also reared at Louisiana Baptist Children's home. After their marriage they returned to Monroe and were employed by the Baptist home. During the past twenty-five years they have served in almost every capacity within the institution. Stevens serving as assistant superintendent for the past fifteen years and Mrs. Stevens has been librarian for approximately the same length of time.

The Stevens have two children, a son, Frank Jr., who is a graduate student at L. S. U., a daughter Irma Grace, who is a student at Louisiana College.

Supt. D. C. Black at the home states as follows:

"The Baptist Home is suffering the loss of two valuable workers. It will be well nigh impossible to replace them because of their knowledge and experience in the work. They have been loyal, faithful and devoted to their tasks and have made many sacrifices in order to show their deep gratitude for what Louisiana Baptists did for them when they could not do for themselves.

"In the going of these two from the official family at the Baptist home, there are mixed feelings of emotion. Regret at the loss of such valuable and dearly beloved workers and yet rejoicing because of this fine promotion which has come to them.

"Mr. Stevens has been a "first mate" who would delight the heart of any "skipper" and while it is deeply regrettable to give him up it is delightful to see him receive his just reward and take over the bridge as "skipper" of his own ship. Success will surely crown his efforts because of his sterling character, his strong faith and his will to achieve."

A reception for Mr. and Mrs. Stevens will be held Friday night, February 10, 7 - 9 in the Chapel building at the Baptist Children's Home.

Dogs Near Success In Halting Mails

TRENTON, N.J., Jan. 28 (AP) — Nearby Ewing Township's dogs almost did what sleet, snow, rain and dark of night failed to do. They almost stopped the U.S. Mail.

Ewing's public safety director, Peter J. de Fiesco, ordered a police escort for mailman Charles Kessler. He said he had to because Postmaster John Dawson would have cut off mail delivery to 350 homes in the township starting Monday.

Miss Wossman Guest Speaker

The Monroe Literary Club met Wednesday, January 25, at the home of Mrs. Walter Koch, at 805 Auburn Avenue.

Miss Julia Wossman, guest speaker, presented an enjoyable and instructive talk on advancement of children's books in the past fifty years. She demonstrated the progress made in publication of children's books by displaying editions selected by the Graphic Arts Institute, an organization responsible for selecting proper reading material for children in elementary grades.

Principal changes evident in the childrens books are the enlargement of printing, making them more readable, and a generous spread of colorful pictures.

Members of the club present were: Mrs. D. A. Altick, Mrs. E. J. Baugh, Mrs. T. D. Boaz, Mrs. C. E. Coe, Mrs. A. B. Colmer, Mrs. Van D. Odom, Mrs. J. H. Drake, Mrs. W. L. Howard, Mrs. W. B. Koch, Mrs. H. C. Miller, Mrs. M. Phillips, and Mrs. J. W. Womack. Miss Mirana Altick, daughter of Mrs. D. A. Altick, was a guest.

American Flag Is Dedicated

An American flag with a handsome table base was dedicated at the meeting of the Caddoan Club on Friday night at the Oak Ridge Community Center. During the impressive service Mrs. T. R. Files gave a poem, The Flag. Mrs. Will Rolfe led in prayer and Mrs. J. G. Cabuk read the impressive ritual. The Pierian Club joined with the Caddoans in financing the flag for use of all organizations using the hall for meetings.

Officers for the club year 1956-57 were selected. Mrs. J. B Cabuk will serve a second term as president. Mrs. R. M. Kennedy was elected vice-president, Mrs Weldon Fitch, recording secretary and Mrs. A. P. Williams, corresponding secretary.

Representing the club at the Fifth District Institute Workshop were Mrs. J. C. Cabuk, Mrs. Weldon Fitch and Mrs. S. P. Williams.

Miss Kelley Is Married In Afternoon

On January 20th, at 5 o'clock in the afternoon, Miss Minnie Catherine Kelley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James U. Kelley of Weston, became the bride of Paul Linwood Coleman, son of Rev. and Mrs. O. W. Coleman of Hodge.

The wedding took place in the United Pentecostal Church in Hodge with the Reverend Jimmy Miller officiating before an altar decorated with standards of pink gladioli and burning tapers held in branched candelabra.

A program of organ music was rendered by Mrs. Robert Pownell. She also accompanied Tommy Lee Davis, soloist.

The candlelighters were Miss Nancy Coleman, sister of the bridegroom and Miss Pattyce Donaldson, cousin of the bride. They wore floor length dresses of baby blue taffeta with pink carnation corsages.

The bride entered the church with her father, who gave her in marriage. She wore a gown of white satin with lace yoke and long fitted sleeves that tapered to a point over her hands. The floor length skirt was very full. Her waist length veil of illusion fell from a Juliet cap of lace caught up at each side with tiny pink rose buds. She carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley centered with a purple orchid.

Mrs. Harold Kelley of Jonesboro was her sister's matron of honor and Miss Ada Faye Rogers, and Miss Glendell Harper were bridesmaids. They wore identical dresses of peacock blue taffeta and carried matching muffs topped with pink carnations.

Harold Kelley of Jonesboro served Mr. Coleman as best man. The ushers were Quentin Causey and J. B. Harrell.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Kelley chose a dress of navy crepe, with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations. Mrs. Coleman wore a blue print suit with black accessories. She also wore white carnations.

Immediately following the wedding a reception was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kelley. The bride's table was covered with a white crocheted cloth, centered with an arrangement of white chrysanthemums. At one end of the table was the tiered wedding cake, which was served by Mrs. Terrel Donaldson of Eros, aunt of the bride. At the other end, another aunt, Mrs. William Donaldson, presided at the punch service.

After a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Coleman will make their home in Jonesboro.

American Music Is Club Topic

The Music Guild met for its January meeting in the home of Mrs. Cecil Hill on Island Drive. Mrs. Paul Newman was assisting hostess.

After the business session, presided over by the president, Mrs. Leon Noland, the program of the morning was presented by Mrs. R. L. Morgan, program chairman. Mrs. J. Norman Coon gave program annotations as the club concluded its study of American music. In the text concerning American music Mrs. Coon said, "The time for an apologetic attitude towards their American music has passed, for we have arrived at a stage in our development where recognition of our limitations does not require, or even tolerate any admission that American composers are inferior to their foreign colleagues. The American composers have developed a number of traits that are individual and definitely to be recognized. These include buoyancy, idealism, individuality, and standardization. Creatively American music stands at the threshold; exactly where the door may lead is not so easily determined. Many composers are prophesying, but what the future holds we know not. We do know that the 20th Century has produced a vast accumulation of native musical works, of which America may well be proud." Contemporary composers discussed on the program were Percy Grainger, who symbolizes in person as well as music the essential unity of the English speaking people. Deems Taylor's musical career, is a complete denial that a man may be "jack of all trades, but good at none". He has been highly successful as composer, lecturer, commentator, author and critic. Virgil Thomson, a thoroughly trained and accomplished musician, is unlike many of his contemporary fellow - shockers because he possesses an unusual talent, a sharp insight and a witty tongue. Ernest Charles, a singer of importance, is one of the most prolific song writers of the present day. There is hardly a concert program that one or more of his compositions is not heard. David Guion, well known for his transcriptions of American folk tunes, typically represents the southwest. He has written larger works for the piano and is an accomplsshed performer.

Members of the Music Guild who appeared on the program for the morning were: Mrs. Rabun Wroten, who sang "Waltzing With You In My Arms," by Gion; Mrs. P. A. Poag, who played "Ragtime Bass," by Thomson; Mrs. J. T. Harris, who sang "Sunset," by Dudley Buck and Mrs. J. Norman Coon, who sang, "When I Have Sung My Songs", by Ernest Charles. In addition to the hostesses and those appearing on the program, members present were Mrs. R. W. Cretney, Mrs. C. L. Dillingham, Mrs. Willys Hopkins, Mrs. Leon Noland, Mrs. J. M. Shipp and Mrs. Robert Wroten.

American Music Is Club Topic

The Music Guild met for its January meeting in the home of Mrs. Cecil Hill on Island Drive. Mrs. Paul Newman was assisting hostess.

After the business session, presided over by the president, Mrs. Leon Noland, the program of the morning was presented by Mrs. R. L. Morgan, program chairman. Mrs. J. Norman Coon gave program annotations as the club concluded its study of American music. In the text concerning American music Mrs. Coon said, "The time for an apologetic attitude towards their American music has passed, for we have arrived at a stage in our development where recognition of our limitations does not require, or even tolerate any admission that American composers are inferior to their foreign colleagues. The American composers have developed a number of traits that are individual and definitely to be recognized. These include buoyancy, idealism, individuality, and standardization. Creatively American music stands at the threshold; exactly where the door may lead is not so easily determined. Many composers are prophesying, but what the future holds we know not. We do know that the 20th Century has produced a vast accumulation of native musical works, of which America may well be proud." Contemporary composers discussed on the program were Percy Grainger, who symbolizes in person as well as music the essential unity of the English speaking people. Deems Taylor's musical career, is a complete denial that a man may be "jack of all trades, but good at none". He has been highly successful as composer, lecturer, commentator, author and critic. Virgil Thomson, a thoroughly trained and accomplished musician, is unlike many of his contemporary fellow - shockers because he possesses an unusual talent, a sharp insight and a witty tongue. Ernest Charles, a singer of importance, is one of the most prolific song writers of the present day. There is hardly a concert program that one or more of his compositions is not heard. David Guion, well known for his transcriptions of American folk tunes, typically represents the southwest. He has written larger works for the piano and is an accomplsshed performer.

Members of the Music Guild who appeared on the program for the morning were: Mrs. Rabun Wroten, who sang "Waltzing With You In My Arms," by Gion; Mrs. P. A. Poag, who played "Ragtime Bass," by Thomson; Mrs. J. T. Harris, who sang "Sunset," by Dudley Buck and Mrs. J. Norman Coon, who sang, "When I Have Sung My Songs", by Ernest Charles. In addition to the hostesses and those appearing on the program, members present were Mrs. R. W. Cretney, Mrs. C. L. Dillingham, Mrs. Willys Hopkins, Mrs. Leon Noland, Mrs. J. M. Shipp and Mrs. Robert Wroten.

MR. AND MRS. JAMES EARL FREELAND

Bastrop Church Scene Of Vows

In an evening ceremony, January 14, Miss Ruth Adams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Adams, of Monroe, became the bride of James Earl Freeland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Freeland, of Bastrop.

The wedding was solemnized at the First Assembly of God Church in Bastrop with Rev. J. E. Allen officiating. The altar was decorated with baskets of white gladioli and chrysanthemums with burning tapers. Nuptial music was presented by Miss Melba Downey who accompanied Meeks Strong as he sang "Always" and "Because."

The bride, given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Roy Cagle, Jr., was wearing a powder blue suit with white accessories. She carried a bouquet of white carnations mounted on a white Bible.

Serving her sister as maid of honor was Miss Teeny Adams of Monroe. She wore a navy blue full-skirted dress with a corsage of yellow carnations.

The bridesmaid was Miss Avanell Freeland, sister of the groom. She was wearing a frock of powder blue with a yellow corsage of carnations.

John Bennett of Bastrop, served the groom as best man. The usher was Ray Norris also of Bastrop.

For the occasion, the brides mother wore a maroon suit with rose accessories. The grooms mother choose a grey suit with orchid accessories.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the groom's family.

Miss Brenda Gail Funk of Bastrop presided over the guest book. Miss Avanell Freeland served cake. Serving at the punch bowl was an aunt of the groom, Mrs. Jewel Robinson of Beekman.

The brides table was covered with a white cutwork cloth, with candlebras on either side of the three tiered cake. The cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom.

For a wedding trip to Jackson and Vicksburg, the bride wore the same ensemble as married in. Upon returning, the groom will be stationed at the Naval Radio Station at Oso, Washington, near Seattle.

HOW TO GET MARRIED

An old Valentine superstition dating to 1756 says that if a girl pins 4 bay leaves to each corner of her pillow, a fifth in the middle, and sleeps on this pillow to dream of her sweetheart it means they will be married before the year is out.

Quick supper: Heat and brown frankfurters, cut pennywise, in a large skillet. Add ready - prepared tomato sauce and drained canned green beans; reheat.

MR. AND MRS. CHARLES HUBERT BINNS are shown following their wedding at the First Baptist Church in Natchez, Miss. The bride is the former Miss Marjorie Lynn Marlow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Marlow of Natchez. Mr. Binns' parents are Mr. and Mrs. James Hubert Binns of Crossett, Ark. They will make their home in Monticello, Ark., where Mr. Binns is a student at Arkansas A. and M. College.

Tallulah H. S. Presents Program For Music Club

TALLULAH—The January meeting of the Music Club was held at the home of Mrs. W. L. Rountree with Mrs. Neal T. Holt and Mrs. M. A. Phillips as co-hostesses.

A well rendered program was presented by members of the Tallulah High School music department under the leadership of Miss Jean Burkhalter. Two religious numbers, "The Strife Is O'er" and "Praise for Peace" were sung by Misses Hazel Roberson, Ginny Williamson, Sonya Bowden, Mary Jane King, Thalma Erwin, Margo Harvey, Linda Gilbreath, Mary Jo Provine, Dianne Ramagos, Linda Laird, Jane Caldwell, and Dorothy Gilfoil. Another group composed of Misses Monette Craig, Kay Harvey, Nancy Goss, Letha Mae Erwin, Gayle Waugh, Gloria Deason and Ann Powell sang, "For Music," "The Night Has A Thousand Eyes," a French Folk Song, "My Buddy," and "May the Lord Bless and Keep You."

An interesting feature was the presentation of a lovely home grown pink rosebud to Mrs. Frank Reid on this, the occasion of her ninetieth birthday as the club members joined in singing, "Happy Birthday."

The club voted to contribute the price of a choir robe to the high school chorus.

During the social period punch was served from a beautifully appointed table centered with an arrangement of white chrysanthemums in which two Confederate flags were inserted, thus honoring Gen. Robert E. Lee, whose birthday was observed Jan. 19.

VALENTINE PARTIES POPULAR

In England, during the 15th Century, it was the custom of the upper classes to entertain lavishly on February 14. The custom of "drawing "Valentines was then at its height.

MR. AND MRS. JAMES EARL FREELAND

Bastrop Church Scene Of Vows

In an evening ceremony, January 14, Miss Ruth Adams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Adams, of Monroe, became the bride of James Earl Freeland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Freeland, of Bastrop.

The wedding was solemnized at the First Assembly of God Church in Bastrop with Rev. J. E. Allen officiating. The altar was decorated with baskets of white gladioli and chrysanthemums with burning tapers. Nuptial music was presented by Miss Melba Downey who accompanied Meeks Strong as he sang "Always" and "Because."

The bride, given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Roy Cagle, Jr., was wearing a powder blue suit with white accessories. She carried a bouquet of white carnations mounted on a white Bible.

Serving her sister as maid of honor was Miss Teeny Adams of Monroe. She wore a navy blue full-skirted dress with a corsage of yellow carnations.

The bridesmaid was Miss Avanell Freeland, sister of the groom. She was wearing a frock of powder blue with a yellow corsage of carnations.

John Bennett of Bastrop, served the groom as best man. The usher was Ray Norris also of Bastrop.

For the occasion, the brides mother wore a maroon suit with rose accessories. The grooms mother choose a grey suit with orchid accessories.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the groom's family.

Miss Brenda Gail Funk of Bastrop presided over the guest book. Miss Avanell Freeland served cake. Serving at the punch bowl was an aunt of the groom, Mrs. Jewel Robinson of Beekman.

The brides table was covered with a white cutwork cloth, with candlebras on either side of the three tiered cake. The cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom.

For a wedding trip to Jackson and Vicksburg, the bride wore the same ensemble as married in. Upon returning, the groom will be stationed at the Naval Radio Station at Oso, Washington, near Seattle.

HOW TO GET MARRIED

An old Valentine superstition dating to 1756 says that if a girl puts 4 bay leaves to each corner of her pillow, a fifth in the middle, and sleeps on this pillow to dream of her sweetheart it means they will be married before the year is out.

Quick supper: Heat and brown frankfurters, cut pennywise, in a large skillet. Add ready - prepared tomato sauce and drained canned green beans; reheat.

MR. AND MRS. CHARLES HUBERT BINNS are shown following their wedding at the First Baptist Church in Natchez, Miss. The bride is the former Miss Marjorie Lynn Marlow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Marlow of Natchez. Mr. Binns' parents are Mr. and Mrs. James Hubert Binns of Crossett, Ark. They will make their home in Monticello, Ark., where Mr. Binns is a student at Arkansas A. and M. College.

Tallulah H. S. Presents Program For Music Club

TALLULAH—The January meeting of the Music Club was held at the home of Mrs. W. L. Rountree with Mrs. Neal T. Holt and Mrs. M. A. Phillips as co-hostesses.

A well rendered program was presented by members of the Tallulah High School music department under the leadership of Miss Jean Burkhalter. Two religious numbers, "The Strife Is O'er" and "Praise for Peace" were sung by Misses Hazel Roberson, Ginny Williamson, Sonya Bowden, Mary Jane King, Thalma Erwin, Margo Harvey, Linda Gilbreath, Mary Jo Provine, Dianne Ramagos, Linda Laird, Jane Caldwell, and Dorothy Gilfoil. Another group composed of Misses Monette Craig, Kay Harvey, Nancy Goss, Letha Mae Erwin, Gayle Waugh, Gloria Deason and Ann Powell sang, "For Music," "The Night Has A Thousand Eyes," a French Folk Song, "My Buddy," and "May the Lord Bless and Keep You."

An interesting feature was the presentation of a lovely home grown pink rosebud to Mrs. Frank Reid on this, the occasion of her ninetieth birthday as the club members joined in singing, "Happy Birthday."

The club voted to contribute the price of a choir robe to the high school chorus.

During the social period punch was served from a beautifully appointed table centered with an arrangement of white chrysanthemums in which two Confederate flags were inserted, thus honoring Gen. Robert E. Lee, whose birthday was observed Jan. 19.

VALENTINE PARTIES POPULAR

In England, during the 15th Century, it was the custom of the upper classes to entertain lavishly on February 14. The custom of "drawing "Valentines was then at its height.

MRS. DONALD WAYNE HAMMONS

Hammons-Ozley Vows Pledged In Arcadia

At a candlelight ceremony Friday, January 27 at 7 o'clock in the evening in the First Baptist Church of Arcadia, Miss Bonnie Jean Ozley became the bride of Donald Wayne Hammons. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Ozley of Arcadia. Mr. Hammons is the son of Mrs. H. L. Hammons and the late Mr. Hammons of Choudrant.

Baskets of pink chrysanthemums and stock interspersed with emerald leaf decorated the altar. Wrought iron candelabra holding pink tapers completed the back ground. Rev. E. D. Giddens performed the double ring ceremony. Mr. Frank Merritt presented a program of nuptial music and accompanied Miss Peggy Roberson and Sidney Corger, soloists.

The bride, given in marriage by her father wore a gown of lace fashioned with a square neckline outlined with sequins and pearls in a heart design with long petal point sleeves. The bouffant skirt of five tiers of lace ended in a chapel train. A tulle bandeau held her fingertip veil of illusion. She carried a bouquet of roses and stephanotis centered with a white orchid and showered with stephanotis and white satin ribbons.

Mrs. Donald Quin was the matron of honor and Mrs. John Hall and Miss Virginia Hammons, bridesmaids. They were dressed in silk chrystallette gowns in soft shades of blue. The portrait necklines were framed in draped leaf collars, with the molded waistlines contouring in scalloped edging over full waltz length skirts. Pink roses decorated their bandeaus of blue velvet and tulle and they carried colonial bouquets of roses and carnations in shades of pink.

Miss Patsy Taylor, cousin of the bride and Miss Sue Hammons, the bridegroom's niece, were the candlelighters. Their dresses were identical to the honor attendant in a darker shade of blue. Miss Barbara Taylor was flower girl. She wore a blue dress with pink roses in her hair and carried a basket of pink rose petals. J. C. Howard attended Mr. Hammon as best man and the groomsmen and ushers included Fred Leachman, Billy Leachman, Robert Taylor and Frederick Farmer.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlors. Mrs. Ozley received her guests in a dress of steel blue chrystallette with matching accessories. She wore cream colored cymbidium orchids. She was assisted by Mrs. Hammons whose chose a dress of French blue with matching jacket trimmed with rhinestones. Her corsage was of pink cymbidium orchids.

The bride's table was covered with a white lace cloth over blue satin decorated with pink roses further carrying out the pink and blue theme. Assisting were Mrs. Ed Yarborough, Mrs. Jack Taylor, Miss Mary Sue Hammons of Arcadia, Mrs. K. L. Taylor, Mrs. Dwight Cole, Mrs. R. L. Taylor and Miss Alvern Hartwig, of Ruston, Mrs. Otis Hammons, Mrs. George Cawthorn, and Mrs. Joe Storey, of Minden and Mrs. M. L. Kilpatrick of Ringgold.

For their wedding trip to Houston and the Gulf Coast, Mrs. Hammons traveled in a suit of blue silk tweed made with a military collar trimmed in rhinestones. Her accessories were blue.

Mr. and Mrs. Hammons are at home in Arcadia where they will continue their studies at Louisiana Tech.

Pearl Cases Celebrate 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Pearl W. Case of route 3, Monroe, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary at an open house at their home between 2 and 5 o'clock Sunday.

The couple's children, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Case, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Case of Delhi, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Case, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Gibbs and Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Emerel of West Monroe were hosts at the party.

In the living room where Mr. and Mrs. Case and their children received guests were arrangements of yellow gladioli with greenery and gold leaves.

The dining table, overlaid in a white cloth was centered with a tiered wedding cake decorated with gold streamers and lace. A golden wedding bell bearing the numeral "50" was featured on top of the cake.

Alternating at the cake service were Mrs. John Haley and Mrs. Bonnie Cash.

Mrs. Cecil Case, Mrs. M. C. Case and Mrs. Lee Case presided at the coffee service during the afternoin.

Punch was served by Mrs. Carl Hopkins. Miss Joy Emerel and Mrs. Mickey Holly assisted with courtesies in the dining room.

Mrs. Tony Hally presided at the guest book.

MISS FRANCES RABB, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Rabb of this city, will wed Roy Lee Holloway, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Holloway, also of Monroe, on February 10. The wedding will be solemnized at Our Lady of Fatima Church at 6 o'clock in the evening.

Mrs. Watson Is Honored At Bridal Shower

Mrs. O. C. Watson, Jr., a recent bride, was entertained at a bridal shower given by Mrs. G. T. Hinton, Jr., Mrs. T. W. Hardaway, Mrs. E. E. Sims, Mrs. Ted Nethery, Mrs. Sam David, Mrs. N. C. Thompson and Mrs. J. A. Lindsey in the American Legion hall at Olla Friday night.

Floral arrangements in white and pink were noted throughout the reception hall.

The refreshment table, overlaid in a soft pink cloth, was centered with an arrangement of white gladioli and greenery flanked by burning white tapers in silver candle holders. A large crystal punch bowl was placed at one end of the table.

The gift table where Mrs. Ted Nethery and Mrs. T. W. Hardaway assisted, was also adorned with an arrangement of pink and white blossoms.

Mrs. Watson chose for the party a navy taffeta creation complemented by a corsage of yellow mums.

Miss Janet Craig presided at the guest book.

ROAMIN' IN THE RURAL

—With Euna Spielman

Study And Plan Needs Of The Year

We can't do much on the "outside" these cold, bad days, so let's do some thinking, planning, and studying inside. Maybe these dreary inside days will be more profitable than the happy sunshine days outside the house.

Clothing Economy

Here are ten practical rules to remember if we desire to practice clothing economy: Invest in good quality fabrics. Avoid many cheap-looking accessories. Don't be a slave to fashion. Don't strive for a large wardrobe. Avoid frivperies, noisy clothes. But with reference to up-keep. Respect fabrics and trimmings that have served you well. Select good simple designs. Build around one basic color. Mend weak spots immediately.

Buying A Chair

A physician, who has spent fifteen years in research on muscular pain and serves as consultant to designers of industrial seating, tells what a chair should do to make sitting a safe, comfortable, and restful procedure.

Many people sit in chairs which are uncomfortable, do not fit, and which do not support their bodies adequately. Fatigue, discomfort, poor posture, muscular pain, and tension may be results of trying to relax or work in an unsuitable chair.

No ideal chair exists. If such a chair did exist, it would automatically adjust itself to the dimensions of each user: seat depth and height, the slope of its back, and arm height; and give comfortable support and allow freedom of motion.

A chair for sit-down jobs in the kitchen should support the back and leave the arms free at about the level of the work surface. A desk or work table that is too high starts muscular aching in the neck, shoulders, and upper back. Work surface and chair should be checked for comfortable height and relation to each other.

There are certain measurements to look for in shopping for chairs. The depth of the chair seat from front to rear is a highly important consideration. Nineteen inches is the seat depth best suited to the average person. At the back of chair, support and slant are needed to bolster the back at the shoulders seventeen to nineteen inches above the seat. The slant of the back should depend on the slant of the seat but if the chair has a "rake" of four inches, there will be little tendency to slide. If an arm chair, the arms should be approximately seven inches above the seat for most people. The height of seat should be as high as the human leg from knee to floor. The sitting test should be applied to all chairs or divans to see if they will be comfortable for those for whom it is being purchased.

A Splendid Leaders Report

Mrs. Hazel McGraw, a member of the McClendon Club, prepared and gave a talk on, "The Three Objectives in Furnishing A Home." She obtained her information from a library book entitled, "Home Furnishings" by Anna Hong Rutt. Here are some points brought out by Hazel.

Three of the most important objectives in furnishing a home are "beauty" which means to describe all well designed and pleasing things. One simple definition of "beauty" is that a combination of qualities that is pleasing to the termed eye or ear.

Then the next objective to furnishing a home is, "Expressiveness" which means the character of a home or the personality of a home. Just a few of the ideas that are expressed in homes are, repose, formality, warmth, coolness, strength and freshness.

The next objective of furnishing a home is functionalism which means whenever we select a piece of furniture for the home we should first find out if it will give the maximum of service, comfort, and pleasure for the minimum of care. Every phase of home planning and furnishings should be based on function. An example of functionalism is kitchen appliances which we have to function perfect. Material, too, should follow function. Garden furniture should be waterproofed and upholstery fabrics should be durable.

Fireside delight for small fry: a hot toasted marshmallow and a square of milk chocolate sandwiched between two graham crackers.

MISS ALYCE RUTH EDMONDSON'S engagement to Roy Nash Fair is announced today by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Edmondson of Lake Providence. Mr. Fair is the son of Mrs. Thomas Fields and the late Tracy Fair of Shreveport. Miss Edmondson is a sophomore nursing student in the Northwestern School of Nursing. The prospective bridegroom is stationed in San Diego, Calif., with the U. S. Navy. The date of the wedding has not been set.

Miss Wilson Is Wed To Bill Starnes

TALLULAH—Miss Juanita Faye Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Wilson and Bill Starnes of Alexandria, La. son of the Rev. and Mrs. G. Paul Starnes of El Dorado, Ark., were married at the Montrose Baptist church south of Tallulah on Friday evening at eight o'clock. The double ring ceremony was performed by the bridegroom's father. Arrangements of white gladioli in floor baskets and a white arch against a background of greenery formed the decorations for the wedding.

The nuptial music was rendered by Miss Jean Burkhalter who accompanied Mr. Gene Wilson who sang, "Because" and as a benediction, "The Lord's Prayer."

Miss Delores Crosby, the bride's only attendant wore a pink afternoon dress and a matching corsage of carnations.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a white faille dress with white accessories. She carried a bouquet of feathered carnations centered with a white orchid on a Bible.

Bobby Denton of Shreveport served as best man and the ushers were Bruce Faught and Bob Crosby.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Wilson wore a brown suit with matching accessories and a corsage of yellow carnations. The bridegroom's mother wore navy and a white carnation corsage.

After the ceremony the couple left for a short trip and on their return will reside in Alexandria where Mr. Starnes is employed by a railroad company.

Making sandwiches ahead? Wrap them tightly in waxed paper and then cover them with a damp towel; store in the refrigerator. The sandwiches have a good chance of tasting fresh this way.

DANIEL P. M'DANIEL, of Downsville, is pictured as he blows out the candles on the birthday cake at the party celebrating his 92 birthday. With him is his granddaughter, Mrs. O. K. Custer of Calhoun. Attending the party were his children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren, also a host of friends.

Literary Club Has Election

Mangham Literary Club held its monthly meeting in the home of Mrs. R. B. Boughton with Mrs. John F. Boughton as co-hostess. The president, Mrs. Odelle DeVille called the meeting to order.

Mrs. DeVille introduced the program chairman, Mrs. Emmett Landrum. Guests for the night were Mr. Odelle DeVille, FFA advisor, and six FFA boys, John Brown, Floyd Baker, Roger Boughton, Henry Chriceal, James Hendrix, and Billy Ray Lowery who presented the club members with a demonstration of correct parliamentary procedure. They used three ways, roll call vote, secret ballot vote, and the rising vote. Floyd Baker gave characteristics of an ideal presiding officer. The Panel Forum was enjoyed by all and the ideas presented were very informative. Refreshments were served at this time by Mrs. R. B. Boughton and Mrs. John F. Boughton.

Minutes of the last meeting and roll call were given followed by a treasury's report.

The club members elected the following officers who will take over in September, 1956 and hold office for the two following years They are president, Mrs. Woodford Marlowe, vice-president, Mrs. Jo Ann McKay, recording secretary, Mrs. Theo Jones, corresponding secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Kenneth McDonald, Jr., parliamentarian, Mrs. Odelle DeVille, and reporter, Mrs. Ed Henkel. The topic for study for next year was decided upon but a definite title will be given it later.

February meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Harvey Tillman The hostesses will be Mrs. Charles Tillman and Mrs. Jo Ann McKay.

Some mincemeat leftover from holiday pies? Add it to muffin or cup cake batter.

Miss Chauvin Is Engaged

FERRIDAY—Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Chauvin, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Helen Chauvin Long, to Jacob Wesley Warden, the son of Mrs. L. A. Warden of Clayton and the late Mr. Warden.

The wedding will be solemnized on February 11 in the Sevier Memorial Methodist church with the Rev. Don Alverson, pastor officiating. A reception will be given at the home of the bride-elect on Tennessee Avenue following the ceremony.

Here's a delicious accompaniment to broiled lamb chops. Spread well - drained canned pineapple rings with soft butter or margarine and sprinkle lightly with ground nutmeg. Put the pineapple rings under the broiler about five minutes before the lamb chops are finished.

Marinate canned peach halves and serve with baked ham. For the marinade mix a little of the peach juice with light corn syrup, cider vinegar and mixed whole spices Simmer before adding the peach halves. Let the peaches stand in the marinade in the refrigerator for several hours at least before serving.

Study And Plan Needs Of The Year

We can't do much on the "outside" these cold, bad days, so let's do some thinking, planning, and studying inside. Maybe these dreary inside days will be more profitable than the happy sunshine days outside the house.

Clothing Economy

Here are ten practical rules to remember if we desire to practice clothing economy: Invest in good quality fabrics. Avoid many cheap-looking accessories. Don't be a slave to fashion. Don't strive for a large wardrobe. Avoid fripperies, noisy clothes. But with reference to up-keep. Respect fabrics and trimmings that have served you well. Select good simple designs. Build around one basic color. Mend weak spots immediately.

Buying A Chair

A physician, who has spent fifteen years in research on muscular pain and serves as consultant to designers of industrial seating, tells what a chair should do to make sitting a safe, comfortable, and restful procedure.

Many people sit in chairs which are uncomfortable, do not fit, and which do not support their bodies adequately. Fatigue, discomfort, poor posture, muscular pain, and tension may be results of trying to relax or work in an unsuitable chair.

There are certain measurements to look for in shopping for chairs. The depth of the chair seat from front to rear is a highly important consideration. Nineteen inches is the seat depth best suited to the average person. At the back of chair, support and slant are needed to bolster the back at the shoulders seventeen to nineteen inches above the seat. The slant of the back should depend on the slant of the seat but if the chair has a "rake" of four inches, there will be little tendency to slide. If an arm chair, the arms should be approximately seven inches above the seat for most people. The height of seat should be as high as the human leg from knee to floor. Great Variety Of Ground Covers

The trip to New Orleans was quite enjoyable. The plants had all been affected by the cold and looked very much like our plant life here in Ouachita Parish. The banana plants that were green in January last year had been killed back by the freezes. I didn't have an opportunity to see any camellias.

Garden Ramlins'

A number of gardeners have been interested in the plants in Mrs. Cummings garden, since we made the Christmas tour in December. This is a lovely garden, beautiful in its simplicity and in its absence of plants. We're all prone to plant too much. The new houses need few large plants, if any.

A most interesting bed in the Cummings yard (on the left as you enter the front door) had only ground covers and a large variegated century plant (agave). One of the interesting ground covers was sedum. Others were masses of different texture and color, some gray, some green. Sedam (Hens and Chicks) gave a variety in foliage. The vine on the right of the front door was Fats Hederer, a cross between Fatsia Japonica and English Ivy. Fatsia Japonica is an interesting plant found in a few gardens. The course foliage, (large leaf) gives an interesting contrast. The plant can be kept a shrub or can be trained to climb.

Some ground covers, other than sedum, mosses, hen and chicks are: trailing lantana (deciduous), strawberry geranium (disappears in winter) ajuga, sweet alyssum, ferns (many die in winter), hosta (green or variegated', asperdistra (can be found in variegated), monkey grass, liriope (variegated more interesting), day lilies, verbena, ivy (there are many varieties, some variegated), oxalis, pachysandra, vinca (there's a variegated improved variety).

Back to ferns — there are evergreen varieties on the market. Maiden hair is a lovely light green cover. Most ferns like some shade, rich soil and plenty of water. The old woods fern, so very beautiful grows around bogs and branches.

Landscape architects are using ground covers in beds next to the new low roof houses. Often there will just be a bed of these covers and one interesting plant.

The hardy white iris or the purple or wedgewood blue can cover a slope where mowing is difficult. They'll soon multiply and give the effect of a ground cover. Using them in that manner they'd have to be divided and reset only every six or eight years. Blooms you'd appreciate — yes — but the main idea is to get a foliage and roots to keep down erosion.

For those with large gardens, ground covers can cut down the upkeep. Entire areas can be given over to a vine or plant. Maybe you'd like to plant bulbs with the ground cover — Then their unsightly foliage would be hid as it died. For new gardners, remember — bulb foliage should never be cut. Let it die. This foliage feeds the bulbs for next year's bloom. (Older gardeners, pardon the repetition).

Doctors Kimbrough and Hanchey say in their new bulletin on daffodils: "Sometimes when flowers are cut, some leaves are also cut to add some green to the arrangement. This is definitely injurious to the plant. A certain amount of light is necessary for leaves to function properly in the manufacture of food. If light is insufficient good results should not be expected." By the way — you who are interested in narcissus, jonquils and daffodils should call for one of these bulletins, "Daffodils." number 3-2251 or write me.

Tulip Tree

The tulip tree that has a chartreuse bloom in April, is not the purple magnolia. There's so much confusion about those two plants—because the purple magnolia has a bloom that resembles a tulip, it has been misnamed tulip tree. The real tulip tree belongs to the poplar family and grows to a very large size making an ideal shade tree. The blooms are lovely in corsages and flower arrangements — but the stems are short. So next time there's an ad that mentions tulip trees, remember that's not the purple magnolia.

February Plentifuls

Pork, beef and potatoes — ideal foods for cold weather meals — are the featured items on the February Plentiful Foods List of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. You know this monthly naming of plentiful foods is of real interest to the housewife. The United States Department of Agriculture program is set up to expand the market for foods which are in plentiful supply. They keep us informed and if we consumers would buy those foods at the time they are in plentiful supply, we could help avoid the surpluses of farm products.

Each food designated for this Plentiful Food List must be in plentiful supply in most market areas of the country; commonly used by most people and generally available in retail food stores. Meeting the above requirements for February are: Lamb, broilers and fryers, apples, fresh and processed grapefruit, rice, celery, lettuce, carrots, cabbage, dry beans, milk and other dairy products, canned tuna in oil, peanut butter, vegetable fats and oils and lard.

America's food marketing system is the vital link that joins the producer and the consumer. It quickly reflects shifts in supply, the disaster of crop failure or the excessive bounties of nature. It is equally responsive to variations in consumer demand. The Plentiful Foods Program is mainly concerned with the excessive bounties of Nature and consumer demand.

The menefits of the Plentiful Foods Program are: For the consumer — the best possible value for food expenditures; for the farmer — better markets and better returns; for the food trades — increased sales opportunities; for the nation — efficient use of abundant food production.

Announcements

Your "Open House" shows for next week are as follows: Monday, Audrey Dawson and 4-H club members from Ouachita Parish will show you the need for breakfast; Tuesday Irene Fallin from Franklin Parish will show you materials for new beauty and use; Wednesday, Mary Margaret will bring you the blue ribbon flower arrangement from the fifth district garden center and we'll see many different ground covers; Thursday, Miss Cooley, specialist from Louisiana State University Extension in Baton Rouge will give us some fine buying information; Friday is Marketing Day with Mildred and Mammy.

Have you seen the aluminum trays in colors? Peggy Garnett's class at the recreation center is working on these chartreuse, fuchsia and blue trays. You're invited to join this class every Friday afternoon from one 'till four o'clock.

See you next Sunday.

SOUTHERN GARDENER—

By William Lanier Hunt

Ferriday Woman Wins Top Prize

It is certainly noteworthy that a southern woman, Mrs. U. B. Evans, of Ferriday, La., has won the distinction of being chosen "The Woman Who Has Done Most for Horticulture during 1955" in the United States. Louisiana may well stick its chest out because Mrs. Walter Colquitt of Shreveport won it last year! This award will be presented on Feb. 4 at Alexandria, La., by Mr. Adrian Frylick of the Horticultural Foundation of New York, and, as most everybody knows, entitles the winner to a trip to the gardens of Europe this spring. The organization of the Louisiana Society for Horticultural Research which sent Prof. Ike Nelson to South America to collect new amaryllises is an accomplishment for which Mrs. Evans can well be proud. Your columnist feels that the Foundation had not the slightest difficulty in making their choice this year! Gardeners in Shreveport, Houston, New Orleans and in Mississippi where your columnist has been lecturing and studying recently were very excited about the honor bestowed upon our very own "Jo Evans".

It was interesting to see Houston gardeners experimenting with Australian and New Zealand plants. The Test Garden full of Spuria irises looked lusty. The presence of a little iris rot provoked the suggestion from your columnist that the beds should be raised in a place like Houston where they have such a great amount of rainfall. The drought which most of the south had from late fall until recently will not last much longer. Even up in the hills away from the sea, it is well to raise the beds in which most kinds of iris are being grown. If you raise them a foot when they are made, they will sink back to six inches.

The cold crisp weather in Houston and New Orleans had not killed the poinsettias nor the sweet white heads of narcissus. In New Orleans, the Garden Society has handsome new quarters on Prytania street in the uptown section a long way from their old meeting place and garden center in the French Quarter in one of the patios. These garden centers are a great source of information in every community where people are fortunate enough to have them. I have been especially impressed with the work of the one in Monroe under the guidance of Mrs. Jardine and the one in Durham under Mrs. Frank. A garden center is a sort of local botanical garden for the community and its environs. You can drop in there and get information about plants and their culture. Most of them have rather good libraries, and you can rest your bones for a bit while you read up on something you have wanted to know about. If you have never visited a garden center, you have a treat in store for you when you do.

State Flower Show To Be Held Ruston Mar. 3, 4.

The Louisiana Garden Club Federation will present the Eighth State Flower Show in Ruston, La., on March 3 and 4, 1956. The annual convention will be held concurrently. Theme of the show, which will be staged in the beautiful Louisiana Tech Memorial Gymnasium, will be "Contemporary Louisiana." Schedules have been mailed to all federated club presidents, listing the assignments in the arrangement division. The horticulture section is open to all federated club members. Gardeners! this is your opportunity to show the entire state your skill in growing plants and flowers. Consult your club president and be sure to make several entries in the horticulture division. The public is cordially invited to attend this outstanding garden event. There is no admission charge. The time is Saturday, March 3, 4:00 to 9:00 p.m., Sunday March 4, 9:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m.

The Green Thumb Garden club of Ruston staged a delightful flower show at the Garden Center this week. The arrangements were point scored by an accredited judge. In the arrangement section first place blue ribbon was awarded to Mrs. Earl Puddy. A brown rectangular bowl held the triangular line mass arrangement of pussy willow branches, nandina foliage and five yellow chrysanthemums tinged with bronze. The combination of materials and colors was very lovely.

Mrs. E. P. Cole was awarded second place. Mrs. Cole chose a free form black bowl for a container in which she created a lovely winter arrangement. Green ferns were massed in the background with the budded branch of of flowering almond as a secondary placement. The center of interest was a cluster of achyranthes foliage in a deep wine shade. Transition in color and texture was achieved by the introduction of Wandering Jew (tradescantia) in green, silver and purple shades.

Mrs. Frank Kaylor created a beautiful foliage arrangement, triangular in design. A modern chartreuse bowl blended in color with the plant material. The triangular pattern was formed with the glossy foliage of ligustrum. Folded aspidistra leaves were placed low in the arrangement adding depth and background for the focal point, which was a rosette of mullein in grey green shades.

Here's an item of interest. Researchers at Michigan State University are working to dwarf shade trees, so that they will properly accent the new, low modern homes. Horticulturists G. S. Rai and C. L. Hamner think the chemical Maleic Hydrazide possibly may be successful in stunting the growth of some broadleaf and evergreen trees to fit them into their man-made surroundings. The same chemical currently is used to prevent the sprouting of oinions and potatoes. Tests are now being made to determine how much chemical it takes to dwarf the trees and how much the trees can take without injury. We will be looking forward to these developments with interest as shade is a "must" in Louisiana.

Pork chops that are half an inch thick will need to be braised, after browning, for one - half to three - quarters of an hour.

Millions Now Enrolled In Historic Y. M. C. A.

The founder of the American YMCA once faced down a boarding pirate — armed only with a Bible.

The Y's first library consisted of five books — all published in Polynesian.

A man who once served the YMCA as a janitor helped shape its world destinies. A painter, noted for the delicacy of his landscapes, originated its war service tradition.

These are but a few of the unusual facts that come to light as the YMCA, here and elsewhere throughout the United tates, celebrates "National YMCA Week." Today, Sunday, January 29 concludes a nationwide week long observance.

There are many other facts, equally as surprising, studding the history of the Young Men's Christian Association in America, which now has a membership of more than 3,000,000 and serves nearly 900 towns and cities through 1726 branches.

The world founder of the YMCA movement was a drapery clerk in London, England. Fifty years later he was knighted by Queen Victoria because of his selfless Christian service. He was George Williams.

The first Association in the U. S. took root in Boston on Dec. 29, 1851. Its founder was Captain Thomas V. Sullivan, retired skipper turned missionary. Today he remains the most picturesque figure in the movement's history.

The YMCA philosophy of practical Christianity found fertile soil in the United States. Within a year Associations dotted the country. Two of these were the New York City and the Washington Association which were founded a day a part.

During the first decade in America there was no exact program formula. Most "Y's" conducted Bible classes, lectures and prayer meetings. In addition others carried on work for "indigent boys and girls", fought yellow fever epidemics and conducted numerous charitable and missionary projects. Not until the Civil War were the associations in the United States united in a single concerted effort. This was the United States Christian commission, forerunner of the Red Cross and the USO. It was first suggested by Vincent Colyer, a noted painter of the period. Before the war was over the commission had put 5,000 workers into the field. Forty-three died in service, three of them women.

Robert Ross McBurney was chiefly responsible for changing the purpose of the association to include the work "Physical." This launched the "Y's" work in health and physical education. In 1896 the New York City YMCA opened up its new permanent home, the first YMCA building conceived and constructed primarily to implement Y" objectives. Among its facilities was a gymnasium, the first of the hundreds that were to follow.

Great Variety Of Ground Covers

The trip to New Orleans was quite enjoyable. The plants had all been affected by the cold and looked very much like our plant life here in Ouachita Parish. The banana plants that were green in January last year had been killed back by the freezes. I didn't have an opportunity to see any camellias.

Garden Ramlins'

A number of gardeners have been interested in the plants in Mrs. Cummings garden, since we made the Christmas tour in December. This is a lovely garden, beautiful in its simplicity and in its absence of plants. We're all prone to plant too much. The new houses need few large plants, if any.

A most interesting bed in the Cummings yard (on the left as you enter the front door) had only ground covers and a large variegated century plant (agave). One of the interesting ground covers was sedum. Others were masses of different texture and color, some gray, some green. Sedam (Hens and Chicks) gave a variety in foliage. The vine on the right of the front door was Fats Hederica and English Ivy. Fatsia Japonica is an interesting plant found in a few gardens. The course foliage, (large leaf) gives an interesting contrast. The plant can be kept a shrub or can be trained to climb.

Some ground covers, other than sedum, mosses, hen and chicks are: trailing lantana (deciduous), strawberry geranium (disappears in winter) ajuga, sweet alyssum, ferns (many die in winter), hosta (green or varigated', asperdistra (can be found in variegated), monkey grass, liriope (variegated more interesting), day lilies, verbena, ivy (there are many varieties, some variegated), oxalis, pachysandra, vinca (there's a variegated improved variety).

Back to ferns — there are evergreen varieties on the market. Maiden hair is a lovely light green cover. Most ferns like some shade, rich soil and plenty of water. The old woods fern, so very beautiful grows around bogs and branches.

Landscape architects are using ground covers in beds next to the new low roof houses. Often there will just be a bed of these covers and one interesting plant.

The hardy white iris or the purple or wedgewood blue can cover a slope where mowing is difficult. They'll soon multiply and give the effect of a ground cover. Using them in that manner they'd have to be divided and reset only every six or eight years. Blooms you'd appreciate — yes — but the main idea is to get a foliage and roots to keep down erosion.

For those with large gardens, ground covers can cut down the upkeep. Entire areas can be given over to a vine or plant. Maybe you'd like to plant bulbs with the ground cover — Then their unsightly foliage would be hid as it died. For new gardners, remember — bulb foliage should never be cut. Let it die. This foliage feeds the bulbs for next year's bloom. (Older gardeners, pardon the repetition).

Doctors Kimbrough and Hanchey say in their new bulletin on daffodils: "Sometimes when flowers are cut, some leaves are also cut to add some green to the arrangement. This is definitely injurious to the plant. A certain amount of light is necessary for leaves to function properly in the manufacture of food. If light is insufficient good results should not be expected." By the way — you who are interested in narcissus, jonquils and daffodils should call for one of these bulletins, "Daffodils." number 3-2251 or write me.

Tulip Tree

The tulip tree that has a chartreuse bloom in April, is not the purple magnolia. There's so much confusion about those two plants—because the purple magnolia has a bloom that resembles a tulip, it has been misnamed tulip tree. The real tulip tree belongs to the poplar family and grows to a very large size making an ideal shade tree. The blooms are lovely in corsages and flower arrangements — but the stems are short. So next time there's an ad that mentions tulip trees, remember that's not the purple magnolia.

February Plentifuls

Pork, beef and potatoes — ideal foods for cold weather meals — are the featured items on the February Plentiful Foods List of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. You know this monthly naming of plentiful foods is of real interest to the housewife. The United States Department of Agriculture program is set up to expand the market for foods which are in plentiful supply. They keep us informed and if we consumers would buy those foods at the time they are in plentiful supply, we could help avoid the surpluses of farm products.

Each food designated for this Plentiful Food List must be in plentiful supply in most market areas of the country; commonly used by most people and generally available in retail food stores. Meeting the above requirements for February are: Lamb, broilers and fryers, apples, fresh and processed grapefruit, rice, celery, lettuce, carrots, cabbage, dry beans, milk and other dairy products, canned tuna in oil, peanut butter, vegetable fats and oils and lard.

America's food marketing system is the vital link that joins the producer and the consumer. It quickly reflects shifts in supply, the disaster of crop failure or the excessive bounties of nature. It is equally responsive to variations in consumer demand. The Plentiful Foods Program is mainly concerned with the excessive bounties of Nature and consumer demand.

The menefits of the Plentiful Foods Program are: For the consumer — the best possible value for food expenditures; for the farmer — better markets and better returns; for the food trades — increased sales opportunities; for the nation — efficient use of abundant food production.

Announcements

Your "Open House" shows for next week are as follows: Monday, Audrey Dawson and 4-H club members from Ouachita Parish will show you the need for breakfast; Tuesday Irene Fallin from Franklin Parish will show you materials for new beauty and use; Wednesday, Mary Margaret will bring you the blue ribbon flower arrangement from the fifth district garden center and we'll see many different ground covers; Thursday, Miss Cooley, specialist from Louisiana State University Extension in Baton Rouge will give us some fine buying information; Friday is Marketing Day with Mildred and Mammy.

Have you seen the aluminum trays in colors? Peggy Garnett's class at the recreation center is working on these chartreuse, fuchsia and blue trays. You're invited to join this class every Friday afternoon from one 'till four o'clock.

See you next Sunday.

Serve a salad - dessert after a dinner menu that features a roast. Arrange orange sections, bananas and sliced apples on salad greens. Blend mayonnaise, whipped cream and grated orange rind for the dressing.

SPECIMEN CAMELLIA—This Rosea Superba variegated camellia which is very much like the Purple Dawn, from which it originated, was secured from H. H. Land's greenhouse of rare camellia plants at 502 McKinley. The bloom measured 5" in diameter and has a pinkish red cast with occasional white flakes. The Rosea Superba's blooming season is the same as that of the Purple Dawn. (Staff photo by John Fogleman.)

SOUTHERN GARDENER—

By William Lanier Hunt

Ferriday Woman Wins Top Prize

It is certainly noteworthy that a southern woman, Mrs. U. B. Evans, of Ferriday, La., has won the distinction of being chosen "The Woman Who Has Done Most for Horticulture during 1955" in the United States. Louisiana may well stick its chest out because Mrs. Walter Colquitt of Shreveport won it last year! This award will be presented on Feb. 4 at Alexandria, La., by Mr. Adrian Frylick of the Horticultural Foundation of New York, and, as most everybody knows, entitles the winner to a trip to the gardens of Europe this spring. The organization of the Louisiana Society for Horticultural Research which sent Prof. Ike Nelson to South America to collect new amaryllises is an accomplishment for which Mrs. Evans can well be proud. Your columnist feels that the Foundation had not the slightest difficulty in making their choice this year! Gardeners in Shreveport, Houstcn, New Orleans and in Mississippi where your columnist has been lecturing and studying recently were very excited about the honor bestowed upon our very own "Jo Evans".

It was interesting to see Houston gardeners experimenting with Australian and New Zealand plants. The Test Garden full of Spuria irises looked lusty. The presence of a little iris rot provoked the suggestion from your columnist that the beds should be raised in a place like Houston where they have such a great amount of rainfall. The drought which most of the south had from late fall until recently will not last much longer. Even up in the hills away from the sea, it is well to raise the beds in which most kinds of iris are being grown. If you raise them a foot when they are made, they will sink back to six inches.

The cold crisp weather in Houston and New Orleans had not killed the poinsettias nor the sweet white heads of narcissus. In New Orleans, the Garden Society has handsome new quarters on Prytania street in the uptown section a long way from their old meeting place and garden center in the French Quarter in one of the patios. These garden centers are a great source of information in every community where people are fortunate enough to have them. I have been especially impressed with the work of the one in Monroe under the guidance of Mrs. Jardine and the one in Durham under Mrs. Frank. A garden center is a sort of local botanical garden for the community and its environs. You can drop in there and get information about plants and their culture. Most of them have rather good libraries, and you can rest your bones for a bit while you read up on something you have wanted to know about. If you have never visited a garden center, you have a treat in store for you when you do.

Millions Now Enrolled In Historic Y.M.C.A.

The founder of the American YMCA once faced down a boarding pirate — armed only with a Bible.

The Y's first library consisted of five books — all published in Polynesian.

A man who once served the YMCA as a janitor helped shape its world destinies. A painter, noted for the delicacy of his landscapes, originated its war service tradition.

These are but a few of the unusual facts that come to light as the YMCA, here and elsewhere throughout the United tates, celebrates "National YMCA Week." Today, Sunday, January 29 concludes a nationwide week long observance.

There are many other facts, equally as surprising, studding the history of the Young Men's Christian Association in America, which now has a membership of more than 3,000,000 and serves nearly 900 towns and cities through 1726 branches.

The world founder of the YMCA movement was a drapery clerk in London, England. Fifty years later he was knighted by Queen Victoria because of his selfless Christian service. He was George Williams.

The first Association in the U. S. took root in Boston on Dec. 29, 1851. Its founder was Captain Thomas V. Sullivan, retired skipper turned missionary. Today he remains the most picturesque figure in the movement's history.

The YMCA philosophy of practical Christianity found fertile soil in the United States. Within a year Associations dotted the country. Two of these were the New York City and the Washington Association which were founded a day a part.

During the first decade in America there was no exact program formula. Most "Y's" conducted Bible classes, lectures and prayer meetings. In addition others carried on work for "indigent boys and girls", fought yellow fever epidemics and conducted numerous charitable and missionary projects. Not until the Civil War were the associations in the United States united in a single concerted effort. This was the United States Christian commission, forerunner of the Red Cross and the USO. It was first suggested by Vincent Colyer, a noted painter of the period. Before the war was over the commission had put 5,000 workers into the field. Forty-three died in service, three of them women.

Robert Ross McBurney was chiefly responsible for changing the purpose of the association to include the work "Physical." This launched the "Y's" work in health and physical education. In 1896 the New York City YMCA opened up its new permanent home, the first YMCA building conceived and constructed primarily to implement Y" objectives. Among its facilities was a gymnasium, the first of the hundreds that were to follow.

National Red Cross Head To Confer Here Thursday

ELLSWORTH BUNKER

Ellsworth Bunker, president of the American National Red Cross, will be in Monroe, Thursday, to confer with local Red Cross leaders on the organizations nationwide campaign for members and funds, it was announced here yesterday.

Bunker was made the chief executive officer in January, 1954 of the Red Cross in an administrative change authorized by the board of directors.

In the change, E. Roland Harriman who was appointed by the President of the United States as volunteer head of the vast organization, was changed from president to chairman. Harriman is still the principle officer.

A native of Yonkers, N. Y., Bunker graduated from Yale University in 1916. He has since acquired interests in sugar companies of Cuba, Puerto Rico and Mexico; helped organize the Sugar Research Foundation; and served two years as U.S. Ambassador to Argentina and Italy, one year each beginning in 1951.

He retired from active personal business management in 1951 when he accepted the diplomatic post to Argentina.

Currently Bunker is a director of the National Sugar Refining Co.; chairman of the Cane Sugar Refiners Association; director of the American Hawaiian Steamship Co. the General Baking Co., and the Bankers Trust Co.; a trustee of the Atlantic Mutual Insurance Co., and the Centennial Insurance Co. He is president of the America-Italy Society; a founder and trustee of Marlboro College, Marlboro, Vt.; a trustee of the Union Settlement of New York, the New School for Social Research, and the Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation; and a member of the Council on Foreign Relations.

Considering himself a Vermonter by adoption, Bunker maintains a dairy and stock farm at Putney in that state.

Art Exhibit Set To Open Feb. 5

NATCHITOCHES, Jan. 28 (Special) — Twenty-seven paintings by some of the foremost artists in America will be exhibited at Northwestern State College for two weeks beginning Feb. 5, and extending through Feb. 19, it was announced here today.

Visitors from Shreveport, Alexandria, Monroe and other surrounding cities are expected to attend the opening of the exhibit. A reception will be held from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m. for those attending on opening day.

Collected from a total of 4,000 water color paintings accepted by the Ford Motor Company over a period of several years, the 27 paintings have appeared in the Ford Times and Lincoln - Mercury Times from year to year.

Included in the exhibit will be a scene painted by Orville Hanchey, head of the art department at NSC, and entitled "Fireworks at Christmas." It is a likeness of the Christmas festival parade and fireworks display along Cane River Lake held here annually.

Hanchey, whose painting is the only one to be included from Louisiana, is well known for his ability to paint and design. A native of Louisiana, he is a graduate of Northwestern, and attended the University of Chicago, where his works in sculpture received national publicity. Both the New York Times magazine section and Look magazine published stories on the unusual designs created by Hanchey.

Local Resident's Mother, 82, Dies In Alexandria

Funeral services for Mrs. Ella Lydia Webster, 82, of Alexandria, who died Friday night in the Baptist hospital there, will be held at 3 p.m. today at St. Francis Xavier Cathedral in Alexandria.

She was the mother of J. W. Webster of Monroe.

Rosary services for Mrs. Webster were held at 8 p.m. Saturday at the John Kramer and Son Funeral Home in Alexandria. Interment will be in the Forest Lawn cemetery at Pineville.

Besides J. W. Webster, Mrs. Webster is survived by three other sons, Frederick Lenard Webster and Thomas O. Webster, both of Alexandria, and Noble Leo Webster of Tyler, Tex.; one daughter, Mrs. W. A. Lindsey, of Alexandria; 10 grandchildren and 20 great grandchildren.

Pallbearers will be her grandsons.

Christian Science Lecutre On Mon.

George Channing, member of the board of lectureship of the mother church, the First Church of Christ, Scientists, Boston, Mass., will deliver a lecture in Brown Hall, at Northeast State College, Monday at 8 p.m. The public is invited.

The address will be entitled: "Christian Science: Its Constructive Mission."

Channing states that the threat of destruction that is now so vividly in the minds of mankind, it is not in accord with the teachings of Christianity. In his talk he will show how Christian Science builds up mankind to counteract such evil influences and to live a full life. The dignity and individuality of mankind, he believes, are indestructible.

Sentell, Of Hodge, Elected To Head Conservationists

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 28 (Special) — N. W. Sentell, Hodge, La., was elected president of the Southern Pulpwood Conservation Association in Atlanta.

Sentell, formerly vice president of the association, is employed by the Southern Advance Bag and Paper Division of Robert Gair at Hodge. He said, "Over 560 representatives of 36 pulp and paper mills attended the annual meeting this year, indicating that there is much interest in forestry conservation in our industry."

The Louisiana president pointed out that although the pulp and paper industry owns only 6.3 per cent of the forest land in 12 southern states, it had planted 768 million pine seedlings over an eight-year period and given 191 million seedlings to private landowners.

State Forester James E. Mixon of the Louisiana Forestry Commission, Baton Rouge, spoke to the association informally, telling them of the problems faced by a state organization in combining private, state and industry forces in forest fire fighting. Don Smith, Shreveport, a forester for SPCA, took part in the two-day program.

Louisiana pulp and paper mills represented at the meeting were International Paper Co., Springhill and Bastrop; Southern Advance Bag and Paper, Hodge; and Gaylord Container Corp., Bogalusa.

State Patrolmen Make 45 Charges During Past Week

Forty-five charges were filed by Troop F of the Louisiana State police in this area during the past week, according to a report yesterday.

Six of the charges were for drunken driving, while the remainder were other traffic charges.

Those charged with drunk driving included William F. Crownover, 31, 3801 Harrison, Monroe; Jake Blackwell, 50, 709 Oak Street, Monroe; Kelly Jones, 42, Negro, of Hodge; Ernest Dunn, 36, 803 Blazier Street, West Monroe; Sammie L. Standard, 34, Route 2, West Monroe; and Cordell Phillips, 29, Andrews, Tex.

Other charges included 15 for reckless driving, eight for speeding in autos; six for speeding in trucks, one for improper brakes; one for failure to report an accident; one for disturbing the peace; three for oversize loads with no permit; two for having no explosives permits; and one for improper parking.

Delta Board Votes Quarterly Dividend

HAVANA, Cuba, Jan. 28 (Special) — Delta Air Lines, Inc. reported a net income of $1,244,463 after taxes for the six months period ending December 31, 1955. Equivalent to 1.56 per share, this compares with net income for the same period of 1954 of 440,848.

The board of directors voted a regular quarterly dividend of .30 a share payable March 5 to stock holders of record Feb. 10. Four such dividends were paid during 1955.

Delta's Board of Directors held their regular quarterly meeting in Havana. The meeting, presided over by R. W. Freeman of New Orleans, board chairman, was the first ever held outside the United States. Havana is one of six cities served by Delta on its international Caribbean routes through the New Orleans gateway.

Bishop Jones Of Episcopal Church Is Honor Guest

The Episcopal Bishop of Louisiana, the Rt. Rev. Girault M. Jones, D.D. will make his annual visitation to the Episcopal churches of Monroe, Sunday, January 29 (today).

In previous years, Bishop Jones has made but one visitation in Monroe, that being Grace Church, the mother parish of the city. Now the Bishop of Louisiana makes four separate visitations in the city.

Bishop Jones' schedule Sunday includes an 8:30 a.m. service at St. Alban's Episcopal Church at 1401 Jackson Street, a 9:45 a.m. service at Grace Church in north Monroe, a 3:30 p.m. service at St. Patrick's Episcopal Church in West Monroe, and a 7:30 evening service at St. Thomas' Episcopal Church in the college area.

At each of these services, Bishop Jones will preach and confirm those who have been prepared for Confirmation.

The Confirmation Class in each church is made up of adults and children who have been baptized and have been under careful instruction for the past four months, or longer. These candidates, once confirmed by the Bishop, will be admitted to the Holy Communion, the Church's central and chief sacrament.

Everyone is invited and welcomed to attend any of these four services in which the Bishop of Louisiana will preach.

Rev. Harris In Group For Cuban Mission Work

One hundred clergymen and laymen of 40 states have been named by the Methodist Board of Evangelism to participate in a nine-day evangelistic crusade in Cuba, Feb. 1-9.

Two from this area have been selected. They are Rev. James T. Harris, district superintendent here, and Rev. E. R. Haug, of Franklin.

The preaching and home-visitation mission will be directed by Bishop John Branscomb, Jacksonville, Fla. He administers the Florida and Cuba conferences of the Methodist Church.

He will be assisted by Dr. Harry Denman and the Rev. Wayne North of the evangelism board's headquarters here. The Methodist Board of Missions, New York City, is also cooperating in the special "Cuba for Christ" campaign, Dr. Denman said.

The American group will assemble Jan. 31 in Miami for a briefing session, and then go to Havana to team with Cuban Methodists in conducting city and rural campaigns throughout the island republic.

The evangelists will reassemble Feb. 9 in Havana to report results and hold a mass "victory rally."

Presbyterian Women To Have Sessions

The business women will hold a district conference in Covenant Presbyterian church January 31 with supper at 6:15 p.m. and program at 7 p.m.

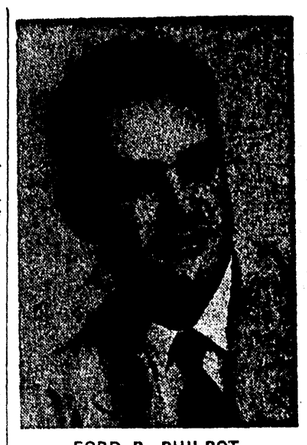

Also on February 1 in Winnsboro, there will be an area conference of Presbyterian women with morning program at 10 o'clock, luncheon at noon and afternoon program at 1:15 p.m.

Altar Society To Have Benefit Supper

Our Lady of Fatima Altar Society is sponsoring a buffet supper Sunday, February 5 from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m.

The public is extended a cordial invitation to participate.

Mrs. L. F. Rodwig is chairman; and on the committee serving with her are Mrs. J. I. Braud, Mrs. Shelby Cave, Mrs. E. L. Ritter, Mrs. C. O. Worley, Mrs. Eugene Callizan, Mrs. Floyd Southwell, Mrs. Fritz Becker and Mrs. L. M. Brinson.

FORD R. PHILPOT

E. CLAY MILBY

Two Leaders In Evangelism To Hold Revivals

Ford R. Philpot, recognized as one of America's great evangelists will lead the meetings scheduled in Stone avenue Methodist church. The series will start February 1 and will continue through February 12. His messages will be fortified by the excellent musical program provided by E. Clay Milby.

Leader Philpot in the short space of eight years, has been lifted from the condition of a hopeless alcoholic to become a mighty messenger of the gospel. Converted in October 1947, he began to preach. After nearly five years as pastor, he yielded to the call of the evangelist. He is an ordained elder of the Methodist church and was named Conference Evangelist in 1952 by the Kentucky conference of which he is a member. He has conducted 137 revivals in 24 states with several thousands of conversions.

Prior to his call to the pulpit, he served with the U. S. Marines during the Second World War. He is married and father of two sons.

E. Clay Milby, song evangelist of Valdosta, Ga., will furnish the music at the Stone avenue revival which opens Wednesday night.

Mr. Milby for 25 years has been engaged in revival campaigns across the nation in many leading churches. Some of the leading preachers have been his associates in revival campaigns.

The public is extended a sincere invitation by the pastor, the Rev. L. L. Yeager, to attend these fine services planned for Stone Avenue Methodist Church.

Bawcomville To Have Revival In Apostolic Church

Starting Friday, January 27, at the Bawcom Apostolic Church, Jonesboro highway, there will be a revival initiated. Special singing and music is to be a part of each night's program, states Elder W. T. Hemphill, pastor. Services are at 8:30 p.m. each night with the exception of Monday night.

Evangelists are to be Evangelist and Mrs. Edward J. Kelley.

1 Twin Has Birthday, Other 48 Days Away

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP)—Douglas Lee Schnees celebrates his first birthday today but his twin sister, Deborah Lyn, will have to wait another month and a half before she becomes a year old.

The two children, normal and very healthy, are a medical rarity, born 48 days apart. Ohio State University medical men say such births are about as rare as having quintuplets.

About 20 minutes elapse between the births of most twins. The Schnees are believed to be the second furthest spaced twins on record, outdistanced only by twins once born 56 days apart in Australia.

MY ANSWER by Billy Graham

QUESTION: How can you preach that God is a God of love? My only son was killed in an automobile accident three weeks ago. If God loved him and loves me, how could He have permitted this tragedy? (Name Withheld)

ANSWER: In the face of your sorrow I can only say that God never makes a mistake. If you love Him we have the promise that all things work together for good for those who love Him. He sees all of the future and it could well be that He has spared you some much greater sorrow. Also, He uses these experiences at times to bring us to our knees in repentance and in complete dependence upon Him. I do not take this occasion to preach a sermon because there are times when loving sympathy, which is unspoken, will bring the greatest comfort. But, I do urge you to put your hands and your heart in the hands of a God who loves you with an everlasting love. Remember that He loved us enough to give His only Son, that we might have eternal life. Take Him at His word and rest in the promise that He knows everything and never makes a mistake. Centuries ago a man named Job lost all of his children and all of his earthly possessions. By God's grace he said: "The Lord gave, and the Lord hath taken away, blessed be the name of the Lord." This is not easy to say, but it brings great peace of soul and untold blessings.

Rev. Pomeroy In Attendance At TV Workshop In Tex.

Rev. George W. Pomeroy, pastor of the First Methodist Church, Monroe has just returned from a television workshop held in Dallas, Texas under the sponsorship of the Jurisdictional Methodist Radio and Film Commission. The workshop was concerned with all the phases of television as a means of religious education.

All the different aspects of the actual televising of programs were discussed. Some of them included: "Television Studio Proceedures, Possibilities and Problems"; "Studio Relations" and "Televising the Sunday Worship Service". Also included in the workshop were lectures and discussion groups concerned with the different types of religious programs.

Among these types of programs discussed were: The Panel, The Interview, The Thirty Minute Program, The Religious News Program and others. Rev. Pomeroy led one of the panel discussions when this particular type of program was being studied. Many noted leaders in the field of Religious Television comprised the list of speakers for the workshop which was termed highly successful.

W. E. BENNETT, SR.

W. E. Bennett To Give Address On Gideon's Work

"The Gideon Ministry" will be presented at the Central Baptist Church of Monroe at the morning service on Sunday, January 29 with W. E. Bennett, Sr., a local Gideon and a deacon of Central Church as main speaker.

The Gideons have done a marvelous work down through the years in the distribution of Bibles and New Testaments all over the world. One can almost find a Gideon Bible in every hotel room or tourist court over the nation.

Millions of beautifully colored New Testaments have been given to school children on the basis that they will read them. Servicemen, nurses and hospitals are also recipients of very appropriate New Testaments. Everywhere one will find that the Gideons have endeavored to place the Word of God.

The Gideon organization is composed of Christian laymen and is a non-profit organization. Their ministry is dependent upon the support of individuals and churches for the promotion of their work. A special offering will be received to help in the promotion of this work.

Free Methodists To Conduct Week Devoted To Youth

The youth of the West Monroe Free Methodist Church are sponsoring special services in observance of "Youth Week", beginning Thursday night and continuing through Saturday night, February 2-4. The speaker for the occasion will be the Rev. Thomas E. Davis, Jr., pastor at Columbia, and vice president of the District F.M.Y. (Free Methodist Youth organization).

Mr. Davis graduated from Greenville College last June, and has been serving in the present pastorate since August. He is vitally interested in the work of youth and is an interesting and capable speaker.

Services will begin each night at 7:30, and will be packed full of special music and other features of interest. Come and bring a friend.

If you are a young person and do not have youth activities at your church, you are most cordially invited to attend these special services designed for youth, and every Sunday night at 7:00 p.m. for the youth program.

The pastor, Rev. Robert T. Fisher, and the local president of F.M.Y., Houston Roark, extend a personal invitation to attend.

TO ADMINISTER SACRAMENT

The Sacrament of Confirmation will be administered at St. Patrick's Episcopal church on Sunday at 3:30 p.m. by the Rev. Girault McArthur Jones, Bishop of Louisiana.

The class will be presented in May when Bishop Noland will be present.

Today's YOUR GUIDING STAR Message:

0. Is. 54:15. If anyone stirs up strife it is not from me; whoever stirs up strife with you shall fail.
1. Is. 55:2. Why do you spend your money for that which is not bread, and your labor for that which does not satisfy?
2. Is. 56:2. Blessed is the man who keeps his hand from doing any evil.
3. Is. 57:15. Revive the spirit of the humble, and the heart of the contrite.
4. Is. 58:8. Then shall your light break forth like the dawn, and your healing shall spring up speedily.

Bishop Jones Of Episcopal Church Is Honor Guest

The Episcopal Bishop of Louisiana, the Rt. Rev. Girault M. Jones, D.D. will make his annual visitation to the Episcopal churches of Monroe, Sunday, January 29 (today).

In previous years, Bishop Jones has made but one visitation in Monroe, that being Grace Church, the mother parish of the city. Now the Bishop of Louisiana makes four separate visitations in the city.

Bishop Jones' schedule Sunday includes an 8:30 a.m. service at St. Alban's Episcopal Church at 1401 Jackson Street, a 9:45 a.m. service at Grace Church in north Monroe, a 3:30 p.m. service at St. Patrick's Episcopal Church in West Monroe, and a 7:30 evening service at St. Thomas' Episcopal Church in the college area.

At each of these services, Bishop Jones will preach and confirm those who have been prepared for Confirmation.

The Confirmation Class in each church is made up of adults and children who have been baptized and have been under careful instruction for the past four months, or longer. These candidates, once confirmed by the Bishop, will be admitted to the Holy Communion, the Church's central and chief sacrament.

Everyone is invited and welcomed to attend any of these four services in which the Bishop of Louisiana will preach.

Rev. Harris In Group For Cuban Mission Work

One hundred clergymen and laymen of 40 states have been named by the Methodist Board of Evangelism to participate in a nine-day evangelistic crusade in Cuba, Feb. 1-9.

Two from this area have been selected. They are Rev. James T. Harris, district superintendent here, and Rev. E. R. Haug, of Franklin.

The preaching and home-visitation mission will be directed by Bishop John Branscomb, Jacksonville, Fla. He administers the Florida and Cuba conferences of the Methodist Church.

He will be assisted by Dr. Harry Denman and the Rev. Wayne North of the evangelism board's headquarters here. The Methodist Board of Missions, New York City, is also cooperating in the special "Cuba for Christ" campaign, Dr. Denman said.

The American group will assemble Jan. 31 in Miami for a briefing session, and then go to Havana to team with Cuban Methodists in conducting city and rural campaigns throughout the island republic.

The evangelists will reassemble Feb. 9 in Havana to report results and hold a mass "victory rally."

Presbyterian Women To Have Sessions

The business women will hold a district conference in Covenant Presbyterian church January 31 with supper at 6:15 p.m. and program at 7 p.m.

Also on February 1 in Winnsboro, there will be an area conference of Presbyterian women with morning program at 10 o'clock, luncheon at noon and afternoon program at 1:15 p.m.

Altar Society To Have Benefit Supper

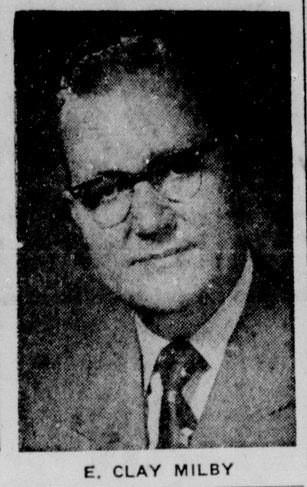

Our Lady of Fatima Altar Society is sponsoring a buffet supper Sunday, February 5 from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m.

The public is extended a cordial invitation to participate.

Mrs. L. F. Rodwig is chairman; and on the committee serving with her are: Mrs. J. I. Braud, Mrs. Shelby Cage, Mrs. E. L. Ritter, Mrs. C. O. Worley, Mrs. Eugene Calligan, Mrs. Floyd Southwell, Mrs. Fritz Becker and Mrs. L. M. Brinson.

FORD R. PHILPOT

E. CLAY MILBY

Two Leaders In Evangelism To Hold Revivals

Ford R. Philpot, recognized as one of America's great evangelists will lead the meetings scheduled in Stone avenue Methodist church. The series will start February 1 and will continue through February 12. His messages will be fortified by the excellent musical program provided by E. Clay Milby.

Leader Philpot in the short space of eight years, has been lifted from the condition of a hopeless alcoholic to become a mighty messenger of the gospel. Converted in October 1947, he began to preach. After nearly five years as pastor, he yielded to the call of the evangelist. He is an ordained elder of the Methodist church and was named Conference Evangelist in 1952 by the Kentucky conference of which he is a member. He has conducted 137 revivals in 24 states with several thousands of conversions.

Prior to his call to the pulpit, he served with the U. S. Marines during the Second World War. He is married and father of two sons.

E. Clay Milby, song evangelist of Valdosta, Ga., will furnish the music at the Stone avenue revival which opens Wednesday night.

Mr. Milby for 25 years has been engaged in revival campaigns across the nation in many leading churches. Some of the leading preachers have been his associates in revival campaigns.

The public is extended a sincere invitation by the pastor, the Rev. I. L. Yeager, to attend these fine services planned for Stone Avenue Methodist Church.

Bawcomville To Have Revival In Apostolic Church

Starting Friday, January 27, at the Bawcom Apostolic Church, Jonesboro highway, there will be a revival initiated. Special singing and music is to be a part of each night's program, states Elder W. T. Hemphill, pastor. Services are at 8:30 p.m. each night with the exception of Monday night.

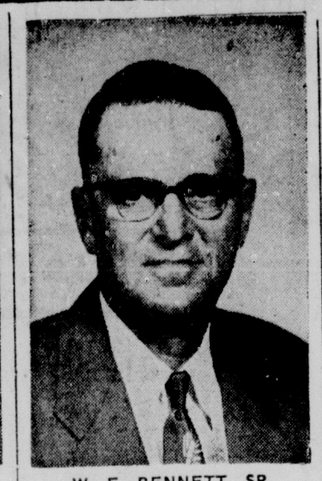

Evangelists are to be Evangelist and Mrs. Edward J. Kelley.

1 Twin Has Birthday, Other 48 Days Away

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP)—Douglas Lee Schnees celebrates his first birthday today but his twin sister, Deberah Lyn, will have to wait another month and a half before she becomes a year old.

The two children, normal and very healthy, are a medical rarity, born 48 days apart. Ohio State University medical men say such births are about as rare as having quintuplets.

About 20 minutes elapse between the births of most twins. The Schnees are believed to be the second furthest spaced twins on record, outdistanced only by twins once born 56 days apart in Australia.

W. E. BENNETT, SR.

W. E. Bennett To Give Address On Gideon's Work

"The Gideon Ministry" will be presented at the Central Baptist Church of Monroe at the morning service on Sunday, January 29 with W. E. Bennett, Sr., a local Gideon and a deacon of Central Church as main speaker.

The Gideons have done a marvelous work down through the years in the distribution of Bibles and New Testaments all over the world. One can almost find a Gideon Bible in every hotel room or tourist court over the nation.

Millions of beautifully colored New Testaments have been given to school children on the basis that they will read them. Servicemen, nurses and hospitals are also recipients of very appropriate New Testaments. Everywhere one will find that the Gideons have endeavored to place the Word of God.

The Gideon organization is composed of Christian laymen and is a non-profit organization. Their ministry is dependent upon the support of individuals and churches for the promotion of their work. A special offering will be received to help in the promotion of this work.

Free Methodists To Conduct Week Devoted To Youth

The youth of the West Monroe Free Methodist Church are sponsoring special services in observance of "Youth Week", beginning Thursday night and continuing through Saturday night, February 2-4. The speaker for the occasion will be the Rev. Thomas E. Davis, Jr., pastor at Columbia, and vice president of the District F.M.Y. (Free Methodist Youth organization).

Mr. Davis graduated from Greenville College last June, and has been serving in the present pastorate since August. He is vitally interested in the work of youth and is an interesting and capable speaker.

Services will begin each night at 7:30, and will be packed full of special music and other features of interest. Come and bring a friend.

If you are a young person and do not have youth activities at your church, you are most cordially invited to attend these special services designed for youth, and every Sunday night at 7:00 p.m. for the youth program.

The pastor, Rev. Robert T. Fisher, and the local president of F.M.Y., Houston Roark, extend a personal invitation to attend.

Rev. Pomeroy In Attendance At TV Workshop In Tex.

Rev. George W. Pomeroy, pastor of the First Methodist Church, Monroe has just returned from a television workshop held in Dallas, Texas under the sponsorship of the Jurisdictional Methodist Radio and Film Commission. The workshop was concerned with all the phases of television as a means of religious education.

All the different aspects of the actual televising of programs were discussed. Some of them included: "Television Studio Proceedures, Possibilities and Problems"; "Studio Relations" and "Televising the Sunday Worship Service". Also included in the workshop were lectures and discussion groups concerned with the different types of religious programs.

Among these types of programs discussed were: The Panel, The Interview, The Thirty Minute Program, The Religious News Program and others. Rev. Pomeroy led one of the panel discussions when this particular type of program was being studied. Many noted leaders in the field of Religious Television comprised the list of speakers for the workshop which was termed highly successful.

TO ADMINISTER SACRAMENT

The Sacrament of Confirmation will be administered at St. Patrick's Episcopal church on Sunday at 3:30 p.m. by the Rev. Girault McArthur Jones, Bishop of Louisiana.

The class will be presented in May when Bishop Noland will be present.

MY ANSWER by Billy Graham

QUESTION: How can you preach that God is a God of love? My only son was killed in an automobile accident three weeks ago. If God loved him and loves me, how could He have permitted this tragedy? (Name Withheld)

ANSWER: In the face of your sorrow I can only say that God never makes a mistake. If you love Him we have the promise that all things work together for good for those who love Him. He sees all of the future and it could well be that He has spared you some much greater sorrow. Also, He uses these experiences at times to bring us to our knees in repentance and in complete dependence upon Him. I do not take this occasion to preach a sermon because there are times when loving sympathy, which is unspoken, will bring the greatest comfort. But, I do urge you to put your hands and your heart in the hands of a God who loves you with an everlasting love. Remember that He loved us enough to give His only Son, that we might have eternal life. Take Him at His word and rest in the promise that He knows everything and never makes a mistake. Centuries ago a man named Job lost all of his children and all of his earthly possessions. By God's grace he said: "The Lord gave, and the Lord hath taken away, blessed be the name of the Lord." This is not easy to say, but it brings great peace of soul and untold blessings.

Today's YOUR GUIDING STAR Message:

0. Is. 54:15. If anyone stirs up strife it is not from me; whoever stirs up strife with you shall fail.
1. Is. 55:2. Why do you spend your money for that which is not bread, and your labor for that which does not satisfy?
2. Is. 56:2. Blessed is the man who keeps his hand from doing any evil.
3. Is. 57:15. Revive the spirit of the humble, and the heart of the contrite.
4. Is. 58:8. Then shall your light break forth like the dawn, and your healing shall spring up speedily.

Lasting Peace Is Theme Of Panel

A panel composed of Dr. J. R. Brown, Northeast State College, Rev. G. W. Pomeroy, Rev. Kirby Vining, Rev. W. R. Cain and Rev. J. T. Harris, presented a most timely and interesting discussion on "Combining Our Efforts for Lasting Peace." Each speaker brought in a very forceful manner, different aspects of peace and how, combining our efforts, peace can be realized.

The two organizations which have made it possible to combine efforts for peace most effectively, are the World Council of Churches and the United Nations. Both organizations were dealt with by the panel. Both can be intimately related to the local church.

This study was presented in the hope that the search for ways of peace in the local scene will be as productive of cooperative efforts between people, as the missionary movement has been in the world scene.

Cuban specialty: steamed rice topped with black beans and finely chopped onion. Serve in soup bowls as a first course.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST
No. 2nd at Auburn St.

"Love" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, January 29, 1956.
The Golden Text is: "If we love one another, God dwelleth in us, and his love is perfected in us. (1 John 4:12).
Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And we have known and believed the love that God hath to us. God is love; and he that dwelleth in love dwelleth in God, and God in him." (1 John 4:16).
The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "God is Love." More than this we cannot ask, higher we cannot look, farther we cannot go. (6).

CAROUSEL

the newest, happiest modern design

By AMERICAN OF MARTINSVILLE

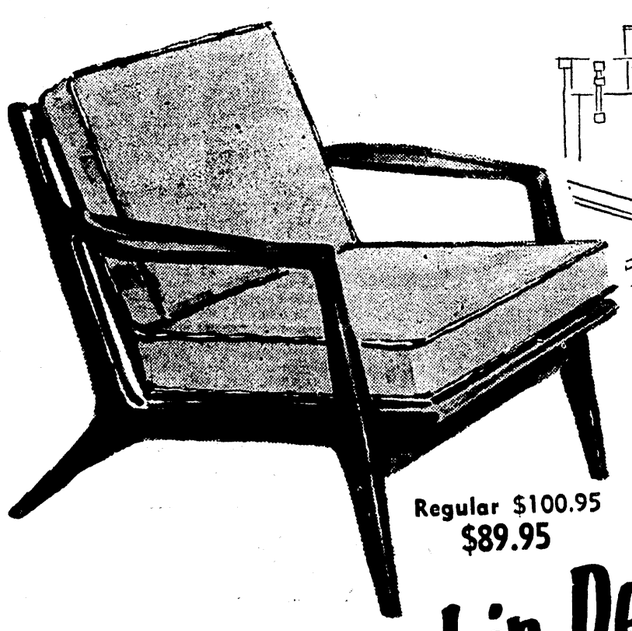

You can have the finest in quality . . . and still save at Monroe Furniture.

Carousel . . . just the sound of the word brings gaiety to mind . . . and that's the best discription of our new high-fashion bedroom group, but with a difference—a sophisticated, light-hearted difference to be sure, but a difference that softens the classic modern lines and brings laughter to live in your home. Carousel is pale, off white decorated with confetti-like sparklings of black and gold lacquer underneath the finish. What's more, Carousel's special finish is easy to care for, stays fresh and exciting through the years. Carousel is completely new from the smart mitered construction of chests and dressers to the black porcelain hardware that matches the black lacquer trim of the pieces. Come see it today and you'll live with Carousel tomorrow.

In Hollywood

By Jimmy Fidler

'The Conqueror'

By SUSAN HAYWARD
(Guest Columnist)

HOLLYWOOD, January 28 — It all started when Dick Powell called to ask me how I'd like to play opposite John Wayne and Pedro Armendariz in 'The Conqueror.' That was more than a year ago, but I remember it vividly.

"I'm a little rusty on my 13th century history," I told him. "Offhand, I can't imagine a role for me in a picture about Genghis Khan. What do I do — sack a city or climb the Great Chinese Wall?"

"Neither," said Dick. "But it's a great role. You have a fiery romance with the khan; you try to kill him, you dance for him—"

"Dance for him? I've never danced in a picture—" I began.

"You will" Dick said smoothly.

"And another thing," I reminded him. "I'm a redhead remember? And I'll bet the khan's bride wasn't a redhead—"

"I'll take that bet," said Dick. "She was, really. She was a Tartar, and the Tartars were known as the Irish of the Orient."

"Irish, Smirish, nobody would ever mistake me for an Oriental." I told him.

"The way you'll look, nobody will mind," said Dick. "It's a great script. I'm going to produce and direct it. Wayne agrees with me, you're right for the part. Let me send you the script to read tonight. If you don't like it, forget it."

"All right" I said dubiously, "but don't count on my doing it."

The script arrived, and I hadn't read 20 pages before I could understand Dick's enthusiasm. "Bortai," the khan's bride, was a colorful, impetuous character of strong loves and hates. She lived in an era of violence and strange beauty. She personified it yet she was behevable and tremendously exciting.

By the time I'd finished I was thoroughly sold and eager to start the picture, but it was too late to call Dick and tell him how I felt, so I waited impatiently until next morning.

Sharply at nine a.m. I called his office at RKO Studios

"Dick," I began, "about 'The Conqueror'—"

"O, Susie," he said, and his voice took on a note of apology. "I meant to call you. I'm sorry I bothered you about that part."

"Bothered me!" I exclaimed, 'I think it's —"

"I know, I know," said Dick. "Wayne and I had a long talk about you and the role last night. We agree with you — you're just not right for it."

"Not right?" I fairly shouted. "What do you mean I'm not right?"

"Well," Dick said, "as you pointed out, that dance is pretty important and you've never danced in pictures."

"I already called Bob Sydney. We start working on the dance tomorrow."

"Well, I'm sorry," Dick repeated. "But as you said, you're Irish and 'Bortai' was a tartar—"

"May I remind you," I said coldly, "that the Tartars were known as the Irish of the Orient?"

"Irish - Smirish," said Dick, and if I hadn't been so angry I'd have caught the chuckle in his voice. "We're getting a real Oriental for the role—"

"WHO?" I demanded ungrammatically and loudly.

"Well," Dick said apologetically, "My Chinese gardner's wife has a yen, shall we call it, to act in the movies and—"

I hung up, drove straight to RKO and marched right up to Dick's office. John Wayne was with him and they were laughing so they could hardly finish the homemade sign they were lettering. It read:

"John Wayne & Susan Hawyard
in
"The Conqueror"
Produced & Directed by D. Powell"

Well, we made the picture in Utah, seeing as how we couldn't go to Mongolia because of Communist rules and regulations about foreigners entering their country.

John Wayne, as you know, is touring in Europe and appearing at premieres scheduled for the picture.

It was a big experience for me — but I'm still a red head.

The bidding:

South, Pass; West, Pass; North, 1 heart; East, Pass.

South, 2 diamonds; West, Pass; North, 4 diamonds; East, Pass.

South Pass; West, Pass.

How many times have you heard the song? "Partner, I wanted you to bid three so that I could bid four," or "I wanted you to bid five so that I could bid six." Sounds rather pointless doesn't it? Well, it is. Some players will always work on the principle that when any important bid is to be made, a conference must be held, considerable ceremony indulged in, photographs taken of the participants and then the mystic words uttered. Somehow, to them, it seems sacrilegious to go ahead and bid what you think you can make. If you think an exaggerated picture is being painted here, take a look at today's hand gathered from real life. The bidding proceeded exactly as indicated in the diagram, and even though South was guilty of a gross exaggeration in his response of two diamonds the partnership got nowhere.

North's pent up emotions found vent in a single outburst. "But partner I gave you a force. You couldn't drop my four diamond bid!" "And what, pray, were you going to do if I bid five diamonds?" inquired South. "Why, I was going to bid six of course." "Well, then, what were you waiting for?" was South's righteous query.

I'm all for South (as most bridge writers are). North's notion of what constitutes a force does not coincide with ours. If you didn't open the bidding and have a poor hand, you may ignore partner's jump if it is not in a new suit. If I had been so merry as to bid two diamonds with South's hand, nothing less than the law would induce me to bid again. To be sure, it just about makes the grade for a one no trump response.

North could plainly see that the worst holding South could have would give him a play for slam. If he were concerned about a grand slam and wished to investigate, his proper bid was a jump in a new suit, namely four clubs. This would unconditionally force South. But in our opinion a direct bid of six diamonds, while it might occasionally result in missing a grand slam, will prove in the long run a sound practical business procedure.

Soldier Prevents Bus Accident As Driver Succumbs

UNION CITY, Tenn., Jan. 27 (AP)—A Greyhound bus with 50 passengers aboard was halted safely by a soldier today after the driver died of a heart attack.

Company officials said an unidentified soldier-passenger grabbed the steering wheel, turned the bus into a side street, and pulled the emergency brake.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

Oh Men! Oh Women!...What They Like In Each Other

While individual tastes differ, even among members of the same sex, there are certain more or less universal likes and dislikes which both men and women seem to have.

Many interviews, personal observations, and a great amount of reader mail, have resulted in the following ideas.

Most men hate emotional discussions and will avoid them whenever possible. They go even further and avoid the woman who insists on them as often as possible.

Women, on the other hand, are far more likely to wish to "talk it out." Many of them enjoy an emotional binge once in a while or at least feel unhappy until they try to solve the issue with an exchange of words.

Most men are attracted to the woman who makes them feel comfortable, who is easy to get along with and is amusing. To a woman, perhaps the most important thing is to be shown a little thoughtfulness, and to be told in plain but lovely words that a man finds her attractive or loves her. She is not happy if she has to take this for granted.

Like Femininity

Men dislike any characteristics or clothing which are at all masculine. Few of them find a woman as charming when wearing slacks as when wearing a hostess gown. They like to be given the opportunity to be gallant and many are uncomfortable unless they are allowed to open doors, pull out chairs and light cigarettes for their ladies.

Women do not usually require good looks in their men. To them the important items are good grooming, good posture and a masculinity which creates an aura of strength and dependability. They also are greatly intrigued with charming manners.

Women generally are more practical than men and often know that certain plans, ideas and procedures will not work long before their husbands do. Men do not like to have this fact called to their attention.

Men are flattered and made happy by having you give them your undivided and real interest when they talk. Who isn't? Men do not have any monopoly on this trait. Real interest is the greatest compliment we can pay any man or woman. BUT, gather around ladies. Men are supposed to be better listeners than women.

Every human being is an interesting package. When we listen half-heartedly we miss a great deal of inspiration, information and amusement. We also miss popularity.

I think it is rather interesting to weigh ourselves against these ideas. It should also be helpful to a happier life because, after all, it is a basic need to be attractive to the opposite sex.

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D. Sc.

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

Answer To Question No. 1

1. Dr. Nicholes Pastore, Queens College, thinks so. He says, after long study of canaries, "The bird brain has a surprising capacity for intelligent behavior." The behavior of many people is surprising but not too intelligent. "Phyllis," Pastore's smartest canary, has clipped wings. She quickly learned to hoist a prism on to a box and climb up to reach her food. Later she learned to pull a small truck to the right place to get her food. Dr. P. says, "The low esteem of bird brains is not justified."

Answer To Question No. 2

2. True. I'm proud to say that in my old home county (Jennings, Indiana), every man, woman, and child in a population of around 15,000 — mostly farming — read almost five books in 1954. In all, they read 73,361 volumes, of which 7,662 were nonfiction books. When I was a boy there, I doubt that the whole county read 500 books a year besides the Bible and school books. Reports from large cities show the same trend.

Learn and earn faster! Six simple rules in nonprofit booklet, "Read Faster and Better," double reading speed, give you key to knowledge and success. Send 20c (coin only) and stamped, self-addressed (name city and state) envelope to Dr. A. E. Wiggam c-o this newspaper.

Answer to Question No. 3

3. In "Eugenics Quarterly," Prof. Stephen Visher asks if you can dispute these statements: "The most creative one - tenth of men are 1,000 times as valuable as the average tenth and 1,000,000 times as valuable as the least productive tenth. A small fraction of the world's peoples have made possible civilization's advances." I can't refute it. Common people have little to do with progress except to fall in line — or to hold it back.

DESIGNER PATTERN SHOWS NEW CHARM TO SPRING SILHOUETTE

PATTERN M365
by Ginny Stutzlen

PROMINENT DESIGNER—Take the charm of a whirl-skirted dress, add a petite jacket—here, the prettiest new ensemble for spring and summer! A Prominent Designer Original by Ginny Stutzlen, well known for her way of flattering a woman's figure. As always, she keeps to simple, uncluttered lines — letting the style shine forth in a lovely fitted and flaring silhouette. Infinitely wearable, it would look equally fashionable by day, in a sprightly cotton print; in soft silk or tissue taffeta, under a starry sky. Any way you choose to sew it (and sewing is very simple, too) — it makes a most beautiful appearance!

Pattern M365 is available in Misses' Sizes 10, 12, 14, 16, and 18. Size 16 dress requires 3⅝ yards 39-inch fabric; bolero requires 1¾ yards.

Another La. Meet Here Next April

The Louisiana Geneolgical and Historical Association will hold its annual convention in Monroe April 14.

This group, formed in Baton Rouge two years ago, was brought into existence as it was felt that these two lines should be stressed if we are to preserve things that count in the onward progress of the state.

The public, at the outset, and now, is invited to participate in the meeting to be held in Monroe.

The group of members is still small but growing and the session here will be open to non-members as well as members.

Soldier Convicted Of Maltreatment Jailed

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP)—Cpl. Dudley A. Picard of Biloxi, Miss., convicted on three counts of maltreatment of prisoners, drew a one-year confinement, a bad conduct discharge and reduced to the rank of private.

Picard, pronounced guilty by a court martial board yesterday, also loses pay and allowances for one year.

The board said Picard would be detached from the service at Marine headquarters in Virginia.

Witnesses testified Picard made them run for three hours without stopping, shot at them with "doctored shotgun shells and ordered them to perform indecent acts.

Pvt. Watson Fitzgerald of Clarks, La., faces a general court martial Monday on similar charges.

'The Conqueror'
By SUSAN HAYWARD
(Guest Columnist)

HOLLYWOOD, January 28 — It all started when Dick Powell called to ask me how I'd like to play opposite John Wayne and Pedro Armendariz in "The Conqueror." That was more than a year ago, but I remember it vividly.

"I'm a little rusty on my 13th century history," I told him. "Offhand, I can't imagine a role for me in a picture about Genghis Khan. What do I do — sack a city or climb the Great Chinese Wall?"

"Neither," said Dick. "But it's a great role. You have a fiery romance with the khan; you try to kill him, you dance for him—"

"Dance for him? I've never danced in a picture—" I began.

"You will" Dick said smoothly. "And another thing," I reminded him. "I'm a redhead remember? And I'll bet the khan's bride wasn't a redhead—"

"I'll take that bet," said Dick. "She was, really. She was a Tartar, and the Tartars were known as the Irish of the Orient."

"Irish, Smirish, nobody would ever mistake me for an Oriental." I told him.

"The way you'll look, nobody will mind," said Dick. "It's a great script. I'm going to produce and direct it. Wayne agrees with me, you're right for the part. Let me send you the script to read tonight. If you don't like it, forget it."

"All right," I said dubiously, "but don't count on my doing it."

The script arrived, and I hadn't read 20 pages before I could understand Dick's enthusiasm. "Bortai," the khan's bride, was a colorful, impetuous character of strong loves and hates. She lived in an era of violence and strange beauty. She personified it yet she was believable and tremendously exciting.

By the time I'd finished I was thoroughly sold and eager to start the picture, but it was too late to call Dick and tell him how I felt, so I waited impatiently until next morning.

Sharply at nine a.m. I called his office at RKO Studios.

"Dick," I began, "about 'The Conqueror'—"

"O, Susie," he said, and his voice took on a note of apology. "I meant to call you. I'm sorry I bothered you about that part."

"Bothered me!" I exclaimed, 'I think it's —"

"I know, I know," said Dick. 'Wayne and I had a long talk about you and the role last night. We agree with you — you're just not right for it."

"Not right?" I fairly shouted. "What do you mean I'm not right?"

"Well," Dick said, "as you pointed out, that dance is pretty important and you've never danced in pictures."

"I already called Bob Sydney. We start working on the dance tomorrow."

"Well, I'm sorry," Dick repeated. "But as you said, you're Irish and 'Bortai' was a tartar—"

"May I remind you," I said coldly, "that the Tartars were known as the Irish of the Orient?"

"Irish - Smirish," said Dick, and if I hadn't been so angry I'd have caught the chuckle in his voice. "We're getting a real Oriental for the role—"

"WHO?" I demanded ungrammatically and loudly.

"Well," Dick said apologetically, "My Chinese gardner's wife has a yen, shall we call it, to act in the movies and—"

I hung up, drove straight to RKO and marched right up to Dick's office. John Wayne was with him and they were laughing so they could hardly finish the homemade sign they were lettering. It read:

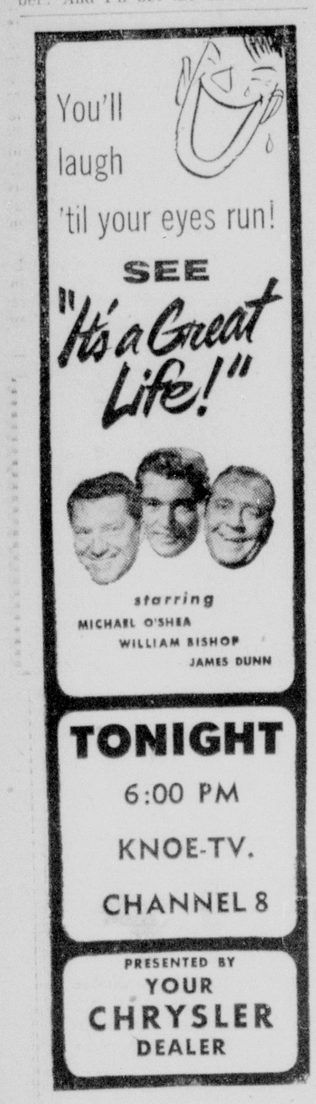

"John Wayne & Susan Hawyard
in
"The Conqueror"
Produced & Directed by D. Powell"

Well, we made the picture in Utah, seeing as how we couldn't go to Mongolia because of Communist rules and regulations about foreigners entering their country.

John Wayne, as you know, is touring in Europe and appearing at premieres scheduled for the picture.

It was a big experience for me — but I'm still a red head.

The bidding:

South, Pass; West, Pass; North, 1 heart; East, Pass.

South, 2 diamonds; West, Pass; North, 4 diamonds; East, Pass.

South Pass; West, Pass.

How many times have you heard the song? "Partner, I wanted you to bid three so that I could bid four," or "I wanted you to bid five so that I could bid six." Sounds rather pointless doesn't it? Well, it is. Some players will always work on the principle that when any important bid is to be made, a conference must be held, considerable ceremony indulged in, photographs taken of the participants and then the mystic words uttered. Somehow, to them, it seems sacrilegious to go ahead and bid what you think you can make. If you think an exaggerated picture is being painted here, take a look at today's hand gathered from real life. The bidding proceeded exactly as indicated in the diagram, and even though South was guilty of a gross exaggeration in his response of two diamonds the partnership got nowhere.

North's pent up emotions found vent in a single outburst. "But partner I gave you a force. You couldn't drop my four diamond bid!" "And what, pray, were you going to do if I bid five diamonds?" inquired South. "Why, I was going to bid six of course." "Well, then, what were you waiting for?" was South's righteous query.

I'm all for South (as most bridge writers are). North's notion of what constitutes a force does not coincide with ours. If you didn't open the bidding and have a poor hand, you may ignore partner's jump if it is not in a new suit. If I had been so merry as to bid two diamonds with South's hand, nothing less than the law would induce me to bid again. To be sure, it just about makes the grade for a one no trump response.

North could plainly see that the worst holding South could have would give him a play for slam. If he were concerned about a grand slam and wished to investigate, his proper bid was a jump in a new suit, namely four clubs. This would unconditionally force South. But in our opinion a direct bid of six diamonds, while it might occasionally result in missing a grand slam, will prove in the long run a sound practical business procedure.

Soldier Prevents Bus Accident As Driver Succumbs

UNION CITY, Tenn., Jan. 27 (AP)—A Greyhound bus with 50 passengers aboard was halted safely by a soldier today after the driver died of a heart attack.

Company officials said an unidentified soldier-passenger grabbed the steering wheel, turned the bus into a side street, and pulled the emergency brake.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

Oh Men! Oh Women! . . . What They Like In Each Other

While individual tastes differ, even among members of the same sex, there are certain more or less universal likes and dislikes which both men and women seem to have.

Many interviews, personal observations, and a great amount of reader mail, have resulted in the following ideas.

Most men hate emotional discussions and will avoid them whenever possible. They go even further and avoid the woman who insists on them as often as possible.

Women, on the other hand, are far more likely to wish to "talk it out." Many of them enjoy an emotional binge once in a while or at least feel unhappy until they try to solve the issue with an exchange of words.

Most men are attracted to the woman who makes them feel comfortable, who is easy to get along with and is amusing. To a woman, perhaps the most important thing is to be shown a little thoughtfulness, and to be told in plain but lovely words that a man finds her attractive or loves her. She is not happy if she has to take this for granted.

Like Femininity

Men dislike any characteristics or clothing which are at all masculine. Few of them find a woman as charming when wearing slacks as when wearing a hostess gown. They like to be given the opportunity to be gallant and many are uncomfortable unless they are allowed to open doors, pull out chairs and light cigarettes for their ladies.

Women do not usually require good looks in their men. To them the important items are good grooming, good posture and a masculinity which creates an aura of strength and dependability. They also are greatly intrigued with charming manners.

Women generally are more practical than men and often know that certain plans, ideas and procedures will not work long before their husbands do. Men do not like to have this fact called to their attention.

Men are flattered and made happy by having you give them your undivided and real interest when they talk. Who isn't? Men do not have any monopoly on this trait. Real interest is the greatest compliment we can pay any man or woman. BUT, gather around ladies. Men are supposed to be better listeners than women.

Every human being is an interesting package. When we listen half-heartedly we miss a great deal of inspiration, information and amusement. We also miss popularity.

I think it is rather interesting to weigh ourselves against these ideas. It should also be helpful to a happier life because, after all, it is a basic need to be attractive to the opposite sex.

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D. Sc.

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

Answer To Question No. 1

1. Dr. Nicholes Pastore, Queens College, thinks so. He says, after long study of canaries, "The bird brain has a surprising capacity for intelligent behavior." The behavior of many people is surprising but not too intelligent. "Phyllis," Pastore's smartest canary, has clipped wings. She quickly learned to hoist a prism on to a box and climb up to reach her food. Later she learned to pull a small truck to the right place to get her food. Dr. P. says, "The low esteem of bird brains is not justified."

Answer To Question No. 2

2. True. I'm proud to say that in my old home county (Jennings, Indiana), every man, woman, and child in a population of around 15,000 — mostly farming — read almost five books in 1954. In all, they read 73,361 volumes, of which 7,662 were nonfiction books. When I was a boy there, I doubt that the whole county read 500 books a year besides the Bible and school books. Reports from large cities show the same trend.

Learn and earn faster! Six simple rules in nonprofit booklet, "Read Faster and Better," double reading speed, give you key to knowledge and success. Send 20c (coin only) and stamped, self-addressed (name city and state) envelope to Dr. A. E. Wiggam c-o this newspaper.

Answer to Question No. 3

3. In "Eugenics Quarterly," Prof. Stephen Visher asks if you can dispute these statements: "The most creative one - tenth of men are 1,000 times as valuable as the average tenth and 1,000,000 times as valuable as the least productive tenth. A small fraction of the world's peoples have made possible civilization's advances." I can't refute it. Common people have little to do with progress except to fall in line — or to hold it back.

DESIGNER PATTERN SHOWS NEW CHARM TO SPRING SILHOUETTE

PATTERN M365
Ginny Stutzlen

PROMINENT DESIGNER—Take the charm of a whirl-skirted dress, add a petite jacket—here, the prettiest new ensemble for spring and summer! A Prominent Designer Original by Ginny Stutzlen, well known for her way of flattering a woman's figure. As always, she keeps to simple, uncluttered lines — letting the style shine forth in a lovely fitted and flaring silhouette. Infinitely wearable, it would look equally fashionable by day, in a sprightly cotton print; in soft silk or tissue taffeta, under a starry sky. Any way you choose to sew it (and sewing is very simple, too) — it makes a most beautiful appearance!

Pattern M365 is available in Misses' Sizes 10, 12, 14, 16, and 18. Size 16 dress requires 3⅞ yards 39-inch fabric; bolero requires 1¾ yards.

Another La. Meet Here Next April

The Louisiana Geneolgical and Historical Association will hold its annual convention in Monroe April 14.

This group, formed in Baton Rouge two years ago, was brought into existence as it was felt that these two lines should be stressed if we are to preserve things that count in the onward progress of the state.

The public, at the outset, and now, is invited to participate in the meeting to be held in Monroe.

The group of members is still small but growing and the session here will be open to non-members as well as members.

Soldier Convicted Of Maltreatment Jailed

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP)—Cpl. Dudley A. Picard of Biloxi, Miss., convicted on three counts of maltreatment of prisoners, drew a one-year confinement, a bad conduct discharge and reduced to the rank of private.

Picard, pronounced guilty by a court martial board yesterday, also loses pay and allowances for one year.

The board said Picard would be detached from the service at Marine headquarters in Virginia.

Witnesses testified Picard made them run for three hours without stopping, shot at them with "doctored shotgun shells and ordered them to perform indecent acts.

Pvt. Watson Fitzgerald of Clarks, La., faces a general court martial Monday on similar charges.

'Man With The Golden Arm,' Untouchable Theme

One of the starkest, most sensational and uncompromising novels of the last decade, Nelson Algren's "The Man With the Golden Arm," has been brought to the screen by Otto Preminger. The film opens today at the Paramount Theatre, released by United Artists.

Frank Sinatra is starred in "The Man With the Golden Arm" as Frankie Machine, "golden-armed dealer" and drug-addict; Eleanor Parker plays Zosh, his embittered, wheel-chair ridden wife; and Kim Novak is Molly, the voluptuous cabaret dancer of the novel. The strong supporting cast is headed by Darren McGavin, Arnold Stang, Robert Strauss, John Conte, Doro Merande, George Matthews, Emile Meyer and George E. Stone.

Preminger both produced and directed "The Man With the Golden Arm" and the screenplay of the Algren novel, winner of the National Book Award, was written by Walter Newman. Elmer Bernstein composed and conducted the musical score, and the chief cinematographer was Sam Leavitt.

Otto Preminger, producer-director of "The Man With The Golden Arm," is known in Hollywood as a maverick. One of the best of the big-studio producer-directors for a dozen years, Preminger recently formed his own independent company. Its brief life has been eventful. His first picture, "The Moon is Blue," was received with almost unanimous praise as a delightful adult comedy.

Frank Sinatra, who surprised all of Hollywood when he made the transition from crooner to top-flight dramatic actor, plays a role in "The Man With The Golden Arm" that he thinks compared with, or even surpasses that of Maggio in "From Here To Eternity."

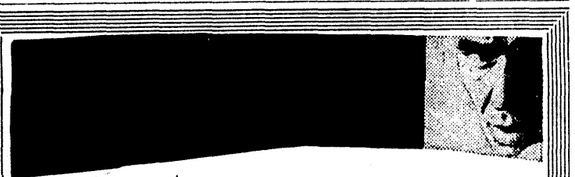

The Hollywood wise money thinks so, too, and, recalling that Frank won an Oscar for the Maggio role, thinks there might be another little statuette in the offering for him.

Eleanor Parker — known in Hollywood as "the girl of many faces" a rather oblique way of stating that she's a darn good actress rather than merely a personality girl — plays the difficult role of Zosh, Frank's pitiful, wheelchair ridden wife.

Kim Novak, who plays the voluptuous cabaret dancer, Molly, in "the Man With The Golden Arm," is currently one of the hottest hunks of talent in Hollywood. A sensation from her first picture on, Kim, who sports a dream chassis (the boys are the dreamers), has been seen in "Pushover," "Phfft," "Five against the House," "Picnic" and "The Eddy Duchin Story."

MUSIC

A 29-year-old tenor from Amsterdam, N. Y., has risen suddenly from obscurity to become one of the most-talked-about singers at the Metropolitan Opera. He is Albert Da Costa, who made a triumph of his first "big" operatic role—that of Walther in Wagner's "The Mastersingers."

The return of the Wagnerian masterpiece to the repertoire was something of a triumph for the artistic management, too, since it was, by and large, a fresh and youngish cast which produced a brilliant musical and human production. Lisa Della Casa made an Eva which sent Wagnerians and opera-lovers into seizures of enthusiasm.

Carl Sandburg, poet and leading living authority on Abraham Lincoln, was the narrator for a performance of Aaron Copland's "A Lincoln Portrait," given by the New York Philharmonic-Symphony in one of its "popular" concerts Feb. 4 Andre Kostelanetz, who commissioned the work in 1942 conducted.

The National Federation of Music Clubs has renewed its three-year scholarship in strings at the Peabody Conservatory of Music. The scholarship is worth $600 to the recipient, which covers tuiton, but hereafter board and room will also be provided for the recipient during the first year.

In the second of its season's concerts, the National Orchestral Association presented two very young soloists—Robert Notkoff, 14, violinist, in the Glazounow concerto, and Lorin Hollander, 11, pianist, in the Mozart C minor concerto (K.467).

Robert has been a pupil at the Manhattan School of Music since he was seven. He made his debut, with the Hartford Symphony, at the age of 12. Lorin is the son of the concertmaster of the old NBC Symphony when Toscanini was the conductor.

Record Reviews

The haunting opening theme from Kurt Weill's jazz classic, "The Threepenny Opera," is catching on as a popular tune and could easily become one of the sleepers of the year.

Unfortunately, the lyrics are brutal and violent, but the number—variously called "Mack the Knife," "Morital" and "A Theme from The Threepenny Opera ' on the record labels — offers much to instrumentalists.

One of the best recordings of Weill's fine compositiin is that made for M-G-M by the Dick Hyman Trio which has a nostalgic whistle effect.

And Richard Hayman and Jan August have combined a harmonica and beer hall piano to give this theme an interpretation that brings out the full beauty of Weill's music (Mercury). Les Paul also achieves unusual sound on his Capitol recording of "Moritat."

It is rendered in German, too, by Weill's widow, Lotte Lenya, in a Columbia album, "Lotte Lenya sings Berlin Theater Songs by Kurt Weill."

The luscious Sophia Loren makes her recording debut on an RCA-Victor single, "Woman of the River," title song from her newest movie. Miss Loren's voice is not particularly good, but it is sexy and the monotonous lyric imposes no burder upon her.

Rock and Roll—The Crew Cuts have two solid R and R numbers on a single Mercury 45 rpm, "Seven Days" and "That's Your Mistake."

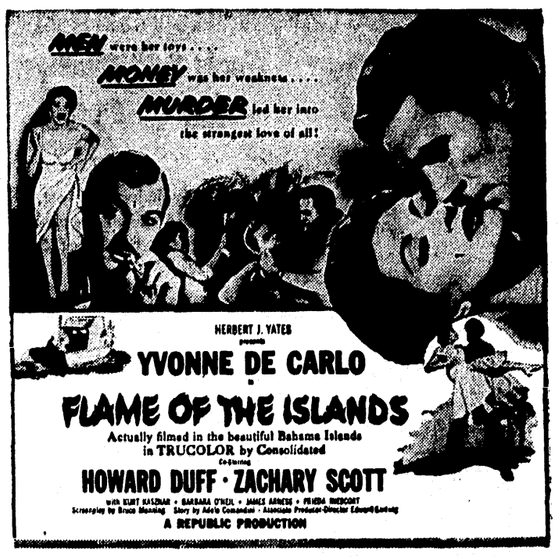

Tops in Pops — "Go On With the Wedding" by Kitty Kallen and Georgie Shaw (Decca), "Help Me" by Vic Damone (Columbia) and "Devotion" by Sunny Gale (RCA-Victor).

Best prospect—"The Grass Is Green" by Ralph Marterie (Mercury). This is an old Civil War tune which is given the grand military treatment and could become another "Yellow Rose of Texas."

Best revival—"You Tell Me Your Dream" by Archie Bleyer (Cadence). An old tune is brought up to date with a hi-fi recording that shows off the banjo artistry of Harry Reser.

Intrigue, Adventure Spice 'Flame Of The Islands'

Republic's widely - heralded drama of romance and intrigue, "Flame of the Island," filmed in Trucolor in the colorful Bahamas and starring Yvonne De Carlo, Howard Duff and Zachary Scott, makes its auspicious bow at the Jim Theatre today.

The film company spent several weeks in famed Nassau and the tropical Bahama Islands securing authentic backgrounds for the exciting story which concerns a beautiful New York career girl, portrayed by Miss De Carlo, who buys a partnership in a luxurious Bahaman gambling club. The intrusion of a group of international racketeers who have been secret partners in the club unbeknownst to the heroine, opens up new avenues of sinister intrigue which serve as a springboard for the dynamic action to follow.

Adding exotic spice to the plot are the turbulent romances of Miss De Carlo, which involve an advertising executive, a playboy-sportsman, an international racketeer and finally an island preacher who is as resourceful with his fists as he is with the spoken word.

Rounding out the impressive cast are such versatile actors as Kurt Kasznar, Barbara O'Neil, James Arness, Frieda Inescort, Lester Matthews, Donald Curtis and Nick Stewart.

Edward Ludwig, who was responsible for Republics highly successful film, "Wake of the Red Witch," was associate producer-director of "Flame of the Islands."

Bruce Manning wrote the screen play from a story by Adele Commandini. Photography is by Bud Thackery.

THE DOG SHOW - 6

The Pekinese

The little Pekinese, an oriental dog, is very popular. Patty has entered her Chu-Chin-Chow Poo Young in the Little Dog Show. She calls her Chu.

Paste this picture down on cereal box cardboard and color with crayons. The little dog is bright brown on the ruff and tail but darker brown around the muzzle. Patty wears a green coat with yellow flowers over her yellow dress.

At the top are two medals. The center should be yellow. The decoration around the first is bright blue and the second bright red. The small sketches at the right show how you can fold pieces of ribbon for pasting behind the medals.

Cut out the picture and fold forward as indicated. Fold the tabs back and name panel forward. Now cut out the medals.

When you have your dogs ready, you and your junior editor friends can vote on the best dog in the show. The winner gets the blue ribbon and the next best gets the red ribbon.

By cutting slots in the neck of each dog you can slip the tab on the medal into the slit and fold forward so the medal hangs from the dog's neck.

JUNIOR EDITORS pays $10 for any reader's idea that is used. Write your suggestion to "Junior Editors" in care of this newspaper; it cannot be acknowledged or returned and in case of duplication of ideas, the first submission will be accepted.

TV Notes

The CBS "What's My Line?" program marks its sixth birthday on the Feb. 5 show, although the actual birth date is Feb. 2. Hasn't been a change of format all that time, although the only original panelist still around is Dorothy Kilgallen.

The cast for "The Day Lincoln Was Shot," the CBS 90-minute special Feb. 11, will feature Raymond Massey (as you know who), Jack Lemmon, as John Wilkes Booth, and Lillian Gish as Mrs. Lincoln. Charles Laughton will narrate.

Desi Arnaz and Lucille Ball have taken off from Hollywood for a national tour to promote their new motion picture, "Forever, Darling." Chicago is the first stop, Jan. 30, with other points being Cleveland, Detroit, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, Buffalo, Jamestown, New York, Dallas, Fort Worth and Los Angeles, in that order. The tour ends Feb. 13.

It's all set for Will Rogers, Jr., to begin waking people up in the morning for CBS, with a 7 to 8 a.m. show, replacing what is left of the once - ambitious two - hour "Morning Show." Details and starting date remain to be worked out.

Lynn Dollar, the appropriately named page girl on "The $64,000 Question," is a farmer's daughter from Selfridge, N. D. Went to high school in Bismarck.

Warner Brothers announced that its plans to make the movie, "The Ed Sullivan Story," have had to be postponed indefinitely because the popular TV master of ceremonies can't arrange his schedule to get away from New York for the necessary eight weeks.

Ann Southern's popular TV series, "Private Secretary," began its fourth year on Feb. 5. The earlier films of the CBS program are in syndication under the title, "Susie," on an independent basis.

Hope Sansberry, who plays the wife of the commanding officer of Fort Baxter on the CBS Phil Silvers program, also has a Wall street career. She is a "customer's woman" (investment counselor) with the General Investing Corp.

A new series of spectacular productions will come from NBC under the guidance of a man-and-wife team, Lester Cowan, movie producer, and Ann Ronell, composer and musical director well known in Hollywood. For one thing, she wrote "Who's Afraid of the Big, Bad Wolf?" Their first TV collaboration, at a date not yet set, will be a 90-minute original musical called "Oh! Susanna," based on the lives of composer Stephen Foster and E. P. Christy, an early show business "giant."

BOOKS

Discipline was king in Hitler's Wehrmacht, and was exercised with special relish by the non-commissioned officers. Their main object, it seemed, was to turn every hapless private under their command into a saluting robot who lived only by and for the regulations. Hans Hellmut Kirst, who spent ten years in the German army makes this theme the subject of his novel, The Revolt of Gunner Asch (Little Brown).

Herbert Asch played the discipline game like the good soldier he was and kept his contempt for his hide-bound superiors well under control. In fact, he was recommended for promotion by the detested Sergeant-Major Schulz. But when his friend and fellow gunner Vierbien, a gentle youth, was hounded to the point of suicide by the sadistic NCOs, Asch decided to rebel against the system. He started by disregarding certain orders given by his NCOs and citing the regulations to prove his points. Eventually, of course, Asch would have been ruined in spite of his sharp wits, but for his courageius girl who knew a thing or two about handling recalcitrant military men including the erring Asch.

This is an entertainng story bubbling wth sly humor. And even though the characters seem more like caricatures at times, they don't spoil the fun. . . .

At The Theatres

PARAMOUNT THEATRE

Today through Thursday .. Predicted as Academy Award material ... "The Man With The Golden Arm" Starring Frank Sinatra, Eleanor Parker, Kim Novak. Friday and Saturday ... "The Night Holds Terror" starring Jack Kelly, Hildy Parks.

Ever heat canned tomatoes and serve over toast spread with peanut butter? This is a dish that boys usually like.

'Man With The Golden Arm,' Untouchable Theme

One of the starkest, most sensational and uncompromising novels of the last decade, Nelson Algren's "The Man With the Golden Arm," has been brought to the screen by Otto Preminger. The film opens today at the Paramount Theatre, released by United Artists.

Frank Sinatra is starred in "The Man With the Golden Arm" as Frankie Machine, "golden-armed dealer" and drug-addict; Eleanor Parker plays Zosh, his embittered, wheel-chair ridden wife; and Kim Novak is Molly, the voluptuous cabaret dancer of the novel. The strong supporting cast is headed by Darren McGavin, Arnold Stang, Robert Strauss, John Conte, Doro Merande, George Matthews, Emile Meyer and George E. Stone.

Preminger both produced and directed "The Man With the Golden Arm" and the screenplay of the Algren novel, winner of the National Book Award, was written by Walter Newman. Elmer Bernstein composed and conducted the musical score, and the chief cinematographer was Sam Leavitt.

Otto Preminger, producer-director of "The Man With The Golden Arm," is known in Hollywood as a maverick. One of the best of the big-studio producer-directors for a dozen years, Preminger recently formed his own independent company. Its brief life has been eventful. His first picture, "The Moon is Blue," was received with almost unanimous praise as a delightful adult comedy.

Frank Sinatra, who surprised all of Hollywood when he made the transition from crooner to top-flight dramatic actor, plays a role in "The Man With The Golden Arm" that he thinks compared with, or even surpasses that of Maggio in "From Here To Eternity."

The Hollywood wise money thinks so, too, and, recalling that Frank won an Oscar for the Maggio role, thinks there might be another little statuette in the offering for him.

Eleanor Parker — known in Hollywood as "the girl of many faces" a rather oblique way of stating that she's a darn good actress rather than merely a personality girl — plays the difficult role of Zosh, Frank's pitiful, wheelchair ridden wife.

Kim Novak, who plays the voluptuous cabaret dancer, Molly, in "the Man With The Golden Arm," is currently one of the hottest hunks of talent in Hollywood. A sensation from her first picture on, Kim, who sports a dream chassis (the boys are the dreamers), has been seen in "Pushover," "Phfft," "Five against the House," "Picnic" and "The Eddy Duchin Story."

Ever add sauerkraut to pancake batter? Drain the sauerkraut and cut it in short lengths. Use a pancake that has very little or no sugar in it and add onion powder for extra seasoning.

MUSIC

A 29-year-old tenor from Amsterdam, N. Y., has risen suddenly from obscurity to become one of the most-talked-about singers at the Metropolitan Opera. He is Albert Da Costa, who made a triumph of his first "big" operatic role—that of Walther in Wagner's "The Mastersingers."

The return of the Wagnerian masterpiece to the repertoire was something of a triumph for the artistic management, too, since it was, by and large, a fresh and youngish cast which produced a brilliant musical and human production. Lisa Della Casa made an Eva which sent Wagnerians and opera-lovers into seizures of enthusiasm.

Carl Sandburg, poet and leading living authority on Abraham Lincoln, was the narrator for a performance of Aaron Copland's "A Lincoln Portrait," given by the New York Philharmonic-Symphony in one of its "popular" concerts Feb. 4 Andre Kostelanetz, who commissioned the work in 1942 conducted.

The National Federation of Music Clubs has renewed its three-year scholarship in strings at the Peabody Conservatory of Music. The scholarship is worth $600 to the recipient, which covers tuiton, but hereafter board and room will also be provided for the recipient during the first year.

In the second of its season's concerts, the National Orchestral Association presented two very young soloists—Robert Notkoff, 14, violinist, in the Glazounow concerto, and Lorin Hollander, 11, pianist, in the Mozart C minor concerto (K.467).

Robert has been a pupil at the Manhattan School of Music since he was seven. He made his debut, with the Hartford Symphony, at the age of 12. Lorin is the son of the concertmaster of the old NBC Symphony when Toscanini was the conductor.

Record Reviews

The haunting opening theme from Kurt Weill's jazz classic, "The Threepenny Opera," is catching on as a popular tune and could easily become one of the sleepers of the year.

Unfortunately, the lyrics are brutal and violent, but the number—variously called "Mack the Knife," "Moritat" and "A Theme from The Threepenny Opera ' on the record labels — offers much to instrumentalists.

One of the best recordings of Weill's fine compositiin is that made for M-G-M by the Dick Hyman Trio which has a nostalgic whistle effect.

And Richard Hayman and Jan August have combined a harmonica and beer hall piano to give this theme an interpretation that brings out the full beauty of Weill's music (Mercury). Les Paul also achieves unusual sound on his Capitol recording of "Moritat."

It is rendered in German, too, by Weill's widow, Lotte Lenya, in a Columbia album, "Lotte Lenya sings Berlin Theater Songs by Kurt Weill."

The luscious Sophia Loren makes her recording debut on an RCA-Victor single, "Woman of the River," title song from her newest movie. Miss Loren's voice is not particularly good, but it is sexy and the monotonous lyric imposes no burder upon her.

Rock and Roll—The Crew Cuts have two solid R and R numbers on a single Mercury 45 rpm, "Seven Days" and "That's Your Mistake."

Tops in Pops — "Go On With the Wedding" by Kitty Kallen and Georgie Shaw (Decca), "Help Me" by Vic Damone (Columbia) and "Devotion" by Sunny Gale (RCA-Victor).

Best prospect—"The Grass Is Green" by Ralph Marterie (Mercury). This is an old Civil War tune which is given the grand military treatment and could become another "Yellow Rose of Texas."

Best revival—"You Tell Me Your Dream" by Archie Bleyer (Cadence). An old tune is brought up to date with a hi-fi recording that shows off the banjo artistry of Harry Reser.

CO-STARS Zachary Scott and Yvonne De Carlo in a tense scene from Republic Studios' exciting Trucolor production, "Flame of the Islands," starts at the Jim Theatre. The romantic drama, which was filmed in the colorful Bahamas, also stars Howard Duff.

Intrigue, Adventure Spice 'Flame Of The Islands'

Republic's widely - heralded drama of romance and intrigue, "Flame of the Island," filmed in Trucolor in the colorful Bahamas and starring Yvonne De Carlo, Howard Duff and Zachary Scott, makes its auspicious bow at the Jim Theatre today.

The film company spent several weeks in famed Nassau and the tropical Bahama Islands securing authentic backgrounds for the exciting story which concerns a beautiful New York career girl, portrayed by Miss De Carlo, who buys a partnership in a luxurious Bahaman gambling club. The intrusion of a group of international racketeers who have been secret partners in the club unbeknownst to the heroine, opens up new avenues of sinister intrigue which serve as a springboard for the dynamic action to follow.

Adding exotic spice to the plot are the turbulent romances of Miss De Carlo, which involve an advertising executive, a playboy-sportsman, an international racketeer and finally an island preacher who is as resourceful with his fists as he is with the spoken word.

Rounding out the impressive cast are such versatile actors as Kurt Kasznar, Barbara O'Neil, James Arness, Frieda Inescort, Lester Matthews, Donald Curtis and Nick Stewart.

Edward Ludwig, who was responsible for Republics highly successful film, "Wake of the Red Witch," was associate producer-director of "Flame of the Islands."

Bruce Manning wrote the screen play from a story by Adele Commandini. Photography is by Bud Thackery.

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR:

JUNIOR EDITORS

THE DOG SHOW - 6

The Pekinese

The little Pekinese, an oriental dog, is very popular. Patty has entered her Chu-Chin-Chow Poo Young in the Little Dog Show. She calls her Chu.

Paste this picture down on cereal box cardboard and color with crayons. The little dog is bright brown on the ruff and tail but darker brown around the muzzle. Patty wears a green coat with yellow flowers over her yellow dress.

At the top are two medals. The center should be yellow. The decoration around the first is bright blue and the second bright red. The small sketches at the right show how you can fold pieces of ribbon for pasting behind the medals.

Cut out the picture and fold forward as indicated. Fold the tabs back and name panel forward. Now cut out the medals.

When you have your dogs ready, you and your junior editor friends can vote on the best dog in the show. The winner gets the blue ribbon and the next best gets the red ribbon.

By cutting slots in the neck of each dog you can slip the tab on the medal into the slit and fold forward so the medal hangs from the dog's neck.

JUNIOR EDITORS pays $10 for any reader's idea that is used. Write your suggestion to "Junior Editors" in care of this newspaper; it cannot be acknowledged or returned and in case of duplication of ideas, the first submission will be accepted.

TV Notes

The CBS "What's My Line?" program marks its sixth birthday on the Feb. 5 show, although the actual birth date is Feb. 2. Hasn't been a change of format all that time, although the only original panelist still around is Dorothy Kilgallen.

The cast for "The Day Lincoln Was Shot," the CBS 90-minute special Feb. 11, will feature Raymond Massey (as you know who), Jack Lemmon, as John Wilkes Booth, and Lillian Gish as Mrs. Lincoln. Charles Laughton will narrate.

Desi Arnaz and Lucille Ball have taken off from Hollywood for a national tour to promote their new motion picture, "Forever, Darling." Chicago is the first stop, Jan. 30, with other points being Cleveland, Detroit, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, Buffalo, Jamestown, New York, Dallas, Fort Worth and Los Angeles, in that order. The tour ends Feb. 13.

It's all set for Will Rogers, Jr., to begin waking people up in the morning for CBS, with a 7 to 8 a.m. show, replacing what is left of the once - ambitious two - hour "Morning Show." Details and starting date remain to be worked out.

Lynn Dollar, the appropriately named page girl on "The $64,000 Question," is a farmer's daughter from Selfridge, N. D. Went to high school in Bismarck.

Warner Brothers announced that its plans to make the movie, "The Ed Sullivan Story," have had to be postponed indefinitely because the popular TV master of ceremonies can't arrange his schedule to get away from New York for the necessary eight weeks.

Ann Southern's popular TV series, "Private Secretary," began its fourth year on Feb. 5. The earlier films of the CBS program are in syndication under the title, "Susie," on an independent basis.

Hope Sansberry, who plays the wife of the commanding officer of Fort Baxter on the CBS Phil Silvers program, also has a Wall street career. She is a "customer's woman" (investment counselor) with the General Investing Corp.

A new series of spectacular productions will come from NBC under the guidance of a man-and-wife team, Lester Cowan, movie producer, and Ann Ronell, composer and musical director well known in Hollywood. For one thing, she wrote "Who's Afraid of the Big, Bad Wolf?" Their first TV collaboration, at a date not yet set, will be a 90-minute original musical called "Oh! Growth Revealed In Report Of LaSalle Library

JENA, Jan. 28 (Special) — Continued growth of the LaSalle parish library during 1955 was shown in figures released by the library board of control, is a year - end review contained in the 1955 annual report.

Milton Hudnall, chairman of the library board of control, has made public the annual report compiled by Miss Lola Cooper, LaSalle parish librarian, who conducts the affairs of the main library at Jena, the branch at Olla, the Webb Quarters branch for colored patrons and the LaSalle parish bookmobile.

In addition to Hudnall, chairman, other members of the library board of control are W. A. Tannehill, vice chairman, and Nick Medica, Bob Owens, W. H. Holloman and Lloyd Thompson, members.

Highlighting library activity in LaSalle parish during the past year was the passage of a two - mill library maintenance tax for a period of five years. The tax, approved on April 30, 1955, passed by a majority of 23 to 1. Only 14 property owners in LaSalle parish voted against the library tax.

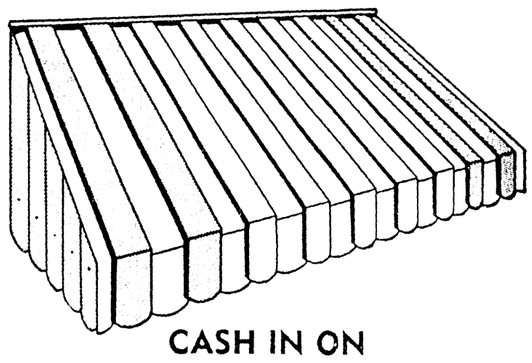

Showing comparative growth of the parish library, in 1953 the library consisted of 8091 books. There were 10,062 volumes on the shelves in 1954 and for the year 1955, the library owned 11,565 volumes. The circulation increased from 73,065 volumes in 1953 to a total of 87,751 volumes in 1954. During the past year, 1955, the circulation zoomed to 94,804 books and magazines.

Registered users of the library also has continued to grow in the past years, totaling 3,067 during 1953, the number increased to 3,666 in 1954 and the registration for 1955 was 4,215 persons.

MILTON CANIFF

LISTEN, CANYON, I DON'T ASK MEN TO MAKE LOVE TO ME!!

OF COURSE NOT, SAVANNAH, BUT WHEN THEY DO YOU SLAP THEM DOWN LIKE A BLACK WIDOW SPIDER!

I GUESS I'M LOOKING FOR THE EXACTLY-RIGHT GUY —AND WHEN A MAN DOESN'T FIT THAT DREAM I DUMP HIM!

I DON'T LIKE BEING BRUSHED OFF!

—SO YOU'RE GOING TO BOW OUT BEFORE YOU'RE HOOKED! AREN'T YOU THE SMART ONE?...

YOU SEEMED TO ENJOY KISSING ME! SORRY THE SAMPLE DIDN'T SELL YOU ON TRYING AGAIN!

I DON'T GO FOR THE IDEA OF BEING NUMBER-ONE BOY UNTIL YOU LOSE INTEREST, THEN JOINING THE PACK OF SAVANNAH GAY ALUMNI PANTING AFTER YOU ALL OVER THE WORLD!

HA! I'M SUPPOSED TO BE THE GLAMOR DOLL WHO CAN MAKE MEN FORGET THEIR FAMILIES—YET I CAN'T GET YOU INTO A SPIN, EVEN THOUGH YOU ARE SINGLE!

YOU MAKE ME WHIRL, SAVANNAH, BUT I'M NOT GOING TO BE A TRAINED SEAL FOR ANYONE!

NO — YOU'LL GO AROUND IN YOUR FLYBOY SUIT HAVING STUPID LITTLE LOVE AFFAIRS WITH DIZZY FEMALES WHOM YOU CAN DROP WHEN YOU'RE TIRED OF THEM!..I GUESS I SHOULD HAVE BEEN A MAN!

WHAT A LOSS THAT WOULD HAVE BEEN!

YOU'RE TALKING LIKE A MOVIEGOER WHO PAID FOR A TICKET TO WATCH A SHADOW OF ME ON THE SCREEN!

HE CAN SIT THERE MOONING BECAUSE HE'LL NEVER MEET ME—BUT YOU'RE LOOKING AT ME IN PERSON!

DON'T YOU ACCEPT YOUR DESTINY WHEN IT WALKS UP AND PUTS ITS ARMS AROUND YOU...?

WHAT'S THE MATTER? YOU CRAZY, OR SOMETHIN'?

WHILE IN THE NEXT ROOM...

FOR PETE'S SAKE, CHARLIE, STOP HER! IF SHE CHASES OFF WITH THIS GUY THERE WILL BE NO PICTURE—AND WE'LL ALL END UP IN JAIL FOR NON-PAYMENT OF BACK TAXES!

BRINGING UP FATHER

OOOOH! ME GOUT IS KILLIN' ME!

WELL, THIS IS ONE TIME I CAN TRUST YOU NOT TO SNEAK OUT!

DON'T YOU THINK YOU OUGHT TO HAVE THE DOCTOR LOOK AT IT?

I'LL WAIT A LITTLE WHILE—AND IF I DON'T FEEL BETTER I'LL CALL HIM!

HA-HA!--MAGGIE ISN'T HALF AS SMART AS SHE THINKS SHE IS—SHE FELL FOR THIS "GOUT" GAG LIKE A TON OF BRICKS!

IF SHE EVER FOUND OUT I WUZ FAKIN' ABOUT HAVIN' THE GOUT, SHE'D BRAIN ME! BUT SHE'S NOT GOIN' TO FIND OUT, IF I KIN HELP IT!

CALL UP DINTY MOORE AND TELL HIM TO SAVE ME A PLACE AT THE PIG'S-KNUCKLE PARTY—I'LL BE RIGHT OVER THERE!

YES, SIR!

SAY, BIMMY, DID YOU SEE MY NEW HAT?

YEAH, I WORE IT LAST NIGHT! IT'S IN THE HALL CLOSET!

YEEOW

JIGGS, WHILE YOU'RE AT THE HALL CLOSET, WILL YOU SEE IF MY BOWLIN' BALL IS THERE?

I'D LIKE TO BOUNCE IT OFF YOUR THICK SKULL!

JIGGS, WHAT'S THIS?! I THOUGHT IT WAS YOUR LEFT FOOT THAT WAS TROUBLING YOU!

UH-ER--IT WAS-BUT YOU NEVER KNOW WHERE THE GOUT IS GOIN' TO STRIKE NEXT!!

MULLINS! YOU SHOULD HAVE BEEN HERE AT EIGHT O'CLOCK.

YES, SIR.

WHY? WHAT HAPPENED?

THIS IS A SURPRISE FOR MY WIFE. TAKE IT OUT TO MY HOME AND SHE'LL TELL YOU WHERE TO HANG IT.

WHO SHALL I SAY IS CALLING SIR.

MR. MULLINS.. TELL THE MADAM THAT HER HUSBAND SENT ME, GIRLIE.

WELL, WE CAN'T FIDDLE AROUND HERE ALL DAY WAITIN' FOR HER. WE MIGHT AS WELL PUT THIS THING UP HERE.

I THINK I HEAR HER COMING NOW, KAYO.

GOSH! I THOUGHT THERE WAS ANOTHER STEP ON THAT LADDER.

POOR THINGS ARE SCARED TO DEATH!

YEAH ...THAT TOUGH HAWK MUST BE OUT AGAIN!

THEY USE DECOYS TO FOOL DUCKS ...SO, WHY NOT HAWKS!?

HERE HE COMES!

WELL! WELL! AND WHO DO WE HAVE HERE?

FIFTY BUCKS, AND IT'S YOURS!

CURATOR

ZOO

A BEAUTIFUL SPECIMEN! AND IT HAS GREAT SPIRIT!

I WANT THE BEST BIRDHOUSE MONEY CAN BUY, MISTER!

PETS

AND THIS, KIDDIES... IS THE NICE HAWK WHO GOT YOU THAT FINE, WARM BIRDHOUSE TO LIVE IN!

HAWK (ADULT)

MOON MULLINS

by Frank Willard

TH' LEAST YOU CAN DO IS GET THERE ON TIME, AFTER ALL TH' TROUBLE I'VE WENT TO GETTIN' YOU EMPLOYMENT.

YER AUNT MAMIE MEANS WELL, KAYO. BUT SHE CAN'T MAKE WORK SOUND ANY MORE INVITING BY USING A THREE SYLLABLE WORD.

MULLINS! YOU SHOULD HAVE BEEN HERE AT EIGHT O'CLOCK.

YES, SIR.

WHY? WHAT HAPPENED?

THIS IS A SURPRISE FOR MY WIFE. TAKE IT OUT TO MY HOME AND SHE'LL TELL YOU WHERE TO HANG IT.

WHO SHALL I SAY IS CALLING, SIR.

MR. MULLINS.. TELL THE MADAM THAT HER HUSBAND SENT ME, GIRLIE.

WELL, WE CAN'T FIDDLE AROUND HERE ALL DAY WAITIN' FOR HER. WE MIGHT AS WELL PUT THIS THING UP HERE.

I THINK I HEAR HER COMING NOW, KAYO.

GOSH! I THOUGHT THERE WAS ANOTHER STEP ON THAT LADDER.

PARDON ME, MADAM, BUT—

YEOW!

LET'S GET OUTTA HERE.

GOOD NIGHT, NURSE!

HALP! HALP!

OOP!

PETUNIA, CALL THE POLICE.

AND, PETUNIA, FOR HEAVEN'S SAKE TELL 'EM TO COME QUICK!

SMILIN' JACK

THE C.A.A. FOUND THAT JACK'S LEFT BRAKE LOCKED BECAUSE OF INFERIOR COUNTERFEIT "BRAND-NAME" PARTS!

THEY ALSO SAID JACK USED PROPER JUDGMENT IN NOT FLYING BLIND WITH NO RADIO OR CLEARANCE!

HAPPY DAYS! I CAN FLY AGAIN—BUT NO MORE GLOBE-TROTTIN'... I'M STAYIN' HOME WITH MY FAMILY!

IN HOLLYWOOD WE SEE—

I TELL YOU, L.A.—SMILIN' JACK IS A NATURAL FOR A LIFE STORY MOVIE!

SMILIN' JACK? THAT HARD LUCK FLY BOY?

DAILY PIX — CAA REINSTATES SMILIN' JACK

THE SAME! HE'S ABOUT TH' MOST FAMOUS CIVILIAN FLIER IN TH' WORLD!

HE'S FLOWN EVERYTHING FROM HOME-MADE GLIDERS TO JETS AND ROCKET PLANES!

HE'S HOT NEWS! LAST WEEK HE BUSTED UP A SYNDICATE OF OUTBOARD MOTOR THIEVES!

SAY, G.B.—HE IS HOT NEWS! I'M GETTING AN IDEA! WE'LL MAKE A MOVIE OF HIS LIFE! "THE SMILIN' JACK STORY"!

SNAP

YES, L.A.... YOU SURE CAN COME UP WITH SOME TERRIFIC IDEAS!

GET HIM OUT HERE!

TIM TYLER'S LUCK

by LYMAN YOUNG and TOM MASSEY

I SAW HOAGY PACKER PLACE THE SACK OF GOLD DUST IN A TOP DRAWER, BIRCH—

AND WE'D HAVE THAT GOLD NOW, IF THAT PROWLING LEOPARD HADN'T SUDDENLY ATTACKED US—

WE'LL GO BACK TO OUR CAMP AND LIE LOW FOR A FEW DAYS—

IF WE DON'T MAKE ANY NOISE WE CAN GET CLOSE ENOUGH TO CAPTURE THEM WITHOUT FIRING A SHOT—

I SAW A DARK FORM MOVING ACROSS THAT CLEARING!

BANG!

GOSH-THAT BULLET MISSED ME BY LESS THAN AN INCH!

TOO DARK TO TRACE THEM, SPUD-WE'D BETTER RETURN TO PACKER'S SHACK!

HALT-OR I FIRE!

PUT DOWN THE ARTILLERY, HOAGY-IT'S TIM AND ME!

1956, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved.

WE CAUGHT UP WITH TWO STRANGERS, MR. PACKER, BUT THEY DISAPPEARED IN THE DARKNESS—

ONE WAS THE FAT MAN! HE'S ESCAPED FROM JAIL!

THEY MAY NEVER RETURN-THEY KNOW WE'LL BE READY FOR THEM IF THEY EVER TRY, LADS!
